Miss Bowser bride of William Spencer

MISS FAYE LATTA and Eugene Colston exchanged marriage vows in St. Gregory, The Great Catholic Church, Baltimore, Saturday.

Miss Paulette L. Bowser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan A. Bowser Sr. was married to William F. Spencer III, in a double ring ceremony in Eaton Baptist Church, recently.

The Rev. Arthur J. Payne officiated, and the program of nuptial music was by Miss Margaret Lindsay, soloist, with Mack Stratham at the organ.

A reception followed in the A. J. Payne Christian Center.

• • •

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk organa appliqued with Chantilly lace embroidered with seed pearls. The detachable train was also appliqued with motifs of the pearl embroidered Chantilly lace. Her veil was attached to a seed pearl trimmed bow, and she carried a bouquet of white camelias and baby's breath.

Miss Jacqueline D. Bowser was maid of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Misses Carol Dunston, Sharon Reynolds, Melody Mason and Cynthia Spenser. Lisa Reynolds, cousin of the bride, was flower girl.

Miss Bowser wore a pale pink gown, and the bridesmaids, gowns in a deeper rose. All carried nosegays of pink and all wore garden hats in white, and carried nosegays of pink and rose carnations. The flower girl wore pale pink and her nosegay was of pink carnations.

Mr. Spencer, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Spencer Jr. of Cleveland, Ohio, had as best man his brother, Jerome Spencer.

Ushers were Ivan A. Bowser Jr., David Spencer, Arthur Spencer and Michael Reynolds.

For her daughter's wedding and reception, Mrs. Bowser wore an ensemble in green silk shantung, the dress trimmed with lace at the neckline.

At the reception, guests were introduced to the line by Mrs. Dorothy Dunston, aunt of the bride. Mrs. Yvonne Mason, aunt of the bride and Mrs. Gloria White directed the wedding, and Mrs. Evelyn Reynolds.

To the bride, kept the guest book.

The new Mrs. Spencer is the granddaughter of Mrs. Bettie Eaton and the late Macon Eaton; and of Henry Bowser and the late Mrs. Leona Bowser.

She made her debut at the Me-De-So Club Cotillion in 1965, and is a member of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority.

Mr. Spencer is a salesman for the Scott Paper Company and a student at John Carroll College in Cleveland. The couple is residing in Parma Heights, Ohio.

MRS. WILLIAM F. SPENCER, 3rd., who was recently married in Baltimore, is the former Miss Paulette L. Bowser.

Liggses end their marriage

William Liggs, 900 block Argonne Dr., a steel worker, testified in Circuit Court recently that his wife told him she was tired, could not get along with him anymore, and walked out on him.

He stated, "She said she didn't love me. I never gave her any cause whatsoever. I was a kind and affectionate husband."

Thus Mr. Liggs was granted a divorce from his wife, Mrs. Grace Boxers, 300 block E. 20th St.

The Liggses were married June 4, 1947 in a Baptist ceremony. They were separated on June 1, 1955, while residing in the 200 block Montford Ave., and as Mr. Liggs said, "Never again lived under the same roof."

Testifying for Mr. Liggs was his sister, Mrs. Mildred Williams, 904 block Argonne Ave., who told the court the wife left and she feels the marriage is beyond expectation of reconciliation.

Thoms-Davis ritual in Thinity Church

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Marlana Davis to Donald H. Thoms, son of Mr. and Mrs. McKinley Thoms, by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis B. Davis.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert M. Powell, assisted by the Rev. R. V. Wandofer, at the Church of the Holy Trinity, Lafayette and Rhode Avenues. A reception followed at Mardel's West Wing, Catonsville, Md.

The former Miss Davis wore a full length gown of white Peau de Soie with white Peaude Soi with lace sleeves, lace neckline and a flowing lace back panel, tied with a satin bow. Her headdress was a full length veil trimmed in lace. She carried a cascade of carnations with a white orchid center.

Miss Sandra Davis served as maid of honor for her sister. She wore an aqua length gown of chiffon, and carried a nosegay of blue carnations with green trim.

Her attendants all of Baltimore, were Miss Gloria Brooks, Miss Charlene Davis, Miss Merjean Davis and Mrs. Elaine Vogelhut.

They wore full length green chiffon gowns, trimmed in aqua and carried nosegays of green carnations. Whisper bush veils were their headpieces.

The flower girl was Donna Neal. She wore a short white dress and white ribbon as a headdress.

The best man was Douglass Thoms Sr., brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were Nathan Burwell, of Virginia and Edward Cardwell, Mr. Michael Scott, and Ronald Scott, of this city.

Douglass Thoms Jr., the ring bearer, is nephew of the bridegroom.

The former Miss Davis is an honor graduate of Edmondson High School, and received her bachelor degree at the University of Maryland, College Park. She was a 1965 Debutante presented by the Baltimore Girl Friends.

Mr. Thoms is a graduate of Edmondson High School and former student of the Community College of Baltimore. He is presently a senior at Morgan State College.

After a wedding trip through the Dawn Mountains, Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Thoms will reside in Baltimore

1, 2 and 3—In the Tuesday edition, the names and rank of these Edmondson High graduates was in error. Here is the way they were: Left to right, No. 1, Victoria Watkins; No. 2, Shirley Brown; and no. 3, Avis Taylor. The AFRO regrets the error.

Hundreds pay tribute to Marshall Jones Jr.

Several hundred supporters, including local and state GOP brass, turned out for the affair at the Lord Baltimore Hotel. Former governor and mayor Theodore R. McKeldin was chairman and toast master.

Mr. Jones, widely known East Baltimore mortician, GOP leader and civic worker, filed for one of the two seats on Wednesday.

A large number of backers were in Annapolis with him for the filing, marking the veteran politician's first effort at elective office.

Congressman J. Glenn Beall, R-6th, who is seeking to join Senator Charles Mac Mathias in the U. S. Senate this year, called Mr. Jones" the kind of senator we need in Annapolis.

"He is interested in people, and that's why he is going to make a good senator."

Beall, who agreed to speak after Senator Mathias found it necessary to remain in Washington for an important vote, said Jones would be an asset in the Maryland Senate for the entire state, not just for the Second District.

Although he always has been a Republican, Mr. Jones is popular among Democrats also, and this is expected to boost his chances in November. He will be unopposed in the September primary.

Mr. Jones was strongly backed by the black community when appointed to the Supervisors of Election in 1965. He gave up that part-time post when he decided to seek elective office.

Other appointments held by Mr. Jones included the city human relations commission and the park board.

A graduate of the Temple University and Eckels College of Mortuary Science, Mr. Jones has been in the undertaking business here since 1952.

The Republican Party's first candidate to be given a real chance of capturing a state Senate seat from Baltimore City was honored Friday night at a $10-a-plate "Tribute to Marshall Jones Jr."

$500 Hirman Lodge scholarship to 2

Illustrious Clarence J. Wycoff, Grand Master of Hiram Grand Lodge Ancient Free and Accepted Masons donated $500 in scholarships. This was done when the Grand Lodge and Grand Chapter held its annual St. John's Day services on Sunday at Concord Baptist Church.

Recipients were:

Ronald Jones, an honor graduate of the Douglass High School who has been accepted at Princeton University.

Miss Victoria McCadd who is a student at the Helene Fuld School of Nursing at Provident Hospital, enabling her to complete her senior year.
