Police Court

Magistrate Linwood G. Koger Sr disposed of the following cases Thursday at Northwestern:

"Your honor, it was just a friendly argument I didn't mean anything by telling him." This statement from Nathan Blackwell, 41, 600 block George St. failed to save him from a $25 fine for striking Levi Martin, 500 block Hoffman St., with a brick.

Released on $500 bail for a later trial was Henry Putney, ship tiller, 42, 1300 block Appleton Street, charged with larceny of foodstuffs from a Woodavenue market.

Sentenced to six months in the House of Correction for assaulting and robbing Joseph Thomas, was Joseph Carter, Jr., 1100 block N. Calhoun St.

Sentenced to three months in the House of Correction was Charles Williams, 2000 block Baker St., charged with larceny of a wallet from Earl Lawrence.
