New YW program to train leaders

A unique program to develop teen-age leaders, which has met with unusual success in 20 other cities, will start July 2 in Baltimore, in cooperation with the YWCA.

The 5-week Teen-age Leadership Program will involve 25 to 30 girls, 14 to 17 years old, selected from Baltimore City on the basis of interest and potential. Anyone interested should call Karen Jerome, 685-1480.

The course at the Central YWCA, 128 West Franklin Street, will help the girls develop self confidence and leadership.

* * *

Authorities from a variety of fields have been recruited to participate in the Thursday evening sessions from 6:30-8:30 p.m., to speak frankly and informally on subjects pertinent to teen-agers.

Discussions will be held on current fashions, cosmetics and diet, dating, sex and marriage, living with oneself and one's family, education and employment careers.

The program will be conducted in a relaxed atmosphere to inform, stimulate new thinking, widen horizons, and provoke dialogue between the experts and the teen-agers.

Differences and misconceptions will be aired in the hope of reaching greater understanding.

'Rap-In,' youth feature on WBAL-TV June 7

EARTHA KITT

United States involvement in Southeast Asia, and the many-faceted opinions on the subject, will be the topic of a half-hour experimental special entitled "Rap-In" to be aired on WBAL-TV, Sunday, June 7, at 7:30 p.m.

The TV 11 discussion program will feature six students from Cambridge, Md., who present their views on U.S. involvement in Cambodia; Kathy Kerbin, who basis his own weekly show on WBAL-TV every moderate and liberal viewpoint; Mrs. Joan Fontaine, a Baltimore housewife, who will act as "devil's advocate."

"The primary purpose of the program," according to Harry Kerbin, Sen. TV 11 Community Affairs Director, "is to inform Maryland residents, young and old alike, and to allow people to hold widely different viewpoints and that it is unfair to generalize when discussing people. We want people to think. A second purpose is to give young people a vehicle to express their legitimate views, and to express their views."

"To be as objective as possible," added King, "we have included as participants, men and women, males and females, who hold conservative, moderate and liberal viewpoints."

Some are college students, others are employed in full-time occupations ranging in age from 22 to 35 years old.

"North Star" normally appears on Sunday mornings at 11:30 but was moved on June 7 but will return to TV 11 on June 14).

Eartha Kitt on David Frost show

Singer Eartha Kitt appears on Channel 13's "The Best of David Frost," to be telecast on Wednesday, June 10 at 10 p.m.

Miss Kitt will show her views on being a woman and appealing to men. She says "I Want To Be Evil" is an Englishman Needs Time."

Miss Baker talks about her role as a mother and how her children react to her career as a singer. Also on Sam and Miss Kitt compare notes on their lives as divorcees.

Mr. Sussland speaks of his life in politics and stages of his time — first political "The Raw Pearl."

Pearl Bailey to make 'Emmy' presentation

Pearl Bailey, Broadway's newest star, will be on as a presenter in New York on the 22nd annual Television Academy Awards presentation by the Television Network will colorcast live on Sunday.

Miss Bailey will be the star of her own musical, "Hallelujah, Baby," during the 1970-1971 season. Her television appearance was in the highly successful "Pearl" series.

Peter Jennings, television news commentator, narrates the series which each week highlights major events of the past ten years. Each program treats the significant aspects of a single year, from 1960 to the present decade.

"The Fabulous Sixties" is the entire decade.

"The Fabulous Sixties" is aired the third of a ten-week series of hour-long specials entitled "The Fabulous Sixties."

Her last television appearance was in the highly successful "Pearl" series.

The Emmy Awards will be televised simultaneously from both coasts with Nick Hall as host in Hollywood.

The one of the country's favorite entertainers, Miss Bailey made her Broadway debut in "Arms and the Woman" in 1946. Her many successful appearances include the memorable "Hello Dolly" and "Celebrate Broadway" on Broadway's last spring.

The other presenters announced to date are Florence Henderson, Jerry Lewis, Dick Van Dyke, Shoshoni, Bob Crane, Eva Gabor, Jimmy Durante, Chelsea Brown, Robert Goulet and Jack Benny.

Joyce Miss Bailey's unique singing style and special charm.

Recently she wrote her autobiography, the first book, the autobiographical "The Raw Pearl."

Meredith to be seen on 'Fabulous Sixties'

John Glenn orbits Earth; Dr. Martin Luther King is killed in Atlanta; "Missile Crisis in Cuba." James Meredith enrolls at Ole Miss; Gov. Pat Brown in California; "China-India Border War Erupts." "Thalidomide Tragedy Revealed."

These were some of the headlines of 1962 — one of the most exciting years of the decade. And the stories behind these and other headlines from this year are the highlights of Sunday, June 14, at 10:30 p.m. when WBAL-TV airs the third of a ten-week series of hour-long specials entitled "The Fabulous Sixties."

New Fee System Set For Parks

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — A new fee system has been put into operation. This will, according to George James, regional forester of the Forest Service, allow the purchaser and commercial vessels to use facilities on any designated National Forest recreation area for a full year.

The $7 annual National Forest Recreation Permit allows the purchaser and commercial vessels to use facilities on any designated National Forest recreation area for a full year.

The Golden Eagle, which sold for seven dollars, is the only Federal recreation pass that will be accepted at any Federal recreation area.

Drugs and kids Monday 'Now' topic

The ABC News "Now" series program, "The Kid Next Door: Smokes Pot," Monday visits the medium-security institution of Ridgecrest China Lake, California, where the drug problem has become so serious for residents to "smoke."

Relatively isolated from the sophistication of an urban metropolis, the area and its inhabitants are framed by peaceful deserts, Ridgecrest-China Lake presents a unique way of life for drug abuse to flourish.

"Yet it's not as producer Frank Peddell and Elsa Rosenbaum, who discovered Drugs, are increasingly available, and young people virtually of every age are involved in the use of them.

This is a fact, and Ridgecrest-China Lake's reaction to it is the focus of "The Kid Next Door Smokes Pot."
