ARC AID TO JAPAN

WASHINGTON — The American Red Cross this week gave $10,000 toward relief of the Japanese left homeless and hungry by the typhoon which lashed the country Saturday.

ROBERT ALVIN GUILTY

'There is no question in my mind that he beat and rob bed this man'

On a charge of robbing a 72-year-old man, Robert H. Alvin, 21, 1000 block Aisquith St., was found guilty in Criminal Court Tuesday.

Sentence was withheld pending a probation report.

Tried before Judge Joseph L. Allen, the defendant pleaded not guilty to assaulting Jaime Jones, of Freetown, Anne Arundel County, and robbing him of $64 and a wristwatch.

MR. JONES said he was yoked and robbed by three men shortly after he left a shoe shop and when he reached Hubbard Alley, (near Eden St.).

Alvin, however, claimed he was in the alley drinking with two friends when a strange man approached him, began calling him names and struck at him.

He said he scuffled with the man, but took no money or watch. He also said the man was much younger than the complainant.

Two others, arrested with Alvin, were dismissed of the charges.

IN IMPOSING the guilty sentence, Judge Allen pointed out that his request for a probation report in this case did not indicate he intended to impose a probationary sentence.

Judge Allen said, "There is no question in my mind that this defendant beat and robbed this man."

Assistant State's attorney James Murphy prosecuted.

Norman Hochberg, former assistant in the State's Attorney's office, represented Alvin.

Md. States alumni meet

The Philadelphia Chapter of the Maryland State College Alumni held its first meeting of the new season at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Austin of 5309 Walton Ave.

Many plans were discussed including the election of a queen for the homecoming celebration at Maryland State College on Oct. 24th.

MISS OSSIE GOOD, a 1959 graduate, was elected. Miss Good is a teacher of home economics at the Downingtown Industrial and Agriculture school in Downingtown, Pa.

She was an outstanding school sr at Maryland State.

The president, Harold Rush, presided.

Those present were:

Dr. and Mrs. P. Custis Howard of Coatesville, Pa.; Benita J. McDaniels, Sally Watkins Russel, and Grace Adams Samuel Branham;

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Dorsey, Cynthia White, Ruth Rowley, Raymond Grant, Eleanor Johnson, Velia M. Carson, Helen Cottman;

Isaiah E. Johnson, Carrie Longford, Anne Booker, Edward Cottman, and Leroy J Grimes Sr., business manager of 5885 Carpenter St.

Suspect held in baseball bat death

Miss Nettie Sally White, 35, 1300 block N. Stricker St., pleaded innocent Tuesday to charges that she beat a woman to death with a baseball bat last August 29.

Before Chief Magistrate Joseph Kolesky in Homicide Court, Miss White was charged with the death of Miss Pearl Simms, 32, 1400 block Argyle Ave., and ordered held without bail for action of the grand jury.

Sergeant Robert Cohen testified that after Miss White surrendered to Northwestern district police, she gave a three-page statement which said in part:-

"h beat me with the bat and we struggled and IK TOOK away from her."

Sergeant Cohen testified he had statements from witnesses who saw Miss Simms carry the baseball bat into the house.

Actions not illegal says union

The International Leathergoods, Plastics and Novelty Worker's Union, AFL-CIO, on Monday denied charges made by the Baltimore Luggage Company in its petition filed in Circuit Court.

The luggage company, a division of Botany Industry, Inc., filed the petition Sept. 30 asking the court to restrain the union's picket.

In addition, the company charged that the picket line was comprised of 30 persons, "none of whom is employed in this company."

The company charged in its petition to the court that striking began with the intention on the part of the union to "coerce employees by way of threats," to keep them from their work.

IN THEIR ANSWER FILED Monday the union denied generally the charges made, saying persons in control of their agency had at no time engaged in any illegal activity.

The union said it "specifically denies that it has exercised any force or threats of physical violence toward any of the company's employees.

No decision has been reached in the issue.

Morgan, State eye each other's scalp

A thoroughly scouted Maryland State and a thoroughly scouted Morgan State will be out to scalp each other here tomorrow night (Saturday) when the two elevens come to battle in Baltimore Memorial Stadium.

Renewing their three-year-old rivalry in the All-Maryland Classic that kicks off at 8 p.m., the two CIAA titans will be out for the kill.

Eddie Hurt, little Morgan mentor, who Maryland State says is anathema to his Hawks, sizes up the forthcoming gridiron contest this way:

"It's the game we want most to win. And I imagine it's the one they want most to win.

"The whole coaching staff of Maryland State was down to scout us when we played North Carolina College last Saturday, and we were all out to scout Maryland when they played Bluefield two Saturdays ago.

"They got the better team right now, but we don't think that's going to give them any particular advantage. We want the game too badly and we're going to fight to win it."

* * *

IF THE Hawks beat Morgan this time, they'll be doing something they've been trying to do ever since the Princess Anne team joined the CIAA.

Maryland State loaded with the likes of the Colts' Johnny Sample, was given long odds to overwhelm the Bears when the two teams inaugurated the classic in 1957 at Memorial Stadium.

But — in the surprise game of the conference season —the Bears fought the Hawks to a 7-7 deadlock.

Last year at Princess Anne, with both elevens highly loaded with green players, the Bears did even better than they did in the classic debut. They beat the Hawks by a one point margin in a 13-12 ballgame that could have gone either way until the clock sounded.

This year the Hawks are loaded again and Hurt has even gone so far as to pick them as his favorite team to win the CIAA championship.

Even so, Morgan coaches and players think they've got a good chance of sticking with the Hawks and perhaps even beating them.

As Hurt puts it:

"Scores and better teams don't mean a thing when these two teams get together."

* * *

THE HAWKS will bring a better record into the Memorial Stadium contest.

In their first and only game of the season, the Princess Anners blanked the Big Blue of Bluefield State 39-0.

Morgan, in its first and only game, lost to North Carolina College 12-16.

Hurt says his team "learned a lot though" and he hopes that "being fresher than Maryland State will help us."

Biggest problem for the Bears remains the quarterbackship. Sam Frier, taking over as first string field general only this season with very little experience gained last year, did "fairly well," the coaches said.

They say he still lacks experience, however.

Frier went almost all the way for Morgan in the season opener, with some relief quarterbacking done by freshmen Russell Bipcon and Carmie Pompey.

* * *

MORGAN'S BACKFIELD should give the Hawks a lot of trouble, though — if the team shows the same sparkle it did last week.

Looking especially good was Earl Bowen, fullback who scored Morgan's sole TD. Bowen is a senior from Douglass High.

Also showing power and speed were Clarence Crawley and James Allen, the halfbacks.

Hurt says he plans to go wit' the same starting lineup. That'll be:

George Forrest, left end (6' 194); William C. Brown, lef tackle (5' 11", 233); Noni Whitt, left guard (6', 194?) Ralph Chase, center (5'9' 194); Bobby Young, right guar right tackle (5'11, 283); Alfred Cunningham, right end (5'11, 176); Sam Frier, quarterback (5'11, 181); James Allen, left halfback (5'10", 184); Clarence Crawley, right halfback (5'9", 175); Earl Bowen, fullback (5'11, 200).
