Steel strikers treated to good show in Al Flora boxing revival

By GEORGE COLLINS

Another phase of promoter Al Flora's campaign to revive local boxing was staged at the Coliseum Monday night. And 1,004 spectators, including striking steelworkers who were given free admission, saw a card of action-packed bouts.

The main event, last of a trio of eight-rounders, featured the rematch of Johnny Gilden and Joe Salci in their private war to gain dominance in the welterweight division. In this one, as in their bout last August when Gilden squeezed past Salci on a split decision, the 21-year-old battlers engaged in a tug of war that had the fans out of their seats with stomping, yelling, and shouting approval. In the fourth, Gilden was decked for a count of eight.

And, as before, this one too was decided on a split decision with Salci copping the verdict. Scorecards of ring officials showed Referee Terry Moore seeing it 37-35 for Salci; Judge Jimmy Jones, 37-34, Salci, and Judge Tom Kelly giving it to Gilden, 38-36.

ALTHOUGH PREVIOUS plans called for the winner of this match to meet Don Braun, Maryland welterweight champion, next month, Promoter Flora announced from the ring that Joe and Johnny will return in a rubber match instead, thereby pushing back the date of the fight for Braun's crown.

Another highlight of the slam-bang card was the apparent intent of Coronado (Killer) McPhail, 19-year-old 151-pound local favorite, to further snafu previous plans.

* * *

THE KILLER, better known for his clowning antics in the ring than his ability to imitate his nickname, was sent against Don Braun. This was to be a tune-up for the latter. And for three rounds it was just that.

The Killer had little time for clowning or killing as he was kept busy defending against the relentless, mauling in-fighting attack of the 20-year-old champion. Then early in the fourth, Cornelius cut loose with a dynamite-laden left hook that landed on target and the boxer-fireflighter hit the deck.

Taking an eight count and on queer street through the round, Braun, using all his ring savvy, was able to tie-up the wild-swinging Killer and hang on for the bell. After this fiasco with disaster, the champion rallied to take a unanimous win.

* * *

IN THE other eight rounder, Jimmy Biggs, a D.C. rapid-fire welter, pounded out a majority vote decision over Earl Clemmons, who is also his own the local welterweight totem pole.

In the supporting six-rounder, Tommy Curtis, swinging from the floor from gong to gong, dispatched Kid Beechnut of Washington via a third round TKO, scoring four knockdowns in the process.

Colts hope to keep rolling vs. Bears

CHICAGO — After their attack had sputtered and stammered through the first two games, being blanked through the first half of both contests, the Baltimore Colts last Sunday displayed an offensive that more closely resembled the drive that carried them to the championship a year ago.

They'll strive to continue the surge against the Chicago Bears here Sunday.

The Lions were victimized a second time by the Colts last Sunday by a 31-24 count, but the Hosses were forced to fight back from a 24-14 deficit to earn the decision. The winners tallied seven points in each of the first three periods and outgunned the Lions, 10-0 in the final period.

Baltimore rushed for 164 yards and passed for 245 yards in Detroit to surpass its total in both categories for each of the preceding two games.

* * *

QUARTERBACK John Unitas again spearheaded the Colts' assault on the Lions, completing 13 of 25 passes for 245 yards and three touchdowns—the 28th consecutive NFL battle in which the pin - pointer from Pittsburgh has tossed for a TD.

In three 1959 contests he has thrown for 708 yards and eight scores. The ground attack in Detroit was paced by fullback Alan Ameche, whose 65-yard output hiked his seasonal total to 188 yards.

* * *

IN FACING the Bears Sunday, the Colts will be encountering a foe that limited them to 74 yards rushing and shut them out for three periods while registering a 36-21 triumph in Baltimore two weeks ago.

On that occasion, also, the Bears intercepted three Unitas passes, turning one into a touchdown and setting up a field goal with another.

GRAY GALLOPS FOR GAIN — Maryland State College's Billy Gray (44) circles his right flank for a short gain that is to be brought up short by Morgan State College's George Forrest (86). Action took place as the Eastern Shore Hawks defeated Morgan's Bears, 20-7, at Baltimore Memorial Stadium last Saturday night. Win was the first for the Birds over Eddie Hurt's aggregation in three years of play in the All-Maryland Classic.

New faces in Morgan line for HU

The Morgan State College Bears, still looking for a win, will have two new faces in the starting lineup and some new offensive tactics when they meet the Howard University Bisons Saturday (October 17) in Washington, D.C.

The new faces in the starting lineup will be those of Carl Hite, 207-pound freshman from Dunbar High School, and of Carl Smith, 214-pound sophomore from Douglass.

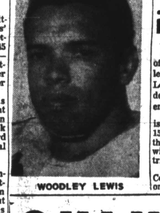
Hite will go in as first string left tackle replacing William Brown, and Smith goes in at right tackle replacing big Jim Hairston. Both Brown, a freshman from Bates High in Annapolis, and Hairston were shaken up in Morgan's 20-7 loss last week to Maryland State.

* * *

WHILE HE would not reveal what the strategy will be, Coach Eddie Hurt promises that the Bears will have some new offensive plays for the Howard contest.

"The game with Maryland State convinced us that we need to learn how to make points," Coach Hurt said. "We have gained ground consistently — both against Maryland State and North Carolina — but we haven't clicked offensively. We haven't score enough."

Eagles' rookie tops NFL in punt, kickoff returns



WOODLEY LEWIS

Art Powell, rookie halfback of the Philadelphia Eagles, leads the National Football League in two ball - carrying departments as the pro season enters its fourth week.

The speedy young Californian is tops in punt returns within 15.1 yards average, and heads the list in kickoff runbacks within a brilliant 45.0 for three trips.

Len Lyles, former Baltimore Colts racehorse, is tied for second in kickoff returns with a by Ollie Matson of the Los Angeles Rams with 282. Ollie's average is a lofty 6.1, as compared to Jim's 4.6.

LEWIS 15 far and away the league's most effective pass receiver. The veteran end and halfback of the Cards has captured 19 tosses for 319 yards gained. One of his receptions was good for a Redbird gain of 85 yards.

Davis and his teammate, Atty Nelson, are tied for the lead in pass interceptions. Both have retrieved three enemy pitches and each has returned 35 yards with his catch. Nelson, however, is credited with one touchdown interception.

Abe Woodson of San Francisco 49ers, is third in punt returns with a 27.7 average. Lyles leads in yards with 197, but this total has been collected in seven runs.

OTHER TAN leaders in NFL statistics as of Sunday morning were Jim Brown of the Cleveland Browns, rushing champions of 1958; Woodley Lewis of the Chicago Cardinals, and Milt Davis of the Baltimore Colts.

Brown sets the pace in ground gaining with 314 yards, followed by Lenny Ford with 271 yards. Lyles leads in rushing with 206 yards and Davis has collected in seven runs.

Grid clash will aid ill children

A college football game will help lay the groundwork for a medical center for the treatment of multiple handicapped children in Baltimore.

The game — Navy vs. Maryland — will be held at Baltimore's Memorial Stadium Saturday, November 7, and will be sponsored by the Baltimore Variety Club, Tent No. 19.

It will be the only major college football game in the city this year and will be played under the lights at the Stadium in a gala event that begins at 8 p.m.

Proceeds from the "Variety Bowl" will go toward the Variety Club's newest and biggest project — the establishment in the city of a center for the treatment, care and rehabilitation of children with multiple handicaps.

Top British horse in 'International'

LAUREL, Md. — England's Primera, considered by many as Europe's No. 1 older horse, has been added to the field for the eighth running of the $100,000 Washington, D.C. International, giving that country a powerful double - barreled threat in the November 11 Laurel Classic.

Primera, a five - year - old, joins Nagami, a high ranking four - year-old, for whom owner Mrs. Arpad Plesch had previously accepted an invitation, as an English representative in the mile and a half grass classic. Joel's acceptance on behalf of Primera was announced Friday by Laurel president John D. Schapiro.

ANDY NELSON

Colts, Bears meet Sun.

CHICAGO — Sunday's game here will be marked by a friendly intra - team rivalry as well as a bitter battle between the Baltimore Colts and Chicago Bears.

Two longtime running mates, Milt Davis and Andy Nelson, figure to add spark to the defense of the Colts with personal efforts to outdo each other.

As of Sunday morning, they were tied for leadership of the National Football League in pass interceptions.

* * *

EACH HAS grabbed three enemy aerials to date to share the top spot among the pro defenseman.

Both are credited with 33 yards in returning the captive ball.

Interceptions are the pride and joy of half back defenders in the play - for - lay loop.

Davis led the NFL in 1957, but surrendered the title to Nelson last year.

Blow, Brown, Myers lead MSA scorers

Three hard-running halfbacks, entered today's (Friday) football games in the Maryland Scholastic Association locked in a battle for the honor of No. 1 scorer in the league.

Maury Blow, who is the first colored varsity player on the Edmondson eleven, holds the top spot. His margin is two points over second place McKeever Brown of Dunbar, who in turn is two points ahead of Carroll Myers of City.

In four games played to date, Blow has tallied five touchdowns and one two-point conversion for a total of 32 points.

Brown also has negotiated five TD's. Averageries, however, the Dunbar star has the better of his Edmondson rival because the Poets have played only three MSA games.

Myers has combined four touchdowns and two 2 - point conversions to accumulate 28 points and third place in the race.

Heavy local tinge to '59 Bullet squad

Rejuvenation of the Baltimore Bullets pro basketball team is being geared around a strong native contingent, club officials disclosed this week.

The Bullets, preparing to resume play in the Eastern League after a last - minute save of the franchise by local business interests, are working out Saturdays and Sundays at the Coliseum. The 51 season opens November 12.

* * *

THREE FORMER hometown luminaries at Morgan State College are drilling with the squad under coach Bucky Jeannette. They are the high - scoring combination of Ron Garner and Charley Brightwell, and the clever backcourt man, Robert Briscoe.

Also working with the unit is Ben Swain, former Texas Southern University ace who was a member of the world champion Boston Celtics five last year. Charley Robinson, ex-Union University shotmaker from this city, and Charley Russell, younger brother of the Celtics' Bill Russell, are on hand, too.

The Baltimore management expects Tom (Tarzan) Spencer, mainstay of the 1958 - 59 team, to return to the fold. Spencer went to camp with the St. Louis Hawks, former NBA champs, but was cut last week.

* * *

AMONG OTHER top prospects in the Bullet entourage are Nick Davis and Johnny Nacinck of University of Maryland, and Lew Dickman of the crack North Carolina State University quint.

Saturday practice at the Coliseum is 2 p.m., Sunday starting time is 10 a.m.

Bald Eagle joins 'Table' in Classic

LAUREL, Md. — Bald Eagle has joined Round Table as the United States representatives in the $100,000 Washington, D.C International at Laurel Race Course on Nov. 11.

The four - year - old colt, owned by the Cain Hoy Stable of Harry F. Guggenheim, was invited to the eighth invitational mile and a half, scale weight grass classic by the American Selection Board last week and the telegram of acceptance was received Tuesday from Guggenheim. It read:

"Accept with pleasure your invitation for Bald Eagle to represent the United States in the Washington, D.C. International on Nov. 11."

Early last month, Travis M. Kerr, Round Table's owner, advised the board that the Laurel International was included on the fall schedule for the "top Horse of the Year" and, if things went as planned, the global classic would be the last race for the world's leading money winning horse before he was retired to stud in 1960.
