1970 Miss Bahamas is 'out islander'

BY CHERRY BETHEL

NASSAU, Bahamas — Antionette Patrice DeGregory, West End, Grand Bahama-born beauty has been crowned Miss Bahamas 1970 at the ninth annual Miss Bahamas Beauty Pageant held at the Le Cabaret Theatre, Paradise Island.

She also tied Miss Inagua (Venus Saunders) for the Miss Amity Award.

The 19-year-old new Miss Bahamas, daugher of a well-known West End businessman, looking charming in an aqua and white formal pants ensemble reacted by whispering: "I don't believe it! It is great!"

The second Out Island girl to be crowned Miss Bahamas in the last two years, Patrice received her education at Hampton School, Jamaica.

She is employed as reservations agent at Eastern Airlines and her ambition is to become a tourist administrator.

Sponsored by National Insurance and Levco Services, Miss Bahamas 1970 weighs 102 pounds. Her vital statistics are 34-23-36. She is 5'2" tall.

The pageant was held under the patronage of Prime Minister Lynden O. Pindling and Mrs. Pindling and the United States Consul General, Turner B. Shelton and Mrs. Shelton.

TV course at Morgan this summer

Speech 217 (Television Broadcasting) is one of the new courses scheduled for the summer session at Morgan State College which begins June 24.

Registration is June 22 in the Carl Murphy Fine Arts Center on the south campus.

Arthur C. Lamb, playwright and associate professor of English, will teach this three-credit course which is designed to provide training and practice in both Before-the-Camera communication skills and Behind-The-Camera production techniques.

In order to afford each student ample opportunity for studio practice before and behind the camera, enrollment will be limited to 12. The class will meet nightly from 7:30 to 8:50 p.m.

Household Hints

When washing woodwork, hold a plastic paint guard close to the edge to protect adjacent wall from splashes.

Don't wait until the hottest summer day to shop for an air conditioner. Start looking now. You'll need time to compare features, prices and performance to determine which air conditioner best suits your needs.

Ovens that clean automatically generally cost $30 to $90 more than the non-automatic cleaning ones. Are they worth the extra expenditure? Home economists say that over a 10-year-period, the additional cost will approximate the cost of chemical oven cleaners needed for cleaning the non-automatic ones.

To get a good job, you have to look the part. A good appearance can help you to get hired, but dirt and sloppiness can spoil chances of even a competent applicant.

BOY OF THE YEAR (center) is Lurell Stanley Davis, 18, a Friends School senior who received a scholarship from the National Brewing Co. at their annual program for Baltimore Police Boys' Clubs and Scout Troops last week. Young Davis, an honor June '70 graduate will attend Northwestern University, Illinois, on $3,400 scholarship, one of the seven he has received. Excelling in piano, organ and voice he will major in English and Sociology and minor in music. His mother, Mrs. Annie Davis (right) displays the plaque which declares her son has been named "Boy of the Year." Peter Tomassi (left) holds the certificate which entitles young Davis' scholarship to the college of his choice. Looking on (rear) is Officer George Gilbert of the Western Police Boys' Club which nominated Mr. Davis, for the award.

Hospitals provide work-study for Morgan, College students

Eleven Morgan State College students and 20 college students in New York will be working this summer in their local hospitals as part of a Work-Study Recruitment Program in Hospital Administration.

The Program will give minority groups students the opportunity to observe and participate in the Health Care System.

The 12 week summer program, beginning the second week of June, is supported by the Commonwealth Fund, Brooklyn Model Cities Program, New York City Department of Hospitals, six hospitals in Baltimore and the Maryland Department of Mental Hygiene.

The Association of University Programs in Hospital Administration is the coordinating agency for the program.

• • •

It is hoped that the experience will provide the student with an introduction and an orientation to hospital administration. The student will also be given an opportunity to observe the effects of the hospital organization on the health and economy of the community.

The students were selected on the basis of academic record, potential for admission to a graduate program in hospital administration, and identification with the objectives of the program.

In Baltimore, the 11 students were selected from Morgan State College. They will be in the following hospitals:

Greater Baltimore Medical Center, Johns Hopkins Hospital, Maryland General Hospital, Mercy Hospital, Provident Hospital, Sinai Hospital, Union Memorial Hospital and four institutions in the State Department of Mental Hygiene.

• • •

In New York City, 20 students were selected from local colleges to work among the city hospitals. The students will receive a salary from the hospital and be eligible for a $600 scholarship at the end of the sumfer which will be applied to their college expenses.

The program continues during the academic year with counseling and other assistance for students interested in admission to a graduate program in hospital administration or a management position in hospitals.

• • •

During the sufmer program a week-long institute will be held in New York at Columbia University and in Baltimore at Morgan State College. The institute will center on a dialogue among students and leaders in the health care field.

The interns in the program are Camellia Blackwell, Art; Lloyd Bowser, Brsiness Administration; Austin Drake, Business Administration; Sybil Emerson, Sociology; Edward Hooper Jr., Business Administration; Northern Long Jr., Elementary Education; Noel E. Thomas, Math; Constance Powell, Psychology; Eric Smothers, Biology; Gary Swift, Math; and Patricia Waddy, Psyrhology.

Parents get GI's medals posthumously

FORT BENNING, Ga. — The Bronze Star Medal, Purple Heart and Good Conduct Medal were awarded posthumously to Sgt. Tommy L. Marks in ceremonies here recently.

Specialist Marks died of wounds received in combat Dec. 27, 1969, in the Republic of Vietnam. Accepting the medals for their son were Mr. and Mrs. Doshie D. Marks of Albany, Ga.

Specialist Marks graduated from Monroe High School in Albany and attended Albany State College for three years where he was a member of the college's concert and marching bands. A founding member of the Original Jazz Ensemble, Marks was recognized as a campus leader, taking part in many extracurricular activities.

Prior to his death, the young soldier had received the National Defense Service Medal, Vietnam Service Medal with one Bronze Service Star, Vietnam Campaign Medal, Aircraft Crewman Badge, Expert Badge with automatic rifle bar, and the Marksman Badge with rifle bar.

New Lottery Plan In N.Y.

ALBANY, N.Y. — A $5 gamble could make you a millionaire under a special New York State lottery plan revealed this week.

In addition to the regular $1 lottery ticket which offers a $100,000 top in the monthly drawing and a $50,000 sweepstake every two months, State Tax Department officials have organized a three-month lottery for $5 million.

Tickets will sell for $5 in the months of July, August and September. It was learned and drawing would be held in October. The winning ticket would be worth $1 million.

Most summer courses for adults are free

Summer adult education classes will be offered at five Baltimore City Public School adult education centers. The session will extend from June through August.

Most courses carry no fee for Baltimore City residents, and one need not be already enrolled in an adult school to participate in the summer program.

Reading, high school subjects, basic education courses, and high school review courses are available in the evening at Forest and Eastern Senior High Schools.

The Carver and Mergenthaler Adult Centers will conduct evening vocational training. These sessions run from June 8 through August 11.

The Calvert Educational Center will be open from 8:15 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. to offer academic and vocational courses to adults. Their session will go from June 11 through August 14.

Driver education will be offered one evening a week at Eastern and Forest Park High Schools. Tuition for this course is $50.

Questions can be directed to the Office of Adult Education, telephone 467-4000, extension 2880.
