'Ricky' up for new trial

to appear as a witness for the defense.

The first indictment was called by Ricky's state-appointed attorney, Joseph Edgar Sr., to be defective and not sufficient to move Hunt to trial because his name was not mentioned in the body of the document and in caption only.

Saying that the state of New Jersey is anxious that Hunt receive a fair trial, Mr. Edgar attempted to show that the second indictment handed up Nov. 30 put his client in double jeopardy.

He asked for another delay and entered a plea to County Judge Charles M. Morris on Dec. 13.

ACCORDING TO Mr. Edgar's latest statement, (Thursday) there is no further delay anticipated and the state will ask a jury next week to return a first degree murder conviction against his client.

Hunt is charged with the fatal shooting of his estranged wife, Helen. There now years-old daughter, Ivy, was struck by a bullet but has since recovered.

Mrs. Hunt had the infant in her arms when she was struck down as she was about to enter the home of her mother, Mrs. Bertha Harley at 145 Baldwin St.

THE COUPLE had separated three weeks before the shooting and Baltimore police said at the time that Hunt had been arrested many times on charges of assaulting his wife.

The accused fled immediately from the scene after the shooting, it is alleged, and was arrested a month later in a Trenton, N.J., motor assembly plant where he was working under the assumed name of Robert Brooks.
