'Shocked' says kin of axe victim, 52

"I don't think we will ever recover from this.

"It was a shock."

Three hours after attending funeral services for his father Walter Elmer Freeland who was found beaten to death last Sunday, that was the comment of George Freeland of the 1000 block Vine St., Wednesday afternoon.

Funeral services for the 52-year-old construction worker, who police said was slain as the result of blows about the head, were held at the Patuxent Methodist Church in Huntingtown, Md., Wednesday.

In connection with his death charges against his son Raymond Columbus Freeland, 21, of the 590 block N. Greene St., were filed Tuesday in Homicide Court.

The case of the tall and slender young man who appeared before Magistrate Moyer Cardin dressed in faded Army fatigues and wearing a small bandage over his left eye, was postponed on a time and date to be set by the state's attorney's.

IN POSTPONING the case Magistrate Cardin told Mr. Freeland, "Because this is a very serious matter, I would suggest that you contact your family to get an attorney."

The accused man was arrested at his home the same day his father's body was found sprawled in a pool of blood in the kitchen of his second-floor apartment at 838 W. Fayette St.

Southwestern District Police said Mr. Freeland was slain on Friday and his body was not discovered until 8:30 a.m. Sunday.

POLICE SAID the blows which caused his death were caused by an iron pipe or an axe.

Mr. Freeland's body was discovered by his sons James and George Freeland.

George Freeland stated that he saw his father last on Thursday when he came to his house at 1 a.m.

"WE WENT around to his house Sunday for our regular visit and that's when we found him" Mr. Freeland stated.

"The bedroom door was ajar and he was lying behind the kitchen door.

"James felt him and said, 'He's dead.' I ran out and called the police."

ASKED ABOUT the arrest of his brother Mr. Freeland said: "I just don't know. They never had any trouble before and my father never bothered anybody."

When asked by an AFRO reporter if any members of his family had visited his brother in jail Mr. Freeland said:

"My sister visited him yesterday. She said he was very upset."

In addition to his sons, James, Walter, George and Raymond, Mr. Freeland is survived by two daughters, Misses Mildred and Mary Freeland; two brothers, Rogers and Edward Freeland of Huntingtown; and brother-in-law, Benjamin Tyler.

FRESH AIR OF FREEDOM—Alonzo (Slim) Myers strides swiftly to his waiting car Monday as he leaves the Maryland House of Correction (The "Cut") at Jessup where he served 11 months of a two-year lottery sentence. Now on parole until next February, the former operator of the Club Tijuana will begin work in the process plant of a Northwest food concern Monday. Released at 12 noon Monday, "Slim" was greeted by his wife, Dorotha, at right. Also on hand was C. H. Hampoth, AFRO writer, (left) who had last seen "Slim" when they were Army mates in Korea over 12 years ago. For the "coming out" picture, the writer and a photographer had waited since 8 a.m. on the snowiest day of the season.

Bus driver, 26, held in attack on girl, 13

"She refused to leave him," That was how Southwestern District Police had to say Tuesday about a 13-year-old girl who allegedly became too familiar with a 26-year-old BTC bus driver.

As a result of their alleged friendship, Herman Merrill Cahill of the 2400 block Fairview Ave., was charged with carnal knowledge and ordered held for the grand jury without bail.

Sergeant Violet Hill Whyte told the court that the teenage girl met Cahill on a Cherry Hill bus last Saturday, and rode with him from 4:30 p.m. until 1 a.m.

After permitting the girl to ride without paying a fare, police said Cahill put her in his automobile and drove to a friend's house in the 3400 block Childs St., in Fairfield where they remained for more than four hours.

When the girl refused to leave his company, Cahill allegedly made arrangements with a number of four children to rent the teenager a room police said.

Robinson, 32, of the 200 block N. Pine St., became the first person to be convicted under adopted a month ago.

OWNER of a barber shop in the 200 block N. Pine St., Mr. Robinson said permitted a 12-year-old boy to play a pinball machine in his shop on at least six occasions, police testified.

Sgt. Vincent Serio stated that he discovered the violation after he and his men went to the shop to investigate the illegal sale of fireworks.

Police told Magistrate Howard L. Aaron that they found more than 200 firecrackers stowed away in a box on the premises.

On the fireworks charge, Mr. Robinson was fined $25 and costs, and Robert J. Hall, 22, a nine shine man in the shop was given a $10 suspended fine.

'Didn't know about that law,' barber tells court

"I didn't know about that law".

According to Southwestern District Police, that's what a businessman told them Monday when he was arrested for violating a city ordinance which prevents youngsters under the age of 16 from playing pinball machines.

Fined $75 and costs, Eddie W.

Airman gets 25-day leave

Airman first class Robert H. Watts, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo W. Lee, 1406 Myrtle Ave., has returned to his base after a recent 25-day leave.

A student at Douglass High School, Airman Watts is now a jet bomber mechanic at Lincoln Air Force Base, Nebraska.

His father is a technician at the Westinghouse Air Arm division, Industrial Relations plant and his mother is a junior student at Towson State Teachers College.

ROBERT H. WATTS

'. . . This whole affair was a very primitive thing'

"Well, Wilson, you're awfully close to the line...I'm frank to say that if I had found guilt in the first degree there would have been only two alternatives and I wouldn't have sentenced you to life."

Charles Junior Wilson, 22, 200 block N. Gilmor St., stood in Criminal Court Wednesday and listened attentatively as Judge Joseph L. Carter told him of his close brush with the gas chamber.

Mr. Wilson was found guilty of second-degree murder in the May 11 fatal stabbing of Roosevelt McNeil and was given the maximum penalty of 18 years in the Maryland Penitentiary.

"There's entirely too much of this promiscuous cutting," said Judge Carter in imposing sentence.

JAMES PRICE, assistant State's attorney, asked for a verdict of murder in the first degree; calling Mr. McNeil's slaying the result of "A vicious attack."

Gordon Allen, court-appointed defense attorney, argued in favor of a finding of less than first-degree murder, which carried penalties of either life or death.

"There isn't any doubt that this whole affair was a very primitive thing," said Mr. Allen, adding that the State had not proved premeditation.

Mr. Wilson testified that the dead man threatened him with the knife and he managed to take it away from him during a struggle. He said he stabbed the man but did not know he was mortally wounded until he was arrested the next day.

HOWEVER, A WITNESS to the alteration, John Holmes, 42, 1614 W. Mulberry St., said he did not see Mr. McNeil with a knife. Mr. Holmes said before the fatal stabbing the men argued over a woman identified as Mrs. Mabel Finney, 39, of the 1600 block W. Fayette St.

"The witness stated that Mr. Wilson called to Mr. McNeil when the bartender was leaving the tavern where he was employed in the 1500 block W. Saratoga St.

"The first thing Junior said was, 'Is she your woman?' " Mr. Holmes said. "Roosevelt said, 'No, she isn't.' " Mr. Wilson, Junior said, "You're lying."

MR. HOLMES, stated that Mr. Wilson then grabbed the man by the collar and "I thought they were playing." He quoted Mr. McNeil as asking "Man, what are you punching me in my stomach for?"

THE WITNESS said he next observed Mr. McNeil holding his stomach.

"What did Roosevelt do after holding his stomach?" inquired Mr. Price.

"He went across the street," Mr. Holmes replied. I heard him say to a gentleman, 'Man, I'm hurt.' "

When Mr. Price wanted to know whether the witness assisted the injured man, Mr. Holmes said, "There wasn't anything I could do, sir. I held up his clothes and saw his guts sticking out."

OFFICER JAMES B. DIXON said he arrested Mr. Wilson the day after the stabbing at the home of an uncle in the 200 block N. Gilmor. The patrolman said the knife used in the slaying was recovered at 802 N. Central Ave.

Mr. Wilson, a tall, medium built man wearing a green suede jacket and dark pants and shirt, testified in his own behalf.

He related that he entered the tavern where Mr. McNeil was employed to buy a bottle of beer.

"Mabel Finney came up to me with a bottle of beer in her hand and asked me to buy her some wine," Mr. Wilson said.

He related that he bought the wine for her and a few minutes later went outside the place where he met Mr. Holmes and two other men.

"Mabel Finney came out the bar and asked me for 27 cents to get some more wine and I told her I didn't have anymore change," the defendant said. "She told me, 'That's alright, you've had better company than me.' "

MR. WILSON testified that when Mr. McNeil left the bar he was standing nearby and the bartender called to him.

"I walked up to him and he talk with a broken jaw," Mr. Wilson said. "I knocked the knife out of his hand and we struggled for it."

The defendant said he beat the man to the knife and struck him twice.

"I didn't know he was hurt badly," he said during cross-examination. "He was standing up when I left."

Mr. Wilson testified that in 1951 he was sentenced to three years in the House of Correction for robbery with a deadly weapon, and "was given an extra year when he escaped."

Seven held in bail of $144,000 on 42 charges

"They worked pawn shops, food and liquor stores from the first of November until the last of December".

That was the comment of Northeastern District Police Monday as 42 charges were filed against seven men.

Ranging in age from 17 to 36, the men were charged with robbery, larceny, conspiracy, obtaining money under false pretenses, and were ordered held in total bail of $144,000 for action of the grand jury.

A BAIL OF $2,000 on each charge was set for Henry Bowles, 17, of the 900 block E. Chase St.; Tyrone Topp, 17, of the 700 block Aisquith St; William Cheeks, 26, of the 700 block Aisquith St; and Joseph Watts, 18, of the 1200 block E. Madison St.

Others were, James Walker, 24, of the 700 block Sterling St; Edward Woodson, 21, of the unit block Register St; and Willie Neal, 36, of the 1700 block Etting St.

Police stated that among the articles stolen from various business establishments were 46 money - order blanks and a checkwriter.

Hawthorne Smith slated for Traffic — Court on Tuesday

Hawthorne Smith Jr., 6 Lincoln Ave., Catonsville, a former counselor at Morgan State College, is scheduled to face trial in Traffic Court Tuesday on charges of speeding, reckless driving and violating a traffic signal light.

Mr. Smith and two other Baltimore educators were arrested by police on Nov. 15, and held for investigation for eight hours following the traffic violations and the discovery of firearms in the trunk of Mr. Smith's car.

The other two were Father Leonard Anderson, Morgan dean of men, and Samuel Phillips, elementary school principal.

Mr. Smith recently tendered his resignation to the Morgan Board of Trustees.

AXE VICTIM'S HOME—This is the three-story apartment house at 838 W. Fayette St., where the body of Walter E. Freeland was discovered in his second-floor apartment Sunday by two of his sons. A third son has been arrested in connection with his death. The scaffold was erected in preparation for a repair job on the building.

In Memoriam 1

BRADY — In loving memory of my son, EDWARD LEE BRADY who departed this life suddenly on January 14, 1956.

My Dearest Son

You are not forgotten, Nor will you ever be.

As long as my life and memory last,

I will always remember you.

I miss you now, my heart is sore, No time can heal it more.

Your loving smile, your gentle face

No one can fill your vacant place.

Lost on my memory,

Mother, ARTELIA

BROWN — In loving memory of our dear mother, LUCINDA BROWN, who passed away January 9, 1941.

We have only your memory dear mother.

To remember our whole life through.

But the sweetness will linger forever.

As we treasure the image of you.

We do not forget you, nor do we intend

We think of you often, and will to the end.

Gone and forgotten, we hope you may be,

But dear to our memories you will be.

Devoted Daughter,

GOLDIE, G. DORNS

Devoted Son,

LLOYD C. GRAY.

And Granddaughter,

PEARL DOWNS BOARDLEY

HAWKINS — In loving memory of our grandmother, FRANCES M., who passed away January 13, 1956:

Our memory is as a keepsake, With which we will never part.

God gave you a gentle call, It was a beautiful way to die.

He knew you were tired and needed a rest,

So he took you home one sweet day.

I wait for your warm reply

Until I see you smile,

I kissed your brow

Your lips said, we meet again,

In God will but allow.

Beautiful memories

MRS. EVELYN HAYES

HOLLIDAY—In loving memory of our dear mother, MAGGIE, who passed away one year ago, January 9:

Loving and kind in all her ways,

Upright and just to the end of her days;

Sincere and true, in her heart and mind,

Beautiful memories she left behind.

LUCAS — A tribute to our dear mother, SARAH A. LUCAS, who passed away two years ago, January 12, 1955:

Dear mother breathes her last farewell

The stroke means more than tongue can tell.

The world seems quite another place,

Without the smile of mother's face

LOVING CHILDREN.

WILSON—In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, EVA M., who passed one year ago, January 14, 1956:

One year ago, January 14th,

Though it seems like yesterday

No one but God knows how we miss her

Since she went away.
