Committee action today on Barrett-Montrose merger

ANNAPOLIS — "The delay was granted as a courtesy gesture."

Ridgely P. Melvin, (Anne Arundel Co.), chairman of the House of Delegates' judiciary committee, was explaining here Tuesday why his committee decided to delay until today (Friday) final action on a bill to integrate the Barrett and Montrose Schools for Girls.

The committee had just completed an hour and 40-minute public hearing on the bill — House Bill No. 145 — and then granted a delay of final action at the request of Elroy G. Boyer (Kent Co.).

Mr. Boyer said he desired this additional time to take the matter up with his constituents.

H. Kemp MacDaniel, (Balto. Co.), was the lone committee member present who opposed the delay.

THE REQUEST for the delay came after the 20 members present of the 35-man committee had voted nine to five to return the bill to the House floor with a favorable report for second reading.

Six of the committee members present abstained from voting.

The bill would mae possible the transfer of girls at the Barrett School to Montrose on a non - discriminatory racial basis.

State Department of Public Welfare board members told the committee the Barrett School must be abandoned because of necessary expansion of Friendship Airport.

They said the selection of a new site and cost of erecting another such segregated school would be prohibitive—and that and that of the Barrett School, the Welfare Department board, had no desire for the continuance of such a segregated setup.

APPEARING before the committee as a lone public objector to this proposal was George Washington Williams, a perennial spoesman.

"I am not a cat-pot," he told the committee. "I don't hate anybody. I just want to see my race preserved."

Mr. Williams was the last to speak, and several committee members arose from their seats and left the room, as he began talking.

Urging the approval of the bill were these speakers represented by Thomas J. S. Waxter, director of the State Welfare Department:

Dr. Alvin Thalheimer, board chairman, who said the Barrett School had been appraised by the city at $488,500, and that $850,000 would be required for expansion of the Montrose School to accommodate the girls from Barrett.

Also, that the consolidation of the two schools would allow better programing, and such a transfer could be completed within a two-year period.

COL. JOHN O. COLONNA, director of aviation for Baltimore, who revealed that necessary expansion of a Friendship Airport runway to handle jet aircrafts required the acquisition of the Barrett School;

And that he was prepared to purchase the property, with funds from the sale of Harbor Field to the state;

W. Emerson Brown, Barrett board chairman, who told the committee that had the two schools been consolidated five years ago, 50 percent of the money spent on Barrett could have been saved;

Mrs. Viola Lincoln, Barrett superintendent, who said the frequency of low-flying aircraft over the school creates a menace, as we'll as a nuisance, and that a plane did crash on the school property a few years ago.

And the superintendent of the Montrose School, who verified that the school was willing to accept girls from Barrett, when necessary facilities could be arranged,

Among the spectators at the hearing were:

Howard H. Murphy, Welfare Department board member; Mrs. Lillian Lottier, Mrs. Anita Williams and Theodore W. Kess, Barrett board members, and the Rev. Norris H. Martin, Annapolis.

VIEW OF INTERSECTION at Lafayette Ave. and Monroe St. — Figure A represents 1957 sedan operated by Thad Gorham, westbound on Lafayette. Figure B the 14-ton tractor trailer southbound on Monroe. C is point at side of hardware store where both vehicles landed, the trailer on top. Five persons lived to tell about it, four of them occupants of the Gorham car and the other the driver of the trailer.

'Lucky' says driver

Miller, 28, of Everett, Pa., sustained a chest injury. Police report he refused medical attention and said he would see his own physician.

ALL FIVE occupants of the Gorham car work on the 3 to 11 shift in the coke oven department at Bethlehem Steel Co. They were enroute home when the huge truck loaded down with miscellaneous freight (Furniture, toys, and hardware) came barreling down out of the North southbound on Monroe St.

With brakes screeching, the two vehicles collided with a thunderous roar at the intersection of Lafayette Ave., and continued on through the front entrance of a hardward store at 1901 W. Lafayette Ave.

After seconds of deadly silence, spectators descended on the scene from all directions.

DESPITE THE 34 degree weather, more than 250 persons stood to watch as police and an ambulance crew extricated the unconscious men from the wreckage.

Traffic along the busy thoroughfare was tied up for more than two hours.

Mr. Gorham told the AFRO that when he came to "a policeman was holding my hand.

"All I remember is that as I approached the green light, a car was sitting next to the northeast curb on Monroe St., waiting for the light.

"As I entered the intersection I looked up and the truck was one ma"

ONE OFFICER on the scene described the crash as one of the worst he had seen in the city.

The Gorham car is a complete wreck.

The trailer truck sustained extensive damages and was towed to property owned by the Baltimore branch of the Interstate Motor Freight Co.

The truck was bound for Baltimore from Norwalk, Ohio.

Police charged both drivers with reckless driving.

Mr. Gorham — was also charged with running an automatic signal. A Traffic Court hearing has been scheduled for March 10 at 7 p.m.

Mr. Gorman, has worked at Bethlehem Steel for five years. He and his wife, Mrs. Hattie Mae Gorham are the parents of three sons.

three sons, Sylvester, 11 and Melvin Gorham, 10; and John Matthews, 17, and are members of Mt. Pleasant Baptist Church.

On Thursday, the condition of the four men who were riding with Mr. Gorham was described as improving.

AT THE BLAKE home, relatives said that Mr. Blake's eyesight would not be impaired as a result of the accident.

Mr. Blake is the husband of Mrs. Beatrice Blake. They are the parents of six children.

The Blakes are members of Wayland Baptist Church.

The cat needed help, so Jones hit the button

Everybody but 17-year-old Samuel A. Jones thought he over did things a little when he spotted a cat on the sill of a third-floor window in the 1400 block of Linden Ave. and couldn't get it down.

Jones, who lives nearby in the 100 block Linden Ave., had heard that firemen sometimes got cats out of trees and such things. So, you guessed it, he turned in a fire alarm.

But in his concern over the cat's safety, Jones didn't consider that the Ear, Nose, Eye and Throat Hospital is in the 1400 block of Linden and that firemen might get the idea this was something of an emergency.

IN CRIMINAL Court on Thursday, where he was charged with sounding a false alarm, Jones heard Fire Battalion Chief Elmer Moreau tell Judge Joseph R. Byrnes how 8 pieces of fire fighting equipment and 40 men were rushed to the scene.

Also, that this resulted in leaving the rest of the area without fire protection.

A medical report introduced by Asst. State's Atty. Norman Hochberg said that Jones suffered a hyperthyroid condition and that people with this condition have an exaggerated sense of danger.

But when Judge Byrnes asked: "Don't you realize you were endangering the lives of these men who responded to the call?" he quietly answered, "No, I did not."

The judge settled it with a probation before a verdict decision.

Jones must have had his mind on that cat's safety. But it didn't help the temper of the firemen any to know they couldn't even find a cat.

'Owe this man an apology'

"I think you owe this man an apology," said Magistrate Marshall A. Levin in Housing Court Tuesday.

He was speaking to a landlord who hauled Eugene Butler, 40, 1900 block Druid Hill Ave., into court on charges of failure to notify the landlord within 72 hours after moving and not returning the key within 24 hours.

When the landlord, Louis Hamilton, failed to establish that Mr. Butler was the party to whom he had rented an apartment in the 2000 block Rayner Ave., Magistrate Levin dismissed the case against the mechanic, and demanded an apology.

No assignment for Bishop Nichols

OKLAHOMA CITY — Bishop D. Ward Nichols was not assigned to any district by the AME Bishops Council which ended its two-day session here Thursday.

There were rumors that Nichols, who had been cleared by the Judicial Council, would be restored to full duties, but the issue was never raised here, the AFRO was told.

Joins crusade

Howard M. Smith, division commercial manager, (outstate) for the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company will serve as vice-chairman of Counties for the 1959 Cancer Crusade.

This will be the fourth consecutive year that he has served in this capacity.
