State Education Board issues trial resolution

The Maryland State Board of Education has issued a suggested resolution which would repeal and revise by law 761 of the State's Public Schools setting board policy on ethnic and cultural minorities.

The State Board of Education in 1954 made a broad statement on the Supreme Court's decision on school intergration.

That statement admonished the Board of Education "to do all within its power to work out the problem 'seemingly and in order' and in such manner that the rights and privilages of no individual are impaired by arbitrary or capricious methods."

The State Board would now substitute a new suggested resolution, which would be more definitive of its aims on racial integration.

• • •

The Board's suggested resolution says; "The Maryland State Board of Education shall restate its commitment to integration in Maryland schools and reinforce this commitment by supporting new curicular programs about ethnic and cultural minorities.

"Local boards," continues the resolution, "of education shall establish advisory committees to assist in planning and evaluating all substantive and public relations aspects of ethnics and select instructional materials.

"The Maryland State Department of Education shall require and review periodic reports from local boards of education to insure that these criteria are being used and met." said the resolution.

"The Maryland State Department of Education shall require local boards of education to prepare policy seatements on hiring, placing, and procedures for desegregating personnel, and to submit such plans and procedures for desegregating personnel, and to submit such plans and procedures to the State Department of Education.

In concluding the resolution noted that: "The Maryland State Board of Education shall require periodic reports from local boards of education involved in implementing this policy statement."

Metro dinner-dance is a gala affair

A capacity crowd of well over 1,300 persons supported 'Metro-Democrats', first buffet-dinner and dance, held at the Martin's West Friday evening. Prominent citizens and dignitaries, from the ranks of Senators, Delegates, Councilmen, Judges and the likee.

• • •

Governor Marvin Mandell made his appearance at the halfway mark of the festivities. He gave brief remarks and mingled throughout the crowd, shaking hundred of hands of participants who came from all over the city, parts of the country, Washington, and Virginia.

David J. Johnson, president, said, "the dance was a complete sell-out. People were begging for more tickets, but there were none available. It seems as if the disadvantage of not being able to sponsor the raffle rocketed to our advantage. Everyone wanted to be on eh scene," with Metro.

Metro is the new democratic organization of the Fourth district.

Henry Parks Jr., Councilwoman Victorine Q. Adams, Councilman Robert Marshall, Senator Clarence Mitchell, III, and Delegate Lloyal Randolph are among the scene," with Metro.

Missing from the gala event was Mrs. Ethel Rich, Executive Secretary, who is at home recuperating from an auto accident, in she suffered a broken leg.

July 21 seminar for black businessmen

More than 300 minority businessmen in the Baltimore area have been invited to a July 21 meeting on Federal procurement in the auditorium of the Social Security Administration Headquarters Building, 6401 Security Boulevard, Woodlawn.

The day-long meeting is sponsored by the Federal Procurement Task Force for Minority Business Enterprise and the Commerce Department's Office of Minority Business Enterprise.

Robert L. Kunzig, who heads General Services Administration, the multibillion dollar business management arm of the Federal Government, said the purpose of the conference is to advise and counsel minority businessmen who may not be aware that they may qualify for Federal contracts.

• • •

GSA has committed $35 million in procurement for contracts with minority entrepreneurs under provisions of Section 8 (a) of the Small Business Act.

"Although a number of contracts have been awarded, including some in the Baltimore area, we are anxious to sign many more as soon as we can line up qualified firms," Kunzig said. "The needs of the Federal agencies have been determined, the money is availabl, and we're determind to utilize this program to its fullest extent."

The July 21 Seminar will begin with registration at 9 a.m. Presentations from the General Services Administration, the Department of Commerce, the Small Business Administration, the Department of Defense and other and will last for approximately one hour.

Starting at 11 a.m., the businessmen will break into small discussion groups to confer with representatives of various agencies concerning their programs for procurement from minority business enterprises.

These sessions will include individual counseling by Government officials and Federal procurement specialists.

Free parking has been arranged for those attending in parking lot "G" adjacent to the Social Security Administration Headquarters Building.

According to the VA, veterans received more than 250,000 VA-guaranteed and direct loans in the amount of about $4.2 billion in fiscal year 1969.

The VA suggests that GI insurance policyholders who receive VA compensation or pension payments may want to consider having their insurance premiums deducted from their monthly checks.

The VA says a recent law, PL 91-341, limits the amount the agency may withhold from veterans' disability compensation checks to recoup military disability severance pay.

The VA's annual report says veterans, their families, and survivors of deceased veterans account for nearly 96 million of America's population of just over 200 million.
