Brown TKO victor to hold title

MIAMI, Fla. — Joey Brown, 30-year-old New Orleans lightweight, scored a technical knockout in the 11th round here Wednesday night at Miami Beach Auditorium to retain the world 135-pound title.

Brown's victim was former champion Wallace (Bud) Smith, the transplanted Cincinnatian now operating out of East Orange, N.J.

It marked Joey's first defense of the crown he won from Smith in a split decision last August in New Orleans. It also served as the first title fight in this city's boxing history.

THE END CAME when Smith's chief second, Adolph

ALL-SPORTS JAMBOREE, held recently in Atlanta, Ga., was a star-studded event with champions from all areas of the sports world being honored. In above panel, from left, are Bill Russell, San Francisco, Cal., Olympic gold medal winner in basketball, now with the Boston Celtics; Henry (Hank) Aaron, Mobile, Ala., National League's batting champion of the Milwaukee Braves; Lee Calhoun, Indiana, Olympic gold medal winner in the 100-meter hurdles events, from North Carolina State College at Durham; Joel Shankle, North Carolina, Olycpic bronze ledal winner of Duke University; Frank Robinson, National League's "rookie of the year," outfielder with Cincinnati Redlegs, and Wilt Chamberlain, Philadelphia, phenomenal basketball star of Kansas University.

Midwestern AA cage standings

| Team | W. | L. | Pct. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Tenn. A. and I. | 6 | 1 | .850 |
| Jackson | 4 | 1 | .800 |
| Central State | 2 | 2 | .500 |
| Mo. Lincoln | 1 | 1 | .500 |
| Grambling | 0 | 3 | .000 |
| Kentucky | 0 | 5 | .000 |

pointment:

"I'm definitely not disappointed," he said. However, he refused to discuss the contract in detail, saying: "The Braves are a great bunch and I'm glad to be with them."

TV LOG

FRIDAY

BOXING: Neal Rivers vs. Spider Webb, from Mad. Sq. Garden, 10 p.m.

BOWLING: All-star duckpin match from Newark, N.J., 11:20 p.m.

SATURDAY

PRO HOCKEY: Boston Bruins at Chicago Black Hawks, 2 p.m.

PRO BASKETBALL: Minneapolis Lakers at N.Y. Knickerbockers, 2:30 p.m.

HORSE RACING: $25,000 Everglades Stakes from Hialeah Park, 4:30 p.m.

Painful BURNS Heal Faster with Nature's Best Petroleum Jelly

Off the beaten path

By ELIZABETH M. OLIVER

Casserole of this and that

Can spring be far behind? — Red birds in our back yard, quarrelsome little packages of brilliant red feathers, fussing with tiny sparrows over bread crumbs.

Compared with their bright-hued brothers, unattractive winter birds look like proverbial stepchildren.

* * *

SPRING FASHIONS indicate slender, tubular, more extreme silhouettes with jackets and capes.

The last time capes were in style, fashion experts say, was just before World War I, in 1914.

SPEAKING OF olden days—A March 17, 1917 AFRO, owned by George Coleman, 700 N. Appleton has Rev. N. M. Carroll's picture on the front page. Dr. Carroll requested the M. E. Conference for retirement after 53 years.

For sale (40 yrs. ago) were brand new 2-story homes at Also, George D. Gilbert, Viola Johnson, Carroll W. Johnson, W. Leroy Ellis, Cornelius L. Carroll, George W. Henson, William G. Young Jr., Samuel Hayward Oliver, Relief Association, William E. Ready and Mrs. D. Arnett Murphy.

They made the Nation's Honor Roll, $50 was big money then.

* * *

COMMANDER OF PLATOON fighting around Charlone, Germany wrote the AFRO: "Attacked the enemy. The boys went over the top and met the enemy in the wire. The Germans were all killed."

From page social notes: AFRO, 1918:

Social event of the four was the wedding of singer Lillian Evanti to pianist Roy W. Tibbs, teacher at the Howard Univ. Conservatory of Music. Miss Tibbs was then kindergarten teacher.

Annapolis City Councilman, Albert Adams, was ill. Mrs. Geraldine Pindell, the wife of William Monroe Trotter, editor