Baby dies, cold listed as cause

The death of a two - month-old baby Wednesday soon after a visit with a doctor has been reported by the mother, Mrs. Carolyn Middleton, 1329 W. Lafayette Ave.

At Provident Hospital, where Tyrone Douglass Middleton was pronounced dead on arrival Wednesday at 6:10 p.m., his cause of death was listed as a cold.

"I took him to the doctor's Tuesday for his regular check-up," Mrs. Middleton said.

"The doctor told me to bring him back Wednesday to be circumcised. After he did it, he told me to take the baby home," she added.

"When I got the baby home, all of a sudden, he looked funny, got cold and was breathing funny.

"I called the doctor immediately and he told me to bring him back," the mother said.

The mother said that after receiving an injection, the child was sent home but was still ill and was taken to Provident where he was dead on arrival.

The Rev. Willard Clayton is scheduled to officiate at the services tomorrow (Saturday) at a funeral home in the 1000 block N. Arlington Ave.

17 Morgan students honored

Beauty, brains and leadership are heavily represented among the 17 Morgan State College students selected for citation in the current edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

Students are selected for representation in the annual publication on the basis of academic achievement and outstanding co-curricular activities.

Morgan's selectees include the college's top student leader, the newspaper editor, "Miss Morgan," and several top honor students.

• • •

THE STUDENTS chosen are:

Frederick T. Anderson of Greensboro, N. C., a senior language arts major and editor-in-chief of the 1959 Promethean, senior annual.

Shirley Beard of Brunswick, Md., a senior majoring in chemistry, president of the Morgan chapter of the American Chemical Society and a senior mentor.

Louis Boston of Annapolis, Md., a senior political science major and a justice in the Morgan Student Court.

Barbara Broadway of Baltimore, departmental honor scholar in biology and a top honor student.

Alvin Curtis of Montclair, N. J., a senior biology major and a distinguished military student.

William Delaneder of Frederick, Md., a senior chemistry major and chemistry department honor scholar with a high academic average.

Augustus Doward, sophomore political science major from St. Croix, Virgin Islands, who is a member of the student senate and Promethean Kappa Tau, freshman honor society.

• • •

AUBREY EDWARDS, senior of New York City, president of Morgan student government and a political science major.

Jack Farrington, senior biology major from Jamaica, N.Y., an honor student and president of the student senate.

Vivian Fowlkes of Baltimore, a junior majoring in mathematics and the 1956-57 queen of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity.

Frank Greene, senior history major from New York City and a top honor student.

Donald G. Gwynn of Baltimore, Md., a junior art major and former departmental honor scholar, with one of the top academic averages in the college.

Malverse A. Nicholson of Norfolk, Va., an English major and editor of "The Spokesman," Morgan student newspaper;

• • •

JOHN R. RISHER of Los Angeles, Calif., a junior political science major and a varsity debater.

Henry W. Sands, senior psychology major from Jamaica, N.Y., a member of Psi Chi Psychology Honor Society, and a varsity debater.

Doris Wooten of the Bronx, N.Y., a senior sociology major, honor student, and "Miss Morgan."

Francine Zachary of Baltimore, a junior biology major, and former member of Promethean Kappa Tau, freshman honor society.

THE WEEK IN JAZZ: Organ jazz steals into the spotlight

By BAKER E. MORTEN

Organ jazz is on the increase in Baltimore night spots.

For example, Lou Bennett, rated highly and respected locally on his instrument, is back at Club Casino again for a stand.

Bennett is one of the city's few accomplished jazz men on the organ, though there are others who are reputed also. There are Cornell Muldrow and Dave Ross, for instance.

• • •

DAVE, WHO plays Tuesday night at Club Sara, is appearing weekly at Steve's Musical Bar Muldrow, with his bouncing trio, is playing at a Poplar Grove St. nitery.

Fabulous Preston, who needs to learn to play longer when backing a singer, is another organist around town. He haven't quite learned to fully appreciate his style of playing. It sounds rather repititious for the most part.

• • •

REPORTS currently in circulation say that the Lucky Number Club, once the citadel of big names in jazz, is about to change hands altogether.

Last year, the Lucky Number Rose Room played host to such names as Duke Ellington, Lionel Hampton, Dizzy Gillespie, Cozy Cole, Chico Hamilton and others.

The club's upstairs room folded in early January after taking a financial beating to the reported tune of $50,000.

The downstairs part of the club, which has remained open since the upper level closed, is on the verge of being sold, reports disclose.

• • •

A LOCAL JAZZ organization is returning to its one - time format of holding Saturday jazz matinees in various clubs around town, I'm told.

The first such jazz session is slated tomorrow at the Las Vegas Club.

Radio personality Maurice "Hot Rod" Hulbert dropped in one of the clubs this week to say hello to fans and management.

In the course of his stay, he embarked on a conversation in the contemporary vein of modern jazz.

• • •

"HOT ROD" manages a young, talented and attractive singer named Jean Hill, who adds up to two words. . . . "is good."

The Andre King revue, offering one of the more palatable floor shows in town, is still luring 'em into the Comedy Club.

As bait, Andre uses several lovelies who are quite versed at the art of showing off cheesecake, a comedian, a singer and a sultry shake-dancer.

Robert Young plays the saxophone. He plays jazz. The commercial sessions.

• • •

THE BOW-ETTES, a charming group of women in the city who are noted for very lovely parties and who do a good bit of charity work, entertained 100 guests at their annual post Christmas party on January 17 at the Elks Club.

Although Christmas had passed, members and their friends enjoyed a hilarious and gay occasion when beautiful gifts were exchanged among the members.

Music was furnished by the Van Dykes.

• • •

AT ANOTHER recent meeting of the Charity Club, Unit 1, Mrs. Amelia Johnson served as hostess on January 27. Gifts were exchanged among the members. Mrs. Johnson served delicious refreshments.

Officers elected were:

Mesdames Ellen Haste, president; Mildred Sorrom, vice president; Mrs. Johnson recording secretary; Miss Florence Toupes, financial secretary; Mrs. Mary Hamilton treasurer.

Mesdames Lula Upchurch, chaplain; Evelyn Brown, chairman of social sessions; Helen Hebron, chairman of sick committee; Mary Wynn, ways and means. Mrs. Beatrice Jenkins was scheduled as next hostess.

The Friendly Chorus also celebrated its anniversary at the Mt. Moriah AME Church, at which time Miss Aurelia Smith gave the welcome address.

It was responded to by Mrs. Emily McPherson of New York. A number of other singing groups participated on the program. Mrs. Bertie Cromwell presided.

• • •

A RECENT HOSTESS to the Orchid-in-Bloom Club was Mrs. Edith Mitchell. During the meeting new officers were installed by Mrs. Pearl Smith. Mrs. Edna Anderson was the outgoing president. The hostess served a lovely repast.

New officers are:

Mesdames Sarah Washington, president; Amelia Johnson, vice president; Sarah M. Randall, financial secretary; Annie Mae Hutson, recording secretary; Louise Diggs, assistant treasurer; Pearl Smith, treasurer.

Mesdames Lula Upchurch, business manager; Jemima Kidd, chairman of the sick committee; Alethia Parker, a member of the sick committee; Edith Mitchell, chairman of the flower committee and Selina Anderson, chairman of so-
