NEWEST IN THE CITY—This is the Mount Royal Elementary School, the newest pride and joy of school officials. It opened Monday for 450 happy pupils and 17 equally as happy teachers. The handsome three story brick structure has the only hot water heating plant in the city, 24 modernly designed and equipped classrooms, a gymnasium, cafeteria and auditorium. It is bordered by Mosher, Rutter, McMechen and John Sts. The principal is Leon Hardesty. Cost of the land and building was approximately $1,250,000.

Dance festival at No. 145

The Mary Rodman School No. 145 played host to Schools Nos. 138, 141, 144 and 148 in a community dance festival recently. The primary purpose of the program was to promote "Fellowship and Goodwill" in the community.

Over 220 children from the five schools participated in the various dances.

The program started with a "Lithuanian" folk dance speciality called "Kalvelis" with dancers from School No. 143 wearing authentic costumes.

* * *

THE PUPILS from No. 138 made use of Hula Hoops and ropes in their speciality called "Rope Jumping to Music."

One of the novel specialities, an original "Jewish" dance called "Hora," was presented by the students of School No. 141.

The students of Schools No. 144 and No. 145 use the "Western Theme" for the next two specialities.

The girls wore pretty flair skirts and blouses and the boys wore brightly colored sports shirts and dungarees.

The dancers from No. 144 presented a dance called "Bingo" for their specialty and No. 145 presented a very intricate square dance.

One of the most popular specialties presented was the "Cha-Cha" by the pupils of School No. 145.

* * *

ONE OF THE most colorful dances presented was the last speciality by the third and fourth grade students from School No. 145. The presentation was an original dance with the choreography by Mrs. Sarah Newton and Mrs. Beatrice Wright.

A total of 130 pupils representing all five schools participated in three mass square dances.

The students from Mrs. Eva Gibson's class took charge of the background for the festival. A huge 9 x 28 feet frieze depicting farm life covered the entire stage wall.

Participants in the program were:

Business course

COLLEGE PARK — A training program for the management personnel of small business concerns in the State of Maryland will be held at the University of Maryland beginning on March 31.

Consisting of eight sessions which will be held each Tuesday evening from 7:30 until 10:30 o'clock, the program will be conducted by university faculty of the College of Business and Public Administration, in cooperation with Maryland chambers of commerce and the Small Business Administration.

Panel talk at Rodman school

The PTA of the Mary E. Rodman School No. 145 recently held a panel discussion entitled "Influences That Affect Raising Children in Today's World."

Participants were Otis Hooper, vice president of the PTA; Mrs. Cora Brown, a parent; Mrs. Washington, another parent; Mrs. Ruth Witcher, a faculty member; Miss Geraldine Long, school social worker, and Mrs. Freda Byron, a faculty member who served as moderator.

The panelists agreed that movies, literature and television have a profound effect upon children and that parents and teachers should be alert to a child's reaction to such things as well as other factors that influence child rearing.

Mrs. Christine Worsley is PTA president, George Simms is principal and Mrs. Amy Weaver is vice - principal.

EDMONDSON NOTES

Students impressed by music rooms

New students entering this February are finding school life at Edmondson High very enjoyable.

During the week they have become acquainted with the spacious pastel classrooms, the roomy and well equipped cafeteria, the very well furnished library, and other important things that are necessary for the proper functioning of a school.

Among the things that seems to impress the new students was the unique way in which the music rooms are designed.

In the two major music rooms, the floors are made in step formation, each one extending upward. These music rooms are equipped with very good hi-fidelity phonographs in speakers.

The head of the music department is Mrs. Georgeanna Chester. Mrs. Chester, who is in charge of Edmondson's choir, is looking forward to recruiting some of the new students into the choir.

* * *

BOOK, magazines, pictures, and helpful information greeted to the new students who visited the library, either during their lunch periods or after school.

Mrs. Jacobson, school librarian, is always willing help students become more familiar with the information available and the methods for finding it.

Perhaps the most noticed and definitely, the most visited of the new surroundings is the cafeteria.

'Trip' to Alaska for No. 148 class

The boys and girls in the fifth and sixth grades at School No. 148 took an arm chair trip to Alaska last Tuesday when they shared the summary of a unit presented by one of the sixth grade classes.

The children have gained a wealth of knowledge about the size, location, population, history, land features, industries and other occupations, habits and customs of the people, natural resources, weather and climatic conditions, exports, imports, transportation, education, recreation, new values, and present day interest in world crises.

Gerald Conaway, Alphonso Lafavors, Avona Jackson, Alvin Stone and Martha Wilson acted as group leaders. Evelyn Dildy participated in a group, and played the piano for the program.

The teacher is Mrs. Mildred W. Marzilay.

On March 4, Herbert M. Friby will present a lecture and exhibit of his recent trip into the Arctic Region.

Real estate course offered at Morgan

"The Principles of Real Estate" is one of several new courses which will be offered in the Evening College of Morgan State College which begins Monday, February 9.

Registration for the evening courses will be held Feb. 4-6, 4 p.m. to 8 p.m., in Holmes Hall, Room 160.

Other new courses to be offered are: "Education Measurements," "The Administration of the American Public School System" "Art in Daily Living," and "Child Development."

Courses will be offered in the general areas of art, business administration, economics, education, English, geography, health, history, home economic humanities, mathematics, philosophy, political science, psychology, science and sociology.

Courses may be taken for credit or as non-credit courses.

Two BJC students take marital vows

By LAVANIA RICE

On the last day of school the very familiar words "Non Chance" echoed through the halls of Baltimore Junior College.

Reason: Two very popular B.J.C. pupils were joined by the holy vows of matrimony. They were Dorothy Williams and Lyron Nixon.

Mrs. Nixson is an art major and hopes to teach or go into the field of commercial art.

Mr. Nixson's chief interest is engineering.

THE SET OF sets was given by Herman Cannon at his Parson St. home. The very unusual set took place on Friday night. The main reason that it was different was because of the sounds. They were all quiet original and the latest.

A few of Herm's guests were Dolly Siler, Alice Williams, Dorsey Skinner, McNair Taylor, Edward Williams, Calvin Coolridge, Cliff Johnson, Jackie Perkins and many others.

A hop was given by Claudette Chisholm on Tuesday at the home of Martha Curtis. The affair was quite a success and everyone who attended enjoyed themselves.

Among the guests were Leonard Randall, Albert Jackson, Barbara Jackson, Rodney Richardson, Julia Butler, Beverly Johnson, Henderson Clarke, Helen Flemming, Ellen Bowyer and James Flowers.

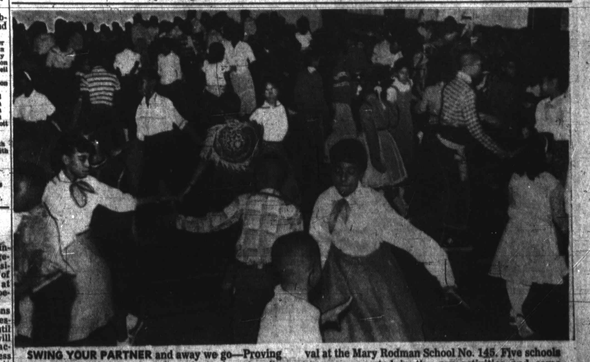
PERSONALITY OF THE WEEK—Gloria Lockerman. Gloria is a senior at Western High School. Upon graduation she hopes to attend the one and only Morgan State College.

One of Gloria's chief ambitions is to teach languages on a secondary level. Among Gloria's hobbies is bowling.

She also takes piano and violin lessons. She has quite an interest in dramatics but doesn't want to become an actress, although she has great talent.

Gloria also sings on the choir.



SWING YOUR PARTNER and away we go—Proving that the strictly American barn-dance is not quite a thing of the past are these members of the younger generation who took part in a recent dance festival at the Mary Rodman School No. 145. Five schools were represented in the gay activities and some 200 children had the chance to show off their skill in the dance field.
