ANNAPOLIS DOINGS

By ELOISE RICHARDSON

What is the old saying about the home?... "It takes a heap o' livin' in a house to make it a home."

How true ... and to add to what has been said ... it takes a lovely home to be really liveable.

Upon a knoll up in the northern end of Anne Arundel County at Severn, Md. out where the sky meets the earth at sunset from a distance, and the density of the trees has been opened into a clearing, stands a beautiful rambler — a ranch house, the new home of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Goodwin (Anne).

The beautiful rambler is constructed with an outer covering of pink aluminum siding and adora brick in white and flamingo pink.

The front is extremely attractive with its full size picture frame window, which extends from one end of the living room to the other, and all around can be seen the awning type windows otherwise.

The full size porch, which runs the entire length of the building on its right, and opens out on a patio, is windowed and and jalousied in its entirety on the outer wall. Its ceiling is of natural grooved plywood.

• • •

AS ONE ENTERS the spacious abode of the Goodwins, there is the convenience of two halls leading from the front entrance alongside the kitchen center to the back door, and from the living room to the opposite end of the house in the sleeping area.

The oblong spacious living room is enhanced on the right wall by a large uniquely constructed fireplace center which extends from the outer wall to the opening leading into the side porch.

The fireplace center is unusually balanced with an upper wall to the ceiling of flamingo pink adora brick and the lower half, the fireplace itself, is framed in a range of white adora brick.

The room with white walls, is set off by a room divider on the left between it and the front hallway conveniently made into a book case.

The book case of amber wood, is topped by rounded spokes, which reach to the ceiling, made of natural birch wood, the material used for all the woodwork in the home other than the floors.

• • •

ANNE SAYS SHE plans to have these spokes shoulder vines in the near future. The floors throughout the house are oak hardwood.

The floors of the kitchen and dining areas, which are combined, are tiled in the chosen color scheme for each, turquoise blue and yellow.

The kitchen cabinets are constructed of fruitwood and the sink is turquoise blue, having working centers of yellow formica beside which stands the large yellow refrigerator and freezer unit.

The modern trend baking appliance is stainless steel, located on the opposite side of the room next to the compartment and burners and a miniature bar which is used by the family at meal time.

The hallway leading to the sleeping areas has four cloak closets and a linen closet on the right side.

Also on the right are two bedrooms, one the master bedroom. The color scheme of lavender and white of the master bedroom is picked up by pink in the accessories and the all pink bathroom, which has its linen closet.

• • •

THE FRONT BEDROOM on the right, done in yellow and green, is occupied by Anne's father, Maxey Brooks.

On the left at the front of the hall is a lovely bathroom done in a color scheme of burgundy and yellow and two other bedrooms.

One bedroom is in white and orange, the room of the young son of the family, Jimmie, Jr., and the other in pink and white, where the "round lady" of the family, Lynn, sleeps.

This beautiful home is furnished modernistically throughout. The living room, porch and dining corner are adorned at the windows with draw drapes of a white background in an Egyptian block design of brown, gold and turquoise blue.

Eye catchers of beauty in the living room include a huge contemporary piece, a lamp with a base designed to carry out an Egyptian motif, and the two captain's chairs of walnut upholstered in a turquoise blue and pink brocatelle.

There is also the yellow wrought iron table in a fruit and flower pattern, with the glass top, which matches the one in the dining area, and is used as an extension companion.

The chairs to this set, also of wrought iron, are upholstered in the seats of powder blue material.

• • •

THE MASTER bedroom is furnished in royal patina mahogany with a triple dresser. There are swining bar twin beds attached to a single book case headboard with night tables on each side.

Lynn's room is in white mahogany while Jimmie chose walnut furniture. Lynn's room is adorned with white cafe style curtains, and while Jimmie's curtains are cafe style, they are in a combination of colors, rust, gold and orange.

Anne's father's room has all yellow and green accessories throughout. Each bedroom has a spacious closet and all closets in the house have beautiful birth sliding doors.

NOW ABOUT THIS lovely home's accountants ... the husband, James H. Sr., is a vocational instructor at the Barrett Training School for Girls. His hobby is the raising and training of sulky racing horses, pacers and trotters. He has entered races at Laurel and Rosecroft.

Mr. Goodwin is also an expert at landscaping and expects to make his grounds a dream to surround his home beginning this season.

Mrs. Goodwin (Anne), a very charming wife and mother, is a member of the faculty of Bates Senior High School, where she teaches mathematics. She expects to have a hand in the beautifying of her grounds too this year.

Lynn, six years old, the little "missus," is a first grader at the Severn Elementary School. Lynn says she likes "mommie's room" best, but gave no reason.

Jimmie, 12, a student at Bates Junior High School at Annapolis in the seventh grade, says he loves his furniture and his room because it is so large and comfortable.

Mr. Maxey Brooks, the father of Mrs. Goodwin and the large Brooks family, four boys and five girls, is a trustee of the John Wesley Methodist Church at Furnace Branch.

• • •

HAVING BEEN IN the insurance field for 29 years, for 19 years he served with National Benefit Life Insurance Co. and was assistant manager and manager of the Baltimore office for 15 years.

For 10 years he was supervisor of a group of agents with the Mutual Benefit Society. He was also a collecting salesman with the Consolidated Home Equipment Co. of Baltimore for 17 years.

Mr. Brooks served as first president of the Furnace Branch Elementary School Na-PTA for 25 years and was the first chairman of the trustee board of the John Wesley Church for 15 years.

At one time he was also a member of the firm, the Patapsco Savings and Real Estate Co., incorporated in 1909 at Elkridge, Md.

His wife, the late Mrs. Brooks, was the former Miss Frances Jackson of Hanover, Md.

• • •

ALL THE BEAUTY and other interesting features of their lovely home were enjoyed on Saturday evening when friends had the opportunity to call and extend their best wishes to the lovely family.

Mrs. J. Alexander Wiseman (Rose) and Mrs. Harry Simms (Ruby) of Annapolis, sorority sisters of Anne, were very gracious hostesses at an open house and "house warming" for the Goodwins.

All are members of the Annapolis Alumni Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority.

During the course of the evening's events, the Rev. S. J. Mack, pastor of the John Wesley Methodist Church at Furnace Branch, Md., blessed the home in a religious ceremony.

His beautiful words were followed by a solo, "Bless This House," sung by his lovely daughter, Miss Myrtle Mack.

Miss Mack, a student at Peabody Conservatory of Music, has a most beautiful voice with very true tones, easily detected because she sang a capella. We feel she has a bright future.

Mrs. Goodwin (Anne), whose family members are mostly natives of Anne Arundel County, even though some are residents elsewhere, was surrounded by many of them on Saturday evening.

• • •

AMONG THOSE relatives who came to extend their best wishes were:

Messrs. and Mesdames Reneldo Brooks, Herbert Hines, Earl Parker and Mesdames J. Preston Grant (he's the physician) Amos Gardner, George Phinney and Otelia Hall (sister of Anne) and son Joseph, all of Baltimore;

Messrs. and Mesdames Charles H. Jones, I. G. Gaither, Vincent Hubbard and Mesdames Bernard Brown (Thelma) and Charles Jr. (Agatha), all of Washington; Wesley Jackson of Beltsville

Messrs. and Mesdames George Gaither, Benjamin Brown, Edward Brooks (sisters of Anne), Ivan Watkins, William Brooks, Elbert Brooks and Isadore Hall, all of Glen Burnie, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Horton of Severn (sister of Mr. Goodwin).

Among the younger set relatives were George Jr., Robert, Dennis and Barbara Jean Gaither, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Gaither, Sr.

George is a senior at Lincoln University while Robert is a freshman at Maryland State College.

There about was also Brenda Brown, the daughter of Benjamin Browns, an outstanding student at Bates Senior High School, and a member of the Science Seminar, made up of students from all the high schools in Anne Arundel County.

Also about with the younger set were Misses Veronica and Yvonne Nunnelly of Baltimore, friends of the Gaither sisters and Adrian Wiseman the son of the J. Alexander Wiseman.

• • •

AMONG FRIENDS who called were:

Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Hall (Louvenia) and Mesdames Roland Richards (Karina) and Pauline Williams, all of Cedar Hills; Messrs. and Mesdames Raven T. Taylor (Laura) and Leon Ross and Mrs. Rodell Meachem (Velma) all of Glen Burnie;

Mesdames Cecil Burton, Herbert S. Hilliard, Douglas S. King, Carroll H. Hynson, Charles Gibbs and Mrs. Theodore H. Johnson, and Miss Amanda Nunley, all of Arundel-on-the Bay;

Also Mr. and Mrs. France Pindell, Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Pace, and Mesdames Marvenise Poole, Lois Gibson, Norwood Brown (Mary), Jesse Will (Ethel), Muriel Holland, William H. Richardson, Misses Nan Wright, Mary V. Wiseman, Lilyan Burrell and Eloise Duvall, all of Annapolis;

Also Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Sparks of Crownsville, Dr. and Mrs. Donald Brandon Rev. and Mrs. Sr. J. Mack and daughter Myrtle, Messrs. and Mesdames Henry Jones, Sterling Graves, Robert Richardson, James Grover and T. H. Diggs, all of Baltimore.

• • •

ALSO ABOUT WERE Messrs. and Mesdames Mason Hawkins, John Holt, Ellis Robinson, Nathaniel Giles, William Clark, Ellis Murray, Walter C. Brown and Mesdames Verdie Welcome, Anethia Williams, Ronald Thomas and Frank W. King, all of Baltimore.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Snellman, Misses Bernice H. Anderson, Aloha McCullough and Ardonia Snowden and Messrs. Henry L. Philyaw, Samuel R. Perry, Horace Latcher and Sterling Graves, all of Baltimore.

Also Messrs. and Mesdames Samuel Lincoln (she's superintendent), Russell Ford, T. H. Diggs and Joseph Kirkland, all of the Barrett Training School for Girls.

Thought he had killed his rival

WASHINGTON

A 23-year-old man, who apparently believed he had killed a rival in a romantic triangle, was found hanged by his own belt in a Northeast school playground early Thursday morning.

Cyrus Rolling, of 5375 Hayes St., NE, described by police as a suspect in a beating and shooting was found hanging from a swing support about 6:30 a.m. at the playground at 49th St. and Washington Pl., NE.

The body was first seen by a passing motorist as he drove by the Kelly Miller Junior High School. Police were notified and the body hastily removed prior to the opening of school.

The man was identified by police by papers in his pockets and immediately linked to a beating and shooting a few hours earlier. Capt. Howard Mowry of the 14th precinct said the death apparently was suicide, and late Thursday the District coroner's office issued a certificate of death by suicide. The coroner said death was due to strangulation by hanging.

• • •

POLICE INDICATED that Rolling earlier had been involved in an altercation with Henry Green, 25, of 16 47th St., SE. The two had argued over a woman, police said.

Police said Green reported that about 12:45 o'clock Thursday morning, Rolling broke into his home and beat him with his fists. Rolling later came back to the Green home with a .32 caliber pistol and fired twice hitting Green once in the thigh.

Green was treated at D.C. General Hospital and released.

• • •

FOLLOWING THE SHOOTING incident, police sent a lookout for Rolling and were searching for him when the report of the hanging reached them four hours later.

Police theorized that Rolling apparently believed he had fatally wounded Green in the shooting. He was unemployed and, according to police, on parole on a charge of tampering with the U.S. mails.

Before he was found hanged, police say a car which Rolling is reported to have borrowed from a friend was found abandoned in the 4900 block of Fitch St., NE, a short distance from the playground.

• • •

POLICE BELIEVE that Rolling left the car, then went to the playground where he looped his belt around a swing swivel, then held on with his hands until he was able to loop the belt around his neck.

He was found in this position with his hands bloody and his feet only a few inches from the ground. He was pronounced dead at 8:30 a.m.

Police say the woman over whose affections the two men reportedly quarreled is the mother of a four-year-old child.

ROLLING LIVED at the Hayes St. address where his mother also is listed.

Neighbors in the vicinity of the Green home, which is in an apartment development, said the calm of the night was broken by the noise of "someone kicking in a door" and later by "screams."

Several neighbors also reported seeing police leave the apartment area with a man "leaning on their shoulders." This latter statement obviously had reference to Green who was carried to the hospital by police after they had gone to his home in response to the shooting report.

CROWD AT FUNERAL — This was the scene outside a funeral home in the 1400 block E. Preston St., where services were held Saturday for Mrs. Rosalie Johnson, 29, 1402 Harford Ave. The waitress was fatally stabbed in the 1500 block Aisquith St., Feb. 21. Under arrest in connection with the death is James Williams, 32, 1900 block Pearlman Place.

Woman, 38, found hanged in home

WASHINGTON

Mrs. Rejina Taylor, 38, was found hanging from a rope looped around her neck at her home in the 900 block Kent Pl., NE, Monday.

Her husband, William Taylor, 40, told police that he left home about 5:30 p.m. and returned a few minutes later from a store errand when he found his wife.

• • •

POLICE SAID Mrs. Taylor was alone at the time, hanging from a ceiling beam in the basement. Mr. Taylor took her down and called police.

Mrs. Taylor was pronounced dead on the scene by an ambulance doctor.

Police said she had complained of hearing strange things. The coroner's office issued a certificate of death by suicide.

Mrs. Verdie Blake

After being ill for more than a year, Mrs. Verdie Blake, 72, 907 N. Carey St., died Monday in University Hospital.

Funeral services will be held Friday 2 p.m. at Emmanuel CC Church where she was a long-time member.

Mrs. Blake is survived by her husband, Edward R. Blake; two daughters, Mesdames Annie Barnes and Flouring Thomas; and three sons, Vernon, Carlos, and Archie Hutchins.

Mrs. Blake is also survived by three grandchildren, including Miss Sallie Blake, noted singer, who was expected to arrive in Baltimore from a Florida engagement, sometime this week.

William Audrick, church leader, dies

WASHINGTON

Funeral services were held Tuesday for William H. Audrick Sr. at Mount Zion Methodist Church, 29th St. and Dunbarton Ave., NW.

Mr. Audrick, who was 78, succumbed last Thursday, Feb. 26.

A native of the District, Mr. Audrick was employed for 30 years by the U.S. Government Printing Office, having retired in 1944.

In addition, he had been the oldest vendor at Griffith Stadium, where he operated a concession about 52 years selling score cards at baseball games and other events.

• • •

AN ARDENT religious worker, Mr. Audrick spent his entire life in the Methodist Church. He was trustee for 40 years at Mount Zion, retiring just three years ago in 1956.

He served for 55 years in the Mount Zion Sunday School, during three of which he was superintendant.

At the time of his passing, he was lay leader at Mount Zion. In this capacity, in which he had served since 1941, Mr. Audrick acted as liason officer between the pastor and the congregation.

In 1954, he helped set up the oldest Members, a group representing local churches.

He was assistant district lay leader of the Washington Conference of Methodist Churches, comprising 35 or more churches in this area. In 1957, Mr. Audrick was honored at a testimonial at Ebenezer Methodist Church for devising a plan to aid the Ministers' Wives in raising money for a pension fund.

As a result of this plan, the affair is held annually and is known as the Washington District Layman's Popularity Contest.

In line with his church duties, he spent much of his time visiting the sick.

• • •

IN ADDITION to his church affiliations, Mr. Audrick was a member of the Oldest Inhabitants and the Annuitants Relief Association.

Mr. Audrick is survived by two sons, William H. Jr. and C. Reginald, both of 5320 Anna St., NE; two daughters-in-law, Mrs. Evelyn and Mrs. Harriet C.; three grandchildren, Diane, 8, Michael, 6, and Billy, 4; and other relatives and friends.

Burial was at Lincoln Memorial Cemetery.

Woman shot thru both legs in hotel

WASHINGTON

Kenneth Barbar, 30, was charged with assault with a dangerous weapon Monday after a gun in a paperbag went off accidentally in a hotel room striking a woman in both legs.

Police said Mrs. Minnie Holloway, 37, of 2006 block of 15th St., NW, was treated at Freedmen's Hospital Sunday for bullet wounds to both legs near the ankle and released.

Barbar, an airport truck driver and resident of the 2100 block New Hampshire Ave., NW, was arrested Monday afternoon following a police lookout dispatched Sunday.

• • •

HE WAS arraigned in Municipal Court on charges of assault with a dangerous weapon. Bond was set at $500 and the case was continued until March 12.

Det. Charles M. Queen of Precinct No. 13 said the woman had a .25 caliber pistol in a paperbag which Barbar dropped to the floor discharging a single bullet that struck the woman in both legs.

NOTED NOVELIST TO LECTURE HERE MONDAY

WASHINGTON

James T. Farrell, American novelist and short-story writer, will lecture on "The Writer and His Audience" on March 9 in the literary series sponsored by the Gertrude Clarke Whittall Poetry and Literature Fund in the Library of Congress. The lecture will begin at 8:30 p.m. on Monday in the Coolidge Auditorium.

Albert Daniel

Funeral services were held for Albert Daniel, 52, 1136 W. Lafayette Ave., Thursday at a Schroeder St. funeral home.

The Rev. Wayman Henry, pastor of Allen Temple Church, officiated.

Mr. Daniel died Monday in Baltimore City Hospitals after a five month illness.

A native of Philadelphia, Mr. Daniel was a self-employed mechanic.

He and his wife, Mrs. Beatrice Daniel, celebrated their 40th anniversary Sept. 15, 1958.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by two daughters, Mesdames Vivian Frasier and Lois Pailler; three sisters, Mesdames Annie Brown, Josephine Cochran and Rosa Hewitt.

"I MUST BE CRAZY"

Man, 30, faces chair for slaying 5-year-old boy

WASHINGTON

Grover L. Isaac, 30, faces death in the electric chair for first degree murder of a five-year-old boy and for intent to kill a brother by cutting their throats.

Pleading insanity during the week-long trial, Grover was convicted Tuesday by a District Court jury of the death of Dwight Nathan and intent to kill Tyrone Nathan, 7, following a feud with their mother, Ruby E. Nathan in November 1955.

Grover swallowed hard and clenched his fist as he stood beside his attorney, W. A. Robinson, to receive the jury's verdict carrying a mandatory death pentalty.

Sentencing date was set for March 20.

• • •

THE GOVERNMENT contended Isaac had been warned by the U.S. Attorney's office to stay away from Mrs. Nathan following a feud shortly before the 1955 slaying.

Mrs. Ella M. McNeill, 40, told the jury that Isaac came to the rooming house in the 900 block O St., NW, with Dwight and Tyrone, introducing them as "my boys."

"He went up to his room with the boys. I heard the boys screaming and I ran upstairs," she testified. "I saw the boys in the hall bleeding around the necks. Isaac was standing there. I tried to help Tyrone. Dwight ran out the house and collapsed."

Dwight died a few hours later. Tyrone, who showed the jury marks on his neck, recovered. Mrs. McNeill said Isaac had just moved into their rooming house the night before.

Isaac was arrested on the street later in a drunken condition, police said. He was committed to St. Elizabeths Hospital as mentally incompetent and remained there until last fall when he was found competent to stand trial on first degree murder and assault with intent to kill.

• • •

THREE PSYCHIATRISTS testified that they believed Isaac was of unsound mind at the time of the slaying. They did not examine him until months later, they pointed out.

One doctor said he determined that Isaac was born in South Carolina and worked in the District as a gardener, but that Isac at times was sad and cried for reasons he could not explain.

When asked about the slaying, the doctor testified, Isaac replied: "Don't ask me. Ask the law, Yeah, if I did that, I must be crazy."

The doctor said he determined that Isaac was a "psyco neurotic with disassociated personality."

• • •

AT OTHER TIMES, however, he was observed playing cards and joking with other ward patients, the doctor said. He added that Isaac has shown gradual improvement but still needs treatment for mental illness.

Mrs. Nathan, of the 2300 block Champlain St., NE, said she had known Isaac for four years. He showed no strange behavior, she said.

• • •

ANOTHER DOCTOR, presented by Assistant U.S. Attorney Arthur J. McLaughlin, testified that he was unable to determine Isaac's condition at the time of the slaying.

Another said Isaac was subject to malingering, but it doesn't necessarily means he faked, because Isaac could be suffering from a mental illness without having been of unsound mind at the time of the crime, the doctor testified.

The jury returned its guilty verdict in half an hour.

Saturday rites for Mrs. Laura M. Cox

RICHMOND

Funeral services were held Monday at Union Memorial Methodist Church for Mrs. Laura Mae Cox, 39, 1308 W. Saratoga St., who was the widow of Chesterfield Cox.

Mrs. Cox died Wednesday morning at the Georgetown University Hospital, Washington, where she was taken on Tuesday.

Dear friends in the brotherhood of God, I'd like to tell you of Jesus Christ and the relationship of the Holy Family. We ask the aid and cooperation of all members in encouraging their children to attend regularly the Sunday school of their choice. We feel this early training in the teaching of Christ is an investment that will contribute greatly to the future happiness of both parent and child. It is up to us the people of God, to begin such a movement. We ask the aid and the inspiration of the Holy Spirit bless the minds of all races and go with us. In this our church homecoming.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY

By ZORAH BICKSON

"SOCIETY IN SHIPWRECK IS A COMFORT TO ALL..."

This may be another way, we suppose, of saying "misery loves company." Unfortunately, misery in one form or another, is a fairly common commodity and it is seldom hard put to find our share.

Misery, misery, misfortune—call it what you want —in tragic proportion is often the cause which brings numbers of people together in search of a common solution. Alliances of this sort born of a common mishap or tragedy, offer a measure of comfort to those involved in the sense that each individual knows that he is not alone; that he is part of a larger force working with cohesive strength and energy toward solving the existing dilemma.

The annual Blue Ribbon Tea held at the Dunbar Senior-Junior High School on Sunday afternoon, March 1st, 1959, was well attended and it was a success, as usual. The guest speaker was Mrs. Clara M. Brown, who is special associate general counsel of the Washington, D.C., post office. The upset and dilemma of the passing of a loved one was discussed and a complete funeral service that attends to all details, including the well known trademark of ELLIOTT FUNERAL HOME, 1405 N. Eutaw St. Phone Eastern 7-6590.

(Adv.)

Mrs. Ruth Douglas

Funeral services will be held for Mrs. Ruth O. Douglas, 43, 9 N. Abington Ave., Friday 1:30 p.m. at Metropolitan Methodist Church, Lanvale St. and Carrollton Ave., where she had been a member for more than 15 years.

The Rev. Frank L. Williams, pastor, will officiate.

Mrs. Douglas died Monday at St. Agnes Hospital.

According to relatives, she had not been seriously ill.

She and her husband, George Douglas, a crane operator at Sparrows Point, celebrated their 27th anniversary Jan. 27, 1959.

She is survived by four children, Mrs. Eileen Delaney; George, Robert, and William Douglas.

A Thumbnail Sketch of the Messenger

Mr. Elijah Muhammad, "The Messenger of Allah" and Spiritual Leader of the Moslems in the United States, for nearly 30 years, has been passionately concerned with justice and freedom for the American Negro. For He long ago learned, and learned well, the lesson taught that no one individual can rise above the condition of his race. The Messenger has been a solitary man fighting for his ideals and principles. But He has never become discouraged or embittered. For His eloquence, wisdom and inspiration are derived from the triumphant teachings of Allah.

Today he stands alone as the unacclaimed Leader of the American Negro. For, even though there are truths in His insights some people seem afraid of the brilliance of His vision and wisdom, and many are even shocked by His candor.

Yet in those who know Him intimately He has inspired loyalty, given meaning to their lives, and articulated their aspirations for "The Betterment of His People." To them, as a consequence, He has become the Anointed Leader. The Messenger is a remarkable person and the most modest of public men. He has lived and suffered in the midst of the Negro's complicated problems.

The Messenger loves His People. To show His love and admiration He wishes to build a Medical Center. Not for His people only. This will be a non-racial hospital whose purpose shall be to help cure these millions of people who are now overlooking other well-known health institutions. The site has been secured. He also proposes to build an educational center on the Chicago South Side. However, the Messenger needs help to make this most beneficial idea a reality. Whose help? Your help! Your dollars contributed to the Messenger to help secure a medical and educational center are not only contributions but investments in your future and in the future of your children. Join us in this colossal venture. Contribute today. Put your donations in an envelope now.
