WHEN YOU FINISH READING YOUR AFRO PASS IT ALONG TO A FRIEND

...APOLIS ...DINGS

By ELOISE RICHARDSON

YMCA'S annual dinner meeting features talk by Dr. Nelson, Md. State College professor; Simpson Wesleyan Service Guild marks annual day; Tuskegee residents visit, entertained at dinner; Bates High principal loses his mother; a visit to Florida Ave. Baptist Church in D. C.

An outstanding event people in Annapolis look forward to is the YMCA dinner meeting held annually at the beautiful First Baptist Church.

This year, on Thursday night, the program presented Dr. W. Tyger Nelson, professor of sociology and college minister of Maryland State College as speaker. He was introduced by Frank E. Butler, retired vice principal of Bates High School.

Music was furnished by the Girls' Sextette of Bates Senior High, under the direction of Mrs. Bernice Gibbs. The group sang two numbers, "Let My Song Fill Your Heart," and an arrangement by Cain of "Deep River."

Douglas S. King, supervisor of secondary education in Anne Arundel, was toastmaster. The invocation was given by the Rev. Leroy Bowman and the benediction by the Rev. Joseph S. Grant.

The dinner, which was served family style, was prepared through the courtesy of Miss Amanda Nunley, head of the home economics department at Bates.

• • •

THE DINNER serves each year as a reminder of what the YM stands for in the community. William J. Taylor, executive director, who is a recent addition here, is carrying on a beautiful job for the youth of the community.

At present there are four major areas emeuched in the extensive work of this far reaching program.

The youth program activities, headed by Miss Adele Phelps, are carried on in the association building and include a weekly movie on Saturday morning, a craft class weekly, a pre-teen party, sponsored by a group out in the community, the Teen Chalets Club, and other club activities such as the Hi-Y, Tri-Hi-Y, and the Gra-Y.

Members of the Hi-Y and the Tri-Hi-Y represented the association at the annual Maryland Model Legislature held in Annapolis.

There were 135 campers last year who participated in the camping program. Camp Speers of the Central Atlantic Council was used as the resident camp and Carr's Beach for day camping. This work is directed by Mrs. Alice M. Battle.

The physical education committee, under the direction of Mr. Roland Queen, conducted leagues in basketball, baseball and softball in both the immediate community and outlying areas.

Biddy basketball was promoted in a YMCA Church League for younger boys.

YMCA WEEK activities are headed up by Mrs. Beatrice Coates. It is observed with whole - hearted cooperation of all the churches through interpretive bulletins and a speakers' bureau.

Officers and members of the Committee of Management are as follows:

J. Alexander Wiseman, chairman; James R. Cotting, vice-chairman; Miss Adele Phelps, secretary; Roland J. Queen, assistant secretary; Frank E. Butler, finance chairman;

Also the Reverends Joseph S. Grant, Leroy Bowman and James A. Greene, Mesdames Beulah Diggs, Beatrice Coates and Alice H. Battle; Messrs. Hanson E. Brooks, Russell Collier, George Phelps and William Reese;

And, Messrs. Herbert Hilliard, William H. Richardson, Carroll H. Hynson, Douglas S. King, John Makell, Walter Mills, Francis Noel, Roscoe Parker, Everett Pettigrew.

• • •

THE CARRIE Simpson Wesleyan Service Guild of Asbury Methodist Church observed its annual Guild Day by presenting an interesting program on Sunday at the church.

The guild, which provides a channel through which employed women can achieve spiritual enrichment and Christian fellowship, also is designed to lend opportunity for activeness in developing a world Christian community.

The group had as its speaker Mrs. Ida Weatherspoon, district secretary of the South Baltimore District of the Washington Conference. Mrs. Frances Holmes introduced the speaker.

Music was furnished by the Trinity Methodist Church choir. The welcome address was given by Miss Goldie Ennis and was responded to by Mrs. Augustine Wells, president of the Woman's Society of the South Baltimore District.

Mrs. Estelle Butler offered prayer and Mrs. Charlotte Harvey read the scripture. Remarks were made by Mrs. Mildred P. Brown, the president and the Rev. Isaac R. Berry, pastor. Mrs. Elizabeth Cooke presided.

• • •

DURING THE PROGRAM, collages were given to the speaker and to Mrs. Carrie Simpson, for whom the guild was named, by Mrs. Cooke.

Mrs. Brown pinned a guild pin on Mrs. Sampson and Miss Ennis presented her with a pictured plate of bernut.

Those responsible for the offering were Mesdames Mary Jacobs, Roberta Pounds, Venetta Summers, Mary Smith, Alice Harris and Miss Nancy Queen.

Other visitors and groups present were:

Ida C. Morris Wesleyan Service Guild of Baltimore; Mrs. Myrtle Williams, president;

Whitney Wesleyan Service Guild, Baltimore; Mrs. Edna Matthews, president;

Woman's Society of Christian Service of Calvary Methodist Church, Woman's Society of Christian Service of Cecil Memorial Methodist Church, Mrs. Katherine Pindell, president;

Missionary Society of Mt. Olive AME Church; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Boston, Mrs. Edna Redmond, conference secretary; Mrs. Emma P. Stepney, president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of Asbury;

Mrs. Esther Hawkins, president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of Broadneck Methodist Church, Mrs. Thelma Owens, also of Broadneck.

Following the program, a fellowship hour was held in the lower auditorium of the church.

The beautiful table, decorated with the letters of the Wesleyan Service Guild in the guild colors, was laden with an assortment of delicacies.

• • •

OFFICERS AND members of the guild are:

Mrs. Elizabeth Cook, vice president; Mrs. Juanita Bailey, secretary; Mrs. Isabelle Thomas, treasurer; Mrs. Estelle Butler, spiritual life secretary; Mrs. Martha Snowden, promotional secretary; Mrs. Frances Holmes, Missionary Education;

Mrs. Mary Jacobs, supply work; Mrs. Margaret Parker, Status of Women; Mrs. Binora Williams, Christian Social Relations; Mrs. Anita Turner, membership; Mrs. Mary Smith local church activity; Mrs. Margaret Parker, literature and publicity;

Mrs. Elnora Jacobs, nominations; and Mrs. Charlotte Harvey, publicity; Mesdames Charlotte Johnson, Mary Hunt, Smith, Aurelia Williams, Bernice Thompson, Roberta Pounds, Venetta Summers;

Also Mesdames Eva Parker, Romaine Parker, Thelma Brewer, Florine Jones, Virginia Spears, Emma Howard, Frances Johnson, Alice Harris, Madeline Johnson and Selma Adam, Misses Nancy Queen, Florence Teague, Goldie and Sylvia Ennis. Past presidents are Mrs. Frances Holmes and Mrs. Martha Snowden.

• • •

MR. AND MRS. Mosby Perkins in St. Margarets had as recent house guests, her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Alonzo Whittaker (Edna) of Tuskegee, Ala.

The Whittakers were en route home from Chattanooga, Tenn., where they visited his family, and from Nashville, Tenn., where they visited her mother, Mrs. D. W. Cartwright.

The Perkins entertained at dinner for the Whittakers and had as guests, Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Bowman, Dr. W. J. Polk and son of Carondale, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Allen, Mrs. Elaine Blackmon, Mrs. Mildred Brown and Charles Robinson of Baltimore.

Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Polk, cousins of Mrs. Perkins and Mrs. Whittaker, entertained for the visiting couple also at their home in Carondale.

• • •

LITTLE MISS Wilsonia Dyson, the young daughter of Rev. and Mrs. William Dyson in Parole, is convalescing beautifully from her recent illness.

• • •

HERBERT S. HILLIARD, principal of Bates Senior High School, was called to Fort Smith, Ark., because of the death of his mother, this week.

• • •

REFLECTIONS . . . reflections of the past. Last Sunday I had the pleasure of visiting my former church in Washington, the Florida Avenue Baptist Church.

I used to sing in the choir, and was married in the church. With the keenest of admiration, one could not help but enjoy the minister's sermon because it was just another human as we are.

The Rev. Robert L. Rollins, pastor, lived up to his subject "Mastering Life's Situations." His text was taken from Phil. 3:13, the words of the Apostle Paul, "I have learned a whatever state I am, therewith to be content."

The Rev. Mr. Rollins gave such a beautiful picture of the type of man Paul was, that one could not help but reflect in his mind, Paul's place in this world of today.

He described Paul as a down-to-earth person, and yet he was an idealist. However, he was not the kind of idealist who thought and spoke in terms of building aircastles.

• • •

WHEN GIVING advice to others the Rev. Rollins stated he gave good advice to all.

The statement that Paul made, said Rev. Rollins, "was not one that implied taking the easiest way out with life's problems, for Paul had various experiences in jeopardy for the Lord.

"He was an aggressor, and he bubbled over with zeal. He wrestled with a thorn in his flesh and even spent time in prison," the minister stated, "and so the sermon wound its way into first person:

"I have discovered a method and learned a way of so living that life's perplexities cannot keep me down and I keep my spirit under control.

"I discipline myself in such a way I do not allow problems to run the sunshine out of my life.

"Something on the inside of me takes hold before the round is over."

• • •

THE MINISTER pointed out that Paul's aims could not be less than high, and his ambitions worthy. He stated that such an attitude is what we need today.

He said further that life is our greatest possession, and how we react to life, the kind of joy we receive is colored and determined largely by the way we act in our daily experiences.

"We cannot run from problems. We must develop techniques and the art with help ability to overcome most situations.

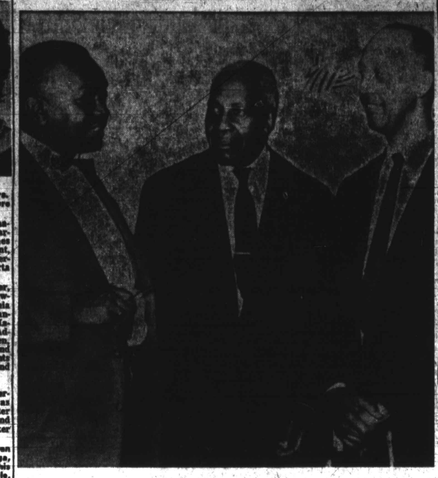
"If we try hard enough we can overcome some of life's obstacles. Having a strong keen faith in God is the greatest factor for victory. It is our greatest fortification against life's difficulties," the Rev. Rollins said.

"In any walk of life where we make a contribution, one where men benefit by our contribution, our efforts are not to be guarded," he further stated.

It was a real source of pleasure to attend this service. The music was excellent.

The Rev. Rollins did all of his work at the School of Religion of Howard University where he worked his doctorate.

(Note: Mrs. Richardson's News from Annapolis appears in both the Thursday and Friday editions of the AFRO. Be sure to get both copies each week).



DINNER PRINCIPALS—When the Northwest Street YMCA held its annual dinner in the First Baptist Church in Annapolis last week, Douglas S. King, left, served as toastmaster; the Rev. James Greene, center, member of the management committee, and J. Alexander Wiseman, chairman.

CHERRY HILL NEWS

Morgan professor speaks on Youth Day program

By MARJORIE J. WARD

"Dare We Live in the Household of God" was the theme of the Youth Day which was held at the Community Presbyterian Church on Sunday.

William Murphy presided over the services while Barbara Orr was the junior organist. The Westminster Ensemble assisted in the music.

Dr. Roger K. Williams, head of the Department of Psychology, Morgan State College, was guest speaker. Others appearing on the program were Andell Banks, Mary Thompson, Gwendolyn Welch, and Abraham Martin.

This program was under the auspices of the Youth Council of which Mrs. Marie Long, director of community services, is the advisor.

• • •

TICKETS ARE now on sale for the Fashion Show that will be sponsored by the Usher Board of the Cherry Hill Presbyterian Church.

You can not afford to miss this affair, Friday, Feb. 20 at 8:30 p.m.

On Feb. 15 at 6 p.m. a testimonial will be held for Mrs. Hermine Wharton and Cyrus Marshall in the cafeteria of School No. 180. They were principal and vice-principal respectively of the junior high school.

Each table will have a captain and seven other persons their particular repast. The color scheme for this affair will be red and white.

The testimonial committee, which is headed by Mrs. Ina Bryant, Shephard Purge, and Carlton Simmons, stated that more captains for tables were needed.

If anyone desires to be a captain, they should contact one of those three persons.

• • •

THE MEMBERS of the Balsa Supersonics, a model airplane club, will have a dinner in the Fellowship Hall of the Presbyterian Church next Saturday beginning at 5 p.m. The public is invited.

The Mothers and Homemakers of Cherry Hill have organized for the year. Returning to the office of president is Mrs. Isolene Crawmer of Ascension St.

Other newly elected officers are: Ellen Baker, vice president; Jennie Butler, recording secretary; Christine Ford, financial secretary; Myrtle Burgs, treasurer, and Bells Campbell, chaplain.

• • •

CHERRY HILL SCENES

"Let it snow," "let it snow," "let it snow," this is a favorite tune of Donald Spencer these days. Donald has a terrible cough and with all the snow, how can he possibly go to school . . . watching TV is alot?

much better, isn't it Donald?

Edward Simmons swinging his arms and giving sales talk at the same time . . . you really favor your father, Eddie . . . A Cherry Hill First! Coach "Hips" broke down and dressed up in a whole suit of clothes . . . the public didn't in the neighborhood for the first time . . . nice to see you again, Chink . . . please don't forget us.

Who's wrong with Cherry Hill just . . . quite a few people are going to the chiropodist these days . . . "shut up and good walks and steps . . . I wonder if there is a shortage of snow shovels in the city? . . .

Louis Graham, former Cherry Hillier, back on a visit . . . we were very glad to see you Louis . . . Miss Tops hearing from . . . the "Flock" . . . happy now huh, Tops???

Guess we the dust storms on the "city owned" lot between Pottle and Waterview . . . instead planting grass, then spread oil. Yours truly signing off until next week . . . as ya then.

ATTEND LUNCHEON — On occasion of the annual luncheon meeting of the Anne Arundel County Teachers Association at Annapolis recently, Dr. Virgil A. Clift, head of the Department of Education at Morgan State College, speaker, second from the left, is seen chatting with left to right, Mrs. John Norris and Mrs. D. Ellwood Williams, members of the Anne Arundel County Board of Education and Dallas Pace, legislative chairman and teacher of science at Bates Senior High School.

SOUTH BALTIMORE NOTES

Former Mt. Winans resident in Hopkins for an operation

By WALTER W. E. HILL

Mrs. Hattie Brown, a former resident of Mt. Winans now living in Cristfield, Md., is in Johns Hopkins Hospital for an eye operation.

The faculty of School No. 162 had Miss Lillie Patterson, library specialist, as the guest-speaker during the professional faculty meeting Monday and many suggestions were offered to the teachers.

A new and special service has been added to the church. A Reading Center has been opened for children who need individual instruction in reading.

Knowing that her parents would want to fully understand this service, Mrs. Vivian H. Bundy, principal arranged for a demonstration with Mrs. Eunice Boyce, reading teacher.

Mrs. Boyce used four children, Tyrone Vaughn, Sheila Robinson; Eric Jamison and Eulalia Richardson to show the various techniques that are used to improve reading ability.

Mrs. Laura Waller, school reporter and first grade teacher, played the role of a parent who sought information about the Center. James Matthews, vice - principal, talked to the parents about the Reading Center program and its benefits.

The Harvey Johnson Junior High School urges everyone to take advantage of the evening courses offered. Please register on Feb. 2. Thomas Boone is principal. Groups of 25 or more will receive special attention in special courses.

• • •

THE SPIRIT Of Chesapeake Lodge No. 1107 IBPOEW will have an oyster roast on Sunday, Feb. 8 from 2 to 6 p.m. at 912 S. Sharp St.

The affair is in charge of: George Parker, chairman; Thomas Bailey, co-chairman and Herman Johnson, secretary.

The Westport Center held its semi - monthly Teen Co - ed Dance on Tuesday.

The theme of the dance was, "A King and Queen." feature "Scratch Hop Contest."

Contestants were: Brenda Cole, Patricia Fleet, Vivian White, Carolyn Christian, Oliver Strand, Harry Bushard, and Theodore Alexander.

The winners were: Brenda Cole and Oliver Strand. They were crowned by the center director, Mrs. Laura Garrison.

Present were: Alberta White, Vareska Christian, Hickey Montgomery, Harrietta Wallace, Joanne McLeur, Barbara Tyler, Brenda Scott, Thomas Wilson, Edith Stennett, James Anderson;

Eugene Scott, Latitia Smith, Gloria Williams, Dorothy Arye, Ann Fleet and Carol A. Blackstone.

Also George Hill, Norman Bethea, Leatis Bethea, Herbert Scott, Billy Scott, Dorothy Harvin, Allen Wilson, Louise Harvin, Sherman Snell, Buster Jones, Gene Harris, Kenneth Hemsley, Leon Marshall, Cecil Marshall, Constance Fleet.

The committee consists of Mrs. Nettie Gardner, president; Mrs. Charlotte F. Hill, secretary, and the Rev. T. B.

CATONSVILLE NEWS

Tri-State Elks hold mid-winter meeting

By SAMUEL TORSELL

Brother and daughter Elks journeyed from parts of Maryland, Delaware and the District of Columbia on Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 24 - 25 to Catonsville, Md. where their hosts Mary Crescent Lodge No. 355 and Emma Williams Temple No. 158 I.B.P.O.E.W.

Occasion was the meeting of the mid-winter conference of the Tri-State Association.

Informative sessions were held on Saturday and Sunday with the state presidents, Bernard Harris and Dr. Bessie W. Cook presiding. The night of 24 and the grand drawing was a Saturday highlight.

• • •

THE REV. J. C. BROWN, pastor of Grace AME Church, preached the worship sermon for the group at the church on Sunday morning.

Presiding Elder John M. Cox will preach Sunday morning at Grace Church.

Harold Bond, who underwent an operation at Johns Hopkins Hospital, is now at his home on Frederick Ave.

Mrs. Rosa Dorsey celebrated her 84th birthday last Sunday. She is one of the oldest members of Grace AME Church. The church presented her a purse of money.

William A. Jenson, 134 Winter Ave., celebrated his 74th birthday at home on Sunday.

Mrs. Joyce Greene, 10 Shipley Ave., has been ill at home for four weeks.

Wilbert Washington is a patient at Fort Howard.

• • •

CATONSVILLE 1922:

The Jolly Twelve Club was organized with the following members: Catherine Comer, president; Cecile Smith, vice president; Agnes Hardley, secretary; Louie Hines, treasurer; Davis, treasurer; Mae Washington, business manager. Grace Green, Louise Hardy, Pauline Hines, Edith Hines, Anny Bill and others.

Dec. 15, 1922.

EDMONDSON NOTES

Seniors looking toward the future

By MAXINE JOHNSON

Now that the semester has ended, all seniors are thinking of their futures.

With less than five months remaining in our public education, we are giving a considerable amount of thought to careers and most certainly to colleges.

Because of the crowded conditions of some colleges and the difficulties which often arise in applying for admission to them, many seniors are applications in very early.

In November a group of interested students at Edmondson visited the State Teachers College at Towson. The students, accompanied by their counselor, J. Epstein, toured the campus, participated in group discussions, and observed classes.

This visit inspired Sally Ed-gerton, Carolyn Stubbs, and Carole Twilley, among others to make a career of teaching.

• • •

BECAUSE THE senior class is predominantly commercial, there are more students interested in secretarial work, but there are some individualists.

Marion Davis, Ronald Crowthamel, and Vida Hairston are serious thought to work in the field of commercial art.

Barbara Tucker is planning to pursue a career in nursing. Eddie Taylor is considering the advantages of a career in language study, and Gerald Brady, Harold Napier, and Maurice Harrison may enter into a branch of the Armed Service.

I am planning to study the social science in preparation for some profession connected history.

GLEN BURNIE ECHOES

WSCS at Halls Church observes its anniversary

By FELICIA ADAMS

The WSCS of the Halls Methodist Church observed its anniversary on Sunday. The morning speaker was the Rev. Philip P. Johnson of Towneck. The afternoon speaker was the Rev. Sistan R. Bennett of the St. Matthews Church Allers Station, with his choir and congregation.

Mrs. Cecil Warren is president, the Rev. L. A. Dyson pastor.

The Youth of the John Wesley Methodist celebrated Youth Day. The pastor Rev. S. J. Mack delivered the message. Music was by the junior choir. Miss Myrle Mack was at the organ. It was also Stewards Day. Calvin Burley was chairman.

Counsellors for the youth are Mesdames Robert Booker and Dennies Roberts. The Rev. S. J. Mack is pastor.

The executive board of the Anne Arundel Branch of the NAACP met recently in Annapolis. Plans were made for the activity to be held in February.

Mrs. Lula Hardesty is president of the group. Among those present were Dr. Arch Allen, the Rev. Mr. Grant, Mr. Hasins, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Johnson and Mr. Ethel Wilson.

• • •

THE WSCS of the John Wesley Methodist Church of Glen Burnie met at the home of Mrs. Asey Matthews, Pasadena, Md. Among those present were Mesdames Lavania Hall, Henrietta Johnson, Pauline Hines, Edith Green, Dorothy Matthews, Maude McDaniel and Marjorie Mitchell. Guests were John Green, Lehurse Matthews and Andrain Hall.

Don't forget the program of the South Baltimore District of the WSCS on Feb. 27 at the Chaes Methodist Church, South River Charge. All WSCS members are asked to back your local president. Help make her queen of the district, Mrs. Henrietta Johnson, district cultivation secretary, is chairman.

The ushers at the Metropolitan Methodist Church, Glen Burnie, had their annual day on Sunday. The morning speaker was Frank Sewell, lay president of St. Marks Methodist Church.

Music was by the men's choir of the Metropolitan Church. The pastor, choir and congregation of First Baptist Church, Guilford, Md., were there in the afternoon. Mrs. Mable Snipes presided.

Music was by the Gospel Choir of the First Baptist Church and Robert Conway. The speaker, the Rev. Arbie Webb, was introduced by the Rev. James Adams.

Others taking part on the program were Mesdames Erma Kess, Jacquelin Jones, Willie Harper and James Adams.

Remarks were made by the president, William Oden. The Rev. J. Clark of the First Baptist Church, Cherry Hill, was pulpit guest.

• • •

THE PASTOR, choir and congregation of the Cherry Hill Methodist Church celebrated their 13th anniversary. The Rev. W. C. Scarborough was guest speaker. The Rev. Nathaniel Perry is pastor.

Cards of cheer may be sent to Mrs. Conway at 1 Guilford, Md., or the Annapolis General Hospital.

Thought for today.

Love is the divine remedy for fear.

Darethia Scott, May James, and Patricia Beads.

Buster Jones won two table tennis tournaments.

The Basketball league is scheduled to play the Wednesday nights, at School No. 225.

The Flower Circle of Star Of Bethlehem AME Church will sponsor a literary program on Sunday, Feb. 15 at 3 p.m.

Mission, pastor.

The church will also observe the annual Women's Day on Sunday, May 10.

Mrs. Lelia McQueen, chairman; Mrs. Grace Hill Hines, vice chairman; Mrs. Ann Price, secretary and Mrs. Venie West, treasurer.

OHIO COLLEGE PRESIDENT

ATHENS, Ohio — The Ohio University senior class has elected Phil Saunders, the son of a university maintenance employee, as president. The Athens native is attending OU on a scholarship and majoring in fine arts. He has been named to three honor societies.

Dr. FRED PALMER'S Must Give You A LIGHTER CLEARER Younger Looking SKIN In 7 Days Or Money Back
Dr. FRED PALMER'S SKIN WHITENER
STOP dry skin and eczema ITCH Use soothing, lanolin-rich RESINOL OINTMENT

SPECIAL NOTICE
TO STOCKHOLDERS OF PYTHIAN JOINT STOCK ASSOCIATION
Notice is hereby given of a SPECIAL MEETING to be held of all stockholders of Pythian Joint Stock Association on FEBRUARY 15, 1959, at 8 P.M. sharp at 1432 PENNSYLVANIA AVE.
Purpose of the meeting is to secure ways and means to prevent threatening mortgage foreclosure on the association's property AT 1432 PENNSYLVANIA AVE.
Signed: BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE PYTHIAN JOINT STOCK ASSOCIATION
GORDON, SR., President

Y SECRETARY AND SPEAKER—The Rev. W. Tyger Nelson, right, professor of sociology and college minister of Maryland State College at Princess Anne, is greeted by William J. Taylor, executive director of the Northwest Street YMCA in Annapolis at its annual dinner last week. The Rev. Mr. Nelson was speaker for the occasion.

Family Fare

DISCUSSING PLANS for the fifth annual theatre party in New York to benefit the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund are Mrs. Farrow R. Allen, left, and Mrs. Samuel I. Rosenman, co-chairman of the project. The Fund committee will present "Redhead," new musical starring Gwen Verdon, on Feb. 18.

COOKING IS FUN

For glamour on a budget serve spicy Florentine beef

By FANNIJOE REID

Simplicity is a characteristic of the food in the region of Italy around Florence. This is in marked contrast to the grandeur all around: the Pitti Palace, Medici Chapel, the Palazzo Vecchi.

This savory beef sauce served with piping hot rice is an example of the truly delicious Italian meat sauces, and "rice" is a staple in Italy, as national as pasta and polenta.

This main dish is an easy one to prepare. The meat sauce could be prepared early in the day. The rice is quickly and easily cooked in 14 minutes. Then it's pressed in the custard cups. For fancy rice, fluted salad molds may be used.

Ingredients include: one tablespoon cooking fat, one medium - sized onion, coarsely chopped, one - half medium-sized green pepper, coarsely chopped, one lb. lean beef (more if desired) two 8 ounce cans tomato sauce, one half cup tomato catsup, one tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, two teaspoons salt, one-eighth teaspoon black pepper, one and one-fourth cups uncooked white rice, and two and one-half cups water.

Melt the cooking fat in a two - quart saucepan. Add the onions, green pepper and beef. Cook, stirring occasionally until the beef is browned and the onions and green pepper are tender. Add a small amount of fat if mixture begins to stick.

Stir in the tomato sauce, catsup, Worcestershire sauce, 1 teaspoon of salt and the black pepper. Simmer about 15 minutes. Stir occasionally.

While the meat sauce cooks, put the rice, one teaspoon of salt and the water in a two quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn heat down low. Cover with a lid and simmer over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat but leave the lid on at least 10 minutes or until ready to serve.

Just before serving, press the hot rice into 5 ounce custard cups or fluted salad molds. Slip the molds in water before pressing in the rice. Unmold immediately onto serving platter.

Spoon the hot meat sauce around the mounds of rice. Serve immediately.

If desired, garnish with green pepper, parsley, watercress or celery leaves, parsley, with grated cheese if desired.

This recipe will make six to seven mounds of rice, enough for six servings.

• • •

ACCORDING TO THE U.S. Department of Agriculture, supplies of canned peas now on hand about equal last year's very heavy supply, while frozen peas are some 27 million pounds above the last five-year average. No wonder they're so reasonably priced these days, tempingly priced you might tell us.

Actually, both canned and frozen peas are a year 'round dish. Bite in winter, their fresh green appearance on the dinner table adds a cheery reminder of pleasanter weather.

They're a good choice nutrition - wise, too, providing a significant amount of protein, calcium, vitamin C, and other nutrients. And they go well with a host of other foods, whether served as a main dish vegetable, or included as an integral part of a casserole dish, soup or stew.

• • •

BUTTERED GREEN PEAS are delicious combined with hot chestnuts, or with toasted almonds, or peanuts. You'll find them tempting, too, with mushrooms, sliced ripe olives, or pimentoes. Another happy team-up is with garlic butter croutons.

For a colorful and attractive vegetable dish, serve with cauliflower, rutabagas, potatoes, sweet potatoes, beets, or any other favorites.

USDA home economists suggest you add green peas to a macaroni and cheese casserole for increased eye and taste appeal.

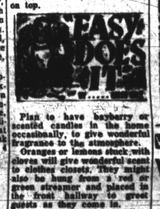
Before combining with the other ingredients, it's best to cook frozen peas according to package instructions. Canned peas, of course, should only be drained.

For a layered effect, place about a third of the cooked macaroni in the bottom of a greased casserole, add about a third of the green peas, and cover with slices of the cheese sauce. Repeat layers until the casserole is filled.

HERE'S an economical and tasty way to serve ground beef: meatball balls for a minimum of effort and a maximum of eating delight. It's fine company fare, too, because it has an attractive appearance and aroma.

Lemon steak surprise is made with one and one - half lbs. round steak (about ¾ in. thick), two tablespoons shortening, one can (10½ oz.) condensed tomato soup one-fourth cup flour, one-fourth teaspoon salt, Dash black pepper, one large green pepper, cut into eight strips, one medium onion, sliced, one clove garlic, minced, three tablespoons bottled lemon juice, and two tablespoons water.

Combine flour, salt, and pepper and cover steak with mixture. Using large skillet, brown steak on both sides in shortening. Add bottled lemon juice, water and remaining ingredients. Cover. Cook over low heat about 45 minutes or until steak is tender; stir often. Makes 6 to 8 servings.



Plan to have bayberry or pine candles in the house occasionally, to give wonderful fragrance to the atmosphere.

Oranges or lemons studded with cloves will give wonderful scent to clothes closets. They might also be used to perfume a green streamer and placed in the front hallway as great greets as they come in.

Pine cones burned in the fireplace give off a wonderful aroma during these wintry days.

Pine soap in the very smallest sizes will add an attractive decor to the bath or powder room.

For attractive placecards, attach-bits of greenery to the white cards for the table. If these have a ribbon or flower tied to them, they'll be even more attractive when you entertain.

Spadea's Personalized Pattern

FOR JUNIOR FIGURES

Everything about this Eloise Curtis costume has a crisp, sharp air, so especially wonderful on junior sized figures. The tiny, double breasted mess jacket can be made in a contrast denim, cords or novelty rayons.

From this size chart select the one size best for you.

Sizes	Bust	Waist	Hips	Length From Nape Of Neck To Waist
5	31½	21½	32½ inches	15½ inches
7	32½	22½	33½ inches	15¾ inches
9	33½	23½	34½ inches	16 inches
11	34½	24½	35½ inches	16½ inches
13	36	26	37 inches	16½ inches
15	37½	27½	38½ inches	16½ inches

Size 13 requires 1¾ yards of 54 inch material for dress, 1¼ yards of 54 inch material for jacket contrast and 1¼ yards of 36 inch material for lining.

To order Pattern No. A-2142, state size, send $1.00.

For Pattern Books No. 15 send $1.00. Address Spadea, Box 1008, G.P.O. Dept. B2-2, New York 1, N.Y.

If paid by check, bank requires 4c handling charge.

(Next week look for a Personalized Pattern by ANTHONY BLOTTA.)

Copyright 1959 Spadea Fashions, Inc.

Bennett coeds at N.Y. fashion board meet

GREENSBORO, N.C. — Announcement that three Bennett College students have been named to the college board of Mademoiselle magazine, New York fashion publication, has just been received here.

They are Misses Anace Falson, senior, home economics major, of Dudley, N.C.; Gladys Hemingway, junior, clothing major, of Georgetown, S.C.; and Linda Brown, sophomore, French major, of Akron, Ohio.

SELECTION OF THE TRIO was based upon their having successfully performed the first of three editorial assignments made by the magazine. Successful completion of the remaining two will make them eligible for consideration for one of the 20 guest editorships which the publication will assign in the spring.

Guest editors will spend the month of June in New York City helping with the preparation of the annual fall college edition. In addition to housing and meals, they will be paid a salary for the period and will be guests at a number of social and cultural affairs to be arranged in their honor.

Miss La Tour featured on Baha'i Negro Week program

NEW YORK—The New York Baha'i World Faith Assembly will acclaim Negro History Week with a show case of great artists, Sunday, Feb. 8.

The program will be held at the New York Baha'i Centre, Hotel Harpravie, 113 W. 72nd St., at 4:30 p.m.

• • •

FEATURED on the program will be Lou La Tour, noted dramatist and one of the country's foremost monologuists, in a mono-drama depicting the life of Phillis Wheatley "Poet to African Wait to American Poet."

Also on the program will be George W. Goodman, news director of radio station WLIB and public relations director of the Carver Federal Savings and Loan Association, in a "Community News Report" on race relations; Vernia Pearson, emcee, and company, featuring Ismay Andrews, dramatist and noted authority on African folklore, in "Chants of African Heritage";

Also Elsie Pearson, choreographer and modern interpretative dancer; and Gerald Bragman, soloist and director of the "Goodwill Program" for radio station ENEM in Bermuda.

• • •

IN CALLING attention to the 33rd annual observance of Negro History Week, the principal New York Baha'i administrative body, through its chairman, Dr. Alfred Yemmama, issued the following statements:

"We again consider this occasion as opportune for us to participate in promoting a fuller understanding of the significant contribution, the gifts made to our civilization, as a part of the more inclusive Baha'i Immortal Crusade for promoting the understanding of the oneness of mankind.

"Appreciation of the abilities and achievements of the various racial minorities should eventually help us to become aware of the basic truth of human unity—a realization that the whole world needs at this critical hour in human history.

"But such appreciation is not enough. In America, in Africa, in Asia, called a racial integration at the present hour, has become and is the most serious, challenging and even dangerous of our national problems. It not only purposes and threatens us at home but directly our leadership in the eyes of the world.

"Consciousness of the actual gains made by a race and appreciation of its abilities and achievements become more effective when supported by dynamic religious convictions, such as all are the servants of God; all are descendants of Adam and all are created from the same clay."

DRESSING HELP

Embroider a small flower or animal in the front of a small girl's coat so that she can tell which is the front and will not put on her coat backwards. This is especially helpful to a child just learning to dress herself.

Miss Ruth Morris finds cooking enthralling in-between hobby

Young and charming Ruth Morris will whip of a batch of hors D'oeuvres at the drop of a hat.

She has had no specific training in cooking and cooks, so to speak, by ear. But because she likes to cook she does it exceedingly well.

"Sometimes I just dream up a dish . . . as for instance my creamed clams. I had never heard of anyone creaming clams, but do you know they turned out quite well," says Miss Morris.

A not too long high school graduate, Miss Morris tried out taking a job . . . but is now convinced that she should follow the advice of her mother, Mrs. Wealthy Gross, and return to school.

She plans to go to college, major in physical education and teach in that field. Along with her has for cooking, she likes sports.

"Any out-door sport attracts me," says the attractive Miss. She's a basketball, football and baseball fan. And she's an active participant in bowling.

As for her creamed clams, she makes that dish exactly as you would creamed chicken . . . cooking the clams first, and adding them to a cream sauce. She served them over noodles.

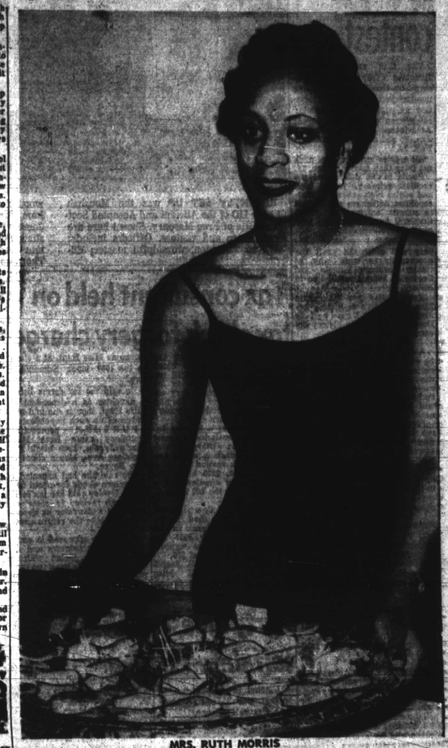
Another of her sea food specialties is crab meat in canape shells . . . a special treat for a small cocktail party.

She buys the canape already prepared from the bakery. The filling she makes with a half cup cooked crab meat, a tablespoon butter, two tablespoons flour, two tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese, three-fourth cup light cream, an egg yolk, two tablespoons dry sherry, a half teaspoon salt and freshly ground black pepper.

Melt the butter over low heat. Add flour and stir until smooth. Add cheese and cream and cook until thickened, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat. Stir in crab meat, salt and pepper. Beat egg yolk with sherry and add to crab meat mixture.

Spoon into canape shells and broil under medium heat for three minutes or until brown on top.



MRS. RUTH MORRIS

WOMEN'S WORLD

Working wives on increase says U.S. Commerce Dept.

WASHINGTON

Compared with March, 1957, the number of working wives rose by 300,000 to a record spring level of 13 million in March, 1958.

The total includes 1.3 million women who were living apart from their husbands.

Currently, a little over half of the women in the labor force are working wives living with their husbands, whereas only one-fourth are single.

All of these facts were revealed earlier this month in a report, "Current Population Reports Labor Force," published by the U.S. Department of Commerce in conjunction with the Bureau of Census.

• • •

THE REPORT also pointed out that only 35 per cent of married women were in the labor force, while close to half of the single women held jobs.

The reports notes that the percentage of all women has dropped to 42.1 per cent.

Among wives living with their husbands, the proportions employed or seeking work increased to a new peak of 30.2 per cent in March, 1958.

• • •

THE REASON for the marked decrease in single women in the labor force reveled from the heavily increased rate of labor force participation by married women.

The currently larger percentage of women who are married, however, was also a factor.

THERE HAS BEEN some increase in the labor force by other women widowed, divorced, separated, during the postwar years, but the pace, however, regardless of marital status, has made higher rate

IT WAS ALSO POINTED out in the report that non-white wives are much more likely to go out after a job than white wives.

Some 42 per cent of non-white wives are employed as compared with only 29 per cent of the white wives.

More urban women work, in urban areas presumably reflects more widespread employment opportunities for women.

• • •

THE CURRENT TREND of married women seeking employment is to apply for white collar jobs. Nearly one-fourth 23 per cent of the employed married women held professional jobs, 17 per cent were clerks and salesmen and the other 21 per cent are in service activities.

All of these categories have been absorbing an increasing proportion of the working wives since World War 2. Only 33 per cent of the married women on hand such jobs in 1948 as compared with 72 per cent in 1958.

HEADLINING YOU