CHERRY HILL NOTES

Annual installation service held by Mothers, Homemakers club

By MARJORIE J. WARD

The Mothers and Homemakers Club of Cherry Hill held its annual installation service at its business meeting Tuesday, at 513 Roundview Road. Ellen Baker was hostess.

The service, led by Jennie Butler was very impressive and it inspired the members to a declaration of determined effort to make '59 a banner year.

Those installed were Isolene Crowner, president; Ellen Baker, vice president; Jennie Butler, recording secretary; Christine Ford, financial secretary; Myrtle Burge, treasurer; and Belle Campbell, chaplain.

John and Doris Harvey motored to Plainfield, New Jersey for the weekend. The Harveys live on Hillview Rd. John recently returned from Japan where he was employed by the Bendix Corporation.

'What A Morning' seen at Westport School

By WALTER W. E. LEE

A program titled "What A Morning" was presented by the Mt. Winans and Westport Elementary Schools at the Westport School No. 225 on Thursday night, honoring Brotherhood Week.

It was the best I can remember since the play of last summer called "The Dashing Decade." So beautiful were the settings that one could not help but remain to view with admiration, the entire program. The appropriate scripture read:

"Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity."

School principals were Mrs. Alice Hazzard and Miss Lydia Lutz. Directors were Mrs Barbara Cottee and Mrs. Jane Alison, assisted by Mrs. Mary B. Newton, Mrs. Wanda Warfield, Miss Lillian Chamberlain, Gilbert French, Mrs. Rubye Harris and Vernon Bachmann.
