Harry J. Hunt's body en route from England for burial here

"He wrote me last week, and told me how perfectly exhausted he was.

MR. HUNT

"He stated that he traveled eight to ten miles a day from his home in Roseland Pill, Somerset, England, in order to get to his work in the Oxford University Thesaurus.

"His work was heavy, he said, and the gas shortage made things more difficult."

Mrs. Elsie Hunt 2302 Roslyn Ave., sister-in-law of Harry J. Hunt, 60, was telling the AFRO of the last letter the family received from the Oxford University dramatics professor.

"A FEW DAYS later," she explained, "we received a cable from Father Preen, an Episcopal minister in England. He had sent it to Father Mills at St. James Episcopal Church here.

"It said Harry had been found dead, had been taken with a heart attack last Thursday."

Mrs. Hunt also stated that the former Douglass High School dramatics teacher had been honored with services held in the Episcopal Church of England on Wednesday.

The body is en route to Baltimore for burial.

"THE PEOPLE of England and the church loved Harry very much," Mrs. Hunt said, "and they wished that he might be buried there. However, they gave the family the decision.

"We wanted him brought home," she added.

Mrs. Hunt also stated that Mr. Hunt's father, Harry Sr., who is 90 years old, had not as yet been informed of the death of his son.

"He loved Harry so much, we hesitate to tell him. Because of his age, we are afraid the shock may be too much," she said.

BORN AND reared in Baltimore, Mr. Hunt was a 1917 graduate of the old Normal School, now known as Coppin Teachers' College.

He volunteered for duty in World War I and held the rank of sergeant. He also served in World War II and held the rank of captain.

Following an honorable discharge from the Army, he became professor of dramatics at Hampton Institute, Va.

He also was graduated with honors from Oxford University in 1955. He had been instructing theatrical dramatics at the University for seven years.

* * *

MRS. HUNT stated that the body will be accompanied from England to Baltimore by a friend and member of Mr. Hunt's church parish.

Survivors include the father, Harry J., Hunt Sr., a brother, Dr. Raymond B. Hunt, a Baltimore dentist; an uncle, Aaron Hunt.

Also three aunts, Mrs. Amelia Williams, Baltimore; Mrs. Blanche McKinney, Washington, and Mrs. Lucy H. Willis of Philadelphia.

Funeral for Mrs. Hutto, 69 Wednesday

"She had been sick for about five years and she passed away right here at home on last Friday.

This was the way Henry Hutto explained the recent death of his wife, Mrs. Lucy E. Hutto, of 411 North Stricker St.

Funeral services were held for the 69-year-old housewife from Perkins Square Baptist Church Wednesday at 2 p.m.

* * *

MRS. HUTTO was born in Columbia, S.C. but moved to Baltimore in 1917 and she had made her home here since that time.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by three brothers, Booker, George and Ulysses Perkins.

The Rev. W. D. Yerby, pastor, Perkins Square Baptist Church, officiated, and interment was in Mt. Calvary Cemetery.

Scott Funeral Today

WASHINGTON

Mrs. Alma J. Scott, widow of Edward L. Scott, died Tuesday afternoon at Freedmen's Hospital after a week's illness.

Services will be held at the former First Seventh Day Adventists Church, 624 Eighth St., N.E., today (Friday, Feb. 8), 1 p.m.

Mrs. Scott had been a resident of the District of Columbia since 1897, having come via her family to Washington from Gresham, Tex., where she and her husband taught school for several years.

For 60 years she has served as a pioneer in many civic and social movements. Soon after her arrival she became active with Associated Charities, now known as Family Service.

MRS. ALMA SCOTT

ALONG WITH several friends she made one of the earliest attempts at combat juvenile delinquency by establishing the Blagden Alley-Sixteenth Street center known as Lincoln Center.

The present Southwest Community Settlement House was the outgrowth of the Mother Child Center, a neighborhood settlement house which she founded in 1921.

Partial support for this movement came from the Women's Christian Temperance Union, an organization with which she was actively connected for over fifty years. In appreciation of her work in the Southwest Community the citizens of Washington gave her a testimonial in 1943.

HER LAST years of service were spent in furthering the development of the Iota Whipper Home for unwed mothers. During the past year she served as president of its executive board.

Mrs. Scott's connection with Howard University, both as student and an alumna, extended over a period of 50 years.

She was graduated from the English Department in 1901 and from the Teachers College in 1908. She returned to Howard University to receive the bachelor degree in 1939.

HER SERVICES to the university were long and varied and covered such activities as president of the local alumni and membership on the executive committee of the national alumni.

For several years she served as chairman of the Charter Day dinner. She was also chairman of the testimonial in honor of Senator Crampton, one of Howard's great benefactors.

Since 1916, Mrs. Scott was a member of the First Seventh Day Adventists Church. She was active in the church as a temperance leader, member of the King's Daughters and as a teacher in the Sabbath School.

She served for eighteen years as superintendent of the Sabbath School. For several years she taught at the Parochial School and served as a member of the school board.

AND, MRS. MAE MONK, 28, of 3403 Gwynns Falls Pkwy. who sustained head and facial injuries.

Mrs. Monk remained in a critical condition Tuesday as a result of the accident.

AT UNIVERSITY Hospital, Mrs. Frances Ward, 33 of 1831 W. Lexington St., is recovering from a compound fracture of the left knee and broken bones in the lower right leg.

At the Anne Arundel General Hospital, Charlie Campbell, 32, of 3323 Round Rd., Cherry Hill is recovering from leg bruises, cuts about the shoulder and back injuries.

All were passengers in an automobile driven by Mrs. Ward, and were enroute to their jobs at the Bethlehem Steel at the time.

The four women are practical nurses at Crownsville. Mr. Campbell is an attendant.

The three white occupants of the second automobile involved in the crash also are improving according to word from Anne Arundel General Hospital.

They are Robert Massey, 21, of Severn, Md., who received a head and knee injury; his wife, Mrs. Jane Massey, 16, who sustained a fractured jaw, bruises about the chest, a fractured right ankle and internal injuries; and Ray Stallings, 21, of Newport News, Va., who sustained a broken neck and cuts about the chest and chin.

From her hospital bed, Mrs. Ward told relatives that the accident occured when the wheels of a car in front of her locked.

She was charged with failure to keep to the right of the center line, and Mr. Massey was charged with reckless driving by State Police.

5 Crownsville crash victims are improving

"They are all coming along nicely but the Mink is still in the hospital."

"Mrs. Monk regained consciousness Wednesday."

That was the report from hospitals in Baltimore and Anne Arundel County Thursday afternoon on the condition of five Crownsville State Hospital employees who were injured last Saturday in a head-on collision on Route 301 in Severn, Md.

Recovering from their injuries at South Baltimore General Hospital are:

MRS. THELMA GOLDEN, 45, of 1614 Stage Rd., Glen Burnie who suffered head and leg injuries.

MRS. IOLA REEVES, 43, of 1715 E. Federal St., head injuries.

Community study set for Saturday

Ways and means of preventing the decay of neighborhoods will be discussed at a Neighborhood Improvement Institute which will be held at Baltimore City College on Saturday.

Subjects like zoning, parks and play space, traffic, sanitation, parking and blight control will be on the agenda of the work-shop sessions set for the one-day institute.

Leading city officials and officers of the improvement association will conduct the sessions jointly.

Officials of the sponsoring groups believe that the institute is the first of its type in any major city.

Warren Buckler, president of the board of the Citizens Planning and Housing Association, will give the key-note address at the meeting.

Dr. Wilmer V. Bell, director of the Adult Education Division of the Department of Education, will monitor the discussion workshops which will follow the opening address.

All interested citizens are invited to attend the institute. The registration fee is $2.50 and includes luncheon.

The program will begin at 9:30 a.m. Feb. 9, in the auditorium of the Baltimore City College, 33rd St., and the Alameda.

The pallbearers are: Frank Perry, George Washington, Arthur Hollmon, Thomas Porter, Charles Green, Leroy Williams, James Mobrary and Herman West, funeral aide.

Funds for Carl slow but sure

"My husband took $37 over to the hospital last Friday and we were so proud to be able to pay it.

"I want to thank everybody who has given us money. It has meant more than you will ever know."

Mrs. Louise Smith, Carl's mother, 2106 Greenmount Ave., was telling the AFRO Thursday about readers' contributions which have helped them begin paying on the $2,000 hospital bill for their 7-year-old son, a cancer victim who died Jan. 12.

Mrs. Smith says she and her husband have agreed to pay Hopkins Hospital $5 a week.

IN A LETTER LAST WEEK, Mrs. Anna Bell Coleman, and Mrs. Sarah F. Diggs, suggested that AFRO readers help the Smiths.

So far, readers have contributed $90.25.

The Rev. Edward G. Carroll, pastor of Sharp St. Methodist Church, and Mrs. Coleman, have agreed to accept the money. To date they report the following contributions totaling $73.00:

Youth Club quarters, $15.25.

Mrs. Anna Bell Coleman, 700 N. Appleton, $10.

Rev. Edward Carroll reports: Dr. William Watts, 515 N. Arlington, $10.

Dr. Charles Watts, 928 Pa. Ave., $10.

Mrs. Sarah F. Diggs, Morgan College, $10.

Rev. and Mrs. Edward G. Carroll, 507 W. Lanvale, $10.

Mrs. Philathea Hall, Carter-Hall Realty, $5.

Mrs. Florence Linn, 131 Aisquith St., $1.

Mrs. Charles Blackstock, 3126 Preston St., $1.

Mrs. Martha Hayse, 3126 Preston St., $1.

Mrs. Victoria Tyler, 1106 W. Saratoga, $.25.

Total, $73.00.

Previous contributions to make a grand total of $99.25 are as follows:

Mrs. Fannie Newton, 2401 Walbrook Ave., $11 from the Just Old Friends Club.

Mrs. Pearl McIntyre, 540 E. 22nd St., $5.

Mrs. Frances Stokes, 106 Oak St., $5.

(Mrs. Stokes, an AFRO lucky picture winner contributed her prize).

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Davis, 2020 Bryant Ave., $5.

Here's how you can give to the fund for Carl

Send your contribution, no matter how small, to:

T. L. Anderson, 66, dies was veteran horseman

"My husband had been ailing for about five months but we always thought he would be up and around again. He never let things get him down."

Thomas L. Anderson, 66, of 1908 Druid Hill Ave., died on Feb. 4, and Mrs. Lilia Anderson, his wife, was telling the AFRO about it.

"We had thought he was getting better, but I guess these things must come to all of us," she said.

Mr. Anderson was born in Charlottesville, Va., but had been a resident of Baltimore for over 30 years. He served with the American Infantry during the campaign in France in World War I.

Active in racing circles all of his life, Mr. Anderson was foreman of the Pimlico stables at the time of his death and his work carried him to the large tracks all over the country.

HE IS survived by his wife, one sister, Mrs. Georgianna Carey, of Charlottesville, Va.; a brother, William Anderson; two aunts, Mrs. Isabella Rason, Jamaica, L. I., and Mrs. Millie Walker, Charlottesville.

Also two uncles, Thomas and Rawlings Carey, Oak Union, Va.

Funeral services will be held at the Charles R. Law Funeral Home today (Friday) at 1 p.m. The Rev. V. T. Keyes will officiate and burial will be in Baltimore National Cemetery.

was the first public performance of "Sleep Gentle Baby," by Richard G. Richardson Jr., a young music student of Morgan State College and associate member of the choir.

The new choral selection is taken from Mr. Richardson's cantata "A Child Is Born" in manuscript.

ENSEMBLE SOLOISTS included Arnold Moore, Louis Oliver, Lawrence Jones, Lawrence Cole, John Johnson, and Wm. Hall.

The Boys honored their president, William Land for ten years of meritorious service by presenting him with a bronze gold medallion.

Mr. Land is a worker at Orchard Street Methodist Church, and a student at Carver Technical High School.

A special group of selections were dedicated the the memory of the Rev. William McKinley Dawkins, former pastor of Waters AME Church, and founder of the choir (1891-1934).

The choir and conductor were tendered a reception after the concert.

The committee consisted of Mrs. Saturia Jackson, chairman; Miss Imogene Douglass and Mrs. Julia Stevenson, co-chairmen. Mrs. Hilda Rochester, chairman of publicity committee. The Rev. Wesley B. Nash is pastor of Waters Church.

Boys' Choir in concert

The Baltimore Boys' Choir Inc. and their founder - conductor, William Meredith II, Birche, Jr. was presented Sunday in the auditorium of Waters AME Church for the benefit of Men's Day.

Appearing before an enthusiastic crowd of over 500 persons, young male singers of concert, stage, radio and television presented a varied program of hymns, gospel and folk and modern songs.

Highlighted on the program was the choir's rendition of "Every Service is a perfect tribute" by Richard G. Richardson Jr., a member of the choir.

Men's Day set at Grace AME

"Man's Religious and Education Obligation in Modern Society" will be the theme of the annual Men's Day celebration at Grace AME Church in Catonsville Sunday.

The Rev. T. C. Freeman, presiding elder of the Hagerstown District AME Conference will speak at the morning services.

Dr. Martin D. Jenkins, Morgan State College president will speak at 5 p.m.

William Ross is president of the Men's Day Committee; Franklin Terrell, secretary; and Frances Hebron, treasurer.

The Rev. C. C. Brown is pastor.

Mrs. Williams dies suddenly

"She wasn't sick but a few days before she died. It was a shock to all of us because we just hadn't expected it."

Mrs. Esther Stephens was telling the AFRO about the death of her sister, Mrs. Ione Williams, 58, of 2623 West Lanvale St.

Mrs. Williams was born in Ponce de Leon, Fla., but had been living in Baltimore for the past six years.

She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Susie Anderson, of Jacksonville, Fla., a daughter, Mrs. Sudie Carter; a son, Leroy Williams and four sisters:

Mrs. Mamie Lovett, Mrs. Esther Stephens, Mrs. Christine Campbell and Mrs. Gladys Marshall.

Funeral services will be held at Mt. Calvary Church Saturday, 1 p.m. The Elder Mr. Simmons will officiate.

Funeral rites for Mrs. 'Spriggs today

"She was an old resident of this city. She was born in East Baltimore 79 years ago."

Mrs. Edith Spriggs, of 1114 Brevard St., wife of the late Jacob Spriggs, died Monday and her niece Mrs. Ora Ward, was giving the details to the AFRO.

The deceased was a member of the Daughter Elks and the Nazarites and had worked as a nursing aide for the past 27 years.

Funeral services will be held today (Friday) at 2 p.m. from the residence. The Rev. Baxter Mathews, pastor of Union Baptist Church, will officiate.

Survivors are two nieces: Mrs. Grace Edwards and Mrs. Ora Ward, and three nephews, Floyd, John, and Herbert Hewitt.

Roofer, father of 8, needs a steady job

"I haven't had two straight week's work since winter began. I have a family of eight, and am expecting another soon."

This is the plight of a roofer, William McIntyre, 1910 Barclay St., who is asking AFRO readers to help him find a steady job.

"I hope someone can help," he said, for wife, rent to pay, gas and light bills behind, I am in great need.

"I APPLIED for public assistance, but, I was not eligible," Mr. McIntyre told the AFRO.

"We have to have food.

"I try getting odd jobs, and I have had some success, but it is barely enough to keep us warm," he said.

Mr. McIntyre states that he is willing to accept any kind of work, and requests immediate employment no matter what the job may be.

Mt. Olivet gives pastor portrait

Ceremonies for the unveiling of a portrait of Rev. C. L. Whitfield, will be held Sunday, at the Mt. Olivet Christian Church, 230 N. Fulton Ave.

Done in oils, by a noted local portrait painter, Mrs. Anne Readenkopf, 3203 N. Charles St., the picture will hang in the church Fellowship Hall.

Presentation of the portrait came as a surprise to the minister. It was made by Percy Smith, while Mrs. Marian Whitfield Battle, daughter of the honoree, the Rev. Mr. Whitfield, performed the unveiling.

Acceptance on behalf of the church was made by Deacon Frank Robinson.
