GROUNDBREAKING for Me-De-So Manor Apartments at Eutaw Place and Presstman St., in northwest Baltimore, took place Sunday. The 56-unit apartment building composed of 32 two-bedroom apartments and 24 three-bedroom units, are being built under auspices of the Me-De-So Club, a group of black doctors and dentists, in cooperation with the Department of Housing and Community Development. Dr. George F. Woodland, Me-De-So president is at left. Others left to right, Dr. I. Bradshaw Higgins, chairman of the profit organization; Robert C. Embry, housing commissioner and Dr. Lionel Desbordes and Dr. John S. Braxton, Me-Do-So members.

NEW YORK — State Senator Basil Paterson, making a spirited bid to become New York State's first black lieutenant governor, won a key psychological victory in his bid for the Democratic nomination this week when he drew the number one position on the June 23rd ballot over his white opponent.

Traditionally, New York Democrats have felt that the person at the top of the ballot for a particular election rivalry had a slight edge over his opponents.

Paterson's running mate, former U.S. Supreme Court Justice Arthur Goldberg, drew the number two position for the race for the party nomination for governor will be pushing a 2-1 ticket in the primary campaigning.

Earl Monroe facing knife

Earl Monroe, who has been hobbling about on arthritic legs for the last two years, is finally prepared to do something about relieving his condition.

The star guard of the Baltimore Bullets is scheduled to enter St. Agnes Hospital Monday morning, to await surgery on his right knee. Dr. Kenneth Spence plans to remove a bursa sac from the knee, an operation that is not considered serious.

However, Dr. Spence intimated that Earl the Pearl will have to forego the usual summer league basketball he plays in his Philadelphia hometown.

Drug abuse seminar Saturday

"Drugs in Contemporary Society" will be the keynote address at a Drug Abuse Seminar at the Community College of Baltimore on Saturday, from 8:45 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The speaker, Dr. Mitchell Balter, chief of the special studies branch of the National Institute of Mental Health, along with a panel of experts from Baltimore city will consider the use and misue of drugs from the medical, legal, psychological, and social standpoints.

Concerned citizens will have an opportunity to hear and question top-ranking experts and to join in small group discussions designed to investigate further their particular field of interest.

Included among the panel members and small group leaders are Dr. Joseph Berman, Sinai Hospital Department of Community Medicine; Dr. Leon Wurmser, Hopkins Hospital, Drug Abuse Center; Dr. Louis Kolodner, Medical-Chirurgical Faculty of Maryland;

Also the Rev. James Hodges, Project Access Provident Neighborhood Comprehensive Health Center; Sgt. Howard A. Collins, Instructor, Education-Training, Baltimore City Police Department; as well as faculty and students of the college.

This June 6th seminar at the Community College of Baltimore is the last in a series of ten seminars held at community colleges throughout the state. Sponsored by the Maryland Council for Community Service and the Maryland State Drug Abuse Authority, the general meetings and small group sessions are open to the public with no admission charge.

Latest publications on the topic of drugs will be available to all participants.

During the luncheon students from the Creative Arts Workshop, under the leadership of Miss Deborah London, will present an original dance-drama interpreting the use and abuse of drugs.

For further information please contact Mrs. Nancy Marschner, 523-2151.

BUFFALO BUFFER — Ray Scott, traded by the Baltimore Bullets to the new Buffalo team of the NBA, has already improved his lot. Ray left today (Friday) to serve as representative of the new club at the NBA Players Association meeting in Puerto Rico.
