Miss Vance, L. Johnson wed at Greater Zion

By MAUDE M. JEFFERS

GASTONIA, N.C. — Miss Doris Eretha Vance and Tennyson Lafayette Johnson Jr. were married here recently at Greater Mt. Zion Baptist Church.

The Rev. J. E. Coleman, pastor, and the Rev. A. J. Ryans, pastor of Ebenezer Baptist Church of Charlotte, officiated during the ceremony.

The wedding music was played by Furman E. Davis, organist, and Miss Gwendolyn Wright, soloist, rendered several selections.

The bride is the daughter of T. Lewis Vance of 218 W. Harrison Ave., Gastonia and Mrs. Lorraine Cohen Vance, of Philadelphia, Pa. She is a graduate of Sacred Heart Academy, Belmont, N.C., and Shaw University, Raleigh, where she received a B.A. degree in English.

While a student at Shaw, she was a member of the Choral Society; the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, a dormitory counselor and first runner-up in the "Miss Shaw" contest.

She is presently a language arts and social studies teacher in the Charlotte-Mecklenburg School System.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tennyson L. Johnson, 1434 Waddell St., Charlotte, graduated from West Charlotte High School and Shaw University where he majored in economics.

He was a member of the band, Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, a dormitory counselor and a member of the student council. He is listed in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities," and is serving in the United States Army at Fort Gordon, Ga.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an original design by Edythe Vincent, created of Dulcet satin and imported Venise lace. The empire lace bodice was styled with a high neckline finished with a satin Edwardian collar and long, tapered sleeves.

The A-line skirt featured a watteau train which caught to the shoulder and spread chapel-length. Her cathedral length mantilla veil was of English tulle and peau d' Ange lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of white Killarney roses and stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Miss Annette Allen of Wilmington, Delaware, was maid of honor. She wore a red velvet dress styled with an empire waist accented with white velvet ribbon and full bishop sleeves. She carried a cascade bouquet of red carnations and white pompoms accented with white net puffs and red velvet streamers.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Derek Byrd, Mrs. Larry Woodard and Miss Freida Parks, all of Gastonia, and Miss Gloria Waters, of Elba, Ala.

They wore dresses identical to that worn by the honor attendant.

Tajuana Caldwell of Chester, S.C., was flower girl and Clayton Lewis of Charlotte, was ringbearer.

The father of the bridegroom attended his son as best man. Ushers were Jefferson C. Johnson, brother of the bridegroom; Andrew Perry, Ikie McMullen, all of Charlotte, and George Spence of Elizabeth City.

Following the ceremony, the bride's parents gave a reception at Gaston Boys' Club. The table was covered with white satin overlaid with white net and centered with a crystal container holding an arrangement of white snapdragons, pompons and carnations.

Punch was served by Miss Gloria Bostonia and Miss Mahalia Roberts of Grover. served the wedding cake. Mrs. Jefferson O. Johnson of Charlotte kept the guest register.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Charlotte.

Prior to the wedding many social courtesies were given honoring the bride-elect and a number of gifts in her chosen patterns were received.

No 'stag' on planes

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — All you females who travel on planes, take a bow. An all-male flight between Newark, N.J., and Chicago will be grounded next Wednesday — after 17 years. One reason: males prefer traveling with "sophisticated women" rather than flying in an all-male atmosphere.

When the flights first started the executive plane boasted load factors of 80 to 90 per cent. Two years ago United Air Lines executive flight went into a load factor spin, dropping down to 40 per cent.

The airline did the next most natural thing, ordering up a survey to determine the causes. That's when many young business executives told the airline they really preferred having sophisticated women on the plane.

There was something else. Even when the load factors were high, rumblings of discontent came from some females — writers, politicians and businesswomen who objected to this special treatment for men.

Several women's rights advocates wrote letters protesting the "discrimination." No law suits were filed, however, and the flights continued — until males started avoiding them.

The "executive" flight logged eight million miles during its 10,500 trips, while it lasted, it was dreamy. The businessman was encouraged to take off his coat, loosen his tie, doff his shoes and even puff on a pipe or cigar. Pipes and cigars aren't always welcome on regular flights.

Carol Shumaker and Phyllis Laurie, now instructors at United's Stewardess School, worked the flight many times.

"I loved it," Miss Shumaker said. 'I remember one particular flight when we were arriving ahead of schedule and we had to rush dinner. Some of the men got up and helped us serve."

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — Prof. Frank M. Snowden Jr., chairman of the classics department at Howard University, is author of a new study "Blacks in Antiquity," to be published Monday by the Belknap Press of Harvard University Press. He probes literary, artistic and archaeological sources concerning the dark and black-skinned balances this with pertinent modern anthropological and sociological findings.
