Soviets blast U.S. as bastion of hate

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviets described the murder of a United Mine Workers union official as "another political killing" in an America "drunk with aggressive ambitions and racial hatreds."

The government newspaper Izvestia said Joseph Yablonski's murder follows "political assassinations" of President John F. Kennedy, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King and Malcolm X.

"The assassinations of political figures in broad daylight, before television cameras and in the presence of their relatives, have become everyday occurrences and the standard of political life in contemporary America," Izvestia said.

"Mankind with anger and scorn rejects America's claim to moral leadership of the world."

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — KEN WILSON, AFRO vice president for advertising, will be a speaker at the Jan. 16-18 board meeting here of the American Association of Minority Consultants. Other speakers will be D. Parke Gibson, author of "The $30 Billion Negro," and Al Bell, executive vice president of Stax Records.

Rhodes Scholar sees home rule

WASHINGTON — After a hectic week of receiving congratulations, posing for pictures and talking with reporters, George R. Keys Jr. headed for his final semester at the United States Air Force Academy, trying hard to be a "a normal guy."

It is going to be tough going for 21-year-old Cadet Keys, who this week was named one of 32 American winners of Rhodes Scholarships.

Young Keys views the winning of the scholarship, which provides for two years of study at Oxford University in England, as "a great opportunity" and "a real challenge," and he plans to make the best of it.

He is a senior at the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo., and will leave the States in September for the two years at Oxford. At the famed English University, he will study philosophy, politics and economics.

He will have an opportunity to concentrate in one particular subject, but had not made such a selection at this early date. Doubtless, however, it will be politics for Keys, though only 21, has his eye on service in government and possibly running for office.

Unlike many Washington educated youths, Keys is anxious to return to the nation's capital at the conclusion of his studies. He says he "loves the city" and besides has strong emotional ties here, thus would like to always live near the city if not in it.

The Rhodes Scholar says home rule is a necessity for Washington, and when it comes he would like to be among those seeking office to help "unite the people" in some positive activity that would fight the "hopelessness and helplessness of the poor."

Prior to doing something of that kind, young Keys would like to travel, perhaps to Africa where "great changes are taking place" and where it is a challenge to be a "part of change."

The 21-year-old Rhodes Scholar is, in fact, a normal student who is dedicated to his goals, devoted to his tasks, and deeply concerned with the uplift of those unblessed with his talent and family affluence.

He was selected for the $2,944 scholarship because he is outstanding in "character, leadership, physical vigor and intellect."

At the Air Academy, he is on the superintendent's list, the equivalent of the honor roll, and is active in boxing, basketball and football. He majors in modern European history.

Son of Mrs. Clara S. and Mr. George Keys Sr., of the 5200 block New Hampshire Ave., NW, Keys is 1966 graduate of Western High School, where he was "academically superior." He attended Western at a time when students could choose the school they wanted to attend.

Prior to his study at Western, Keys attended Keene Elementary and McFarland and Gordon Junior High School.

Mr. Keys Sr., the Rhodes Scholar's father, is a retired Government Printing Office worker.

Wilson Pickett signed to $150,000-a-year pact

NEW YORK — Wilson Pickett, one of the nation's hottest soul singers, signed a longterm contract with Atlantic records last week that could guarantee him as much as $150,000 a year in royalty payments.

Recently returned from a successful European tour, Pickett inked the pact with Jerry Wexler, Executive Vice President of the disc firm, who termed it "one of the best contracts" that a record star ever signed.

With Atlantic since 1964, the former Prattville, Ala., gospel singer is also a top-flight songwriter, having penned many of his record hits that include "Funky Broadway", "Hey Jude", "Stagger Lee" and "In The Midnight Hour."

Joining the Falcons vocal group in Detroit in 1959, Pickett won new found fame with his unique style.

With the Falcons he wrote "I Found A Love" which became three biggest hit. And when he left them in '63 to do a single, his first song, "If You Need Me", won the raves of disc jockeys across the nation.

Sammy Jr., Andy Griffith are Dean Martin guests

NEW YORK — Sammy Davis Jr., Andy Griffith, Paul Lynde and Glenn Ash join Dean Martin for music and fun on NBC Television Network's "The Dean Martin Show" Jan. 15.

Martin's solos are "Open Up the Door and Let the Good Times In" and "I Don't Know Why" (Ken Lane at piano). Davis sings "Wichita Lineman" and teams with Dean in a medley.

Griffith turns carnival barker and sings "Lydia the Tattooed Lady" to an appropriately tattooed young lady. In a comedy sketch, Griffith portrays a father chatting with his son (Martin).

Lynde performs in two comedy sketches, first as a salesman of dancing lessons and then as a pianist in a nightclub trying to cope with boisterous patrons (Martin and Griffith). Ash mixes country music and comedy.

Jesuits aid

CHICAGO — A group of local home buyers has received a grant of $150,000 from a Roman Catholic religious order to help ward off an eviction order.

The Very Rev. John Edwards of New Orleans, chairman of the American Jesuits provincial superiors, said the order gave the money to the Contract Buyers League because the buyers "were exploited when they purchased the homes."

The money will be used to serve an appeal bond for the home buyers threatened by eviction. The league is also trying to negotiate contracts for the homes in conventional mortgages.
