Morgan's Evening College will start classes Monday

The College of the Evening at Morgan State will offer in the first semester 30 different courses ranging from "Art As Daily Living" through "Social Psychology."

An instructional staff of 25 persons drawn from the regular college faculty and the local community will begin teaching duties Monday (Sept. 28) at 6 p.m.

Three areas in the Division of the Social Sciences have been increased in strength to enable evening college students to earn the bachelor's degree in business administration, history and sociology.

Five holders of the doctorate degree and a certified public accountant, all drawn from the local community, are among the Evening School faculty.

REMAINING WITH the faculty in the role of professor will be Dr. William V. Lockwood, vice principal of Junior High No. 452.

Dr. Lockwood, former director of the Evening School, will teach courses in applied psychology and counseling.

Two other local administrators, Dr. Elaine C. Davis, vice principal of Garrison Junior High, and Dr. Delores C. Hunt, principal of Greenmount Elementary School, will conduct courses in "The High School Curriculum" and "Educational Psychology," respectively.

Among the outstanding new additions to the faculty is Dr. Allen Goldfarb, chief of the Baltimore City Health Department's Division of Mental Hygiene Research.

Dr. Goldfarb holds the Ph.D. degree in psychology from the University of Pittsburgh and the Doctor of Public Health degree from the Johns Hopkins University.

The 36-year-old mental hygiene specialist is presently conducting a three - part study under the dual sponsorship of the local Health Department and the Hopkins School of Hygiene and Public Health in the field of her specialty.

Another newcomer is Robert M. Sparks, senior planner of the Baltimore City Department of Planning.

A Ph.D. product of the University of Pennsylvania, Dr. Sparks will teach courses in economics and geography.

A certified public accountant is local businessman Benjamin L. King.

Mr. King is a member of the Maryland Association of Certified Public Accountants. He will teach a course in accounting.

THE REV. Robert T. Newbold Jr., pastor of Grace Presbyterian Church and holder of the master's degree in philosophy from McCormick Theological Seminary, Chicago, will teach courses in ethics and reflective thinking the first semester.

The Rev. Mr. Newbold has the distinction of having appeared by popular demand for four Sunday night successively on the TV program, "The Pastor's Study." His courses are open to beginners.

Another newcomer to the faculty is Miss Nesrine Adibe who will offer a course entitled "The Middle East in Transition."

The course is designed to give students a clear overview of the cultural, economic, educational and political forces at work in the Near East.

A native of the Near East, Miss Adibe brings both formal training and first-hand experience to the classroom.

Also new to the faculty will be John L. Crew, educational psychologist in the local Board of Education's Testing Bureau.

Mr. Crew, a Morgan alumnus and a native of South Carolina, holds the master's degree from New York University where his research work stressed experimental psychology.

BACK TO offer a course in real estate practices is Daniel W. Spaulding.

Mr. Spaulding, a local businessman, is a member and former president of the Real Estate Board of Baltimore, Inc. He holds the A.B. degree from Lincoln University.

Courses in sociology will be taught by Parren Mitchell, probation officer of the Baltimore Supreme Bench and a veteran of the Evening School faculty.

Mr. Mitchell is a graduate of Morgan and holder of the master's degree from the University of Maryland.

Evening courses in the humanities will be offered by W. M. S. Ryan, a teacher of the regular Morgan faculty.

A Howard graduate, Mr. Ryan holds master's degrees from three institutions, Howard, Harvard and Indiana.

MORGAN STAFF CHANGES

Dr. Earl R. Moses on year's leave

The Morgan State College board of trustees at its meeting on Thursday, approved appointment of three faculty members, 17 staff members, and resignations, promotions and leaves of absence of 14 other persons.

Additional faculty members bringing the total to 152 persons for the 83rd session, the 1959 - 1960 school year, were approved at an earlier meeting and announced in the AFRO's Sept. 15 issue.

Dr. Earl R. Moses, head of the Department of Sociology, was granted a sabbatical leave for the period Sept. 1, 1959 — Aug. 31, 1960.

During that time, Dr. Moses will make an analysis of a study dealing with the 1957 Cross Sectional Survey of OASI Beneficiaries for the U.S. Bureau of Old Age Survivors Insurance.

He also plans to complete a major project proposal in the area of criminology for submission to the Ford Foundation.

Dr. Clifton R. Jones, professor of Sociology will serve as acting head of the department during Dr. Moses' absence.

ROBERT DERBYSHIRE has been appointed substitute instructor in the Science Department during Dr. Moses's absence.

Mr. Johnson is a graduate of Morgan and Atlanta University and taught at Texas Southern University last year.

HOWARD A. ROBERTS was appointed assistant professor in the Department of Music for one year to fill a vacancy there but was granted a leave of absence without pay although he has not as yet served on the Morgan campus.

Internationally known as an actor, conductor, singer and musician, Mr. Roberts was released from the appointment to take a post of conductor and arranger for a new show due to tour Europe this year and in 1960.

With the tour schedule set for The Hague, Berlin, Paris, Milan, Rome, London, Antwerp, Dusseldorf and Hamburg, the Morgan board states: "The experiences Mr. Roberts will have will contribute both to his own development and to the prestige of the college."

WHILE IN Europe Mr. Roberts plans to study voice with Francis Poulenc and Pierre Bernac in Paris, Gerhardt Husch in Berlin and Erik Working in Vienna.

At an earlier meeting, the board had approved the appointment of Mrs. Reana M. Savage to take Mr. Roberts's post. She will hold the rank of substitute instructor in the Department of Music.

She comes to Morgan from Jefferson City, Mo., where she conducted a private studio. She formerly taught at Lincoln University, Mo., and Tenn. State University.

Resignation: Augustus Morley as assistant in the Chemistry Department.

Promotion: Miss Bettye D. Spriggs, senior typist, to senior stenographer.

CLERICAL appointments are as follows:

First assembly held at No. 160

The Carter G. Woodson School No. 160 opened, as usual, with a bang!

On hand with bright, cheerful faces were 810 pupils, spic and span, ready to start a new semester.

With a minimum of changes in the faculty, the school day began so smoothly that it seemed to be a continuation of the closing day, June 15.

Mrs. Hella Nichols, librarian was replaced by Mrs. Mary Carter. Mrs. Julia Jones was replaced by Miss Hazel Robinson.

Everyone was happy to welcome back our former co-worker, Mrs. Margeline Yancey, who was away due to illness.

WEDNESDAY. The first assembly was held in the school auditorium and was designed to acquaint the pupils with the policy and standards of the school and the community helpers.

Invocation was given by Rev. Edgar W. Ward. Mrs. Mary Carter, librarian, gave an interesting talk on, "What is Orientation Day."

Perry Farrington introduced the following speakers: Mrs. Faulkner director, Cherry Hill Community Center, Dr. E. McDaniels, school dentist, Lt. Miller of the Baltimore City Fire Department, Police Officer Charles Barbour, Mrs. Mildred Green, school crossing guard and Donald Wainwright, the Safety Patrol.

Rhythmic Expressions, "Nola" and "Modernesque," were given by Faye Armstead and Gloria Jackson. Mrs. Enna A. Hines principal, gave very interesting remarks and reminded the pupils of our school standards.

The program was presented by Mrs. Mendora Thompson chairman of the committee and Perry Farrington, co - chairman.

EXTRA CURRICULAR activities have started. Piano lessons, taught by Mrs. Sara Rundy, will be given on Friday. The instrumental music classes, under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Averes, will be held on Tuesdays and Fridays.

On November 13, some of the fifth grade students will appear on WBAL-TV, "Students View the News."

The first PTA meeting will be held on October 13.

Other PTA dates for the school year are as follows: Jan. 12, March 8 and May 10.

DHS starts term again

By JOYCE MURPHY

With an estimated enrollment of 2,600 pupils, Douglas Senior High School opened its doors on September 8, to begin another school year.

Many new faces among the faculty members beamed "welcome" to the hundreds of new pupils as well as to the old Douglassites.

NEW TEACHERS are: Miss Jane F. Jones, Mrs. Freda Thompson, Mrs. Lila Hardy, Mrs. Violet Haywood, John Robinson, Mrs. Geraldine Coleman, Malcolm Johnson, Sidney Carter, Mrs. Mary Dawson, Mrs. Dorothy Riley, and Mrs. Marion White.

Aaron W. Jenkins and Mrs. Hermina Rogers are laboratory assistants.

TWO ORIENTATION assemblies have been shared by all the new pupils in order to acquaint them with the school, their privileges, rights, and duties.

Many representatives of various school organizations discussed club purposes and invited the new students to drop in at their meetings.

Student council officers, Charles Moore, president, Barbara Malloy, vice president, Pez Wingfield, secretary and Barbara Nicholson, treasurer held a social hour with tenth grade class officers to familiarize them with qualifications of Student Council representatives.

The upper classmen also expressed an assembly which served to refresh their memories of the qualifications and characteristics of a true Douglassite.

ALL DOUGLASS coeds are currently participating in the annual Miss Douglas Beauty Contest. The arrival of Miss Cover Girl, a beauty pageant which will present Miss "Modern" and Miss "Fashion" September 29.

Models for the new fall fashions will be shown from anxious volunteers of the Home Economics classes.

Commissioners have already begun at Douglass. One example is the hundred odd candidates for elected officers are: Quanda Smith - president, vice president, Ann Jackson, secretary, Delorita Woodmore, and treasurer, Janice Murphy.

Other officers will be appointed by Mr. T. T. Kenny is club's sponsor.

THE NEWSPAPER subscription campaign has been successfully launched.

The staff members and the journalism class are busy gathering news for the Courier's first issue which will be out in a week.

The editor in chief is Joyce Brown, Associate editor is Ora Hill.

Mr. Lincolnlyn Brooks is the faculty advisor.

The Douglass band deserves credit for its splendid performance at the stadium meeting of all educational staff of Baltimore City.

Congratulations to Chester Brooks, instructor, and to the band members.

CAMPUS NOTES

Miss Rice is back again with all the college news

By LAVANIA RICE

Well, here I am again, I am quite sure that you don't have to be reminded that school time is here again and its time for campus notes.

Although I spent most of my summer in the country I have been informed of the various activities of several of your friends and mine. For instance You remember Glenn McGill don't you?

Well Glenn was a great contributor to this column last semester by giving his various do's and don't. This year Glenn will no longer be with us he is now a member of the U.S. Navy.

Here's the rundown on more faces.

George Davis — A resident of Newport News, Va., and also a student at Hampton Institute, spent his summer at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Rice, in Severna Park, Md.

Doing his stay here George was also able to obtain a job as recreational director at the "Arundel on the Bay" center.

George, is now a senior and hopes to enter the field of physical therapy.

Alice and Bernard Williams- both Morgan students were married this summer. The wedding was very quaint and quite beautiful. Bernard is now stationed in Paris.

Alice is planning on leaving for France in a few weeks, she also hopes to attend school there. The new Mrs. Williams was the former Alice Johnson.

Leroy Carroll — Attended summer school at the University of Maryland this summer. He also worked as a lifeguard at Beechwood Park. Roy is a sophomore at Maryland and a pre - medical student.

Ernestine Hite — A 1960 graduate of the Baltimore Junior College, who is planning to enter the field of medical technology spent her summer in New York City.

She also spent three weeks in the "Village" after this experience her only comment on the Village and its inhabitants was "Wow."

Tennie, during the latter part of the summer, worked as a counselor at Rocks, Md. (What a change.)

Bobby Smith — A June graduate of the Baltimore City College, spent the majority of his summer working at Beechwood Park.

Bob will be attending Morgan State College this year, and hopes to major in science education.

Robert Russel — Could very easily be classified as a "Jack of All Trades" according to the various jobs that he had this summer.

For example he worked as a lifeguard, an orange supervisor and also in a tomato factory.

Nevertheless, Rob found time to visit New York City but the majority of his time was spent in Washington at the "Coffee and Confusion" coffee shop.

Rob, is also a senior at the Baltimore Junior College and an art major.

Howard Neal — Is now at Morgan State College, where he is planning to major in biology. For his future career Howard has chosen to become a dentist.

Among Howard's hobbies are all types of sports and he also has a very keen interest in "Jazz."

His favorite artist is Miles Davis.

When I asked why he preferred Miles over all the other artists he said:

"That's easy, it's all in his name. His mode, sound, both music expressive way of presenting and displaying his many moods."

Thank you, Howard.

Howard is a former student of Lincoln University where he was one of the most popular members of the football team.

Words of the Week:

Jackie Johnson — "Well I suppose its time to brush off the cob - webs and get down to business."

Bernard Stokes — "The Bears are out the chicks are like man I'm with you. I'm a Mommy."

Hilda Nelson — "Now is the time for all good students to come to the aid of their Alma Mater."

Lemmel School holds first PTA meeting

LEMMEL school holds m-4

The parents and teachers of the seventh grade pupils at William H. Lemmel Junior High School met for a get-acquainted session on Thursday, Sept. 17 in the school auditorium.

EDMONDSON NOTES

February class plans to present banner to school

By DELORES COUSER

The February class of 1960 will present a class banner to Edmondson High School.

This is the first class ever to present an individual banner to the school. The banner was chosen as the result of a contest held last year. Lorraine Cook was the contest winner and she will have the opportunity of seeing her design presented to the school at the Junior Class day assembly in October. Dorothy Davenport is president of the class.

The members of the yearbook staff had their first meeting Thursday, Sept. 24. The executive members of the staff are Gwendolyn Milam, activities editor; Linda Shaull, editor in chief; Glenn Greene, business manager; Robbie Smith, sports editor; Pennie Stroh, album section editor; Pat Nelson, opening section editor; Nancy Myerly, assistant opening section editor; Carol Rodgers, index editor; and Joe Smith, assistant activities editor.

Jonie Ross, assistant feature editor for the Edmondson Eagle, was one of several high school newspaper reporters to interview Crash Craadock on the Buddy Deane show.

Personality — James Welsome is a happy go lucky senior with a tight schedule. He is president of the German Club, and copywriter for the yearbook.

Displaying more talents as a writer, he is feature columnist, and sports writer for the school newspaper.

Education meet

The first annual combined conference of the public high school principals and sponsors of the State of Maryland will be held on Oct. 8-9 in Baltimore.

Prior to this year's conference, the principals and the sponsors had held separate meetings. This year, as part of the continuing program to improve local school administrative practice, it was decided to hold a joint meeting of the two professional groups.

UN at tea

The United Nations Youth of Maryland will entertain at tea at the Faculty Club, Johns Hopkins University on Friday, Sept. 25 at 3:30 p.m. for the principals and faculty advisors of the 59 nearby public, private and parochial schools where the United Nations Youth sponsors clubs in international relations.

The purpose of the tea is to explain the UN Youth's program to the school authorities and to enlist their support.

Institute set

The Educational Institute of the Woman's Auxiliary Diocese of Maryland Protestant Episcopal Church, will be held Wednesday, Oct. 7 and Thursday, Oct. 8 at Trinity Church, 120 Alleghany Ave., Towson.

The Rev. Seth Edwards, president of Cuttington College, Liberia, will speak on Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Thursday's program opens at 10:30 a.m. with departmental seminars, devotions at 12 noon, luncheon and at 1:45 p.m., the Rev. David B. Reed, assistant to the director, Overseas Department, speaks on "The Companion Diocese Plan."

Alphonso Green, 18, is poster contest winner

A big smile, a firm handshake and a gracious "thank you" came from young Alphonso Green, 18-year-old resident of Lafayette Ct., 253 Colvin St. as he accepted first prize from Gov. J. Millard Tawes in the recent Keep Maryland Beautiful Poster Contest.

Sponsored by the City Board of Recreation in cooperation with the Governor's Committee to Keep Maryland Beautiful Alphonso was selected winner in the 14 years of age and up division.

Gov. Tawes presented the winners with Black - Eyed Susan pins, buttonnaires and certificates.

Keep Maryland Beautiful pennants

ALPHONSO, AN art lover, is not attending school at present, but plans to attend a Towson art school next year.

His winning poster showed a boy painting a fence, keeping Maryland beautiful.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonso (Elizabeth) Green Sr.

Other winners in the contest were:

Joe Jericko, 16, 3802 3rd St., Betty Weigand, 11, 4023 Echodale Rd.; John Schroyer, 11, 43 E. Wheeling St. Judy Todd, 8, 6000 Alta Ave.; and Dianne Spagnola 8, 6213 Fairdel.

Cherry Hill faculty has assembly for parents

By NANCY ARNEZ

On Thursday, the Cherry Hill Junior High School faculty presented an assembly program to help parents with pupils near the Northwood section acquainted with some of the school's policies, procedures and programs.

Dr. Nancy L. Arnez, in stating the purpose of the program, further said that it was the hope of the faculty that this program would help facilitate the adjustment of pupils from elementary schools or other schools to this school.

Daniel Lyle, chairman of the committee on cafeteria affairs, spoke about the advantages of having the children buy a well balanced meal. He stressed the idea that one outstanding feature of the school cafeteria was the 15 cents hot lunch which is provided for the pupils who do not wish or can not afford to purchase the 25 cents regular lunch.

One of the physical education instructors, Artie Williams, explained the rulings set down by the Division of Health and physical Education concerning uniforms, showers, and attendance.

DEPARTMENT goal and program were explained by Mrs. Charlotte Shockley.

MR. A. FRO, the man with the big money to give away is still making the rounds on Wednesdays and Saturdays looking for people to answer his questions and win a little cash. You have to have an AFRO Lucky Sticker on your window or door to attract Mr. A. Fro.

She explained that the basic goal of home economics education is to help the individual to live a more useful and satisfying personal and family life.

Miss Martha Gover, the school librarian, explained that each parent can transmit to his children a love of good books. Boys and girls are influenced in their attitudes toward reading by the actions of their parents.

Parents who read themselves and surround themselves with good book foster in them a love of reading.

Miss Gover further urged the parents to join a "Friends of the Library" group which is being formed to help improve our school library.

Three major points were stressed by the vice principal, Mrs. Enotia McMillan. These were attendance, punctuality and discipline.

Parents were urged to cooperate with the school in its efforts to develop our boys and girls into good, useful citizens.

JAMES R. HITE, the school principal, explained the new promotional practices to the parents. He told the parents that pupils in the junior high school are promoted annually on a grade basis.

The pupil fails or passes the grade and, if necessary, must repeat the entire grade even though he has previously passed some of the subjects.

Other participants on the program included the reading clinician, one of the industrial arts teachers, and one of the guidance counselors.

The orientation program was arranged by Mrs. Esther Johnson, guidance counselor. Miss Elizabeth Washington conducted the program.

Dean Grant back on advisory unit

Morgan State College Dean George C. Grant has been appointed to the newly established Advisory Committee of the Headquarters Committee of Maryland.

Dean Grant was invited to join the new group by Joseph Mavrelis, chairman of the State Planning Commission.

The veteran educator was initially recommended by former Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin to the Medical Care Committee in 1955 and recommissioned in 1958.

In his new appointment, Dean Grant will serve to June 1, 1961.

Morgan Alumni golf at Carroll

The second annual closed golf tournament of the Baltimore Morgan State college will be staged tomorrow (Saturday) at the Carroll Golf Club.

The affair, scheduled to commence at 9:30 a.m., is under sponsorship of the Morgan Alumni Association of the Baltimore area.

Four flights will be contested with the final three-some championship bracket scheduled to tee off at 1:24 p.m. A total of 60 entries will vie for the various honors.

Baltimore County News and Views

By DORIS BAKER BROWN

Have you, on a quiet Sunday afternoon, wished for an exciting activity in which the entire family could participate?

Why not try visiting historical county scenes?

Baltimore County citizens have a rich heritage of history and culture. People of all races contributed to that culture. Why not find out more about it?

A "must see" is Hampton, home of Governor Charles Ridgely, built in 1783-1790, and located ten miles north of Baltimore City.

It is built on what was then several tracts of land comprising thousands of acres. Hampton remained in the Ridgely family until 1948, when it was bought by the Avalon Foundation and given to the Federal Government, with the Society for the Preservation of Maryland Antiquities acting as Custodian.

Its furnishings and equipment tell a story of the life of other days. Visit "Hampton" with you?

AMONG RECENT beautiful Baltimore County scenes—the wedding reception last month of Miss Barbara Swann, of Towson and Joseph King.

The quiet, but impressive ceremony was performed by the Rev. William Tapscott.

The bride, radiant in her white, silk taffeta bridal gown, its bodice a galaxy of silver threads and minute rhine-tones. She wore a pearl dance tiara, a gift studden tiara and carried a bouquet of white roses.

Miss Barbara Swann, maid of honor and Morgan college classmate of the bride, was attired in a green silk gown with matching slippers.

Joseph Yates was best man. Later, over one hundred guests joined the bridal party, at a reception given on the spacious lawn of the bride's sister.

The wedding cake was a tiered masterpiece of snowy white icing decorated with pearl, pink roses and topped by a bride and groom sur rounded by love birds.

Displayed were the bride's Morgan classmates, Misses Verlinda Smith, Loretta Hughes and Denise Smith.

The new Mrs. King is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Branham, Wheelwright W. Va.

Mr. King is the son of Mrs. Margaret King, 210 March Ave. Catonsville.

The newlyweds are now at home at 6104 Frederick Road Catonsville.

WESTWARD HO seemed to be the trend this year. The sleek Super Chief was the pacemaker for Mrs. Joanna Worth Ingston Smith, of 136 Westover Ave., Catonsville and her sister, Mrs. Clara S. King.

They were delighted to see Bernadino, Calif., where they were married, and the Grand Canyon and sun in law, Dr. and Mrs. Wilbur C. White. White is the former Mrs. Elizabeth Ingston.

The reunion was a momentous one for Mrs. Smith and her daughter Elsie. They had been a continent apart for five years.

Mrs. Smith's other two grandchildren to become acquainted with, the twins, Warren and Wayne.

Dr. and Mrs. White have three other children, Tutia Jr., Joanne and Helen.

MS. SMITH toured parts of "Ole Miss," Nevada and New Mexico. But it was the color, and warmth of the people and "old" Mexico that captured her heart.

She enjoyed sampling Mexican dishes, especially tortillas and returned home well laden with souvenirs, Mexican jewelry, belts, belts, scarves and photographs of each city she visited.

By the way, Mrs. Smith is a member of the Order of the Eastern Star, Chapter No. 15 and has served as president of the Foundation Club of Grace AME Church for twenty years.

AND UNIQUE vacation news is still pouring in. Dr. Dean Jones visited New Bedford, Mass. Interesting taunts included Cape Cod, Stonyville and Long Carver.

Stonyville, Denise tell us, is similar to Disneyland. The amusement rides take the place of various fairytale characters. South Carver, Mass. is where the famous Ocean Spray Cranberries are made.

A miniature train transports sightseers around the cranberry bog. Smart Denise said she constantly found herself comparing our Baltimore and Baltimore County way of life with that of the people in and around New Bedford.

IRA WILLIAMS helped to organize a baseball league in Catonsville among boys of his age group.

There are five teams in the league. The Melvin Ave. Hawks, The Suter Road Giants, The Park All Stars, The Rookies and Vikings and The Melvin Park Orioles. Ira played with the Melvin Ave. Hawks.

BEVERLY HENSON cultivated her interest in sewing. She attended a eight day course held at the Singer Sewing Machine Co.

Not only did she learn some basic fundamentals of sewing, that energetic young lady completed a dress she modeled in the class's fashion show.

Woman Finds Safe Douche
"For years I searched for a cleansing, refreshing douche—one that was safe to use and would not hurt or desensitize. Then I found Certane Douche Powder. It is wonderfully fine," writes Mrs. G. ON TARGET—When Tom Reynolds and Alvin Ray Bivins found this M-84 mortar carrier without a crew at Fort Meade Saturday, they assumed command. The two boys, whose fathers are sergeants at Fort Meade, were busy looking over weapons that were on exhibit during the Second Army's "Operation Trap Line III," an exercise designed to provide nuclear warfare training

2nd Army routs enemy troops in 'paper war'

FORT MEADE, Md.—Not a shot was fired and not a missile was launched, but in a delayed-defensive action, the second Army defeated some 300,000 "enemy troops" in a theoretical nuclear war last week end.

The "paper battle" was part of "Operation Trap Line III" a training program that involved more than 5,000 Army, National Guard and Reserve personnel from seven states.

Under the direction of Lt. Gen. George W. Read Jr., Second Army commander, the two day exercise started last Saturday and lasted 22 hours.

The exercise provided training in tactical, intelligence, logistical and administrative operations under assumed conditions of nuclear and electronic warfare.

The theoretical defense action was played on a map area of Germany in Western Europe. The "live" action was confined to the use of maps, overlays and messages.

"TRAP LINE III" was the third in a series of five-year command post exercises.

This year, representatives of all major tactical reserve units participated in the "Paper Battle."

An interservice touch was added to the "war" with the inclusion of the 9th Tactical Air Force which supported the ground forces.

Hypothetically, the strength of the Second Army was set at 300,000, or less than one-third than that of the "aggressor."

The mission of the Second Army in the "Paper War" was to execute a delaying action in a map area caledi "Delta 1," defend an area marked "Delta 2," hold the aggressor East of the Rhine River and then prepare to mount an offensive.

Preparations for the exercise were started a year ago.

ONE OF the many officers who took part in "Operation Trap Line III" was Maj. Wesley S. Bundara, 2215 Madison Ave., Baltimore.

Major Bundara, an armored intelligence officer at the Army Training Center, Fort Knox, Ky., was a controller for the 4th Armored Calvary Regiment during the exercise.

Another Marylander, Maj. Montell Kyler, formerly of Annapolis was controller for the 100th Reserve Division.

Major Kyler is with the 6th Battalion, Third Regiment at Fort Knox.

Lt. Col. Millard Stewart of 806 St. Georges Ave., Baltimore, was duty officer at the Trapline information center.

Col. Stewart is a former professor of military science and tactics at Morgan State College.
