Thought For Today— Blessed is the man who does well with out the thought of reward.

CLUB OF THE WEEK — Children are the main interest of the Gimpers Club, which will be dispensing cheer in hospitals this coming holiday. Shown, left to right, seated, are Mrs. Phyliss Sands, Mrs. Jacquelyn Howard, Miss Quanita Harris, Miss Joyce Wheatley, Mrs. Elizabeth Miller; standing: Miss Audrey McNair, Mrs. Shirley Watson, Miss Patricia Maddox, Miss Shirley Owens, Mrs. Arlene White, Mrs. Jean Jackson, and Miss Mary Sewell.

Children hold top interest for 'Gimpers'

Children hold top charm for the Gimpers.

The club group, composed of teachers in the city schools or those training to become teachers, have a program that centers around kiddies.

Come Christmas and the club members will be as busy as bees dispensing cheer in children's wards of hospitals in this city.

• • •

GIMPERS TAKE programs as well as presents to make up for what the kiddies will be missing because of ill health.

Thus, working with children becomes the avocation as well as the vocations of this group of charming young women.

• • •

THE GIMPERS, as a club group, is only three years old, but in the brief period they have become solidly established in the local social whirl.

When they held a "Beatnik" Cabaret at Unity Hall in Dundalk, Md., Friday evening, 200 of their friends came along for the fun as well as to aid them in gathering funds for the hospital project.

• • •

MRS. ARLENE WHITE is president of the club, and the other officers include:

Miss Joyce Wheatley, vice president; Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, treasurer; Mrs. Phyllisa Sands, secretary.

Members also include:

Mrs. Jacquelyn Howard, Miss Quanita Harris, Miss Audrey McNair, Mrs. Shirley Watson, Miss Patricia Maddox;

Miss Shirley Owens, Mrs. Jean Jackson and Miss Mary Sewell.

CL. 4-7545

The marriage of Miss Mary Lou Sutton, daughter of Mr. James Sutton of King and Queen County, Virginia, to Mr. James Perry took place last Saturday, Nov. 28.

The very pretty ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. Moses Williams and held at the bride's home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. William Smallwood of 424 E. Lafayette Ave.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, William Smallwood, is an employee of a garment company, and is a new resident of the city.

She was a dream in a waltz length soft white gown of faille with a fitted wood bodice. The rounded neckline was sprinkled with rhinestones. Her sleeves were of lace quarter length and she wore a tiny feathered hat. Her rhinestone accessories completed her ensemble and she carried a small white Bible with tiny white buds and satin streamers falling from it.

MRS. MARIE SMALLWOOD, aunt of the bride and matron of honor was charmy in blue sheer nylon gown featuring a boat type neckline with the full skirt falling to the ankles. With this she wore blue rhinestone accessories.

Mr. Perry, a native of Ingleft, N.C., is now employed as a supervisor in the engineering department of Fort Halabird.

Best man was Ernest Maker and Larry Roane was the ring bearer.

Mrs. Nancy Sutton, mother of the bride, was stunning in a pale blue lace gown with a full skirt and a round neckline, off street length. She wore blue accessories.

Serving the reception held following the nuptials were guests from out of town:

Mrs. Louis Silker, Herman Silker, William Perry, Dee Silver and Randolph Revis of North Carolina.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Milton of Delaware.

Messrs and Mesdames Waverly Johnson, James Perry Jr. of Virginia.

Baltimore guests: Archie Simms, Henry Pollard and William Smallwood.

Mesdames Mary Monzon La Ta M. Jones, Euphenia Ross, Anna Warren, Rebecca Miles, Dasie Dedeaux, Alberta Barrett, Viola Jones.

Misses Jeannette Pollard, Katherine Williams, Lannie McCormick, Georgia Smallwood, Theresa Smallwood and Charmaine Dorsey, Rene, Cheryl and Roslyn Pollard.

Willie Elliott, Ernest Maker, Alexander Jackson, Robert Samuels, Samuel McClinton, Harvey Monroe, Henry Elliott and Larry Roane. Willie Moody and John Reynolds.

Woman's Auxiliary of Crownsville holds general meeting; Rev. C. Y. Trigg to speak Dec. 18; Mothers Club of Lula G. Scott Elementary School holds Christmas party

When the Woman's Auxiliary of Crownsville State Hospital held its general meeting at the hospital on Sunday the program was supplemented by the presentation of the newly organized self-government group made up of patients of the hospital.

As officers of the group were presented to those in attendance, a surge of inspiration was in the atmosphere and the efforts of it were on the faces of the members of the audience.

This indicated hope for the maintaining and perpetuating of a stronger volunteer program to aid these unfortunate people in their effort to again become normal human beings.

Remarks on the work at the hospital and the auxiliary with its volunteer program were made by Dr. Umberta E. Wenzel, director of psychiatric education.

Speaker for the afternoon was Mrs. Louise Shumaker, district supervisor of public welfare in Baltimore.

Miss Shumaker, who is conducting a program of group methods in public welfare, discussed "Groups and Group Life."

Also during the meeting the Heart Throbs, a club of women from Baltimore, were presented with a citation from the auxiliary "in recognition of its noteworthy achievements and outstanding contributions to the auxiliary and the hospital during the year."

• • •

THE CLUB sponsored a tea for the benefit of the hospital and with the proceeds, purchased a television set for patients in Cottage 12.

Officers and members are: Mrs. Geneva Young, president, Mrs. Marie Diggs secretary; Mrs. Luvenia Coleman, treasurer; Mrs. Harriet Demory, business manager; Mrs. Queen Esther Seay, Mrs. Gwendolyn Herbert and Miss Clara Brown.

Among other things which were discussed during the business session, of the meeting, was a report on Tag Month. The partial report given gave a total of $578.78.

Although there is still a crying need for more volunteer service at the hospital, especially directed to women in Annapolis, in the first issue of the auxiliary's handbook it was reported that 74 volunteers, during the year, gave a total of 2,716 hours.

Included were 306 hours for coffee hours, 44 for the trouble clinic, 230 for secretarial work and 2,366 for the canteen.

In addition, 1835 administrative hours were given, thereby making a total of 4,001 hours of service.

• • •

PLANS TO establish a shop at the hospital for the personal needs of the patients are now in the making by the auxiliary.

Its objective will be to encourage patients to take an interest in themselves and therefore lift up their morale.

A program which should be of much interest to the public will be the administrative side of the hospital will be the establishing of a Book Club among the patients.

Its formal inception will take place on Friday evening, Dec. 18, 7 p.m. at the hospital.

Sponsored by Volunteer Services of which Mrs. Roy Hamilton is director, the main feature of the program will be a travel talk by the Rev. C. Y. Trigg, of Deale, Md.

The distinguished clergyman was pastor of the Salem Methodist Church, the largest of its denomination in New York City, for 13 years before his retirement in 1953.

A Virginian by birth, he did his undergraduate work at Howard University and Gammon Theological Seminary, and his graduate work at Columbia and New York Universities. He served as a U.S. Army chaplain during World War I.

His father, Dr. Frank Trigg, was at one time president of Bennett College.

In 1954 just before his retirement, the Rev. Mr. Trigg made a tour around the world over the Pacific to Honolulu, Japan, China, Burma, Judea, Pakistan, the Holy Land, Greece, Italy, France, Germany, Portugal, England and all the African countries.

His talk will be accompanied by a display of various pieces of art work and other things from some of these countries, especially from Africa. The public is invited to this meeting and refreshments will be served.

• • •

ANOTHER PROGRAM of great worth, educationally, will be presented at the hospital Cafeteria Building on December 23 and 30 and January 6. It will be in the form of a seminar, centered around the subject "Religion and Psychiatry."

A detailed program and the names of participants will appear in this column in next week's issue of this newspaper. The public is invited.

• • •

WHEN THE Mothers Club of the Lula G. Scott Elementary School held its annual Christmas party on Wednesday evening, Mrs. William H. Richardson, the children's librarian of the Anne Arundel County Public Library, Annapolis Branch, was speaker.

Mrs. Richardson used as her subject, "Why It Is Important for Children and Adults to Read," and told of the services of the public library. Along with her talk was an attractive display of children's books, many of which were suggestive for Christmas giving.

Those who attended the party were also given books of book lists and book marks. At the end of her talk, Mrs. Richardson was presented an orchid corsage by a member of the faculty, Miss Willa Mae Pargerson, coordinator of the club.

Other participants were Mrs. Eunice Nick, who served welcome, address and Mrs. Daisy Thompson, who read. Mrs. Christine Scott served as chairman of the program.

The tables were beautifully centered their entire length with holly, laden with berries, fresh from the woods. The tasty menu was served by Misses Carolyn Thompson and Ella Mae Graham.

The club, a very active group connected with the school, has its project at present, the furnishing of the sick room at the school. A Mankless Wedding to be given on Jan. 15, will be a benefit affair for the club goal.

Members of the faculty who attended the party were: Mesdames Doris Brown, Frances Brown, Olivia Thompson and Julia Smith. Mrs. Alice Battle, principal, was also present.

A real gesture of thoughtfulness and charity: The Younger set made a needs family very happy during the Thanksgiving holidays by giving it a well filled basket.

• • •

ATTENTION ALL boys and girls from 4 to 14 years of age!

There will be a YMCA-Anthony Theatre Christmas Party at the Anthony on Dec. 24 from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

There will be movies and Christmas treats. The party will be sponsored by the Anthony Theater, the Phalanx Fraternity, the Gradale Sorority, and the Merrimac Tri-Hi-Y.

• • •

FOLLOWING THE business session of the Sollers Point High School PTA meeting on last Monday evening, the program committee rendered a fine Christmas program. The Senior Glee Club of the school was on hand to render the Christmas music under the direction of Mrs. (Tara S. Green.

A brief Christmas message was given by the Rev. James Everett. The Rohian Four (Calvin, Marion, Delores and Shirley) rendered two selections. Gloria James and Bernadette Knight did a piano duo. Delores Lewis and Sybil Cooke sang solos.

The Rev. King Rohian is president and Charles W. Pleacher is the principal of the school.

• • •

THE BRAGG Elementary School will present a playlet, "The Cobbler's Story," at the PTA on Monday evening for the benefit of the parents. Roland E. Harris is principal of the school. The same program will be presented for the teachers on Saturday morning.

The Health Committee will sponsor a Christmas party at the Community Center, 411 A New Pittsburg Ave. on Monday, Dec. 21 at 7 p.m. Admission will be an article of food or a new or used toy to be distributed to the needy. Refreshments will be served. R. L. Abbott is chairman.

• • •

THERE WILL be a Doll Show at the Youth Center, 503 Avondale Rd. on Monday evening, Dec. 28. Young people and adults are urged to enter their favorite dolls in the contest.

On last Sunday evening, the Sister Missionary Society of Union Baptist Church of Sparrows Point observed Friends and Family Hour under the direction of Mrs. Vara Cooke, wife of the pastor. Many members of Mrs. Cooke's family joined her for the celebration.

A fine program was rendered in spite of the down pour of rain. The first selections that was rendered was— "Didn't It Rain."

Among the visitors who are friends were the Senior Missionary Society of the New Shiloh Baptist Church, the Senior Choir of Friendship Baptist Church, the Senior Choir of Greater St. John Baptist Church, the Senior Choir of Galilee Baptist Church, and the Statham Specials. Mrs. Hannah Dawson is president of the Union Missionary Society. Mrs. Bernice Wynn served as mistress of ceremonies. The Rev. Carlton O. Cooke is pastor.

• • •

MRS. MARY MITCHELL will present a song feast at the Union Baptist Church on next Sunday evening for the benefit of the Junior Choir anniversary which will be held on Sunday, Dec. 20. Mrs. Mitchell will have 100 voices for her program.

Wedding bells will ring for Miss La Verne Beale Young and Rufus Garson Kelly Jr., on Saturday, Dec. 19 at the Walbrook - Trinity Presbyterian Church. Miss Young is a music teacher in the elementary schools of Baltimore County.

The Patapsco Neck Professional Group held its regular meeting on Thursday at the beautiful new Dundalk Senior High School. The two topics that were discussed were "Traffic Safety in Baltimore County" and "School Safety."

These topics were ably discussed by Walter Gordon, director of Transportation and Safety for the Baltimore County Board of Education and William Graham, director of Public Safety for Baltimore County.

The officers for the current year are Richard Davis, chairman, Dundalk YMCA; Cornelius Gisriel, vice chairman, Dundalk Junior High School, and Mrs. Maeives Addison, secretary - treasurer, Turner Station Public Library.

• • •

ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON at 3:30 o'clock, Elder C. Green and his entire congregation will worship with the Union Baptist Church on Sparrows Point.

Mrs. Frances Stokes Allen of Walnut Ave. sustained a broken leg and head injuries when she was struck by an automobile on Avondale Rd. between Walnut Ave. and Carver Rd. on last Saturday night.

Mrs. Allen was carrying her young infant in her arms when the accident occurred, but the baby did not fall from the mother's tight grip.

Mrs. Eugenia McCutchen of Lake City, S.C. is spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Katherine Pounds of 122 Oak Ave.

• • •

THE ANDRTW J. EVANS LODGE No. 102 of the Masons is making preparation to donate baskets to needy families for Christmas. Clarence Wake is the secretary.

Howard L. Brooks, a teacher at the Bragg Elementary School, lost his father during the week. The community extends sympathy to Mr. Brooks and his family.

Since this is the Christmas season, you will have to get your news in to me promptly so that I may get it into the office in time for publication.

DOING THEIR BIT to provide extra things for patients at Crownsville State Hospital are these volunteer workers who belong to the Red Cross Grey Ladies, a group which has a record of 10 years service to the hospital. Photo was made at office of Mrs. Roy Hamilton, seated left, volunteer coordinator at the hospital. Many more volunteers are needed, says Mrs. Hamilton. Those pictured with her are left to right standing, Mesdames Bessie Anderson, Bertha Phillips, Lola White, Lillie M. DeBerry, Avonia Nichols, Mary Grant and Sarah Wilson. Seated right, Mrs. Bessie Poindexter.

IN ADDITION to the party refreshments, the group brought the following useful gifts for the Patient's Vocational Shops: an electric drill ironing board, stainless steel silverware, electric iron and many other useful supplies for the two shops.

The Social Service Department thanks the group in behalf of the patients and appreciate the continued interest.

We are deeply grieved by the death of one of our co-workers, Mrs. Pearl Payne. Her long years of service to Henryton is a significant factor in our sorrow, inasmuch as many of us had enjoyed with her, a mutual bond of attachment. Our sympathies extend to any of her surviving loved ones.
