Hundreds attend rites for William Emerson Brown Sr.

More than 900 persons were in attendance at Sharp Street Methodist Church Thursday afternoon to attend funeral services for William Emerson Brown Sr., insurance executive and prominent civic leader.

Mr. Brown died unexpectedly Saturday. He was 65 years old.

Although the rites were scheduled for 1 p.m. mourners began filing into the church shortly after 12 noon while more than 100 persons stood silently on the street just outside the church.

Among those present were scores of the city's most prominent civic, community and church leaders.

Honorary pallbearers numbering over 200 persons included representatives of the Mutual Benefit Society firm where Mr. Brown was Northwest branch manager.

Also acting as honorary pallbearers were members of twenty civic and state organizations as well as civic, community and church organizations of which Mr. Brown was a member.

Members of the Salisbury Prince Hall Masonic order, Tuscach Lodge No. 10, also acted as honorary pallbearers and were among the many prominent citizens present from the Eastern Shore town.

The Rev. Edward G. Carroll, pastor of the Sharp Street Church where Mr. Brown was a longtime member, officiated at the services.

Assisting were the Revs. Frank Eyes, Amos Methodist Church; J. Timothy Sellers, New Shiloh Baptist Church; Howard L. Cornish, director of the Morgan State College Christian Center; Cedric E. Mills, rector of St. James P.E Church.

Also participating in the service lasted for and fifteen minute services were representatives of organizations with which Mr. Brown was affiliated.

Members of the Frontiers Club formed an honor guard which was on duty at the home where the body was on view from Tuesday until noon Thursday.

Dr. Bernard Harris, president of the Baltimore Frontiers Club read the obituary while Col. West A. Hamilton, representing the national board of the Frontiers Club- paid tribute as did Dr. Robert L. Jackson, surgeon, Provident Hospital where Mr. Brown was treasurer of the board of directors.

The Rev. Mr. Carroll of acknowledged letters from Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro Jr. Harold Jennifer of the Recreation Department and the Rev. Daniel Ridout, secretary of the Baltimore Area of the Methodist Church and NewtonJackson, son of the late U.S. Senator William P. Jackson.

The minister also read a letter from former Governor and Mrs. Theodore McKeldin which said:

"I am honored to have been associated with Mr. Brown who made such a magnificent contribution to Maryland and to Baltimore."

IN HIS EULOGY, Rev. Mr. Carroll called attention to the hundreds of citizens in the audience and likened them to a great congregation.

He said: "The great throng present here is symbolic of our togetherness here—all sincere and wrapped in prayer commemorating with thanks and commending a spirit to the God who gave it."

He continued: "We are committing ourselves here to the Emerson pointed toward and demonstrated as he moved among us so that we will ever be mindful of the things for which he stood."

The Rev. Mr. Carroll also called attention to the floral tributes which totaled more than 250 baskets and were arranged in five tiers which stretched the full length of the altar.

He said: "Symbolic are the beautiful flowers which speak of the beautiful life.

The Rev. Mr. Carroll also mentioned the large American flag which covered the coffin since Mr. Brown was a veteran of World War I and a former master sergeant in the U. S. Army.

Lauding Mr. Brown as a citizen, the Rev. Mr. Carroll said: "He was always ready to help and to act at once for his fellow citizens.

"In all the years I have known him I have never seen him with his head down. He always walked with his head erect."

The Rev. Mr. Cornish termed Mr. Brown, a native of Salisbury, Md., an "Eastern Shoreman who was proud of his heritage."

He said: "He was a great man, firm in his convictions, wide in his sympathies and tall in his ideals. He was a fine and happy warrior."

Dr. Jackson recalled that Mr. Brown had handled funds for the hospital for many years.

He said: "He moved modest, kindly, tenderly and all of those years led a blameless life, a gentle life."

Col. Hamilton said: "We were grieved, shocked to learn of the passing of this unusual man.

"He was a Christian gentleman- a sucessful businessman who had the esteem of all who knew him. On the national level of the Frontiers Club he was a dynamic leader and of the 50 clubs across the nation no member did more to advance the cause of the club than he."

Father Mills charged the family of the insurance executive: "Be not discouraged. Find strength in the ever presence of God."

And, he added: "Know that in our Christian faith. life does not write a man off. Man finds life through death"

The casket lay at the foot of the church altar where floral tributes were arranged in five tiers along the entire length of the altar. Two tiers lay on the floor at the altar rail while a row of flowers was also on the main altar and designs were placed on the barrier which separated the pulpit from the raised choir loft.

As they bore the casket from the church Mrs. Brown wept audibly and it was necessary that she be assisted as she and other members of the family left the church behind the bier.

Forming the procession to the Arbutus Memorial park cemetery were 35 cars and four flower cars.

Survivors include the wife, Mrs. Emma Louise Tucker Brown, the son, Mr. Brown Jr., the daughter, Mrs. Brewington; T. Brown and Mrs. Peggy two step-daughters, Mrs. Gloria King; three sisters, Mrs. Aida Brown, Salisbury and Mrs. Nan Peterson, and Mrs. Lillie M. Johnson, Newark, N.J. and 10 grandchildren.

MR. BROWN was stricken with Kidney failure on Thursday, Feb. 19 and taken to John Hopkins Hospital on Friday. He died there at 11:45 p.m. Saturday.

Active until the day he was taken ill, Mr. Brown did not express any complaint which may he-vided the attack relatives state.

On Tuesday he appeared before the House of Delegates Judiciary Committee at Annapolis to speak on behalf of the Barrett School for Girls where he was chairman of the board of directors.

Mr. Brown stated that he was in favor of integration of the girls at the Barrett School with girls at the Montrose School for Girls.

Speaking also as a delegate of the Department of Public Welfare, Mr. Brown urged the passage of the bill to combine the schools.

• • •

NOTED AS an authority in business and insurance fields, Mr. Brown was manager of the Northwest branch of the Mutual Benefit Society which opened the North Ave. offices in January, 1958.

He had been active in numerous business concerns and had held executive positions with insurance companies for more than 30 years.

He came to Baltimore in 1930 as manager of the old National Benefit Life Insurance Co. of Washington and two years later joined the staff of the Southern Life Insurance Company as local manager.

In 1938 Mr. Brown was appointed state manager of the Southern Life.

In a span of ten years he progressed to become the executive vice president and secretary - treasurer of Southern Life, positions which he held until he took over the Mutual Benefit Society branch office in 1958.

A NATIVE of Salisbury, Md., Mr. Brown was born Jan. 21, 1894, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Brown.

His early education was in the Salisbury public schools and in 1924 studied a course in Insurance through the Columbia University Extension Schools.

He was a member of the Insurance Managers Association and secretary of the Advance Savings and Loan Co. where he was a member of the original board.

A 32nd Degree Mason, Mr. Brown retained membership in the Lamont Prince Hall Lodge No. 30 of Salisbury and was debris, checked up on the cash, carry out plans now."

T. SHELTON COLES, former president of the Advance Savings and Loan Association, said:

"It is a great loss to Baltimore. He was a great man. I respected very highly and his honesty and integrity could never be questioned at any time."

Dr. W. O. Bryson, president of the Advance Savings and Loan firm stated: "We have lost our most valuable member.

"The loss will be felt by our organization where he held the office of secretary and it will be felt throughout the community."

• • •

PALL BEARERS included Dr. W. O. Bryson, and James Murphy, member of the Advanced Savings and Loan; William J. Reid and Henry T. Campbell Mutual Benefit assistant managers and Samuel T. Daniels and Pannin Newbrey, Frontiers representatives.

Honorary pallbearers included members of the YMCA Board of Managers, the Mutual Benefit Society, the State Department of Public Welfare, John Wesley Methodist Church, Salisbury; the Advance Savings and Loan Co., and the Board of Managers, Barrett School for Girls.

Among those from out of town were members of the Salisbury Lomach No. 30 lodge of the Prince Hall Masons.

Also present was Dr. and Mrs. Goodloe White, Salisbury. Dr. White, a physician who has practiced in the Eastern Shore town for more than 40 years said the AFRO:

"We became friends from the first day I saw him over 40 years ago. We were just like brothers. A greater friend is nowhere to be found."

• • •

ALSO PRESENT from Salisbury were Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Chipman, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Leodard, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Jolley and Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Jolley.

Present from Newark, N.J. were Mr. Brown's sister, Mrs. Lillie Johnson and Mrs. Nan Paterson; and Gene Johnson, a member of the Consistory.

A LONGTIME member of Sharp Street Methodist Church, Mr. Brown was also prominent in civic affairs.

He was president of the board of managers of the Barrett Training School, treasurer of the Provident Hospital board of directors, a former national secretary of the Frontiers of America and former president of the Baltimore chapter.

A staunch member of the YMCA he was a member of the board of managers of the Druid Hill Avenue branch.

Mr. Brown worked with the Community Chest drives and served on both Federal and State Grand juries.

He was a member of the NAACP and when colored policemen were added to the local force Mr. Brown was one of the founders of the police school which offered special training.

• • •

IN WORLD WAR I, 1918, Mr Brown served as a soldier at Fort Meade and was discharged in 1919 as a Master Sergeant.

Twice married, his first wife, the former Miss Ethel Mae Berry, died in 1941. They were the parents of two children, W. Emerson Brown Jr., a head attorney, and Mrs. Ethel L. Brewington, a local school teacher.

In July, 1950 Mr. Brown was married to the former Mrs. Emma Louise Tucker who survives him.

• • •

MR. BROWN was associated with many local citizens in civic work and his death produced the following tributes:

Among them was John H. Henderson, executive secretary of the Druid Branch YMCA who told the AFRO:

"Mr. Brown was a longtime worker and friend of the Druid Branch.

"Not only was he a member of the executive board and chairman of the finance committee and member of the board of managers, but also led membership campaigns and served as a division leader.

"He served with the membership committee and worked with any committee when called upon.

"He was one of the most dependable persons I have ever worked with and I found him forthright, in possession of exceptional foresight.

"At any time we found him ready to tackle the most difficult problems and tasks and he was logical in the way he approached them.

"We regret we have lost him and we feel that he was a member we can not replace."

• • •

ROBERT B. WATTS, attorney and member of the YMCA Board of Managers said:

"My association with Mr. Brown has been one from which I benefited.

"He was a man whose leadership and advice always gave encouragement.

"He was especially known for his encouragement of the young people of the community."

• • •

H. O. WILSON, president of the Mutual Benefit Society stated:

"He worked at his post last Thursday and when we talked with him on the phone he gave no indication of being sick.

"That was characteristic of Mr. Brown.

"He plunged into each new opportunity offered him. He worked early and late, day and night.

"He trained new agents, worked with established agents, went from door to door, inspected and re - inspected represented his department at meetings, conducted classes and all the other multifarious duties that are the destiny of a manager.

"We could not have asked for a more loyal, conscientious, cooperative or level - headed associate.

"We are glad of the chance to have him with us. He will be sorely missed."

• • •

MRS. VIOLA LINCOLN, superintendent of the Barrett School for Girls stated:

"Mr. Brown was very interested in this school.

"He often said he wanted a program that would be just as good for each of the girls here as it would be for a daughter of his.

"He said it many times and that was his goal. He spent much of his time trying to make the program possible.

"He was indeed a remarkable man and noteworthy is the fact that he felt there was never an excuse for not getting things done now.

"In his work with us he never hesitated to attempt to

Cold Spring La. residents upset over roar of trucks

"All I can say is that it's just awful.

"It's a terrible thing when you pay as much for a house as I did and have to watch it come apart day by day and not be able to do anything about it."

Talking angrily was Mrs. Louise Shofed, 739 E. Cold Spring Lane.

She took a reporter through her house, showing cracks in the ceiling and floors of her living room, dining room and kitchen.

"When I moved in this house August a year ago, there wasn't a single crack in the wall anywhere, now look at it," she said.

Some of the cracks were minute, other extended from one wall of the ceiling to the other.

She told the AFRO that the cracks in her wall were due to the trailer trucks that use Cold Spring Lane as a thorough route.

• • •

"THE TRUCKS come early in the morning when we're in bed. Sometimes the vibrations are so loud the whole house shakes.

"Often when I come downstairs I find some of my ash trays and glass broken.

"That's just how bad things are," she said emphatically.

Mrs. Shofed said that the area was full of the tricks since the community became occupied by colored citizens.

"We have a committee out here that tried to talk to Henry Barnes (Traffic Director) to do something about it, but he's always too busy to talk to any of us."

"If you don't believe me, just ask anybody on this block, and they'll tell you the same thing."

• • •

WALKING OVER to her telephone, she showed where a part of her baseboard had been loosened.

After a brief phone conversation, she continued talking.

"I've just called the lady next door, she'll come over and tell you the same thing."

Her neighbor, Mrs. Madison Lowery, 741 E. Cold Spring La., confirmed that the same thing had happened to her house.

"My house is worth much less now than what I paid for it and I've only been in it about eight months," said Mrs. Lowery.

A BRIEF discussion with a few of the Traffic Division's officials told the AFRO why the Cold Spring Lane zone had been made commercial.

Robert Morris of the Department of Traffic Planning explained:

"There aren't many cross town routes for trucks. The only others in the northern part of the city are Belvedere and North Aves."

James Dembeck of the Department of Planning told the AFRO that the commercializing of that area was a routine job.

"We are now in the process of rezoning the entire city and any area may be changed.

"The only thing that I could suggest is that those unsatisfied persons send their complaints to the Zoning Appeal Board."

It said there is a possibility that the zone may be changed again if substantial reason is shown why it should be.

In Memoriam 1

BROWN — In loving memory of my beloved daughter, MARGARET, who passed away March 1, 1942.
God did she go, when life seemed fair,
To dim the brightness of our lives
Or snatch the brightest star?
We thought not at the close of day,
When night veiled earth and sky,
That one so full of life and joy
Would breathe her last goodbye.
MOTHER, MARIE BROWN

Son, PAUL WILLIAM CHESTER
Daughter, BEULAH GILES

CURTIS — In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, MARGARET E. who passed away February 28, 1958.
Gone and forgotten by some you may be,
But dear to our memory, you always will be.
What would we give your hand to clasp
Your patient face to see
Your smile, your voice
In the days that use to be.
But some sweet day we'll meet again.
Meet in the land of peace and rest
And clasp each others hand once more.
In Heaven's happy life
YOUR LOVING FAMILY

GRAY — In loving memory of our beloved one, EDITH, who passed away February 28, 1958.
God saw the road was getting rough
The hills were hard to climb;
He gently closed her loving eyes
And whispered, Peace be Thine.

How we miss you darling Mother,
Since you went away.
God called you home to glory,
Just one year ago today.
Although our hearts are sad and heavy,
There was nothing we could say.
But we must face that sad tomorrow,
Till we meet again someday.
HER CHILDREN

HILL — In loving memory of our dear mother, SARAH (nee Scott) who passed away February 28, 1954.
Time may pass and bring its changes,
Fresh with every coming year;

AND
MRS. WILLETTA WARDLOW.

MATTHEWS — In loving memory of our dear mother, ALDONA MATTHEWS, who passed away February 24, 1957.
Dear mother, you are not forgotten
Though on earth you are no more,
Still in memory you are with us
As you watch your children
LOVING DAUGHTERS
AND NIECE

MICHAEL — In loving memory of our dear daughter and sister, LENORA WHITE MICHAEL, who passed away March 1, 1952.
Your memory to us is a keepsake,
With which we will never part.
Dear, God has you in His keeping
We still have you in our hearts.
Loving Father,
GEORGE WHITE,
SISTERS AND BROTHERS.

SEWELL — In loving memory of our son and brother, RUSSELL F. SEWELL, who passed away February 28, 1952.
We cannot grieve for thy purpose see
But all is well that's done by thee.
Devoted
MOTHER, SISTERS
AND BROTHERS

WHITE — In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, LILLIAN L., who passed away March 1, 1955.
Under our hearts memory is softly tounched today;
Loving thoughts of you will never fade away.
HUSBAND, FATHER
GEORGE AND CLARA

In Memoriam 1

SHELTON — In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, EDIE, who passed away February 23, 1958.
Since I lost you it's just as if stars felled from the sky.
The mellow moon no longer glows,
I miss you, dear only God knows.
Life is a dreary place and gloomy and cold.
Life is an empty space.
No one can take your vacant place.
Sweet is your memory, dear,
That I'll go first, and leave you behind.
HUSBAND
EDGAR SHELTON
SON
WILLIE CLINTON
