We Wives hostesses at Valentine fete

The annual Valentine party of We Wives, this year, was a dinner - dance at Wilson's Restaurant, Saturday evening.

The Wives had peppered the main dining room ceiling with colorful silver and red heart-shaped mobiles, centered their tables with heart - studded bouquets and selected a galaxy of guests that would insure a gala evening.

And if you had dinner at home ere leaving for the affair you just shouldn't have. For their course dinner went the whole gamuit from fruit cup to raspberry sherbert.... which they topped for the dancing interval with drink-filled tables.

No whit of the attractiveness of the affair came from feminine enchantment: Mabel Byrd in the prettiest of prints in marine blues and made with tiny cap sleeves;

Iris Mapp in a white frock, the circular skirt and the top banded in dull gold; Lillian Ross in forrest green satin with a draped panel at the back and shoes to match . . . and, incidentally, just out of bed with cold.

Doris Wheeler started me on a which - came - first - the chicken - or - the egg pursuit. Methinks that she must have gotten those pointed - toed pumps that shaded from cream to coral first, and then matched them with that lovely coral chiffon frock, with attractive cowl at the back.

AND SPEARKING of shoes, Beatrice Butler wore the most eye-catching black number with the whole tip of rhinestones which graduated in a swirl to a single rhinestone at the ankle. Her frock of rhinestone studded black crocheted ribbon.

Bea Wright's black frock with revers and cuffs of black sequins, and bow treatment at shirt front, was elegant. She entertained at breakfast following the dance. And Dorothy Wise wore a smart thing for her black sheath, cut low at the back. She accessorized her frock in house including shoes and bag, with a bronze clip at skirt bottom.

Mabel Perkins set off her silver blond coiffure with a coral sheath. Doris Moore also wore a new hair style in silver blond.

Anita Hawkins wore one of her own creations, a fitted sheath in a mauve crepe, draped at the bodice. Aand her ever-so-attentive escort was William Flippin if you are wondering.

Only hostess - less table during the dinner hour was that of club member Verniece Reynolds. She was tied up at Alpha Kappa Alpha Founder's Day celebration, where she is one of the chapter belles being honored. But she made up for lost time when she arrived for the dancing interval . . . suave in broceaded champagne satin with matching shoes.

HOSTESSES and their husbands included:

Mesdames Lillian Ross and Margaret Armstrong; Messrs. and Mesdames Iglehart Keets, Walter Dyson, Frank Phillips, Sherlock Grinage;

Messrs. and Mesdames Warren Weaver, Lawrence Mapp, Theodore Hythe, Gaines Lansey, Leonard Reid Benjamin Foreman, Glen Tarter, Medford Reynolds Preston Shaw.

YMCA membership drive off with successful launching

By E. S. McDANIEL

The World Day of Prayer was most inspiring with the closing services at the New Shiloh Baptist Church. It is wonderful when people are able to forget nationality, race, and creed and pray together for the whole world. That is the way that God would have it. It is also befitting that this day came just before the Brotherhood Week.

The Turner Station YMCA 1959 Membership Drive kicked off with the most successful membership meeting in the history of the branch. The previous high opening night was the banner year of 1955 at which time $325 was turned in on a $2,500 goal.

Last Tuesday night's report was $392 on a $2,000 goal. The men's division reported $228 and the women's division reported $170.

The individual worker winning the general chairman's award for the highest production on opening night was Mrs. Catherine Pounds who reported $120.

Captain Harold L. McDaniel was second highest with $47 closely followed by Captain James Hayes and Dr. Louis Glasser who tied with $37 each. The Phalanx Club of young men between the ages of 15 to 23 reported $30.

In order to encourage the workers on his team, Captain James T. Hayes offered to pay for a child's membership for each time that a worker was able to get two $5 memberships from the same address by Feb. 17.

WHILE VISITING her children in New York City, Mrs. Mary Tapp of Chase City, Va., stopped to visit her two children in Turner Station Mrs. Eleanor Howard on 716 Avondale Rd., and Milton Tapp of 605 N. Avondale Road.

Mrs. Tapp has now returned to her home.

Mrs. Ruth Riddix of 311 Pine St. sustained a leg injury when she fell down the stairs in her home two weeks ago.

Mrs. Riddix is the wife of the Rev. Mark Riddix and the mother of Mark Riddix Jr., a senior of the Sollers Point High School who is confined to his bed because of a heart condition.

Mrs. Riddix is also the leader of the Turner Elementary School Family Life Discussion Group. She serves as a substitute teacher for the schools of the community.

THE BALNEW POST No. 101 American Legion, Department of Maryland will hold a special meeting, Saturday, Feb. 21, at 7:30 p.m. at the Community Avenue, Turner Station.

The purpose of this meeting is to acquaint the public with the program of the American Legion. Special motion pictures will be shown, including some of Joe Louis' fights.

Admission will be free and refreshments will be served free. Landon Godsey is commander.

THE CHESTNUT STREET Homes have not been able to have natural gas service in their homes but now the Gas and Electric Company is running a gas line to the area.

I have been informed that those residents who apply for the service now will be able to get the connections - without charge, but those who apply at a later time will have to pay the usual charge.

If you live in the Chestnut Pine Street area, it might be well for you to investigate from the company to be certain about gas service for your own advantage.

Franklin Delano Roosevelt Tucker of 113 East Avenue has been awarded the master of arts degree in education by the State University of Iowa.

Franklin was the 1957 blind graduate from Morgan State College who won a fellowship that made it possible for him to earn his way through graduate school.

Presently Franklin is at the University Hospital for heart observations.

Franklin graduated from the Sollers Point High School. This school preceeded by his training at the Maryland School for the Blind.

George Ransom of 10 Avon Beach Rd. went to church Sunday after a long spell of illness. He thoroughly enjoyed himself as the Rev. Mr. Everett delivered the morning sermon. He even returned to his pew for the funeral that followed the morning services. It was good to see him again after his illness and the illness of his daughter, Olivia.

THE LADIES AUXILIARY of Christ the King Catholic Church will sponsor a spaghetti and meatball dinner with salad, dessert, coffee or milk. The dinner will be held in the church hall on Sunday, Feb. 23. Tickets may be secured in front of the church on Sunday morning.

Funeral services were held for Lewis Howell Sunday at the New Shiloh Baptist Church with the pastor, Rev. James A. Everett officiating. Interment took place at the Mt. Calvery Cemetery.

Mr. Howell, 61, died on Feb. 10 at the Johns Hopkins Hospital. He was a brother of George Howell, Mrs. Mamie Green and Mrs. Elnora Norfleet. He is also survived by his widow, a large number of relatives.

MRS. CASSIE JOHNSON of 103 Avon Beach Rd. has been ill at her home for several months with arthritis.

Clayborn Johnson of 103 Avon Beach Rd. husband of Mrs. Cassie Johnson, suffered a mild heart attack on Feb. 7, at his home. He is improved.

Mrs. Gertrude Embrey of 129 Sollers Point Rd. has not been feeling too well, but she has improved.

Father Hugh Henneberry, beloved priest of Christ The King Catholic Church, is resting at one of the hospitals. Any cards that his friends wish to send him may be addressed to him care of the Parrish, 335 Sollers Point Rd., Baltimore 22, Maryland.

John Speed Sr. of 142 Chestnut Street, who has been ill for several weeks, has improved.

James Herbert Parrish of 109 Avondale Rd. has returned to his home after spending three weeks in Johns Hopkins Hospital.

IN OTHER WORDS

Diploma is time here again—congratulations

By PORTIA A. SMTH

My heartiest congratulations go to the graduating seniors for accomplishing something most high school students look forward to - earning a diploma.

Lulu Praileau was among the graduates of Douglass High this February.

George Barrett, Joseph Strickland and Vernon Johnson finished City College.

Western listed Shirley Bailey and Vera Tillery among its graduates.

Hermien Harden graduated from Eastern with the second highest average in her class.

All of these students were active members of school clubs this year.

• • •

I remember one of the graduates saying the more he learned, the more he realized how little he really new.

Education is a most valuable gift. None of us should stop learning since learning is a continuous process, not suddenly ended with the acquisition of a diploma.

One of my former teachers said, "You have no time or opportunity to read and to know everything, but you do have time and opportunity to check arrogance, to be superior to pleasure and paid and love of fame."

That's pretty good, huh?

Surprises were in store for Anita Turks and Sharon Murphy last week end. Both were honored at birthday parties.

I promised not to tell their ages.

• • •

THE INTER - CLUB Council of Baltimore met last Saturday at the YMCA for the second time in the history of the organization.

Carroll Lambb, president, Vernon Johnson, Joseph Brown and Portia Smith, assisting;

Membership is still the main question on the "business" agenda.

A new group, the Inter - Club Council has lots of big ideas for its future. We're hoping many Baltimore clubs will support it.

• • •

LAUGHING AND dancing to the orchestra of Sid Cowen at the City College Senior prom at the Sheraton - Belvedere were Vernon Johnson, Joseph Strickland, George Barrett, Dwight Coleman;

Also June Lottier, Carol St. Clair, Norma Brown and Donna Spaulding.

Norma Donna and June looked stunning in their pink though differently styled Gowns. Carol wore a beautiful white net ballerina - length formal.

Dreamy doings, yes?

Well, "parting is such sweet sorrow," and all that, 'til next time.

EDMONDSON NOTES

Spotlight turned on Edmondson sophomores

By MAXINE A. JOHNSON

After talking to several sophomores, I have arrived at the conclusion that, I have "slighted" the 10th graders, and that's not right, so this week's column is devoted entirely to them.

The larger portion of our sophomores entered Edmondson in their freshman year and they constitute our first four-year graduating class. The following is a more or less spotlight on some members of this hope class, the graduating class of 1960.

Carole Sherrington is a tenth-grade academic student. She will be a member of the first 4 year graduating class. Carole is a member of the modern dance group and is interested in continuing along the dance and dramatic lines in college.

• • •

SEVELYN HILL is a tenth grade import from Garrison Junior High. She finds life at Edmondson quite enjoyable. At present she is interested in swimming, listening to music and meeting new people. Sevelyn is an academic student and is aiming for high scholastic achievements.

Marilyn Moore went to school in California before coming to Edmondson. As every Edmondsonian does, she really likes it here. Considering the other schools she has attended, Marilyn likes our school, its students and teachers better than these, out west. Marilyn has made many new friends and is still meeting people.

Loretta Morton thinks of Edmonson in terms of its advantages over schools of the past. This 10th grader mentions the important changes that have been made in the modern schools today. Among other things she is quite proud of our swimming pool, tennis courts, and our library and uses them often.

• • •

Let us invite you to take a look at our schools and see the great changes that have and will be made."

Garfield PTA marks founding

The Garfield PTA will observe Founders Day on the occasion with the program set for Garfield School, 25th and Alabama Ave., SE. Mrs. Hilda K. Alacorn is Garfield School principal.

Other features of the observance will be music by a group of fourth graders, under direction of Mrs. Loretta Blanchi, and a service of Rededication to the objectives of the National Congress of PTA's.

Mrs. Claretta C. Proctor, president of the Garfield unit, said the program will begin promptly at 8:30 p.m. in the school auditorium. The public is invited.

'Open House' set by Harlem Council

The Harlem Park Neighborhood Council, 724 N. Carrollton Ave., will be host to an "Open House" at its headquarters, beginning on Tuesday, Feb. 24 and continuing through Friday, Feb. 25, during the hours 3-5 p.m.

On Tuesday and Thursday the hours will be lengthened to include 7-9 p.m.

The purpose is to allow members and other interested individuals to view a model display of a typical rehabilitated block, including the idea of the inner open area.

Also on display will be a map, showing the proposed clearance areas for the Harlem Park Neighborhood.
