Zetas Hold Spiritual, Intercultural Retreat

By
ALTHEA S. CORNISH

A keen awareness of and deep concern for the increasing turmoil and upheaval in the world has led Soror Anita Turpeau Anderson, Atlantic Regional Intercultural Chairman of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Inc. to engage members of the Atlantic Region in a Spiritual and Intercultural Retreat.

Recently a very rewarding experience was witnessed by sorority members from Coatesville, Pa., Richmond and Baltimore at Koinonia Foundation in Pikesville, Md.

Soror Anderson set the tone for the day as she reverently led meditation.

Soror Catherine Neal, basileus of Alpha Zeta Chapter, sang a cappella "My Task" which blended so well with the thoughts by the retreat chairman.

This part of the meeting was closed with the singing of the National Sorority Song.

Sorors Anita T. Anderson and Audrey Robinson, who is also director of the Eastern Region, composed the words and music.

* * *

Mrs. Bertha W. Jarrett, field representative, interpreted the world vision of Koinonia. She challenged the group to bring the Power of God into all human affairs through dynamic, believing prayer.

Mrs. Martha Noel talked about the Adult Education program in Liberia Literacy Classes and trying to unify the 28 tribes as each speaks its own vernacular.

* * *

Koinonia Foundation has been given the opportunity to become a full-fledged partner with the Liberian government in this task of unifying the population through the English literacy program.

Colorful slides of Koinonia workers' and their activities gave a feeling of closeness and understanding of the program in Liberia.

* * *

Soror Mary Hurt, National African Project director of Zeta Phi Beta, commented on her interest in and recent trip to Liberia.

The touring of the grounds with staff member Mrs. Noel, as guide, helped present the history of Koinonia and the changes and improvements made by the staff since its purchase.

Mr. Glenn Harding, director of Koinonia Foundation, pointed out that the problem today is that we are with people but do not understand them. Situations draw us together but we do not communicate.

We must attune ourselves with God and through prayer and love try to make adjustments toward peace.

The explanation by Mr. Harding of "The Prayer of the Intercessor For the New World," which was so written by the Koinonia Foundation, followed:
