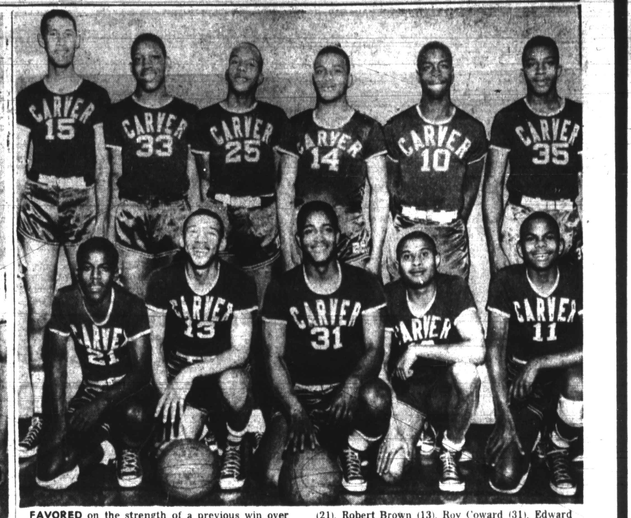
HOPEFUL despite the fact they lost a squeaker to adversary Carver High earlier this season, the Poets of Dunbar High School hope to turn the tables today (Friday) at 3:45 when they meet Carver in Carver's home court for the Division II championship. Players up front are Allen (Eggie) Ward (31), Dickie Phillips (11), Charlie Leach (20), Clift (Skull) Owens (13), and William Tinkler (14). Back row, same order: Rock Johnson (34), Clyde (Say Hey) Stokes (21), Rudie (String Bean) Peterson (22), Cal (Robbett) Kenon (30) and Ed (Too Late) Richmond (10).



FAVORED on the strength of a previous win over Dunbar and its shooting depth, the Carver High School cagers were confident smiles today (Friday) as they waited the whistle to tangle with the Poets in the Division II Championship game today at Carver High. Front row are: George Kimbrow (21), Robert Brown (13), Roy Coward (31), Edward Pembroe (12) and Roscoe Handy (11). Back row: Tyroe Salvador (15), Moses Wiggins (33), William Lewis (25), Bobby Mitchell (14), John Collins (10) and Jimmy Jackson (35).

ary 29 tiff at Dunbar, which the Trainers won, 53-50.

"Well," declared Cain, "we made a lot of mistakes the other time, and I don't think we're going to do that again. At any rate, it should be a good one (game)."

BOTH CARVER and Dunbar go into today's meeting with identical 9-2 records, brought about when the former dropped a second decision to City College last week. Only three days earlier, Dunbar had licked the Collegians to move within a half-game of the rival Trainers.

When Carver lost to City last Friday, it marked the first time in the second half of the campaign that the Whitemen had been out of the Division 2 lead. City, by virtue of remaining undefeated, had led throughout the first semester of play.

In Tuesday's games, Carver took an early lead on Loyola and held on during a late drive by the Dons to survive a 65-58 decision, while the Poets romped to an easy 58-32 verdict over Forest Park.

THE MAIN concern of visiting Dunbar today will be how to go about containing Carver's brilliant young George Kimbrow. Despite his 5-5 feet, 7-inch altitude, Kimbrow is a thorn in the side to the opposition, especially in the so-called money games.

Dunbar will match their rivals with a little dynamo of her own, Charley Leach. Like the Carver mainstay, Leach makes up in speed and hustle what he lacks in height.

There are those, of course, who are inclined to give the Trainers an edge on their home floor — SAM LACY.

Ivy League College on Bucs' slate

HAMPTON, Va. — Hampton Institute will launch its second baseball campaign after 25 years' absence from the CIAA arena, with a big 22-game schedule, beginning March 30.

Coach Ben Whaley expects a bigger and much more experienced squad than the rookie team which took only three of their fourteen conference games last season.

The Pirates will bring an Ivy League College to the Virginia campus for their opening game.

Brown University of Providence, R.I., will be followed by two exhibition performances against Montclair State Teachers of Montclair, N.J.

Warriors face tough time inking Stilt

NEW YORK — The Philadelphia Warriors, proud owners of NBA draft rights on Wilt Chamberlain will have a tough time signing the 7'2" star when his contract with the Harlem Globetrotters ends on April 15, according to the current issue of Sport Magazine.

Chamberlain had been drafted by the Warriors five years ago when he was still in high school and is eligible to play in the NBA when his University of Kansas class graduates this June.

THE ARTICLE states that Wilt is saying that he isn't sure he's going to play in the NBA. "I can't say what I'm going to do," Wilt told Sport, because I haven't made up my mind yet.

"I'll do what's best for me and my future . . . if I go in (the NBA) it will be for material gain," not for the challenge of playing against the best basketball players in the world.

CHAMBERLAIN IS presently receiving a reported $65,000 Globetrotters after quitting college his six-month tour with the Trotters. According to the piece, Wilt is the biggest name in basketball and could be the Babe Ruth of pro ball — the one overpowering, popular personality that would move the league into the big time.

The article states it will take a fancy, unprecedented salary —higher than the NBA's $25,000 ceiling — to bring Chamberlain into the fold.

Earlene Brown, Archie, Jackie to be honored

LOS ANGELES (ANP) — The Los Angeles Rams' record-setting passing whiz Billy Wade and Mrs. Earlene Brown, the nation's leading woman field reporter, were selected as "Pro Athlete of the Year" and "Woman Athlete of the Year," respectively, by the 100 Percent Wrong Club of Southern California this week.

Wade and Mrs. Brown will receive their honors at the 100 Percent Wrongers' annual banquet which will feature the great Jackie Robinson. Archie Moore, and approximately 16 other leading sports stars at the Sheraton West Hotel March 6.

JACKIE WILL be saluted as "Athlete of the Decade," and Moore will be awarded a trophy as "Fighter of the Year," according to the club's president, Attorney Leo Branton, Jr.

Another feature of the program will be the awarding of a giant-sized trophy to the high school athlete of the year in memory of the late Dr. Walter W. Davis, an original member of the 100 Percent Wrong Club.

Mrs. Elois Davis, widow of the great sports booster, will present the award to Roosevelt High's Willie Davis — no relation — this year's recipient.

OTHER AWARDEES previously announced by the club are UCLA's Rafer Johnson ("College Athlete of the Year") and the Los Angeles Dodgers (Merit Award).

In announcing the selection of Wade and Mrs. Brown, Attorney Branton stated that they were both overwhelming choices in the balloting.

NEW YORK — Manhattan Borough President Hulan Jack last week urged legislation to outlaw single-room occupancy by families with children as a health and fire hazard as well as a violation of decency.

Fla., Tuskegee pace All-SIAC

TUSKEGEE, Ala. — Florida A. and M. University placed three players on the 1959 SIAC All-Tournament team, selected by coaches, sports - writers and officials at the 26th annual journey.

Tuskegee players earned two first places on the "dream" team and Morehouse placed the fifth.

The all-tournament selections:

FIRST TEAM

Johnny Reynolds, Tuskegee, forward; James Lightfoot, Tuskegee, forward, Leroy Gibson, Florida A. and M., center; Leo Morgan, Florida A. and M., guard; Leonard Johnson, Morehouse, guard.

SECOND TEAM

James Forchion, Florida A. and M., forward; Erwin Ross, Morris Brown, forward; Israel Joseph, Xavier, center; Bobby Gilliam, Fisk, guard; Marvin Thomas, Morehouse, guard.

HONORABLE MENTION

James Crawford, Tuskegee; Edward Myrick, Tuskegee; Ruben Young, Florida A. and M.; Ike Parker, Morehouse; Levi Jones, Benedict; Walter Kennedy, Florida A. and M.; Robert Myles, Morris Brown; Edward Murphy, Benedict; Curtis Bell, Morris Brown; and James Scott, Morris Brown.

Title rematch set for April 3

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (ANP)—The rematch between Don Jordan, the world welter-weight champion, and Virgil Akins has been rescheduled for April 3 at Kiel Auditorium here.

The fight had been originally scheduled for March 6, but in view of the recent tornado's damage to the arena where the fight was to be held, the site was changed.

Ewbank to receive car at Colt's testimonial

One of the features of the banquet to be tendered Carroll Rosenbloom, Weeb Ewbank and the Baltimore Colts on March 5 will be the presentation to the Colt head coach of a new automobile.

Bert Bell, commissioner of the National Football League will attend and be a featured speaker.

The sale of tickets to the affair is reported "very gratifying." There are only 15 tables remaining as this goes to press.

TICKETS MAY be obtained at Room 843, Mathieson Building, Saratoga 7-2821. They cost $15 each. There will be ten at each table, and table assignments are made as payment is received. Ladies are invited.

This is the "official" victory banquet tendered by the Baltimore community for the world champion Colts.

All Colt players living in Baltimore and some from nearby cities will be on hand with their wives, as will those coaches who are not on the road scouting college spring training camps. All other members of the Colt "family" will also be in attendance, according to the committee.

Bishop Love is speaker at Brotherhood celebration; Mt. Moriah women raise $4,448; Rev. Smallwood, Philly minister speaks; 131 new members reported by YM workers; AKAs mark Founders' Day, hear Mrs. Parrott.

A plaque was presented to Ancient City Lodge No 175 of Elks by the Anne Arundel County NAACP on Friday evening on the occasion of a brotherhood program in observance of Brotherhood Week.

The plaque was presented to Exalted Ruler Joseph Smith, by th president of the branch, Mrs. Joseph S. Hardesty.

The Rt. Rev. Edgar A. Love, president bishop of the Washington Conference of the Methodist Church, was speaker.

Bishop Love told of his travels abroad and in this country and his findings of brotherhood in his experiences.

He stated that all peoples are members of one big human family and the eternal spirit in every man makes him kin to God. What makes us what we are is determined by what is in our heads and in our hearts.

BISHOP LOVE also told the gathering that a change of pattern is taking place in our country and all over the world.

He pointed to the change which started taking place in the first World's War, when men fought together to make a safe world and democracy in which to live.

"The world has become so small because of all the advantages of modern transportation," Bishop Love said, "that one must get about and see it and see what others are doing to be a real part of it.

He said, "We must do many things in our world to become good moral and spiritual leaders. In America we must get our own house in order before going from sea to sea.

"Whenever fellow men lift up their voices in America to stand up for human rights, many times they are branded 'Reds,'" said the bishop.

He stressed the great opportunity in being a member of the NAACP, if one loves justice and that every person of our race in particular, should support it.

Bishop Love was introduced by the Rev. Isaac R. Berry, pastor of the Asbury Methodist Church, where the program was held.

Mrs. RONALD CLANTON of the First Presbyterian Church, was featured in two solos, singing "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked" and "One also sang a spiritual.

Choral music was offered by the classes 12C and 12F of the Senior Chorus of Bates High School, which was under the direction of Mrs. Bernice Gibbs. The group sang "Would God I Were a Tender Apple Blossom" by Cain.

Another feature of the program was a choral reading group of Bates, which did "Brotherhood" under the direction of Mrs. Angela Baden Howard.

The Rev. S. Walter Hardesty offered prayer and the Rev. Joseph S. Grant, pastor of Mt. Olive AME Church, presided.

Among visitors present were Mrs. Geraldine T. Scott Lee, social worker of Boys' Village and Mrs. Margaret Quillan, teacher, both of Cheltenham.

Also, Mrs. Love, wife of the speaker, of Baltimore; Burrett McBee, wife of the minister of the First Presbyterian Church, and Messrs. Clarence J. Kemp, tiler and William A. Darkey Jr., tulers at St. Johns College.

A buffet supper was served immediately following the program with Mrs. Julia Poole in charge, assisted by Mrs. Harriet Hull of Galesville.

WOMAN'S DAY FOR 1959 went down in history at the Mt. Moriah AME Church with a total of $4,448.82 in receipts received from the financial drive on last Sunday.

Mrs. Cecelia Greene president of the Woman's Committee, lead all captains and workers, reporting $663.50, $500 of which she personally raised.

Mrs. Greene, superintendant of the Church School, a secretary of the official board, and also a member of the Stewardess Board No. 1 of the church, is a teacher in the public schools, serving at the new Adams Park Elementary School.

The next highest report was made by Mrs. Ruby Powell, the wif of the pastor of the church the Rev. A. R. Powell. Mrs. Powell reported a total of $360.00 in the drive.

Mrs Powell, first vice-president of the committee, who heads up the Missionary Society of the church, and is assistant director of the Junior Missionary Society, is also active in the community.

She is vice-president of the Anne Arundel County Council of United Church Women, and is a substitute teacher in the schools.

Mrs. Clementine Williams, second vice president, had a report of $303.10. Mrs. Williams is president of the A.R. Powell Circle and a member of Stewardess Board No 1.

She is also treasurer of the P-TA of the Adams Park School and is a substitute teacher there.

OTHER CAPTAINS and the amounts they reported are:

Mrs. Ethel Lewis, $215.00, Sarah Wells, $174.00, Dorothy Brooks, $167.00, Antoinette Brooks, $158.00, Hattie Williams, $144.05, Isobel Jacobs, $131.50, Estelle Henry $132.00, Lillian Foreman, $125.00, Mary L. Booth, $118.57;

AT THE MORNING service, the Rev. Mrs. Ruth J. Smallwood of Philadelphia was guest speaker. Her subject was "The Reward of the Faithful."

The Rev. Mrs. Smallwood pointed out that many people start out on the Christian race with a bang, but somewhere along the way they fail to keep going along.

She said it is the one who can enjoy Christianity to the end who wins out. She cited the story of the Biblical character Job, who found it hopeless to try to make it through life without God.

The test came after a conversation between God and the devil, when God proved to the devil that although Job lost everything he he worked form m everything he had worked for, er, cept his life, he still loved God.

His wife even tried to persuade him to turn on God, but he only answered and said "O, woman, you talk like a foolish woman. All that I have and all that I have had taken away from me was given to me by God."

The Rev. Mrs. Smallwood also stressed that sometimes in trials and tribulations it is necessary to stand alone, for "we must be faithful unto death."

She stated that we must pray more for prayer is communion with God. "In prayer," she continued, "our spirit worships with the spirit of God. We can love God more and without loving each other."

THE OPENING HYMN was sung by Mrs. Arlene Johnson and prayer was offered by Mrs. Ethel Thompson.

Mrs. Dolores Queen read the scripture and Dr. Faye Allen read the Decalogue. Notices were read by Mrs. Lucretia Snowden. The plate offering was taken by Mesdames Louise Forrester, Lula Upchurch, Maude Queen and Hattie Williams.

In the evening, before reports were made, a play, entitled "This Is My Church," was presented. Its was under the direction of Mrs. Mary E. Queen, chairman of the program committee.

Participants were Mesdames Mary E. Queen, Rachel Brown, Hattie Williams, Sarah Randall, Clementine Williams, Louise Parker, Claudia Randall, Lucretia Snowden, Caledonia John son and Mary L. Booth and Mr. Ronald Randall.

Mrs. Joyce McManus and Miss Dorothy Mitchell were soloists. Music for the entire day was under the direction of Miss Bettye Statham. Choir music was furnished by a Female Chorus.

THE DELTA PI OMEGA chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority observed its Founders' Day at the Mt. Moriah AME Church recently with Mrs. Julian Parrott, principal of Douglass High School at Baltimore, as speaker.

Mrs. Parrott, past basileus of the Baltimore Chapter of the sorority, emphasized the role of American women today.

At the last meeting of the local chapter, with Miss Clara Sergeant of Crownsville 6 hostess, plans were completed for the Tiny Tot Contest, which was originally planned for February 13, but postponed until March 1.

The contest will be held at the Northwest Street YMCA.

Children participating include:

Charles Coates, 2½ years old, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Coates Sr. of Washington; Lyle R. Smith Jr., one year old, the son of Pfc. and Mrs. Lyle R. Smith Sr., who resides with his paternal grandparents in Annapolis while his father is stationed in Germany; and Albert Salisbury, son of Mr and Mrs. Wilbert A. Salisbury of Lothian, Md.

Plans are also being made for the AKA Spring Frolic, which will be held in May. Several members are also planning to attend the North Atlantic Regional, which will be held at Delaware State College, Dover, the week end of March 22.

Soror Beulah Diggs, remains confined to her home with illness.

Members present at the recent meeting were:

Sorors Elizabeth Cane, Doris Knight, Clara Sergeant, Sylvia McKittien, Emily Johnson, Edwin Johnson, Anne Garrett, Margaret Quillan, Delores Queen, Doris Stoll, Carolyn Reid, Louise Burton, Bernice Gibbs, Amanda Nunley, Faye Allen, Geraldine Scott, Irene Mills, Marita Carroll, Lulu Hardesty, Sarah Kane and Anne Thompson.

I MET THIS WEEK:—Mrs. James Luck (Corine) who lives in Baltimore. It was nice to meet her and to learn that her husband was related to the Luck family of Danville, Va., and to Jerry Luck, who married the former Delores Brown of Annapolis.

Eighth anniversary celebration now in progress at Christ Temple

By MARJORIE J. WARD

Next week will be the final week for the eighth anniversary celebration that is now in progress at the Christ Temple Apostolic Church, 827 Cherry Hill Rd. The celebration will end on Sunday, March 8.

Tonight Pastor C. Crawsell of the Zion Temple Apostolic Church along with his congregation and choir will be featured. The deacons of the Christ Temple church are in charge. The public is cordially invited to attend the services at 8 p.m.

Speakers next week who will appear along with their congregations and choirs are: Elder M. Golphin, Bishop H. C. Brooks, Bishop George G. Lawsent, Elder S. Fowler, Elder Ramsey Butler, Bishop C. H. Gabason and the pastor of Christ Temple Church Elder Willard E. Saunders

All programs will get underway at 8 p.m. except on Sundays. The Sunday programs are slated for 11 a.m. and 4 p.m.

The anniversary will close on March 8th with a Musical Jubilee.

The Elder Willard W. Saunders is the pastor of the church.

ON SUNDAY afternoon (March 2) at 4 p.m. Walter A. Baker will sponsor Mrs. Jennie Butler of Hillview Rd. in a program of original monologues at the Union Baptist Church, Druid Hill Ave.

If an organization or person is interested in securing Mrs. Butler for a program of monologues they should contact her new manager, Richard Smith, 2716 Carver Rd.

The Co-ordinating Council of Cherry Hill is sponsoring a Coffee Hour on March 8 at the Community Building, 2700 Spelman Rd., to interest and recruit the members of the council.

The council is requesting the representative from all organizations in Cherry Hill (civic, social, religious) be present.

This will present an excellent opportunity for a representative from those groups who are not represented on the council, to become a part of this civic organization.

THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH was host to the Town Choir last Sunday, under the sponsorship of George Dunham for the benefit of the forthcoming Men's Day.

Mr. Dunham is the treasurer of the church. The Rev. J. H. Clark is the pastor.

The Cherry Hill Public is urged to attend the Coffee Hour on Sunday, March 1, 1959 which will be given by Wenonpower (Cherry Hill Branch), at the Community Building, 2700 Spelman Rd. at 3 p.m.

The Coffee Hour committee has lined up several talented artists who will participate in the program during the hour. The political candidates that Cherry Hilers are concerned with will be present at this time. Therefore, the public is urged to come out and hear and learn how to use the voting machines.

THE REV. AND MRS. Edgar W. Ward, Mrs. Jennie Butler, Miss Luca Ward, Miss Barbara Young and Mrs. Lucinda Burns were the guests of Mrs. Isolene Crowner at the Zeta Phi Beta Sorority Finer Womanhood Week Tea last Sunday at the Christian Center, Morgan State College.

Justina Sherard, Mrs. Cornor's niece was also there. Justina is a member of the Youth Corps, an organization under the auspices of the Zeta Pi Beta Sorority for teen age young ladies. The Crowners live on Ascension St.

North Baltimore civic group needs community support

By CHARLOTTE W. DOWNIE

The teen - party of the week was the one given for lovely Evelyn Guldring, by her sister at her home 422 E. Federal St.

Evelyn, a popular sixth grade pupil at School No. 113, looked cute as a button as she greeted many guests. During the evening everyone had a grand time playing games and partaking of the delicious goodies.

The honoree received many beautiful gifts from her many friends. Having yards and yards of fun were:

McKinley Guldring, Linda Guldring, James Meads, Brian Parish Jones, Jim Player, William Player, James Player, Rosie Edwards, Helen Brown, Angelia Myrick, Corrine Barrett.
