Famous Afro songstress visits Africa to collect folksongs

Family, friends and the reporters gave Mrs. Mary Carter Smith a send-off this week as she boarded a plane from Friendship Airport on her way to Africa.

Mrs. Smith is going to that resourceful continent "because I specialize in Afro-American Folklore in the school system," she told the AFRO.

"Regularly, I serve as the librarian in schools No. 116 and No. 74, but this year, I'm on sabbatical leave for the purpose of collecting folktales and folksongs."

She is collecting the folksongs because she is, in her spare time, an Afro-American Folk Stylist (songstress).

Mrs. Smith cited a particularly special reason for her going to Africa.

"There is too much misunderstanding between blacks and blacks. Some blacks don't like one group, and that group doesn't like another.

"I'm aiming for black unity."

Monday's developments in Biafra had a strong effect on the travelling librarian, and she declared, "this is exactly what I mean about the misunderstanding."

Her trip will officially end when she returns statesside on the 2nd of February, just in time for her foster mother, Mrs. Willie Nowden, son, Ricky Carter, and a friend, Clarence Williams.

Among those persons present to see her off were her foster mother, Mrs. Willie Nowden, son, Ricky Carter, and a friend, Clarence Williams.

FLASH

1 dead, 1 hurt, 1 arrested in shoot-out

A shootout between suspected robbers and scores of police took place this morning (Friday) in the 2000 block N. Washington St.

Alarmed residents told the AFRO there seemed to have been literally hundreds of officers in at least 50 squad cars on the scene.

Dead is Orlando Jones, 18, 1800 block E. Eager St. who was taken to Johns Hopkins Hospital around 4:06 a.m. and pronounced dead at 6:30 a.m. of gunshot wounds.

Capt. Henry Deasel of Northeastern District said Jones was in a truck which had been seen driving from the scene of a robbery in the rear of 67 Moravia Park Drive a few minutes earlier.

Seriously injured in the confrontation with police was Richard Woodard, 41, 900 block N. Chester St., who is at Hopkins.

Arrested was Charles Demby, 17, 1200 block N. Broadway.

At a hearing at Northeastern this morning, Demby was kept in custody pending further investigation.

According to Col. Frank Battaglia, the incidents stemmed from the robbery of a trailer in the rear of the Woodshed Tavern at 67 Moravia Park Drive.

The owner of the tavern and the trailer in which liquor was stored, Roland Bunting, 5800 block Daywalk Ave., is reported by police to have shot at several men who were loading beer and other items from the trailer onto a pickup truck.

Police say the pickup truck also contained clocks and clothing likely taken in other robberies.

Reports show Bunting fired on the men who drove away and sideswiped two police cars in a chase that followed.

An officer sustained an injured knee as his car was nearly toppled over. Reports also show the left window of Squad Car 301 was shot out.

The chase came to a halt in the 2000 block N. Washington St. where Demby surrendered to police and the injured men were taken to the hospital.

At AFRO presstime Capt. Deasel said investigating officers were checking the various items found in the pickup truck to determine where they may have come from.

They were also trying to determine what bullets caused the death of teenager Jones and the injury of Woodard.

CCB Allied Health Courses Train For Rewarding Careers In Hospitals, Clinics, Offices, Labs

by Dr. Sidney Kobre
Community College of Baltimore

If you check the newspaper pages for job classified ads, you will be surprised to see the large number of openings for nurses, medical technicians, mental health workers, dental assistants and many others in the health service occupations.

Jobs are vacant in the health professions because of the lack of trained personnel. Teenagers as well as adults don't know these jobs exist and what opportunities they offer — in money and satisfaction.

Community College of Baltimore is doing something about this situation. Fourteen full health programs are being offered.

Students enroll in nursing, occupational therapy, physical therapy and inhalation therapy programs. Others desire to become dental assists or dental laboratory technicians. Still others are interested in medical work, or want to enter Xray work. Some enroll in the medical secretary or medical records programs.

WATCH THAT TOOTH—Students in the dental assisting program at the Community College of Baltimore help Dr. Harry W. F. Dressel Jr. as he works on a "patient."

MEDICAL RECORDS KEPT — Hospitals, clinics and private physicians need extensive, accurate records kept of patients and their illnesses. To keep these records requires special training.

DENTAL TECHNICIAN—Student in the Dental Technology Program carves a wax crown prior to casting restoration of teeth. Graduates of this program find jobs in metropolitan Baltimore laboratories.

FOOD SERVICE JOBS — Graduates of the Food Service Technology program at the Community College are in demand. They learn to be managers of restaurants and institutional food service operations.

Courses Given In Various Places

Registration will be held from 6:30 to 9 p.m. from January 26 through January 30.

The Rev. Harold A. Carter, pastor of New Shiloh Baptist Church, Fremont Ave. and Lanvale St., wrote the following poem as a tribute to Dr. Martin Luther King on his birthday:

He came as did all others,
One among many black brothers
Just another lad in the South
To be mawed in segregation's cruel mouth.

His land was Georgia you know.
A reservation from which Black Men could never go.
To pull off overalls and blue jeans
And seek 'culture' in some university of esteem.
Three generations had set his cruel fate
Though countless brothers sought never to be late
Like Frederick Douglass and Nat Turner of ol'
And Harriet Tubman who would never be sold.
Somehow Freedom's seed was sown
In Fervent prayers and Freedom songs
That Black Brothers must be made free
And enjoy God's Earth with liberty.

Jim crow could now take this lad
And make his spirit sad
His parents — heroes indeed
Had instilled in him a fearless seed.

He left his Native land
Vowing then to take a stand
Never to forsake his own
Though his body be killed with a stone.

Now history has come and gone
And all men have heard a theme song
Ringing new from the black man's past
"We shall overcome" at last.

Marching feet have portrayed the news
Freedom rides have given rest to worn shoes
Jail cells — sweet altars have been
To give a God's power to bloody skins.

Yes Memphis has rung the bell
And a twisted man is strangely in jail
For a sin that a nation did commit
For not listening to God's son one bit
But still we turn not back
Because our skin is black
Through segregation's veil is now gone
And America is our native home.
A new day king is he
By God's divine decree
His works enshrined for all to see
His life throughout all eternity.

John Julian Archer, 75, was Red Cross worker

John Julian Archer, 75, received last rites in Washington, D.C., New Years Eve. A native of Baltimore, Mr. Archer died Dec. 26 of a heart attack.

He was the son of the late John Beverly and Sarah Catherine Archer.

He graduated from the old Colored High School — now Frederick Douglass High — and left Baltimore to study at the University of Michigan.

He returned to Baltimore in the early 1950's and later moved to Washington.

Remembered as an ardent church worker, he was a member of the Apex Cross Club of Zion Baptist Church, secretary of the Men's Club and a member of the Washington Urban League.
