Chicago sheriff faces student panel on T.V. 11

Joseph I. Woods, Sheriff of Cook County, Chicago, Illinois, will face a panel of four college students to discuss law enforcement on "You and the Law" Sunday, May 24, at 5:30 p.m. on WJZ-TV (11).

Raymond Burr, star of "Perry Mason" and "Ironside" is host and moderator for the series, which each week features pertinent dialogue between students and experts in the fields of law, education and government.

Discussion will include the Democratic National Convention and the "Chicago Seven" conspiracy trial, may be used by anti-establishment students and anti-establishment strategists. Sheriff Woods will describe various programs and policies of law enforcement agencies.

Subsequent programs will include such participants as Winthrop Rockefeller, Governor of Arkansas; Dr. Charles Hurt, President, San Francisco State University, and Samuel Yorty, mayor of Los Angeles, California.

Each week a different panel will be featured. Selected from universities throughout the government regions, political philosophies as well as different geographic regions of the country.

"You and the Law" series, produced by Kinetic International, is being co-sponsored by The Ford Foundation and WBAL-TV's Community Service Department.
