Last of turkey can be 'first meal' good

The last of the turkey can be "first meal" good when added to a rich, easy-to-do Carnation cream sauce and topped with light biscuits.

Double-rich Carnation adds cream - like goodness to all cooking and baking, but at only about one-third the cost of expensive cream. Always keep extra cans of Carnation handy on the shelf.

* * *

TURKEY TRICKS are made with one cup biscuit mix, one-third cup milk, one and one-third cups left over turkey, two tablespoons flour, one-half teaspoon salt, one - fourth teaspoon poultry seasoning, one-half cup chopped celery, two tablespoons chopped onion, one tablespoon chopped parsley, one tablespoon chopped pimiento, and one cup undiluted Carnation Evaported Milk.

Combine biscuit mix and milk. Mix well. Turn out onto floured board. Roll dough one-fourth inch thick and cut four biscuits with turkey-shaped cookie cutter. Place on ungreased baking sheet.

Bake in hot oven (450 degrees F.) about ten minutes. Combine remaining ingredients in saucepan. Heat over medium heat, stirring occasionally until mixture thickens.

Place in individual serving dishes. Top each with a turkey biscuit. Garnish with strips of pimiento or sprigs of parsley.

HALLOWEEN AND APPLES go together like love and marriage. The beautiful fruit, preparable in so many ways, is specially priced in your food stores, this week.

Warning sounded on mortgages

Have you got a mortgage on your home? You'd better look. Some 700 mortgages have been filed by house repair companies since the beginning of the year.

The mortgages have been made against hundreds of persons who have contracted with these companies to make repairs.

It is only when the repairs are not completed or when a payment is delinquent that some of the home owners looked at their contracts and found that they not only signed an agreement but had signed a mortgage up to 10 times the cost of the improvements.

They discovered that the interest rates run from 10 per cent up to 1,200 per cent.

* * *

UNDER THE salesman's rate sheet, a person who permits a company to put $1,000 in repairs on his house pays for it in 12 years at $8.33 a month principal payment.

By the end of the first year, the home - owner pays 11 per cent interest.

By the end of the fourth year he is paying 16 per cent. By the end of the eighth year he is paying 48 per cent.

By the end of the 10th year an interest rate of 1,200 per cent is paid.

At the beginning of the 10th year, a balance of only $91.67 was due on the original cost but interest at the rate of 100 per cent was also due. By the end of the year the balance of $16.67 is due but at a rate of 1,200 per cent interest.

* * *

AFTER NUMEROUS complaints from home owners, the NAACP is laying ground work to open investigation of these house improvement and repair firms, the prices they charge for work done and mortgages they file against citizens property.

Meantime home owners are urged to be cautious when signing legal papers of any kind. It is important that they see their private attorney or if the owner is unable to hire a lawyer, he should go to the Legal Aid Bureau.

Legal advice is necessary before home owners tie their property up in mortgages which may eventually lead to loss of the home, expensive legal entanglements and general dissatisfaction.

This warning comes after reports that 95 per cent of the home owners who are involved in contracts for house repairs are humble colored citizens who did not read the fine print and did not know they were mortgaging their homes.

In most cases home owners are not aware that they put their signature on the mortgage papers when they signed the contract for the home improvements to be done.

For an example, a citizen who signed a contract for improvements amounting to $1,000, later discovered that a mortgage for $19,000 had been placed against the property.

Other citizens signing for as little as $600 or $700 for improvements, later discovered their homes were under mortgage for more than 10 times that amount, as much as $9,000 or $10,000.

A closer look at the rate of interest reveals that the original rate of interest rises each year and by the end of 10 years the rate is 120 times the 10 per cent or 1,200 per cent.

* * *

VARIOUS METHODS are used by salesmen to secure home owners signatures on a series of five or more papers, one of which is a mortgage.

A contract, blank and with no figures stating the cost, is placed in the home owner's hands. He thinks that the extra copies, under the blank contract are simply carbon copies of the contract.

The other copies may include the mortgage, a waiver of estoppel, a confessed judgement note, a borrowers authorization form.

After all forms are signed by the home owners, the papers are filled in at a later date with cost of the work to be done and the amount of the mortgage.

When the mortgage is filed, it comes as a surprise to the home-owner who had no knowledge of what was done.

ALL SUCCESSFUL individuals have become such by hard work; by improving moments before they pass into hours, and hours that other people may occupy in the pursuit of pleasure.

Add spice and prunes to chuck roast for budget gourmet dish

For a truly delicious roast, made with chuck or rump of beef (which, by the way is being featured at a special price by Giant Food Stores) try Pot Roast with prunes.

And, to keep your meal definitely in the budget class, yet one you will be proud to serve, your roast should be served with potato pancakes or buttered noodles.

POT ROAST with prunes requires a four - pound chuck roast, three tablespoons fat, two onions, sliced, a half pound uncooked prunes, soaked; four cloves, salt and pepper, a cup of water and a cup of cider.

Diluted vinegar may be used instead of cider.

Brown meat on all sides in hot fat. Add onions and when browned, add remaining ingredients. Reduce heat, cover and simmer slowly until tender, three to four hours.

Add more water from time to time if necessary.

* * *

OR YOU may use chuck steak for your swiss steak.

Dredge three pounds of the steak (two inches thick) with a mixture of flour, salt and pepper, and three-fourth teaspoon paprika.

Brown on both sides in hot fat. Add two onions, sliced, a half cup water, a half cup sour cream, and two tablespoons grated cheese.

Cover pan closely and simmer until meat is tender, about two and a half hours.

This makes six servings.

County authorities warn that there's no school survey now

A spokesman for the Board of Education of Baltimore county has advised that the county public schools are not conducting a survey of children at the present time.

Many county citizens, he said, have recently received telephone calls from a person or persons purporting to be representatives of the county Board of Education requesting the names and ages of children.

It was disclosed that dates for all county - wide surveys conducted by the county public schools will be published several days in advance.

Furthermore, these surveys will either be conducted by staff on county Board of Education stationary or by individuals who call at citizens' homes in person with proper credentials authorizing them to solicit information, it was reported.

Miss Carol Pulley selected as Homecoming Queen for Bates High School; Miss Miriam Makell married to Ronald Henson; Mrs. Ila Neil's home is scene of party; Joint installation ceremonies held for Cook-Oinkey Post and its auxiliary; Club 36 gives scholarship dance; Homecoming and Harvest Week at Mt. Moriah Church

Charming and gifted Carole Pulley, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Williams Pelta way, is the Homecoming Queen of Bates Senior High School.

Carole, one of the top students at Bates, is president of the Student Council, a member of the Senior Chorus, the future teachers of America, and the Zinos youth group of the National Sorority of Phi Delta Kappa, Alpha Mu Chapter.

She serves as a youth representative of the Maryland Council for the Prevention and Treatment of Juvenile Delinquency, is president of Sub-District No. 2 of the Methodist Fellowship, and is a professional model for a local leading photographer.

Her hobbies are dancing, dramatics, reading and interior decorating. She plans to attend college and is considering dramatics and choreography as her major fields.

Carol will have as her attendants for homecoming, Misses Bevan, Barbara C. Gaither, Naomi Garnett and Brenda Smith.

Cupid came along and pierced the heart of another of the lovely Makell girls, the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Makell Sr., and on Saturday, Oct. 17, Miriam became the bride of Ronald Henson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Turner of Brown Woods.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents on Kirby Lane with the Rev. Robert Lane officiating.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a beautiful ankle-length gown of white Venetian lace with white satin slippers. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Joyce Neal, maid of honor, was attired in a nylon chiffon gown of shrimp pink, and Deborah Makell, flower girl, was all in white.

The bridegroom has as his best man, Dauncey Holland of Eastport.

* * *

IMMEDIATELY following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Makell received informally for their daughter and son-in-law.

All of the bride's sisters and brothers, teachers in the public school system, were present for her marriage. They are Betty Coleman, Patricia Brown, Gloria Graham, Deborah Makell, John Makell Jr. and James Makell.

Other relatives who attended the wedding are the bride's aunts, Mesdames Lula Ugram, church, Mildred Toots of Baltimore, Sarah Randall of Sylvia R. Jones and Teresa Hicks, all of Annapolis.

Also, Mesdames Lydia Payne, Beulah Payne, Pauline Hill and Gloria Wilson. Miss Paulette Payne, Mr. Louis Payne and Masters Louis and Rodney Payne, all of Washington.

Mrs. Catherine Lane, God mother of the bride and James Henson, a brother of the bridegroom, were also present.

Among other guests were:

Messrs and Mesdames Dauncey Holland, Cornelius Johnson, John Makell Jr., Alvin Anderson, Carrantan Anderson and William Swann, Mesdames Charles Coates, Juanita Price, Beatrice Harris, James Larkins, Lucille Allen, Elder and Mrs. Calvin Herbert, Miss Frederica Broxton, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Coleman and Messrs. T. Norwood Brown and Robert Smith.

The bride is a graduate of Bates High School and attended Morgan State College. The bridegroom is a student at Pratt Institute in New York.

After a brief honeymoon the couple will reside in Brooklyn, N.Y.

The bride's father is treasurer of the Parole School PTA and is trustee and treasurer of the Mt. Olive AME Church in the Parole area of Annapolis.

LES-IL-CHATEAU, the attractive and comfortable waterfront home of Mrs. Ila Neil at Venice Beach was the scene of a gay all-day beach party on Saturday, when Lucile Woolfolk, popular oral hygienist of Dover, Del. entertained friends from the Eastern Shore, Washington and Annapolis.

Because the day was such a delightful one, and the weather so ideal, there was fun galore inside the house and out-of-doors. Most of the delicious menu, which included broiler chicken halves, steaks and barbecued spare ribs, was cooked on a barbecue grill.

Those who enjoyed the gracious hospitality of Miss Woolfolk included William and Ruth Lewis, Thomas A. Jeter, the physician, Marguerite Mrs. George Ryder, Cecile Henry and Theophilus Parker, all of Annapolis; A. Jack and Anita Thomas of Pasadena, Md.; Elizabeth Dennard (Mrs. Turner) and Bessie Newsome, both of Washington; Cecil and Louise Burton of Arundel - on - the - Bay; and William H. and Eloise Richardson of Annapolis.

AN ANNUAL affair looked forward to in Annapolis every year is the joint installation program of Cook-Pinkney Post No. 141 and its auxiliary of the American Legion, which was held on Tuesday night.

Dr. Theodore H. Johnson, practicing physician here and president of the Anne Arundel County Branch NAACP, was the main speaker of the evening.

Dr. Johnson discussed world problems and paid a tribute to members of the Legion. He pointed out the great need for such an organization and stressed the idea of our group realizing the seriousness of the crucial period the world is going through.

The Friendly Charus, with Roland Colbert as its leader, sang two numbers, "Let Us Break Bread Together" and "Within Your Soul." Glenn Brown, tenor, took the solo lead of the latter number.

Among special guests present and who participated on the program were Mrs. Emma Lawrence, vice - president - at - large of the Department of Maryland of the American Legion, who installed the officers of the auxiliary; Mrs. Helen Dorsey and Mrs. Catherine Randall, both past vice-presidents-at-large and members of the Walter Green Unit at Baltimore.

Also Mrs. Lula Upchurch of Pride of Annapolis Temple No. 76 of the Elks; Alexander Malone of Baltimore, past vice-commander - at-large; Edgar Williams, a past commander, Maurice Henson and William Ballad, all of Walter Green Post.

Also George Dodson, past county commander, James Meade of Post 139 and William Kirk, county commander, who installed officers of Cook Pinkney Post.

Immediately following the program, a tasty collation and other refreshments were served.

Post officers are:

Eddie Mitchell, commander; Phillip Thompson, first vice commander; Herbert Moulden, Second vice - commander; Richard Chase, adjutant; William H. Richardson, finance officer; E. B. Notis, service officer; Fred DeJesus, chaplain, and Charles Davage, sergeant at arms.

Unit officers are:

Mrs. Elizabeth Randall, president; Mrs. Matilda Chase, first vice president; Mrs. Lucille Lee, second vice - president; Mrs. Julia Diggs, recording secretary; Mrs. Emma Howard, financial secretary; Mrs. Ida E. Martin, treasurer; Mrs. Mary Colbert, chaplain; Mrs. Lena Foreman, assistant chaplain; Mrs. Daisy Moreland and Mrs. Rebecca Gilchrist, color bearers; Mrs. Eva Pinkney, sergeant at arms.

Mrs. Eleanor Pinkney is chairman of child welfare, Mrs. Nanie Green, chairman of the poppy sale and Mrs. Pearl Sims is chairman of membership.

CLUB 36, a group made up of members of the 1936 graduating class of Bates High School, sponsored a dance at Galesville in the Community Center on Saturday night, for the benefit of its scholarship fund. Music was furnished by the LaVonos Band of Annapolis.

Each year the club gives a scholarship to a worthy student of Bates. Last year Emerson Brown, the son of Rev. and Mrs. Eugene Brown, was the recipient and is now a student at Central State College at Wilberforce, Ohio.

Officers of the club are Eli Arthur, president; Mrs. Clementina Young, vice-president; Miss Lillian Johnson, secretary; Richard Chase, treasurer, Mrs. Eugenia Johnson, co-chairmen of activities committee.

Homecoming and Harvest Week, an annual celebration at the Mt. Moriah AME Church, ended on Sunday, bringing as its guest speaker at the morning service, the Rev. S. W. Williams of Newport News, Va.

The Rev. Mr. Williams, now the pastor of the St. Paul AME Church at Newport News, where he has served for nine years, formerly was a pastor of Mt. Moriah for seven years.

He used as his subject "When a Man Prays," which grew out of the text taken from II Chronicles 7:14, 15.

The Rev. Mr. Williams emphasized the power of prayer and described it as a telephone installed in man's soul to call on God.

Mrs. Joyce McManus, contralto, sang "I've Done My Work" by Carrie Jacobs Bond, and all other music was furnished by the Senior Young People's and Junior Choirs.

Mrs. Ruby Powell lead the responsive reading and Mrs. Cecelia Greene lined the deacon's bench. Mrs. S. W. Williams, the wife of the speaker, was a guest.

HOMECOMING and Harvest Week at Mt. Moriah is carried out spiritually and decoratively. The uniqueness of the decorations throughout the church is significant of the occasion and season of the year.

This year the altar was beautifully decorated with dried arrangements of milkweed pods, broom sage, wild asters, hydrangeas, dogwood leaves and oak leaves, which were shone throughout the grounds on each side of the altar in red and gold.

Blended in with these were pumpkins, fruits and vegetables, and large dried ears of corn embedded in their shucks, added to the attractiveness of the arrangements, plus containers of old-fashion garden flowers, which all tended to give an atmosphere of a home coming and much warmth to made one think of families getting together for the harvest.

Mrs. Cecelia Greene, who decorates the church this year, and is head of the young people's work in the church and superintendent of the Sunday School, was crowned queen for having reported the most finance from her department during the week.

Immediately following the service, the harvest dinner was served when members and guests of the church dined together.

In the evening Mrs. Green's group presented an interesting program, and thus culminated this auspicious occasion.

Mrs. Mary Booth was chairman for the celebration and William Edley chaired arrangements for the dinner.

On Sunday evening at 8 p.m. annual Stewards Day will be observed, at which time the Junior Stewards of the church will be installed. Music will be furnished by the Gospel Choir.

IF YOU are hungry for an evening of unusual entertainment, why not keep open the date of Nov. 2 so that you can trek to Washington for just such an occasion?

The National Sorority of Phi Delta Kappa, Beta Chapter, is presenting the famous dancer, Geoffrey Holder and his company of Trinidad at Lisner Auditorium in Washington on Monday evening, Nov. 2 at 8:30 o'clock.

Geoffrey, 27 years old, who stands six feet six inches tall, is reputed to be one of the most prodigious multifaceted artists to arrive on the scene since Orson Welles.

Only four years out of Port-Au-Spain Trinidad, Geoffrey, a most successful dancer, has been premier danseur with the Metropolitan Opera Company, an established painter, who has had four one-man art shows at the Barone Gallery in New York, and a featured stage actor who garnered excellent reviews as "Lucky" in Michael Myerberg's production of "Waiting for Godot."

More recently Geoffrey invaded a new medium, television, in the U.S. Steel production of "The Bottle Imp" co-starring Farley Granger, and as the "Genie" in the CBS conquering it with rave reviews.

* * *

ADDING TO all of these accomplishments, Geoffrey was the first Trinidadian to receive a Guggenheim Foundation Art Fellowship, designs costumes, choreograph, and is the lead dancer in his own dance group.

He was the first to introduce the haunting and melodious beat drums in America, having brought his drummers here from Trinidad as part of his troupe in "House of Flowers," the Harold Arlen - Truman Capote exotic musicale that brought him to Broadway.

His wife is the beautiful Carmen De Lavallade, who is premier danseuse with the Metropolitan Opera Company.

After reading all of this about Geoffrey, Annopolitans and others in Washington and elsewhere can see that Phi Delta Kappa is offering a great opportunity for an exciting evening.

Proceeds from the door receipts will go toward the sorority's scholarship fund. This column will be happy to accept reservations, and the columnist may be reached by telephone at Col. 3-3250.
