THOUGHT FOR TODAY

By ZORAH ELICKSON

"KNOWLEDGE AND TIMBER SHOULDN'T BE USED UNTIL THEY ARE SEASONED. . . ."

Knowledge is, of course one of the most potent forces available to mankind. On the individual's level it is the key to success that we all cherish; to some degree, however, knowledge alone, without the benefit of experience —seasoning, if you prefer —seldom enjoys its most efficient and rewarding application.

As knowledge steadies and matures in the workshop of life, it becomes an increasingly more productive tool, working for the good of the individual and the community.

Although an eagerness to put knowledge to work as quickly as possible is understandable, it should be realized that only seasoning can knock off the sharp corners and smooth and polish it to working perfection.

It should be realized, too, that at time of bereavement it is a great comfort to the family to rely on complete service that attends to all details. Such complete services are available at ELLIOTT FUNERAL HOME, 1129 N. Caroline St. Phone Eastern 7-6290.

1600 inmates to be given chest X-rays

A portable chest X-ray unit will be set up at the penitentiary on Monday, Dec. 21 and the survey will be completed on Monday, Dec. 28.

The assistance of the Maryland Tuberculosis Association in this program is made possible by the annual Christmas Seal Sale which is now in progress, says H. Riall Jackson, chairman of the Baltimore City Seal Sale.

Mr. Jackson said that another Christmas Seal chest X-ray service is available to anyone over the age of 18 at the Screening Center at 823 North Charles St.

The Christmas Seal Sale will last until Christmas Day.
