Grace Dabney loved the snow that graced her wedding day

with Lula Mackay

Mrs. Grace D. Dabney "loved the weather" that made her a snow bride, Saturday.

In a double ring ceremony in Macedonia Baptist Church, with the Rev. W. L. Clayton officiating, she became the bride of Joseph Clipper of Washington.

The bride wore a hot pink, pure silk beaded and jewel encrusted floor-length coat and dress. The veil of hot pink silk tulle, draped as a turban and decored with a huge jeweled pin. She carried a heart shaped bouquet of pink carnations and orchids.

Her sister, Mrs. Ovella Queen, was matron of honor. Mrs. Queen's gown had a beaded and sequined bodice of pink with skirt of hot pink. She carried pink and red carnations.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Christine Young of Washington, and Mrs. Leona F. Cisco, both of whom wore gowns in pink, with bodices beaded and sequined. They carried pink and white carnations.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Leon Bates, wore a pink dress with beaded and jeweled top and pleated sleeves and skirt. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Viola Clipper, wore pink brocade. Both wore double orchid corsages in white.

Music was by the Men-O-Tones Trebletons of Washington, and Morris Queen was at the organ.

Guests flew in from several cities despite the storm. From Chicago came the Rev. S. M. Carter, and from Brooklyn, N.Y., Miss Dorothy Murray. Austin Carter of Philadelphia, Charles Whitby and Reginald Pattilla of Asbury Park, N.J. were here. Arthur Howard came from East Orange, N.J.

Mrs. Shirley Gaither, sister of the bridegroom came from New York, and another sister, Mrs. Blanche Hudson, from Washington.

The trio from Washington provided music at the lovely reception which followed the ceremony and was held in the lower auditorium of the church. And following the reception the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Bates, entertained out-of-town guests, relatives and close friends at their home.

And add to romantic notes the engagement of Ruby Ann Pennington to Henry Everett Moss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mack Moss of Memphis, Tenn. The betrothal was announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Pennington, Sr. of this city, this week.

Miss Pennington is a graduate of Morgan State College and is now a programmer with Holiday Inn of America in Memphis. Her fiance attended Xavier University in New Orleans, La. prior to entering the Army and serving in Germany. He is employed by the Post Office Department in Memphis.

An April wedding is planned in St. Peter Claver Roman Catholic Church, here.

It had been a long time since Les Onze had been together due to the weathers of winter and the personal misfortune of the president, Vashti Christmas.

Thus the spirit was high when the "gals" — eleven strong — congregated for their usual confab at the home of Frankye Henderson. There was much to talk about and many loose ends to tie.

The program planning for the "up-coming" year includes continual expansion of the perimeters of pleasure and enjoyment through a Champagne Ball sometime in the fall, a poolside party or two during the summer for members and their families, and a trip by some to near Chapaquiddick.

The members include Mesdames Vashti Christmas, Edith Davidson, Helen Gattis, Frankye Henderson, Serena Holmes, Bernice MacDaniels, Bernice Robinson, Doreva Stanley, Harriet Trader, Walta Young and Grace Walker.

There were gifts for all provided by the hostess and birthday gifts from the club for those of January and February.

Upcoming in the future is another Monte Carlo. Some of the members had taken time out of their busy work weeks to check out the real Monte Carlo last August. Others had checked out Las Vegas just to make certain that no American innovations would be overlooked.

It was Valentine. It was her birthday. And it was her turn to entertain the G.G. Club. All added up to more than enough reason for Harriet Jones whipping up the ultra elegant she gave at her Liberty Heights Parkway manse a Saturday ago.

Along with the G.G.'s: Birdie West, Lillian Murphy, Phoebe Goff, Augusta Chissell and Vivian Pendleton, were guests, including:

Mesdames Elizabeth Henderson, Ruth Rosedom, Elizabeth Patterson, Marie Frazier, Beautine DeCosta, Blanche Beckham, Bettie Morton, Mae Peck, Kay Carter, Dollie Walker, Lillian O'Daniels, Ernestine Sample, Audrey Norris, Dorothy Atkins, Ruby Walker, and Olivia Dixon.

Mrs. Pennington, along with Mesdames Richella Walker and Marian Banfield assisted the hostess.

At bridge, prizes went to Mesdames Murphy, Beckham and Norris, who, along with the aides, received flagons of Hattie Carnegie's delicious forbidden Fruit perfume.

And then there was the swank luncheon on Saturday at Howard Johnson's Gold Room at which Mesdames Anita Myers and Margery Sheffey entertained the Northwest Club.

STEVEN LEROY MACK celebrated his first birthday, Tuesday. The son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mack of Reisterstown, Md. and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Greene of Baltimore, Steven has been walking since he was eight months old....

MISS MARY CHARLENE LAWSON has been elected "Miss Second Battalion" at Morgan State College. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Lawson, the 20-year-old junior is a political science major, on the Dean's List, a member of Promethean Kappa Tau Honor Society, a junior class senator, recording secretary of the Pan Hellenic Council and parliamentarian for Delta Sigma Theta Sorority.

At the formal session Mrs. Cleo Diggs read an inspirational poem on the meaning of true friendship. Mrs. Anethia Williams presided. The latter had represented the club the prior Thursday evening, at the testimonial for Dr. Lillie Jackson, presenting a check and a verbal tribute to the honoree.

So warm was the atmosphere that long after the luncheon had been served members lingered to chat.

At the meeting were Mesdams Lucill Cephas, Florzella Clark, Cleo Diggs, Vera Flint, Ellen Johns, Jimmy Laforest, Alice Payne, Gloria Phillips, Clarice Parrish, Vyna Skinner, Ruperta Waters, Mary Sprow and Anethia Williams.

The Women of Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church at 2110 Madison Avenue will observe their annual Women's Day on Sunday, March 1, at 11:00 a.m. The public is invited to share in this occasion.

The speaker will be Dr. Rebecca Carroll, who is an Area Director in the Elementary Division of the Baltimore Public Schools and an outstanding participant in Christian service.

Music will be provided by the Baltimore Lyric Ensemble, for the special service and the fellowship hour which will follow.

18, 20th century music to be performed at Peabody

Music of the 18th and 20th centuries will be played by the Peabody Chamber Orchestra and the Peabody Contemporary Music Ensemble in a joint concert to be held at 8:30 p.m., Monday, March 2, 1970, at the Peabody Conservatory of Music.

The program in the Peabody Concert Hall is open free to the public.

Leonard Pearlman, conductor and music director said that he selected a program "to deliberately contrast three 20th century works by widely differing composers and with differing styles, utilizing, in each case, contrasting instrumental ensembles, with the two greatest classic composers of the 18th century — Haydn and Mozart."

The program will include:

"The Unanswered Question" by Charles Ives; William Bland, assistant conductor.

"Two Poems and Three Japanese Lyrics" by Igor Stravinsky; Virginia Shepard, soprano.

"Concerto for Violin and Orchestra, No. 4, in D Major, K 218;" Philip Lewis, violin.

"Due Liriche D'Anacreonte" by Luigi Dallapiccola; Elizabeth Knozek, soprano.

"Symphony No. 102 in B Flat Major" by Joseph Haydn.

Youth Speaks

Students from six local high schools will be panel members on WBAL-TV's "Brass Tacks — Youth Speaks Out" Sunday, March 1 at 10:11 p.m.

The youngsters will discuss current issues which concern them, including the recent Baltimore high school disturbances.

Panelists will include: Nadine Frances Ann Bracken of Douglass High School; Christopher Duzon of Kenwood High; Larry Kachelries of Dundalk High; Odessa Allen of Carver High; Patty Olert of Franklin High, and Howard Perlow of Pikesville High.

Other subjects expected to arise are the ethics of teacher strikes; what has happened to young peoples' respect for their parents; how does television influence a youngster's life; draft dodgers fleeing to Canada; and interracial dating.

"Brass Tacks" moderator Brent Gunts, Vice President and General Manager of WBAL-TV, encourages home viewers to telephone questions for the panel members on these or other topics to TV 11's special number, 727-1722, Sunday evening.

Veronica Tyler comes home, to sing under a mantle of warmth

When Veronica Tyler comes to the Lyric on March 15, under auspices of St. James' Episcopal Church, 'twill be like slipping easily into the warmth of a family hearth. For Miss Tyler will be "coming home."

When she sings at the Carl Murphy Memorial Concert, it will be again under a canopy of warmth, for it was the late publisher who took her under sponsorship during her student days.

Veronica Tyler began her formal musical training as a scholarship student at the Peabody Conservatory of Music in this city. There she was the recipient of the John Hay Whitney Fellowship that took her to the Juilliard School of Music in New York for graduate study.

At Juilliard, Miss Tyler was awarded the Fischer Foundation Scholarship as a result of her participation in the Metropolitan Opera National Auditions. Later she won the first prize in the vocal division of the Munich International Competitions.

From there, of course, she went on to a career that has drawn raves from the critics of the world, from New York to Moscow.

For her program for the Carl Murphy Memorial Concert, Miss Tyler has drawn heavily from the works of Franz Schubert and Richard Strauss, including the famous "An die Musik" (to Music), "Rastlose Liebe" (Restless Love) and "Nacht und Traume" (Night and Dreams) from Schubert. Strauss numbers will include "Freundliche Vision" and "Die Nacht," among others.

The program is scheduled to end with a group of Spirituals that have been arranged by Margaret Bonds.

Miss Diane Richardson will be at the piano.
