Graduates have informal dance

February graduates of the Woodbourne Junior High School were honorees at a prom in Morgan Christian Center, Friday evening.

The affair, given by parents of the graduates entertained about a hundred guests. Music was furnished by Freddie Bond and the Rhythm Rockers. Selections were also offered by the Delaires.

* * *

GRADUATES WERE Miss Ruth Evelyn Jones, Miss Sharon Scott, Miss Joan C. Matthews, Ernest L. Cunningham, Luther Elliott, James Johnson and Ronald Stewart.

Hosts were:

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Jones, Abraham Lynn, Mrs. Anna Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cunningham, Mrs. Evanseline Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Aaron J. Stewart.

Dinner party for Miss Gross

Miss Ella Gross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Gross of 1017 McKean Ave., celebrated her 12th birthday with a dinner party in her home, Saturday.

The honoree is a sixth grade pupil at School No. 132, a music pupil of Mrs. Gergrode Watins and attends Mt. Zion Methodist Church and Sunday School.

* * *

GUESTS AT the party were: Misses Tessie Dorsey, Deborah Payne, Mildred Heard; Martin Jasmin, Arthur Jasmin, Lawrence Mills, Marvin Cager.

Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gross, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cager, Charles Dorsey, Roger Dorsey, Mrs. Lorraine Dorsey, Mrs. Louise Johnson, Miss Octavia Cager and Mrs. Catherine Jasmin.

CLUBS —Gadabouting

PROSPERITY — Mrs. Mamie McBride was elected president of the charity club when the group was hosted by Miss Florence Kelly and Mrs. Della Bailey, this week.

The session was in the home of Miss Kelly.

Other officers named were: Mesdames Lavinia Parker, vice president; Hilda Holmes, recording secretary; Alice Dansby, financial secretary; Mamie Dansby, savings secretary; Frances James, chaplain;

Mrs. Florida Johnson, treasurer of flower fund, Miss Florence Kelly, treasurer; Mesdames Hazel Highgate, sergeant at arms; Anna W. Taylor, organizer and supervisor, and Jessie C. Wells, reporter.

The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. Ollie Gray of 300 Bishop Ave. on Feb. 22, at 4 p.m.

GOOD WILL — The marching club met in the home of Mrs. Rosa Ferguson, 1716 Mosher St., this week.

The social session, which followed the business meeting, was in the form of a birthday surprise for the club's secretary, Mrs. Jessie C. Wells. Gifts and tokens were presented to her.

Mrs. Ella Gibson, who also lives at 1716 Mosher St., will entertain the club at its next meeting.

Mrs. Mary Camphor heads the group.

WILLING WORKERS — The club of Leadenhall Baptist Church, will observe its 24th anniversary, Sunday, with a service at Leadenhall Church.

The Rev. William Tapscott will speak at the service, scheduled for 3 p.m.

Mesdames Estelle Whitley of 1504 Bloomingdale Rd. and Mrs. Gertrude Blackwell of 300 Archer St. have been recent hostesses to the club. Mrs. Mary Southerland is president.

SOCIAL EIGHT — Mrs. Ella Robinson of 837 Bennett Place entertained the savings club, Tuesday evening. Mrs. Redessa Thomas of 617 Bentalou St. will be hostess at the next session.

VALIANT LADIES — Plans for a supper party were made when the club met with Mrs. Portia McCoy, this week.

The supper will be in the Masonic Hall, 303 N. Carey St. on April 25.

The next meeting of the club will be in the home of Mrs. Bernice Brooks, 1832 Druid Hill Ave.

ART AND CRAFT—The Gospel and Male choirs of St. John AME Church are being presented in a song fest at the church on March 1, at 5 p.m.

Mrs. M. Pryor heads the club.

LES BONNE FILLES — Mrs. Henrietta Reid took first prize when the club played cards after their business session, Thursday.

The club was entertained by Mrs. Leona Ireland of 2220 Poplar Grove St. Prizes also went to Mrs. Dora Gowans, second; and Mrs. Maggie McNeil, third.

Lucretia Whitten, a trip to New York City.

A dinner party will be given on Sunday by Margaret Gassaway and her mother, Mrs. Lelia Cooper, for the Rev. Raman White, Clark University graduate and now a student at Westminster University, an affiliate of American University, in Washington. Guests will be invited to meet the Rev. Mr. White, who is pastor of the Greenspring - Lutherville Church.

There's some question as to which drew the most attention at the Urban League Guild's Beaux Art Ball at Friendship Airport, Saturday night: the attractive queen (Grace Johnson) who reigned; the hassle over whether the masqueraders who came as an African family and who were tagged as "art" by the judges but nixed by Director Templeton; or a pair of well-known newlyweds who were disclosing their marital status.

The League judges finally settled on a "Humpty Dumpty" costume to take the $75 first prize.

The newlyweds were chic Valeria Butler, formerly of Charm Center and now a schoolmarm, and William Brown, who actually had been married by the Rev. J. Lloyd Garrison on Dec. 31.

At their table, and having loads of fun, were Ethel Davis, the Leroy Taylors, the H. Misses with Margaret Gassaway and Guild President Maxine Pullen as hostesses.

Personally I would have passed a prize to Mr. Taylor for his costume as an English baron.

MRS. ROMAINE TAYLOR entertained the Ethel Newman Wesleyan Guild, last week, with co-hostesses Mesdames Velva Purvis, Olivia Sheppard, Mary Johnson, Anita Hall and Miss Margaret Gassaway.

At the meeting were:

Mesdames Carrie Carter, Alice Carroll, Alice Hazzard, Valerie Brown, Lillyan Slater, Katherine Lewis, Pauline Woodland, Alice Matthews, Phoebe Jackson, Eleanor Moore, Frances Thompson and Misses Maggie Cross, Jessye Bennett and Florence Kelson.

They made preliminary plans for their breakfast at Ames Methodist Church, Easter morning.
