DuBois passport to Ghana doubtful

WASHINGTON

BROOKLYN— Dr. W. E. B. DuBois, eminent scholar and world traveler, Thursday, told the AFRO that although he has been specially invited to Ghana on the Gold Coast of Africa for the celebration to be held March 6 when the nation becomes our independent part of the British Commonwealth, by its prime minister, Kwame Nkrumah, it is doubtful that he can make the trip.

He said that immediately after receiving the invitation, he sent the State Department in Washington a request that his passport be validated so that he could make the journey, but that he has had no word from the State Department about the matter.

* * *

DR. DuBOIS, 89, who has attended all of the Pan-African conferences during the last half-century, stated that he regarded the acquiring of independence by Ghana as "most important" and an event which he, personally, would greatly enjoy attending. He planned to begin the trip on Feb. 27.

Dr. DuBois, who has been denied a passport to travel abroad on several occasions in recent years because he refused to sign certain affadavits requested by the State Department, reiterated his determination not to sign any affadavits to obtain a passport for the Independence Day fete of Ghana.

New dean of men approved at Morgan

The Morgan board of trustees at its meeting on Thursday approved the resignation of its dean of men and the appointment of a new dean to succeed him.

The board also appointed three other staff members.

The dean who resigned is Father Leonard C. Anderson. He left to enter another field.

Named to succeed him as acting dean of men is Kenneth Brown, former assistant professor of Health and Physical Education.

* * *

MR. BROWN has the A.B. degree from Morgan and the M.A. degree from Columbia University. He has been on the Morgan faculty since 1947.

James Franklin Mack was appointed to the position of assistant in the department of Health and Physical Education.

He has the B.S. degree from Morgan and was serving as a student assistant at the time of his appointment.

OTHER APPOINTMENTS approved were those of Fred Calvin King and Acie L. Williams.

Mr. King is a counselor and has the B.S. degree from Teachers College and the M. Ed from the University of Pittsburgh.

He has also done further study at Pennsylvania State University and Temple University.

Mr. Williams is a dormitory counselor, a graduate of Morgan State College and served as counselor with the Department of Public Welfare, Washington, D.C.

The resignation of Marcel Dewire Vandenbulcke was also approved.

Mr. Vandenbulcke, who had been employed as an exchange instructor of French, resigned for health reasons and will return to Europe.

MRS. DARZELL ANTHONY, Senior Stenographer:

Herbert H. Krause, storekeeper; Elbert S. Dillworth, policeman, and Miss Helen G. Roberts, kitchen supervisor to be employed beyond the mandatory retirement age.

The board also accepted the resignations for health reasons and other jobs of the following:

Samuel R. Hazlerrove Jr., as policeman; Mikle Hall, janitor; Robert Anthony, steam fireman; Simon D. Davis, steam fireman; Wendell P. Miller, policeman, and Renzer Stevenson, handyman.

Colt stars to join Y, give prizes at big dinner

Claude (Buddy) Young, former football great of the Baltimore Colts, and a number of other Colts stars will be guests at a "Colts' Night" dinner at the Druid Hill Avenue Branch YMCA on Monday, Feb. 25 at 6 p.m.

The dinner will highlight the YMCA Spring Membership Campaign which began Feb. 4 and will extend through Mar. 4, 1957.

Don Kellett, the Colts' general manager, will be guest speaker for the dinner and will participate in the awarding of several prizes which will go to outstanding young men of the Association.

Other Colts, including Bert Rechichar, Gene (Big Daddy) Lipscomb, Art Donovan, Jesse Thomas and Lennie Moore, will also award membership prizes and show movies of last year's football highlights.

In addition to taking out memberships for themselves, the stars will select, for membership awards, two boys who show outstanding promise in leadership.

* * *

BENTLEY STECHER, general manager of a local radio station, will present two radios, one to the outstanding boy producer and the other to the outstanding adult producer of new members.

James W. Persons, membership secretary, said the expects this year's drive to net approximately 1600 new members. About 1000 members were added during last year's drive.

In making an appeal for support of the YMCA program, Mr. Persons said, "The YMCA is one of the best services the city has to offer its youth."

George L. Jude, chairman of the drive, cited the work of the YMCA as "a major deterrent of juvenile delinquency."

OTHER PERSONS active in the drive for new members include: John H. Henderson, executive secretary; Samuel T. Daniels, chairman of the membership committee; Frank J. Ellis, chairman of the program committee.

Division leaders are C. LeRoy Carroll, Frank R. Veney, Augustus D. Knox, I. Boyd Holden, and John H. Murphy III.

MRS. FLORENCE ROSS

High Mass will be sung for Mrs. Florence Ross, 41, 2128 Brunt St. at 9 a.m. Sunday at Peter Claver Church.

The Arlington S. Phillips Funeral Home is in charge of funeral arrangements. Interment will be in St. Peters Cemetery.

Mrs. Ross died suddenly at her home, Wednesday afternoon. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Ida Webb; three sisters, Mrs. Rosalie Davis, Mrs. Mary Williams, Miss Doris Custis; a brother, William Custis; three grandchildren; and one aunt, Mrs. Eleanor Stewart.

She is also survived by a cousin, Mrs. Rosetta Horton of Baltimore and an uncle, Francis Gordon of Philadelphia, Pa.

Elderly man gets year for arson

A 64-year-old man pleaded no contest in Criminal Court Wednesday to setting fire to a house at 1629 W. Mulberry St. early on the morning of Jan. 26 and was sentenced to a year in the House of Correction.

Judge John Tucker imposed the prison term on George W. Washington, 200 block N. Gilmar St., accused of arson.

When asked to explain his action, Mr. Washington told the court he became ill after eating some food prepared by his girlfriend. He said he thought he was going to die and he set the fire to get even with the woman.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of laxatives, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Cooking Is Fun

By FANNIEJOE REID

Can you bake a cherry pie? Of course you can . . . that old-fashioned (and so good) one that your mother taught you to make. But what about a newer, and much less laborious pie, that is a real party treat?

This is, you know, the cherry season. The new crop of canned cherries is now on your store shelves, and comes in a variety of colors, styles and grades.

And, before I forget it, let me remind you that Almond has a special affinity for cherries. A few drops of the extract will give an improved flavor to any cherry pie filling.

* * *

BUT BACK to that cherry pie I planned to tell you about. This cherry chiffon pie is made as follows:

Combine two cups crushed graham cracker crumbs, a half cup sugar and a half cup soft butter.

Press all but a half cup into a nine-inch buttered pie plate. Bake crust eight to 10 minutes at 350 degrees F.

Chill thoroughly (almost freezing) all but one-fourth cup from a 14½-ounce can of undiluted evaporated milk. Chill bowl and beaters.

In the meantime, drain juice from one No. 303 or four pitted red cherries packed in water. Add enough water to make one cup. Bring juice to boil.

Pour hot juice over a package cherry-flavored gelatine in bowl. Stir until gelatin is dissolved. Add one teaspoon lemon juice.

Chill till thick and syrupy. Then beat chilled gelatin until frothy.

When milk is ready beat to consistency of whipped cream. Fold milk and cherries into gelatin mixture along with one-half teaspoon almond extract. Place cherry mixture in pie shell. Sprinkle on remaining crumbs, Chill.

* * *

I ALSO often serve a delicious cherry sherbert, not a dessert, but along with roast duck.

I use a cup of evaporated milk, chilled icy cold, three tablespoons lemon juice and a cup of red cherry preserved.

Whip the milk very stiff. Fold in lemon juice, then cherry preserves. Pour at once into cold freezing trays and freeze. Serve in side dishes with the roasted duck. The contrast is wonderful.

CHERRY BLOSSOM DESSERT is a sure-fire hit.

To make combine a fourth cup sifted flour and a cup of sugar in a saucepan. Blend in three-fourth cup cherry juice drained from a No. 2 can pie cherries, and a fourth teaspoon red food coloring.

Cook over direct heat until mixture thickens, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Add cherries, drained. Cool.

Now sift together one and a half cups flour, a teaspoon of salt, and a half teaspoon of soda. Blend in a cup of firmly packed brown sugar and a cup of quick-cooking oatmeal.

Cut in a half cup shortening until particles are the size of small peas. Press half of the oatmeal mixture into bottom of an ungreased 12x8x2 pan.

Spread with cooled cherry filling. Cover with remaining oatmeal mixture. Press down gently with spoon.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for 25 to 30 minutes. Cut into squares. Serve warm or cold with whipped cream.

JOE BRACY (who should know, having chaired the affair) tells me that the Alpha Phi Alphas did quite well financially with their scholarship benefit Saturday night.

Certainly they did well with entertaining their guests, with those laden tables, a couple of orchestras to provide good dance music. And I always maintain that you have to go far to find more suave hosts than this town's Alpha men.

And added that their women never let them down, so that you not only have a good time, you have an eye-filling time. For instance, Morgan College's Thelma Winder danced up a looey in a smart frock of black lace over pink. And Mattie Mumby was another smart gal in black. Her frock was a snugly fitted torso affair with a peri bow at the back neck and a very full skirt.

Eleanor Bracey choose pale blue satin, fitted to a breath, and Mary Adams, an off-shoulder black sheath with bracelet sleeves and a perky bow at the back hip-line. Loved that neckline, too, a sort of exaggerated, sweetheart design.

Doris Tarter's brilliant red embroidered satin had an intriguing panel from neck line to hem line at the back. Erma DeBeal swathed her slender figure in a red chiffon, from shoulder to knee, where the frock swirled into a fluted flare.

Several of the gals were eyeing each other with lifted brows because they turned up in identical frocks. Lillian Ann Wallace and I just giggled. We have twins, mine green satin, hers red, but we escaped because she was togged out in black that night, and she most magnificent rhinestone bracelet and necklace that I've seen in a many a moon.

Most adorable couple about was Marion Gregory, of Morgan's faculty, and Stanley Beckett, the Florist...unless we divide honors between Warren Parker and his Ann Evans, as pretty as a peach in blue, with a band of mink at the neck.

They were guests at Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Alleyne's table. Incidentally, it always amazes me that Mrs. A. (Vivian) top executive that she is, can be such a good cook. She had stirred up the most delicious dip for sausage wedges, and the tastiest tiny blocks of a fruited cake for sweets that I've ever run across.

THE POWDER PUFFS (they're the wives and sweethearts of the Libertarians) fetted their guys at a Valentine party, Saturday night, in the club room of the William Addisons.

Their invitations were the cutest things...bids enclosed in red lace hearts; their food scrumptious...from hors d'oeuvres to turkey and an equal variety of sipables, and with the addition of a cake for Mr. Addison who had a birthday the day before.

The Powder Puffs include Lillian Bates, Vashti Bristal, Berdie Addison, Emma Jones, Terrie Gilmore, Sarah Bundy, Genevia Hill, Thelma Addison, Esther Johns, Elizabeth Dett, Sarah Jones, Minnie Bell, Mickey Smith, Gladys Hairston, Charlotte McNeal and Jerry Smith.

Their guests were:

Isaac Bristal, Miller Bates, William Addison, James Addison, Archie Jones, Cabell Smith, John Gilmore, James Bundy, Shirley Smith, Irving Dett;

Edward Jones, Charles Bruce, all Libertarians; and Virginia and Howard Scott of Washington.

WHEN THE Stork Club moves to crow over the success of their recent open meeting on integration, the hostess, Ruth Broom, refused to let them remain serious long. She dragged in a huge box filled with everything but the kitchen sink, and ordered the girls to make hats. Some hats those girls made out of tin plates and bows and veiling and stuff could have graced any Easter parade. There were funny ones, too, such as the one Ethel Carrington, the president, decorated with an eggbeater.

Catherine Greene took the prize, however, with a hat that could have just arrived from another world. Ruth's guests, Pauline Bond and her sister, Anna Jones, acted as judges. Anna had come down from Jersey to see Ruth's son, Kenneth, receive his diploma from Poly.

ROYAL WEAVER heads that new unit of the 30 Year Olde Timers, organized here, this week.

Their charter was bestowed by the parent club of Philadelphia.

Other officers are Charles Greer, vice president; Ernest O. Henson, secretary; William Lampkins, business manager.

Members include Buddy Young, Charles Woodson, Nathaniel Allor, Percy Smith, Charles Dotson, Ulysses Johnson, Abley Prestwidge, Charles Tilghman, William Cain, Thomas Carroll, W. A. Chambers.

They have a basketball game and dance set for March 24.

ONE OF the gayest cocktail parties of the week was that given for Barton L. Bond on his birthday, Saturday, by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bond Sr. of Carrollton Ave.

Added incident was the announcement of the engagement of Miss Estelle Fairfax and Levi M. Staten during the evening. Their wedding is to take place in June.

Guests at the party were:

Messrs. and Mesdames M. Wallace, John Bond Jr., Charles Wells, Marshall Waters, Lawrence Johnson, Thomas Caswell, Leroy Walkins, Fremon Allen, Thurman Smith.

Misses Lucy Walker, Ann Bland, Estelle Fairfax; Messrdames Mildred Bryant, Myrtle Lee, George Gunther, M. Lancaster, Lois Barnes, Kenneth Bass.

Levi Staten, Fred Buchanan, Edward Johnson, Richard Campbell, Edward Younge.

DEAR HARRIET HICKS

EDITORS NOTE: Here is a brand new feature for AFRO readers. We were lucky to secure the services of Mrs. Harriet Hicks, a matron of long experience in helping people.

You can trust her to give you the guidance you need on problems affecting love, marriage, teenagers and children.

Address your letters to Harriet Hicks, AFRO City Desk, Baltimore 1, Md. She will answer them through this newspaper. All letters will be held in confidence.

"Dear Mrs. Hicks:

"My husband and I have been married for eight years.

"Through my working and helping my husband, we managed to buy a car.

"Then he met another woman and she began to tell him stories and fill him with doubt about me.

"She has so changed him that he doesn't want me to ride in my own car, and he wants to get rid of me so that he can marry her.

"This woman is 40 years old. My husband is 29.

"I am so heartbroken that I am sick over this turn of affairs.

"On Sunday night he lied to me, took my money and the car and I have not seen him since. What can I do?—C. A."

* * *

DEAR C.A.: Many a young man has been swept off of his feet by an experienced older woman, just as many older men's heads are turned by younger women.

But I think there is something that can be done to bring your husband to his senses. In the first place you can see a good lawyer and see what your stakes in the car are and what you can do about that.

You can stop giving him your money, which you should not have done in the first place. Use your money to improve yourself and to build up a nest egg for yourself.

You can have your lawyer tell your husband in no uncertain terms that you are not going to divorce him.

If you keep your skirts clean, he can not divorce you. If he isn't divorced he cannot marry her.

In time he will more than likely come to his senses. This I hope happens, not only for your peace of mind, but for your husband's benefit.

When he is over this emotional binge and his head is clear, he is likely to see that a woman such as you describe will not make a good wife.

Cherry Hill News

By MARJORIE J. WARD

Miss Jo Ann Turpin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Turpin of Cherry Hill, was married to Clarence Simms, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Simms also of Cherry Hill, here recently.

The Rev. E. W. Williams of the first Baptist Church of Fairfield performed the wedding ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white nylon net cocktail dress trimmed with pink. Her headpiece consisted of a white satin shell hat and a shoulder length veil. She carried a white bible topped with a white orchid and white streamers.

Miss Ella Louise Simms, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. She wore a pink satin dress trimmed with lace and carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums. Norman Williams was best man.

Among the guests present were:

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wilson and Mrs. Vivian Williams of Baltimore. Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Ephriam, Canton, N.J.; Mr. and Mrs. Willie J. Ephriam, Canton, N.J.; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Jackson, Boston; Raymond Sevenson, Enterprise, Ala.; and Mrs. Helen White of Philadelphia.
