The NAACP is currently in its annual membership campaign with a goal of 15,000.

Services Saturday for Mrs. Clinkscales

Services were scheduled to be held tomorrow (Saturday) for Mrs. Sally Mae Clinkscales, 74, 202 N. Fremont Ave. She died at Mercy Hospital on Sunday, after a five-week illness.

Mrs. Clinkscales' death followed by two months that of her husband, John Clinkscales. They had been married 58 years, and for the past 20 years had resided at the Fremont Ave. address.

A member of the Baptist faith since 1930, Mrs. Clinkscales belonged to New Jerusalem Baptist Church at the time of her death, and was said to be the oldest mother in the church.

The Rev. W. L. Johnson, pastor, will officiate at the 11 a.m. Saturday funeral.

MRS. CLINKSCALES is survived by 93 relatives including three daughters, a son, 23 grand children, 53 great grand children and 13 great, grandchildren.

Her daughters are Mrs. Connie Cobbs of Youngstown, Ohio, Mrs. Elizabeth Chiles and Mrs. Mattie Thomas, both of Baltimore.

Earl Clinkscales, her son, is now a resident of Philadelphia.

Burial will be at the Arubutus Memorial Park.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY

By MILTON E. ELICKSON

"HABIT IS A CABLE. WE WEAVE A THREAD OF IT EVERY DAY, AND—AT LAST WE CANNOT BREAK IT . . .

True enough, habit is astoundingly strong. It may flex a bit, it may stretch; now and again it may give a fraction here and there, only to once again snap back to reform original patterns. Thus, mindful of the fact that habits are not broken with ease and aplomb, it is desirable that we cultivate as many habits of an honorable and respectable nature as possible.

If each of us were to objectively cull through our own personal stock of habits we would very likely turn up a few which we would gladly discard. However, although recognizing an unworthy habit is a fairly simple matter, breaking it to divorce it from our every day way of life is an entirely different matter and one that calls for considerable expenditure of personal courage and determination.

Courage and determination, incidentally, are necessary to see the bereaved through the loss of a loved one. Of great comfort is a complete service that attends to all details. Such services are available at ELLIOTT FUNERAL HOME, 1129 N. Caroline St., where four generations of organized responsibility back the integrity of our name. Phone EAstern 7-0200.

AT WORK on the Ellamont St. side entrance to the Walbrook Presbyterian Church are the new minister, the Rev. Thomas Fraser, right, and a member, Horace Moore. Two groups totaling approximately 40 persons turned out Saturday for work parties to help spruce up the appearance of the church.

Grady proclaims Catholic Week

At an official ceremony in City Hall Thursday, Mayor Harold Grady proclaimed the week of Oct. 25 to Nov. 1 as Catholic Youth Week in Baltimore.

The Catholic Youth Organization of this city will hold the Archdiocesan Youth Mass at the Cathedral at 10:30 a.m. Oct. 25, the Feast of Christ the King, Patron of Youth, as part of the observance.

The 1959-60 Youth Council Officers will be installed at this time. It will also hold the third annual Cotillion at Seton High School from 8 to 12 p.m. on October 31.

The purposes of the week, as urged in the theme, "Spiritualize Youth—Vitalize Nations," are to identify dynamically youth's primary obligation to God, and to relate, for youth, virtue at work in the world to mankind's temporal and eternal welfare.

Burial today for Mrs. Prettyman

Services are scheduled to be held today (Friday) for Mrs. Violetta Prettyman, 65, 1701 E. 25th St., at the Orchard St. Methodist Church where she was active in several groups.

The Rev. V. T. Rey, pastor of the church will officiate.

In a coma for six days before her death, Mrs. Prettyman died Monday at Johns Hopkins Hospital.

At the Orchard St. church where she was a meber 20 years, Mrs. Prettyman was president of the Women's Society of Christian Service, a member of the board of the N. M. Carroll Home for the Aged;

A member of the Golden Cross Society (a supporting agency of the home); former assistant superintendent of Cultuirzatiofn of the Church School;

She was also secretary of the Steward Board and spiritual secretary for the North Baltimore District of the WSCS.

BALTIMORE'S UNITED APPEAL for Community Chest and Red Cross...

NOT an obligation, but an OPPORTUNITY

Won't it make you feel good to know that, through your help, this crippled child will walk again . . .

that this nice old lady will enjoy the tender, loving care her children would have given her if they were still living . . .

that this orphaned child will grow up in the warmth of a family circle . . .

that this young soldier (he might be your son) will find a hospitable welcome here when he has a week-end pass . . .

that people in this flood-stricken town will not want for food, clothing, shelter or medical care.

Let's Raise Our Sights

Among major American cities Baltimore stands 14th in per-capita giving. Cleveland's giving is double Baltimore's. Pittsburgh exceeds us by 88%, Kansas City by 85%, Milwaukee by 61%, Philadelphia by 59%, Boston by 58% and Buffalo by 51%.

We must raise our sights if we are to triumph in this major effort to meet the Baltimore area's needs. These are the things that will bring victory!

Business and Industry:

—Top executives must take the responsibility seriously, and give personal leadership right down thru their organizations.

—Corporate gifts must be raised materially, to match the giving in similar industries in other cities.

—The payroll deduction plan, approved by both Industry and Labor, should be set up in every organization, with a goal of 100% support.

The People of Baltimore:

—Every family should subscribe generously and make every effort to increase their contributions and help raise at least $1,000,000 more than last year.

—Every man or woman on a payroll should participate in fair proportion to his or her salary.

—Homemakers should contribute their personal gift even when the breadwinners in the family are also giving at their place of employment.

All gifts are deductible for State and Federal Income Tax.

The Campaign is just ahead of us! October 19th-November 6th.

These are only 5 of the Many Opportunities to help your fellow-citizens through your gift to our United Appeal which takes care of 43 Community Chest and 21 Red Cross services.

Just one United Appeal—and it helps so many people in so many ways!

Just one United Appeal—and the more you give, the better you'll feel!
