Family reunion for Thos. Smallwood attracts children, grandchildren

By CHARLOTTE W. DOWNIE

On Sunday afternoon, the family of Thomas G. Smallwood hied a grand family reunion in his honor.

The affair at the home of one of his daughters, Mrs. Jessie Veal at 1804 N. Broadway, was attended by his children, grand children and great grandchildren.

The honoree is 77 and is a widower. His wife, Marie the mother of his children, died in 1941.

He is the father of eight sons who are Thomas Jr., James, Elmore, William, George, Charles, Lon and David. There are four girls, Miss Georgia Smallwood, Mesdames Jessie Veal, Queenie Reynolds and Mary James.

In addition, Mr. Smallwood is The proud grandfather of 36 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren. He has lived in Baltimore for over 28 years having moved here from his hometown, Windsor, N.C.

Mr. Smallwood is a deacon of Faith Baptist Church and a retired Eastside businessman.

At one time he had a grocery store at 1061 N. Gay St. (remember when?). He is a former huckster, shoe maker, and barber.

Even today he never allows anyone to cut his hair (he does this himself). His one great hobby is working on shoes, this he does very well.

Helping to make the family reunion a happy one were the musical renditions by the Golden Spirituals, solos by Mrs. Carrie Morgan and Miss Jacqueline Morgan.

Among those joining in the festivities included: Messrs. and Mesdames Paul Watson, Wilson Reynolds, James Smallwood, Edward Shaw, Paul Hill, William Smallwood, Elmer Smallwood, Charles James, Rayfield Smallwood, Mr. and Mrs. William Veal from Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Smallwood and family, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Veal and family, Mrs. Edna Cornick, Mrs. Carrie Morgan and Miss Jacqueline Morgan, Mrs. Alice James and family, Mrs. Elmira Lewis and children, Miss Rosella Lee, David Smallwood, Dwight Reynolds, William Scott and J. Watson.

BUSY GETTING ready for their 14th anniversary are members of the Capers Social and Savings Club.

Founded over three years ago members have contributed to needy projects in our community.

Under the leadership of popular beautician, Mrs. Laytor Jones, other officers include: Mrs. Carrie Young, vice president; Mrs. Rose Hughes, recording secretary; Mrs. Eula Mae Brown, financial secretary; Mrs. Lillian White, treasurer; Mrs. Idella Summers, business manager, Mrs. Olee Britton; Mrs. Maybelle Otis, chaplain, Mrs. Anabelle Berry, sergeant-at-arms.

One of their proudest projects was when they purchased a pair of crutches for a very needy youngster. The club also helped the building fund program of New Pilgrim Baptist Church and members work with the polio drive every year.

Many Eastsiders attended and participated in the Annual Women's Day Services sponsored by the women of Mt. Zion Methodist Church last Sunday.

Chairman was Mrs. Irene Smith assisted by Mrs. Margaret Jennings, Mrs. Mary Parker, recording secretary; Mrs. Mary A. Brown, financial secretary; Mrs. Dorothy Fletcher, secretary, Mrs. Bertha Lewis, treasurer.

Participants on the program included Mesdames Madeline Fields, Gwendolyn Tripp, Margaret White, Lillian Cornish, Jean Bly and Mrs. H. Barnes.

The morning and afternoon speakers were the Rev. Mrs. Mary G. Henry of Zion AME Church and the Rev. Mrs. Agnes Alston of Gillis Memorial Church.

Others on the program were the Guiding Lights Gospel Choir of St. Matthews Methodist Church, Mesdames Louise Seymour, Lucy Jew, Rosa Ferguson, Ida Carr, Beatrice E. McArthur, Daisy Stewart Mary L. Smith, Evelyn Hoard, Eleanor Johnson, Dora Gaines, Emma McQueen, Margaret White, Helen Grinage and Irene Smith. The Rev. O. St. Clair Franklin is pastor.

Taking part in the anniversary celebration were Mrs. Lola Brown of St. Matthew's Methodist Church; Mrs. Ruth Mann, Mrs. Dorothy Wheeler Penecost Church, Edward Coffin of First Baptist Church and Mrs. Grace Maxfield and Mrs. Dollie Simpson.

Others were: The Gospel Comforters, and Young People Chorus of St. Johns Penecostal Church.

Friends and Neighbors of Mrs. Ida Petty 306 E. Lafayette Ave., mourn with her and her family the passing of her stepmother Mrs. Sara Frazier. Mrs. Petty is in Doesfield, S.C. with her brother this weekend for the funeral.

Neighbors don't forget the amateur hour to be held at Trinity AME Church tonight (Friday) at 8 p.m. Chairman is Mrs. Sara Jackson and Mrs. Ruth Lansey and Mrs. Geraldine Chapman are co - chairman.

Prizes will be awarded by the various organizations of the church. Mrs. Gladys Wallace is president of Woman's Day, sponsors of the affair. The Rev. I. A. Miller is pastor.

THE George A. Crawley Memorial Circle of St. Paul Baptist Church will celebrate its fourth anniversary on Sunday March 22 at 3:30 p.m. Mrs. Ada Spencer is president; Mrs. Lillian Donaldson, first vice president; Mrs. Dorothy Marshall is secretary. The speaker will be the Rev. J. Elliott of Shiloh Baptist Church.

Eastside Fashion Parade

Pretty as a picture is Ida Petty in her tantalizing red silk shirt waist dress with the soft pleats and worn over a dainty crenoline. . . . Jeanetta Pollard dazzling in a pink lady cocktail gown trimmed in lace featuring the flared bottom . . . Betty Trotter in a terrific two piece number in the new blue and pea green shade . . . Mary James elegant in a stunning black sheath with a big satin bow at her back line. . . Chic Louise Cooper lovely to look at with her mad up sweep.

Good Neighbor of the week:

Our Good Neighbor of the week is Mrs. Mary James of 2005 Sinclair Lane the wife of Charles James a Baking foreman. Our good neighbor is the mother of five boys, Charles, 15, Herbert 12, Ronald 10, William 9 and Dennis 8.

She is a member of Zion Baptist Church and is active in the YWCA.

Her social club is the Unique Pal Social Club. Her hobbies are bowling, dancing and speaking at affairs.

She attended both Dunbar High School and Carver. At present she is assistant supervisor in the housekeeping department of women's clinic at Johns Hopkins Hospital.

On her job she gives Mrs. Olive Prer from England, Mrs. Lorna Brice and Mrs. Odessa Wilson much credit for helping her attain her promotion.

Our good neighbor is very well liked at Hopkins and is a member of one of the largest families on our Eastside. May she continue to be our good neighbor.

Send cheer to our sick and Shut Ins:

"Hidden Persuaders" by Packard is the second selection for this month by the group which meets on Monday evenings at 8:30 in the lounge of Fellowship House, 21 W. Preston St.

On Monday, March 9, Mrs. Polly Anderson, of the Enoch Pratt Library will review the book, "Dr. Zhivago."

Following the discussions each week coffee is served by Mrs. Rebekah J. Mitchell, coordinator of the group and Miss Ruth Pegler, director of the Baltimore Fellowship.

IN TRAINING — Lt. Thomas H. McPhatter, is in chaplain training at the Naval base in Newport, R. I., recently visited relatives in Baltimore. He stopped with his sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Crane, 3060 Ascension Ave.

One year suspended for attempted bribery

A 35-year - old Sparrows Point worker was given a one year suspended sentence in Criminal Court Tuesday on condition that he pay court costs for an attempted bribery charge.

Raymond Newkirk, 37, 2900 block Gwynns Falls Pkwy, was charged by Police Officers Edward Price and Anthony Delavis with attempting to bribe Officer Edward Price on Christmas night.

In Court, the officers testified they gave Mr. Newkirk a ticket Christmas for "obstructing traffic" at Pennsylvania Ave. and Mosher St.

They said he stopped on Pennsylvania Ave. at least ten minutes before making a left turn into Mosher to let a friend get out.

WHEN THEY ordered him to stop, the officers alleged, he pulled his car into Wilmer Ct., and when he got out, said to them:

"I don't want to bribe you officer, but all I have is $4."

The officers said they returned the money to him after he tossed it into their cruising car and asked him to initial it which he did, they said.

Mr. Newkirk, speaking in his own defense, contended that the officers inferred he should give them money.

He told the jurist:

"They told me to stop and said they wanted to see my drivers' license and registration cards.

"They asked me what else I had in my wallet and I said $4," he said.

* * *

"HE SAID, 'You are all straight.' I pulled up in an alley and he asked me 'Where's the four dollars?'"

"When I gave it to him he asked me to sign it."

At one point in Mr. Newkirk's testimony, the jurist queried:

"You say the officers asked what else you had in your wallet — and you said, 'only $4?'"

"Yes sir," the defendant answered.

"Did they ask what else you had in there?"

"No sir, they didn't."

Before imposing sentence, Judge Harlan said, "It boils itself down to a question of who to believe.

"If the defendant were entirely innocent of the bribery, he would have shown his union card, social security card (when asked about the contents of the wallet).

* * *

"I CANNOT ACCEPT the inference that the police attempted to set this man up on an attempted bribery charge when there was no use of bad language or threats that are usual in cases like these," Judge Harlan said.

Mr. Newkirk will receive a hearing for the traffic ticket at a later date.

Alan Murrell represented Mr. Newkirk.

15 card players pay court fines

Fifteen persons were arrested Monday when Northern District police reportedly broke up a card game in the 1800 block Park Ave.

All were fined $10 and costs Tuesday morning when police testified they raided the home because neighbors complained of loud noises.

Fines were given to Mrs. Ann E. Tate of the 1100 block Edmondson Ave.; Mrs. Namie L. Williams, 2100 block Rupp St.; Clifton Woobridge, 2600 block Lauretta Ave.; Odel Benjamin of Sparrows Point; and Jack Gresham of the 2500 block W. Lafayette Ave.

Others were Samuel Woodson Jr., of the 1500 block Appleton St.; Alfonso Holt Jr., 2200 block Fulton Ave.; Clarence Coleman, 1800 block N. Pulaski St.; Leroy Broome, 2200 block Brunt St., and Clarence Scarborough of the 1600 block Lorman Ct.

Also, Persie Herring of the 1500 block Appleton St.; Preston Payne, first block Rosedale St.; Clarence Robinson, 700 block N. Carey St.; Claude Young, 1500 block Druid Hill Ave., and James Hill of the 200 block Robert St.

All of the defendants pleaded not guilty before Magistrate Benjamin Earnshaw.

Richmonders in car crash in Baltimore

Four members of a Richmond, Va. family sustained minor injuries following a two-car collision at Lafayette and Wheeler Aves. on Saturday at 1:40 p.m.

The Richmond car, operated by Army Sgt. John Albert Stephens, 45, 517 Goshen St., was westbound on Lafayette Ave., police said, when it was in collision with an auto operated by Fred Henry Smith, 48, 2630 block W. Lafayette Ave., Baltimore.

Sgt. Stephens suffered a facial injury and was treated at Lutheran Hospital and released.

OTHER occupants of the Stephens car, also treated at Lutheran Hospital and released, were his wife, Mrs. Annie Stephens, 32, knee injury; Their daughter, Sheila, 10, shaken up; and Mrs. Stephens' mother, Mrs. Ella Perry, 54, head and side injury.

Mr. Smith, who was uninjured, was charged by police with reckless driving. Sgt. Stephens was charged with failure to give the right of way at an intersection.

In Traffic Court on Monday morning, both Sgt. Stephens and Mr. Smith were found not guilty.

The ...Richmonders were in Baltimore to visit relatives and were expected to return to their home on Tuesday.

Sgt. Stephens, formerly stationed in Buffalo, N.Y., is scheduled to begin overseas duty soon.

County assault case puzzle to witnesses

Why was a rape charge against a 30-year-old blond Annapolis man suddenly dropped Thursday morning in Circuit Court at Ellicott City?

That was the question an Annapolis taxicab driver wanted answered after Joseph Patrick Detoney pleaded guilty to a common assault charge, and was sentenced to five years in the House of Correction.

The victim, who with witnesses was stabbed and assaulted was prepared to testify that she was stabbed and assaulted by everyone else at the conclusion of the trial which lasted less than 45 minutes.

Even C. Osborne Duvall, state's attorney for Anne Arundel County would not explain why the rape charge was dropped.

When asked to do so he told the AFRO, "Not for the present."

* * *

FOLLOWING THE trial the victim of the attack filed a complaint with the Baltimore Branch NAACP.

In letters addressed to Mr. Duvall and the governor's office, Mrs. Juanita Jackson Mitchell of the Legal Redress Committee of the Maryland State Conference, NAACP Branch stated:

The plaintiff "claims that the more serious charge of rape against the defendant was dropped by the state, and the defendant was allowed to plead guilty to the lesser charges of assault and common assault."

The plaintiff "further complains that witnesses who would have substantiated the more serious charge of rape were not called by the state to testify.

"Included among them are Miss Mae Maynard, William Pettiford, Joseph Green and the medical witnesses, Dr. Raymond Richardson and the examining doctor of the Anne Arundel County General Hospital"

Show folks join 100 ministers at funeral of Rev. Roberts

By RUTH JENKINS

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. — An emotional service which would have done credit to the most dramatic efforts of the Rev. Russell O. Roberts marked his 2½-hour funeral Tuesday at Shiloh Baptist Church.

At least a dozen women mourners among the SRO crowd shrieked and "got happy" and required the services of the corps of nurses.

Outbursts occurred among the crowd standing in the aisles, seated in the choir loft and in the family gathering.

Both his mother, Mrs. Sarah Mack, of Trenton, N.J., and his foster-mother, Mrs. James Roberts of Worcester, Mass., had to be taken out and comforted.

* * *

THE FERVENT eulogy, delivered by the Rev. D. W. Hegard of Philadelphia's Mt. Carmel Baptist Church, drew amen shouts and waves of approval from fellow ministers who turned out 100-strong in tribute to the Rev. Mr. Roberts.

The fervor mounted into spiritual near-frenzy as the Rev. Mr. Hoggard described a vivid picture of the Rev. Mr. Roberts' ascent to heaven in the company of Gabriel and a flock of angels.

Dr. Hoggard had been the Rev. Mr. Roberts' sponsor into the Baptist denomination when the young minister decide to make a change after pastoring in an AME Zion Church in Camden, N.J.

FAMED GOSPEL singer, Mahalia Jackson, who had brought a carload of friends from Chicago, sat with the family, but did not sing.

The sole spotlight was filled by the equally famous Clara Ward, gospel singer of Philadelphia.

Another celebrity friend among the mourners was former heavyweight champion Joe Louis, who came from Westland city on Saturday.

Death was attributed to cancer of the spine.

He was a graduate of Hampton Institute and Hood Theological Seminary.

Funeral held for World War I vet

Funeral services were held for Eddie Berry, 65, 1510 E. Chase St. Thursday at Fountain Baptist Church where he was a member.

The Rev. Dennis Barrow, pastor, officiated.

Mr. Berry died Saturday at Pi. Reward Hospital after being ill for over a year.

He was a World War I veteran serving in France over a year.

* * *

HE WORKED at Bethlehem Steel Co., where he retired in 1957 because of his illness.

Mr. Berry and his wife, Mrs. Rose Berry, celebrated their 36th anniversary May 23, 1958.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by five daughters, Mrs. Hester Greenwood, Mrs. Dorothy Faulkner, Misses Mamie, Rosetta, and Gladys Berry.

Five sons Hodges, Kenneth, Eddie, John, and Sidney Berry; three sisters, Mesdames Laura Oliver, Boston; Lucy Ford, Philadelphia; and Mary Shelman, Richmond, Va.; and a brother, Robert.

Mrs. Sarah Louis

Funeral services were held for Mrs. Sarah Louis, 85, 3132 Belmont Ave., Tuesday at the George G. Kelson Funeral Home, 2348 N. Calhoun St.

The Rev. James Timothy Boddie pastor of New Shiloh Baptist Church, officiated.

A 54-year member of New Shiloh, she belonged to the Willing Workers.

Mrs. Louis was also a member of the Elks.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Josephine Dorsey, Detroit; and Mrs. Carrie Roy; and three sons, James, Detroit; Melvin Washington; and Clarence, Troy, N.Y.

Mrs. Daisy S. Miller buried on Tuesday

FUNERAL services for Mrs. Daisy Scott Miller, 76, 2112 Druid Hill Avenue, were held on Tuesday, at Douglas Memorial Church, with Rev. Robert T. Newbold of Grace Presbyterian Church, officiating.

Burial was in the family plot, Arbutus Memorial Park.

Mrs. Miller died February 12th, at Johns Hopkins Hospital after an illness of two weeks.

A native of Baltimore, Mrs. Miller was born August 1, 1883, the daughter of the late Martha and Henry Scott.

She was married to the late William H. Miller December 25, 1906, who died May 2, 1956.

* * *

THE MILLERS were parents of two children, Miss Clara Miller, a medical technician in the Army Chemical Center, Edgewood, Md., and Mrs. Edith Bowen, a clerk in the Dunbar cafeteria.

As a young woman, the late Mrs. Miller was an active member of Sharp St. Memorial Methodist Church, where she sang on the choir.

She later joined Douglass Memorial, and remained a member until her death.

She also held membership in the YWCA, NAACP, Great Southern Temple of the Elks, Circle 34 of Douglas Memorial Church and her neighborhood club.

In addition to her daughters, Mrs. Miller is survived by a brother, Pierson Scott, of Akron, Ohio, and a nephew, Henry Scott Jr., an engineer in Akron, Ohio.
