WOMENPOWER'S second annual conference and luncheon held in the Sheraton - Belvedere Hotel, Baltimore, Sunday, had its masculine touch, too. Fleming, left, as well as a battery of chic, politically - minded women. Next, left to right, are including the principal speaker, Dr. G. James Miss Mae Daniels, Mrs. Catherine Henry, Mrs. Gertrude Urquhart, Mrs. Susie Graham, Mrs. Mary Brown, Mrs. Lucille Johnson, Mrs. Hortense Maddox, Mrs. Clara Rogers, Mrs. Phyllis Vaughn, Mrs. Bernice Wade and Mrs. Florence Maultsley.

CLUB OF THE WEEK

Creoles think of poor ere they plan play

At a gay Creoles' dance when the girls dress to the hilt and fling care to the winds, no one would dream of the seriousness of these young matrons when they are NOT at play.

For the club, during its 12 years of existence has a record of civic accomplishments that few town clubs can boast of.

They were among the first club groups to see the needs of Crownsville State Hospital and turn their attention to aid of patients there.

* * *

FOR SEVEN years the members worked like beavers to bring cheer to inmates at the institution. They provided television sets for the boys' ward, for the men's and women's wards, as well.

They obtained card tables and sliding cupboards for the women's wards, and for the older women and men whose sights were impaired, they provided radios for their entertainment.

* * *

LATER, they turned their attention to Provident Hospital, for which they presented the first ultra violet lamp for the skin clinic.

Their next project was a sustaining scholarship for a blind boy, who is now studying in Philadelphia.

At present they are working on a life membership in the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

* * *

WHEN MEMBERS met in the lovely Poplar Grove Ave home of Mrs. Henrietta Thoms last week, they were elated over having passed the half-way mark on their NAACP membership through the contribution of $300.

And believe it or not, they celebrated by wrapping gifts for a Yuletide project which will provide cheer for patients at Henryton Hospital and plans for providing baskets for the needy at Christmas.

Fun part of the evening was a natal day shower of gifts and cards for the hostess.

* * *

MEMBERS ATTENDING the meeting were:

Mesdames Margaret Austin, president; Margaret Durham, Elizabeth Ford, Margaret Hawkins, Alease Jones, Romaine Taylor, Henrietta Thoms, Rosita Uncles, Willie Valentine and Catherine Young.

The members' husbands joined them later to share in the birthday party they were having for Mrs. Thoms.

(Editor's Note: This is another in the series of features on Baltimore Clubs. Each club selected will receive an AFRO cash award for its favorite charity. Nominate your club for this award. Tell what your club has done, is doing, and its plans for the future. Give names of officers and members. Send to Woman's Editor, AFRO-AMERICAN, 628 N. Eutaw St.)

MRS. LOIS MERRITT and Mrs. Evelyn Ward have been employed four and five years, respectively, at the Druid Health Center. They were among 106 guests at the 20th anniversary observance at Wilson's Restaurant on Friday.

Druid Center marks twentieth birthday

The fondest memories in the 20 years of the Druid Health Center, have been the people who staffed it and the milestones in its history.

On Friday night, at Wilson's Restaurant, 106 persons, including some of the Center's past and present staff members, gathered to observe the Center's 20th birthday.

Dr. Macco Williams, medical director of the Center, who was also main speaker for the birthday observance, led the guests through the center's history and recalling the terms of service of the center's past and present staffers.

Moments from the history recalled, included the birth of the center — when the city purchased the building in the 130 block Druid Hill Ave., in 1938, for use by the Health Department.

On Oct. 3, 1939, the first crew of public health nurses and the first nursing supervisor came to occupy the second floor of the building.

* * *

OCT. 30 of the same year, came the prenatal clinic; Nov. 6, the venereal disease clinic; Nov. 27, the well baby clinic.

The Druid Health Center was dedicated on February 23, 1940.

In 1942, the chest clinic opened, and in 1946 the Center got its first medical social worker, Miss Harriet Trader, appointed by the Maryland Tuberculosis Association.

With its growing duties, and the growing population, the center opened a branch in the Gilmore Housing Projects in 1948.

In its twelfth year, the Center, still growing, had its status altered to that of a Health District, and its boundaries were enlarged.

Four years later, in 1954, the Center opened its streptomycin clinic, and the inoculation clinic.

This year, the center's twentieth, finds Druid Center still taking broad steps forward.

Ground breaker ceremonies were held recently for the Center's new building, at North Ave. and Cumberland St., adjoining the new library.

* * *

ITS NEW BUILDING was made possible in 1955 when voters approved a $1,000,000 loan for its construction.

The following persons and their terms of service were recalled by Dr. Williams.

Twenty years continuously — Dr. Lucius Butler (who acted a master of ceremonies for the "birthday party," Drs. Louis E. Harmon, Charles D. Lee, George H. Pendleton, J. Doyland Shepperd, Walter Sisco, Clifton and Miss Minnie L. Corbin.

Nineteen years continuously — Mesdames Ella Hughes and Agnes Pilgrim.

Seventeen years continuously, Dr. W. Atwell Jones.

Sixteen years continuously, Mrs. Anita K. Henson and Mrs. Erdie Scott.

Fifteen years continuously — Mrs. Lillian Mills, Dr. M. Donald Bando. Mesdames Vivian Dougherty, Dorothy W. Wiggin, Irene S. Taylor.

Members of the staff of 1939: Mesdames Dorothea Fox, Olga M. Chambers, Margaret T. Ellis, Margaret L. Kockerman, Cornelia Phillips, Frances Brown, Florence Coates, Rose B. Lash and Mary Jenkins.

Also Charles R. Campbell, P. J. Winston.

Other former staff members include:

Mrs. E. Dever, Mrs. Edna Kenny, Mrs. Anna Persch, Mrs. Mildred Gambrill, H. P. Hughes and George Shuper.

Dr. Carl Murphy, chairman of the administrative and legal redress committees presided. Mrs. Maxy Hawkins, chairman of the nominating committee, read the roster of officers.

Prior to the election of officers, Dr. Murphy recalled:

"Until we found Mrs. Lillie Mae Jackson, we had no such devoted leader.

"Some of us have made the NAACP an avocation. But Mrs. Jackson has made it her vocation, devoting her life to the work of the organization.

"She has brought in members of her family who have also devoted their lives to the NAACP and they are all found working together with God for the cause of freedom for us all."

* * *

IN ACCEPTING the reelection to the post of president, Mrs. Jackson pledged added devotion for the coming year.

She also called for the aid of more citizens who are needed to work for full citizenship for all.

NAACP tries man-to-man sales pitch

Nothing beats the personal approach in selling anything and the local NAACP Chapter has added to its annual membership drive a phase called "An Hour To Freedom."

Through this program individuals are urged to personally contact someone in his own neighborhood or on his job and tell him of the importance of supporting the NAACP.

Officials report that there have been a substantial number of persons taking membership after having been personally reminded of the work toward full citizenship being waged by the NAACP — 24 hours a day 365 days a year.

Any one interested in giving an hour's work can join up by calling LA. 3-8503-4 or by coming by the NAACP office at 1234 Druid Hill Ave.

The new program has been so effective that some volunteers have been cited to what has become known as the Hour to Freedom Honor Roll.
