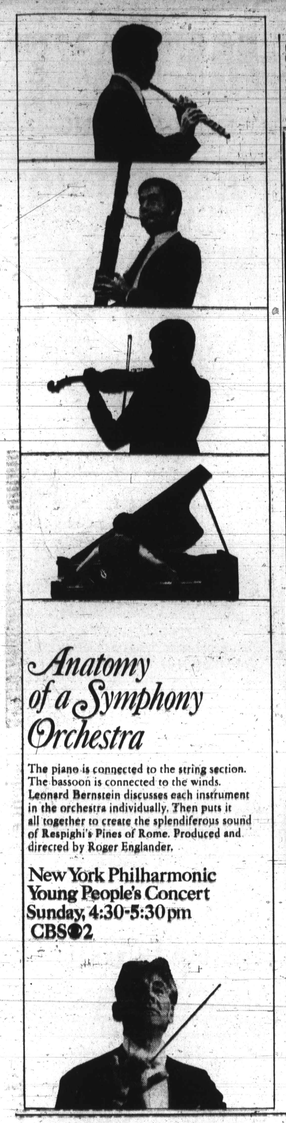
Did Cops Beat Lady Panther?

NEW YORK — A pretrial hearing in the case of the New York Black Panthers conspiracy revolves around the question of whether Miss Joan Bird, a 20-year-old college student was beaten to extract a confession.

Her mug shots and those at her arraignment prove that she had a black eye and a swollen lip at the time, but police contend she received the bruises when she ducked to the floor of an automobile during the gun battle.



Anatomy of a Symphony Orchestra

The piano is connected to the string section. The bassoon is connected to the winds. Leonard Bernstein discusses each instrument in the orchestra individually. Then puts it all together to create the splendiferous sound of Respighi's Pines of Rome. Produced and directed by Roger Englander.

'Black Journal' brings Nyerere of Tanzania

President Nyerere is one of the top African statesmen and Tanzania, Mozambique, and Kenya — located upon the east coast of Africa — are worth a look at how man lives in a continent that is a battleground between the Socialists and the capitalists.

On the east coast of Africa, new nations are being born. This program explores what know very little. New leaders seek a destiny for their people based upon pointing out that Tanzania has based its development on a rural economy.

In response to questions from Tony Brown, Nyerere says that Afro-American professionals and entrepreneurs could make a valuable contribution.
