Mrs. Marie McClellan is good neighbor

By CHARLOTTE W. MASON

Our Good Neighbor of the week is petite and congenial Mrs. Marie McClellan, who resides out on Pembridge Ave. with her family.

Mrs. McClellan is the wife of Rufus McClellan, an employee of the Bendix Co.

She is a school crossing guard and is stationed at the busy intersection of Central Ave. and Fayette St.

A Baltimorean, she is a product of the Baltimore city public schools.

Our neighbor is an active member of Gospel Tabernacle Baptist Church. The Rev. Edgar Reid is her pastor.

Although she has a busy schedule guarding school children on her post and working in her church, she does not neglect her own active youngsters.

eighth grader at Hemps-High School; Kurt, sixth grader at School No. 2; and Ruth, who is a fifth grader at the same school.

Our good neighbor's hobbies are bowling, working with children, cooking, sewing, watching television.

Her favorite dish is chicken and she likes to eat vanilla ice cream. Her favorite verse is Honor Thy Father and Mother.

She likes to wear blue and her special TV program is "Julia."

Mrs. McClellan celebrates her birthday on Dec. 17, and her wedding anniversary on June 1.

Her mother is the popular beautician, Mrs. Barbara Robertson of Jones Beauty Nook on Bloomingdale Rd.

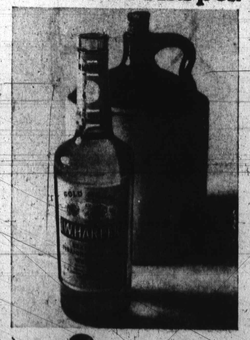
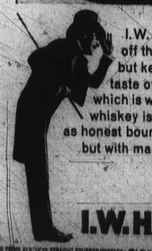
Who took bourbon out of the old stone jug?
I.W. Harper.





I.W. Harper polished off the rough edges, but kept the fine taste of the hill country, which is why Mr. Harper's whiskey is known as honest bourbon—but with manners.
