Election points up 3 issues

By MAX JOHNSON

The anti-D'Alesandro tidal wave that swept through Baltimore in Tuesday's primary, knocking the city council president and five incumbent councilmen from the May 5 general election, draws sharp attention again to three major issues.

Top questions are:

1. The chances of a public accommodations ordinance, with new City Council personnel coming.

2. The apathy of voters in the Fourth District, that permitted a political machine to retain all of its three incumbent council candidates;

3. The possibility of this apathy being erased in the May general election, to bring about the election of another colored city councilman in this Fourth District, where a majority of the registered citizens are colored.

Leon Abramson lost his bid toward re-election as City Council president, with the Democratic nomination going to State Senator Philip H. Goodman, of the Fifth District.

Senator Goodman will oppose Charles A. Masson, Republican, for the council presidency in the general election.

THE FIVE incumbent councilmen defeated in Tuesday's primary are Chester J. Ray and James J. Welsh, Jr., Second District; Richard D. Byrd, Jr., Joseph Curran and John A. Pica, Third District.

The AFRO had urged the defeat of these councilmen, because they had voted against the Dixon equal public accommodations ordinance.

Walter T. Dixon, Fourth District, originator of this ordinance was re-nominated in Fourth city councilman on the Democratic ticket.

Victorious candidates with Mr. Dixon in this district are Maxwell Albert and Maurice Soypher, incumbents.

Mr. Soypher was running for the first time, having been appointed last year in an elaborate council switch when sent Solomon Liss, then Fourth District councilman, to the Fifth to fill a vacancy created by the death of Michael J. Hannon.

AT THE time, Mr. Soypher was a Democratic primary candidate opposing J. Alvin Jones, now state senator, whose election was being supported by James H. (Jack) Pollack, district Democratic boss.

Councilmen Dixon, Albert and Soypher — are backed by the Pollack organization.

Conference between Albert, Soypher and Dixon according to unofficials returns of Tuesday's primary, led the Fourth District's council ticket with 8,342 votes.

Councilmen Albert and Soypher were second and third, respectively, with 7,928 and 6,566 votes.

TRULY HATCHETT, former House of Delegates member running on the Grady ticket, was fourth in a field of 11 Democratic candidates (the top three to be nominated), with 3,841 votes.

Ernest D. Young, young attorney making his first bid for public office, was fifth with 2,594 votes.

William Roberts, a fourth colored council candidate, ran last with 771 votes.

The Fourth District has 10,582 colored registered Democrats eligible to have voted for Democrats in Tuesday's primary.

There are a total of 54,108 registered citizens in this district — 31,106 are colored, and 23,002 are whites.

Other registered colored are 11,913 Republicans, and 611 independents without party affiliation.

ON THE Republican side in the Fourth District, where there was a contest among seven candidates for three nominations, winners are:

Harry A. Cole, former state senator, with 2,466 votes; Howard D. Dixon, bondsman, with 2,138, and Raleigh Jones, with 1,116 votes.

They will oppose Councilmen Dixon Albert and Soypher in the May 5 general election.

Other colored Republican council candidates were William L. Randall, 818 votes; Melvin C. Perkins, 793, and Joseph Drumwright, with 750 votes.

Morris Dvoskin, a seventh candidate, polled 358 votes, according to unofficial returns.

Fourth District prognostications are already busy, determining whether Mr. Cole can win a seat from one of the Pollack men in this district's council race.

COLORED COUNCIL candidates in other districts came out thusly in Tuesday's primary:

SECOND DISTRICT

Tucker R. Dearing, attorney, ran eighth with 836 votes, in a field of nine Democrats, where the three top winners received over 5,000 votes.

THIRD DISTRICT

Paul J. Cockrell, attorney, ran 34th with 866 votes, in a field of 36 Democrats, where the four top winners received between 16,900 and 28,000 votes.

SIXTH DISTRICT

William H. Murphy, attorney, ran seventh with 2,494 votes, in a field of 13 Democrats, where the three top winners polled between 3,790 and 8,100 votes.

There are 8,382 registered colored Democrats in the Second District; 8,618 in the Third District, and 8,206 in the Sixth District.

Earl Koger, insurance broker, will be another colored candidate in the general city council election.

Mr. Koger is a Republican in the Fifth District, where there was no contest.

HARRY A. COLE

Stork wins race with mother, 17

A young expectant mother lost a race with the stork Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Claudia McKean of 611 N. Carey St., had just entered an automobile for a speedy trip to the hospital when Sir Stork crossed the finish line.

With the assistance of neighbors, the 17-year-old mother gave birth to a seven pound 14 ounce son.

Following an overnight stay at Provident Hospital, Mrs. McKean and her son Eric returned home where according to relatives, both mother and child are resting well.

THERE'S A LUCKY picture in this and every edition of the AFRO. Look for it. If your head is circled, you can collect $5 cash by calling at AFRO City Desk before the next edition is out.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND did all he could for Tucker R. Dearing, candidate for nomination for the City Council from the Second District in the Democratic Primary but it was not enough. "Podgie" is seen here getting the "new licks for his friend, along with Miss Clara Hill, 1625 E. Eager St., also a Dearing booster. Mr. Dearing is a well known NAACP attorney who was making his first bid for political office.

New 'green bag' jobs list asked

Gov. J. Millard Tawes' "green bag" appointments of Josiah F. Henry Jr., to a Traffic Court magistrate post, and Calvin A. Douglass, as a magistrate on Northwestern District Police Court, may be rescinded, if a current move is successful.

Hyman A. Pressman, an attorney in the forefront of the victorious Grady ticket, told the AFRO Wednesday he had asked Gov. Tawes to recall the list of appointments, and submit one naming persons with no affiliations with James H. (Jack) Pollack, Fourth District political boss.

If this is done, five of the six colored justices of peace at large and a colored appointee to the Board of Funeral Directors and Embalmers might also be affected.

Gov. Tawes said later, however, he had no intentions of withdrawing his "green bag" listing, and would leave the matter up to the State senate members for confirmation.

Mr. Pressman revealed his action was motivated by public resentment over the naming of persons of Mr. Pollack's faction, and that of Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro Jr., to top spots and a bulk of the political plum jobs by Gov. Tawes.

He said this resentment was expressed by citizens in Tuesday's primary, when the D'Alesandro forces were decisively defeated.

MR. PRESSMAN said Wednesday he had sent the following telegram to Gov. Tawes on the matter:

"Yesterday's election was a mandate from the people, which can not go unheeded.

"The voters have repudiated Jack Pollack, and the situation demands that you withdraw your list, and that you re-submit a list of appointees who are in no way connected with Pollack."

Support for this would come, Mr. Pressman said, from State Senators Philip H. Goodman, Fifth District, who won the Democratic nomination for City Council president on the Grady ticket, and Joseph V. Mach, Second District, both of whom would vote against the present list.

HE SAID there is a "very good chance" that Senators J. R. Buffington, Jr., Third District, and George W. Della, Sixth District, would also be opposed to the necessary Senate confirmation of the "green bag" appointees.

This majority of the city's six State Senators would send the present list back to the governor, affecting city nominees.

Mr. Pressman had this to say on "his possibility."

"Even though Gov. Tawes may not do this (re-call his selections), he probably wouldn't be too enhanced if the Senate did send the list back without confirmation."

POLITICS: Tawes deserves thanks for his 'green bag'

By MAX JOHNSON

If Gov. J. Millard Tawes does nothing else creditable while in office, his batch of "green bag" appointments last week must stand as a distinct service to Maryland in general, to Baltimore in particular.

These appointments have very forceably pointed up what many folks, especially the clear-thinking citizens of the Fourth District, long have been decrying — the insidious menace of political bossism.

Much wailing and gnashing of teeth has occurred in several quarters, including the daily press, because the bulk and choicest of Gov. Tawes' political plums went to the factions of James H. (Jack) Pollack, Fourth District Democratic boss, and Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro Jr.

These objectors are crying that this is highly unfair to the many, many qualified, independent citizens — detrimental to the best interests of good government.

COLORED CITIZENS of the Fourth District long have suffered under this type of political job-pinch — though they are far in the majority in this district.

Clear-thinking colored citizens of this district have been pointing this out for years.

They have noted with disappointment and increasing apprehension the continuing lack of jobs to members of their race in the courthouse, city hall and People's Court departments.

They have long questioned Mr. Pollack's overlooking of the colored citizens for his patronage jobs — when many colored citizens of the Fourth District have made it possible for Mr. Pollack to remain in power there.

It was this disagreeable situation that prompted clear-thinking citizens of this district to take concrete action last year toward political independence.

They formed a Coalition Ticket of General Assembly candidates for the general election — solely for the purpose of breaking the Pollack job-starvation stranglehold.

THE FACT that this ticket contained only colored candidates was incidental to the main issue.

The only white candidates were Pollack supported men, who refused to go along with an independent slate.

The Coalition Ticket was a move taken by citizens desperate for relief from political bossism that afforded them little or no consideration.

The subsequent defeat of this independent ticket left Mr. Pollack firmly in power in the Fourth District.

An important factor in this defeat was the hue and cry raised in many quarters — and the city's dailies—because the candidates on this independent ticket were all colored.

These wailers had not raised this racial issue in the many previous campaigns, when all of the candidates on Mr. Pollack's slate were white.

NOW — from these several quarters, including the same dailies' comes loud and long bemoanings of the evils of political bossism — especially, that of Mr. Pollack.

This would seem to infer, even to a casual observer, as rude awakening has come to a lot of people.

If this is true, then independent citizens of Baltimore — including the generations to come should ever be grateful to Gov. Tawes for this batch of his "green bag" appointees.

If such an awakening has not occurred, then the next generation of Baltimoreans really have their work cut out for them.

and governor of Maryland.

ON THE CITY council side of the picture, five incumbent councilmen in the Second and Third Districts were knocked out of the general election race.

Chester J. Ray and James J. Welsh Jr., lost in the Second District to Anthony F. DiBomenico, former State Senator and Clement J. Prucha.

Richard D. Byrd, J. Joseph Curran and John A. Pica in the Third District lost to newcomers Peter G. Angelos, George W. Arthur and Frank X. Gallagher.

The AFRO had urged the defeat of these councilmen, for having voted against the Dixon public accommodations ordinance, which would have opened all such public places to service to all, without regard to race.

Incumbent councilmen were victorious in the other districts, including Walter T. Dixon, Maxwell Albert and Maurice J. Soypher in the Fourth.

The Fourth District council race will have former State Senator Harry A. Cole; Howard D. Dixon, bondsman, and Raleigh Jones, Republicans, opposing Dixon, Albert and Soypher in the May 5 general election.

Earl Koger, insurance broker will be a Republican council candidate in this election in his party's Fifth District ticket.

IN THE SIXTH District, a new Democratic council nominee is William H. Hodges.

William M. Hudnett, the present one of three councilmen in this district, did not file for re-election.

Unsuccessful colored Democratic candidates for the City Council included:

Tucker R. Dearing, attorney, in the Second District; Paul J. Cockrell, attorney, in the Third; Truly Hatchett, former House of Delegates member, in the Fourth, and William H. Murphy, attorney, in the Sixth District.

Unsuccessful colored Republican candidates, all in the Fourth District, were Joseph Drumwright, Melvin C. Perkins and William L. Randall.
