Brothers appeal assault convnction; driver in incident freed by court

The man who was accused of hitting two brothers as they crossed the street New Years Eve night has been found not guilty of traffic charges stemming from the incident.

One of the two brothers is now out on bail pending appeal of their own case. They were charged with assault when one of them got into a fight with the driver.

The driver, Charles Walcott, pleaded not guilty to the charge of reckless driving before Judge John A. McGuire, Thursday. Mr. Walcott was King's birthday.

Mr. Walcott's story was featured on the front page of the AFRO's Jan. 6 issue.

Two brothers, Berkley Carter and Tennyson Carter, were sentenced to one year and three months in jail by Judge Howard Aaron at a trial in Central Court during the first week in January.

At the trial in Central Court, Tennyson Carter, 22, and Berkley Carter, 22, revealed that they were crossing the intersection at North and Park Aves. when they were hit by a car driven by Mr. Walcott.

Tennyson, a ten year Army veteran, said that "the car seemed to speed up as we got into the intersection because we couldn't get out of the way."

Denying that he saw the brothers at the time of the collision, Mr. Walcott told the court that he didn't drive blurred to me."

Mr. Walcott mentioned that he was almost completely blind in one eye and had very little vision in the other.

However, at the Traffic Court trial on Jan. 15, Mr. Walcott didn't mention anything about his eye operations.

At the Traffic Court trial, Mr. Walcott testified that he was in the island lane and that he struck the brothers (Carter) but that he "had the green light."

In addition he testified that when he got out of the car to help them, they proceeded to beat him.

Contrary to this testimony, Tennyson told the AFRO that Mr. Walcott started to make a left hand turn at the intersection but changed his mind and drove his car across the intersection hitting him and his brother Berkley.

Berkley was still in the house of Correction at Traffic Court trial time.

Apparently Judge McGuire found Mr. Walcott not guilty because there wasn't sufficient proof presented in court that he didn't drive through a green light.

Mr. Walcott wore thick lens eyeglasses at the trial.

Man, 24, critical after Edmondson Ave. shootin

An eyewitness account of the pear-fatal shooting and pistol whipping of 24-year-old Larry Walton Arving indicates that Mr. Arving never attempted to defend himself.

"In fact," the witness said, "when the fellow first started beating him Larry was yelling, "What did I do man?" He ran and that's when the man fired four shots at him."

The witness described the assailant as being about "five feet five inches tall; wearing a wide brim, Al Capone type hat and of dark complexion."

It all began, the account indicates, when an argument began on the corner of Pulaski St. and Edmondson Ave. "Four men were standing there," the witness said, "and suddenly the fight broke out."

The victim is currently listed at Bon Secior Hospital as 'critical.'

According to a Western District spokesman, police are searching for a suspect.

"We have a possible last name," he said, "and we're sure the person was one a resident of the neighborhood in which the shooting occurred but has since moved."

An aquaintance of Mr. Arving told the AFRO the "shooting could have been the result of Larry having sold somebody some dope. He's been attacked and injured for that before."

That before ...

Police officials have not determined why Arving was shot but do admit that he has a record.

Mr. Arving and his wife, Patricia reside at 2708 Roslyn Ave. They have one child.

Traffic court collects $28 for 'spinning wheel'

"I thought it was a fire so I made a U turn to avoid the traffic tieup" said Irving Green, 4438 Pall Mall Road, in Traffic Court Tuesday morning, pleading not guilty to the charge of making an improper U turn.

The reporting officer testified that on Dec. 4 at 12:37 a.m., a two-car collision occurred in the 2200 block of Reisterstown Road.

Upon arrival at the scene of the accident, the police officer noticed Mr. Green making a U turn on Fulton Ave.

Presiding Traffic Court Judge A. Mcquire fined Mr. Green $5.

Not guilty pleas were also entered by Mrs. Annie McCoy, 405 Roundview Road, and Johnnie Washington, 5019 Charlgrove Ave.

Both drivers were charged with reckless driving.

The reporting officer testified that both drivers were southbound in the 2400 block of Monroe St. when Mr. Washington sideswipped Mrs. McCoy's auto, causing about "$25 damage."

Judge Mcquire fined Mr. Washington $3.

The judge handed out fines speedily.

John Winters, 2901 Landon Ave., charged with exceeding 50 mph on Druid Hill Aves. and Fulton had to pay $13 to Traffic Court.

Raymond Flowers, 1127 Brentwood Ave., charged with no registration in possession, gave the court $28.

Operating without a license was the charge against Raymond Smith, 1420 Mosher St., and he had to pay $36.

A case of a changing automatic signal involved Paul Hill, 7124 Minna Road.

The reporting officer testified that on Nov. 18, at 6:30 p.m., Mr. Hill drove his vehicle through a red light at the intersection of Cumberland St. and Pennsylvania Ave.

"I had been sitting there for 10 minutes," testified Mr. Hill.

In spite of Mr. Hill's testimony, the reporting officer testified that he personally sat at the intersection and observed that the traffic light changed "three times in five minutes."

"If you want me to prove," said Mr. Hill, "that the light has a habit of being long, I can."

Mr. Hill had to pay the court cost of three dollars.

Kenneth White, Route Box 1, Severna, Md., also paid $3 in court cost in an automative signal case.

Entering a not guilty plea, Mr. White testified that he didn't drive his auto through a red light in the 1000 block of Cherry Hill Road.

"The light was green," Mr. White testified.

"The tires did spin, your honor, but it wasn't my intention" testified Henry Hawkins, 2339 W. North Ave., on the charge of spinning wheels.

Mr. Hawkins spun his wheels in the 1500 block of Baltimore St.

Judge McGuire fined Mr. Hawkins $25.

John Ragin, 3811 Howard Park Ave., had numerous violations.

Mr. Ragin was charged with a meter violation in 1966; no parking and meter violations in 1967, a no stopping anytime violation in 1968, improper speeding, no stopping anytime, and a meter violation in 1969.

He pleaded guilty to all charges.

Judge McQuire inquired: "Why didn't you come in for trial?"

Mr. Ragin replied: "I didn't have any money."

The traffic court clerk collected $71 from Mr. Ragin.

Morgan State announces an appeal for funds

President Martin Jenkins of Morgan State College announced today the formation of a Morgan State College Foundation which will direct and appeal for substantial financial support of its program to business firms, philanthropic foundations, alumni and friends.

This is the first time in the 100-year old history of the college that an organized effort has been made to appeal for funds.

"Our basic needs are indeed met by state appropriations, about four million seven hundred thousand dollars in fiscal 1970, but this sum, together with income from student fees and federal grant, does no more than meet basic needs," Dr. Jenkins explained.

He stated that "The state support simply does not enable us to provide for our students the kind of education they must have to be of value to our community.

"The relatively small amount of additional income we are seeking from the private sector will make the difference between barely adequate or a superior institution.

"The benefit that will accrue from a really outstanding institution of higher education will flow back to the community and thus serve the best interests of the private sector."

Rene Etinne, former personal director for the Model City agency, is director of development of Morgan under a grant from the federal government.

Dr. Jenkins listed additional financial needs as about $900,000 annually which would be used to:

Provide increased financial aid for low income black and white students;

Expand the education program;

Purchase additional equipment and supplies;

Provide salary supplement to enable the college to recruit and retain a number of top flight faculty members;

Bring to the campus, for limited term, visiting scholars and artists.

Expand the counseling service;

Support research and creative projects of selected and faculty members.

Enable selective students and faculty members to participate in domestic and foreign exchange programs;

Expand the culture program for the benefit of both students and the community;

Provide supplementary support for numerous urban programs of the college, and,

Establish and endow a faculty chair in honor of the distinguished Morgan historian and professor, Dr. Benjamin Quarles.

Division shop repairs okayed

That appeal asking authorization for repairs of fire and vandalism damages to a clothing cleaning shop at 1648 Division St. was approved Tuesday by the Board of Municipal and Zoning Appeals.

Rejected, however, was another case asking the retention of a sign at 2121-33 N. Forest Park Ave.

Also disapproved was still another appeal seeking the housing of three families at 3618 Gwynn Oak Ave.

Board okay was inably given to the location of a non-resident doctors' office and grocery store at 1300 W. Lafayette Ave.

The case had previously been disapproved but was reconsidered after an appeal to the court.

Muhammed

we're at..."

I asked Muhammad if the image that he portrayed on television and at other press conferences as the loud-mouthed, brash young man was the true Muhammad Ali. He looked at me, smiled, and questioned, "What do you think?"

• • •

"Honey, white folks can slap ya. They awful tricky. You've gotta do what they want you to do in order to get what you want. And people say that they're surprised that I acted so well on Broadway. Sucks, I've been acting all my life, 'fr'l' swoon ya and amaze ya to know that Muhammad beat Liston and Frazier! What do you think that is but acting? I'm not really like that Only around Whitey."

At one point he seemed to get really uptight about the AFRO photographer taking pictures because he thought that the purpose of taking so many was to catch him off guard in a terrible pose, and print that shot instead of a more flattering one.

"You may be black, but there are some black people who are as tricky as those white folks. You got to watch them just as hard."

Mr. Ali was gracious, and necessarily so, very patient at my attempts to question him about his sport life.

"I don't know who I'm going to fight next if I ever fight again at all. I don't ask for my license, 'they' have been asking. I don't need boxing, boxing needs me."

"I would like to fight, but if I never do, it's all right."

What did you and Marciano weigh when you two fought?", was the next question.
