AFRO Clean Blockers Enjoy Theatre Party

NEW BLOCK REGISTERED:

You can help keep our city clean; don't be a litterbug

BY JEANNET LEATH
AGROClean Bolck Director

Litter is trash — chewing gum or candy wrappers, soft drink containers, newspapers, food wrappers, boxes and other things we throw away.

Because we are sometimes careless and thoughtless, the beauty of a neighborhood park, beach vacation palces — are often spoiled with the unsightly appearance of litter. We make pretty palces look dirty.

Wehen we throw things out of the car as we ride down the highway, or drop things on the sidewalk, playground, in parks or on beaches, we become litterbugs. The Beauty of the area can be destroyed and unfortunately is being destroyed every day. The spoiler is litter.

* * *

AFRO Clean Blockers can help rid the block, area and our city of these "bugs" by reminding parents, neighbors and freinds not to be a litterbug. As and individual, you can help by:

1. Keeping your own home and personal proptety litter free.

2. Setting good examples for others by always disposing of trash in a proper receptable and carrying a litterbag in a car.

3. Alerting friends to their personal responsibility for the appearance of private and public property.

* * *

REgistration for AFRO Clean Block is still open. Clip the application and mail to us or call the office and we will mail necessary forms to you.

I am sure you can see tha ther is much to be done — and you will want to be part of a group or organization that has recognized their responsibilities as a civic, — minded, conscientious group who is able and willing to take action.

Where Baltimore Lives—A New AFRO Feature

The AFRO begins tour of our city

By EDITH M. HOUSE

With the busy and hectic life of urban dwellers, East Baltimoreans find time to do the little extras that give the pleasure and brighten the communities.

The 400 block of E. Federal St., located between Barclay and Ensor Sts., is an inner city neighborhood of 26 brick homes with white steps. On the corner there is the neighborhood store, Phil's Market.

The Foxes of Federal St.

At 412 E. Federal St., Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Fox (Emma) keep very busy tending their garden and cooking their special dishes on Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Fox, retired chef cook, prepares most of the meals. He told the AFRO with a grin, "You name it and I can cook it" Mr. Fox has been cooking since he was nine.

For 17 years, he cooked for the Baltimore Country Club, for 3 years, he prepared meals for the Suburban Club and he spent 4 years cooking for the Sheraton-Belvedere Inn.

Throughout their home, there are potted flowers of various sizes and shapes. Gardening is Mrs. Fox's speciality but Mr. Fox helps her out when he can.

In their backyard, they have a flower bed of purple petunias, assorted colored zinnias.

Although he is a professional cook, Mr. Fox told the AFRO, "I feel just as at home in my wife's garden as I do in my kitchen."

"But really, most of the credit for this beautiful garden should go to my wife. She is responsible for most it its upkeep."

LITTERBUGS MUST PAY—Mrs. Mary Cannady, 1820 N. Durham St., is cooperating with the captain of her block, in keeping their block spotless. Anyone who throws trash in front of Mrs. Cannady's door must suffer the cost of 25 cents.

EAST FEDERAL ST. — Leroy Fox, a retired chef cook takes time out to help his wife, Emma, in her garden. They grow petunias, zinnias and many other types of flowers in their backyard. Next door, Mrs. Deborah Chester tends to her four year-old son, Kenneth. She was visiting relatives in the block.

McAleer Court, place of beauty on Eastside

In the 800 block McAleer Ct., there are 34 projects that are a part of the Latrobe Projects. Bordered by Harford Rd. and Ensor St., the projects are sandwiched between industrial factories and a pickle plant.

Doors of the project are painted assorted colors of red, blue and green.

In front of each there is a patch of grass and shrubbery underlining first floor windows.

Mothers were out busy with their houshold chores and the younger children were working and playing ball. When the AFRO arrived several youngsters were busy gathering bricks.

* * *

At 803 McAleer Ct., Mrs. Frances C. Smith was sitting on her steps playing with her youngest son, Bryant John, 14 months. Her other children are Darryl, 9, Brnds, 6, and Deborah, 6, who attend Jonnston Square Elementary School.

In a soft spoken voice, she told us that her family attends the Galilee Baptist Church in Dundalk. Living in the court for four years, Mrs. Smith has made the clean block drive in her block a family effort.

* * *

Across the court, at 814 live Mrs. Bessie Hart and her granddaughter, Gail Edwards. Gail was one of the youngsters loading bricks in front of her door. They plan to paint them and decorate the yards.

She is 13-year-old and is visiting her grandmother for the summer. Gail attends school in New York.

Gail is captain of the AFRO deive in McAleer Ct. She explained "this is my first time as captain of a block. It is a lot of responsibility involved in being captain, but my neighbors are very cooperative.

"So far, some of have planted petunias and grass but we still have other things to do to get our block ready."

* * *

There is no doubt that Gail has cooperative neighbors. Across the court are Mrs. Frances Hudson and her two children, Valerie, 9, and Kevin, 10, who have made AFRO clean block a family project.

Mrs. Hudson stated, "I've been living here for 10 years and this is the first time that we have had a clean block. It is also the first time that I have attempted to plant anything besides grass.

"We are planning to paint our bricks red and white."

The youngsters were so enthusiastic about their family project that they were on their knees with spoons digging with all the energy they could exert.

Youngsters from other neighborhoods were also helping the Hudson children to get their court ready for clean block judging.

* * *

A mother of six that keep her very busy is Mrs. Sheila Gary of 818 McAleer. At the present, she is at home with her children, but she is employed with the Bendix Co.

Her children are Cynthia, 14 of St. Michael's Catholic School, Sheila, 13, St. James Catholic, Denise, 11, St. James Valerie, 8, St. James, Lynwood, 7 of St. James and Kirk,2 the little man who keeps his mommy company at home.

The family has been a member of St. James Catholic Church for five or six years. They participate along with their neighbors in keeping the court neat.

* * *

At 831, Mrs. Izetta Sykes, who lives alone, is a retired janitoress at the Gas and Electric Co. She is a long time member of Southern Baptist Church on Bond and Preston Sts.

Since Mrs. Sykes has been forced by ill helath to modify her activities she does little Sewing. Between sewing and cooking, she doesn't know which one she likes the best.

Rhodes.

Hilarious highlight of adults' activities was the egg-throwing contest, won by Donald Patterson and Carl Adair.

Members of the Hillsdale Heights Association.

Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Frazier Brice, Mr. and Mrs. Henderson Clare, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. Pinkney Howard, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hiram Butler, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Thompson, Dr. and Mrs. Theodora Fuller, Judge and Mrs. Harry Cole.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Simon, Mr. and Mrs. George Meekins, Mr. and Mrs. David Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Stith, Mr. and Mrs. Yancy Whittaker, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Giles, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. James Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Patterson.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Law, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel R. Owings, Dr. and Mrs. Lionel Desbordes, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Adair, Dr. and Mrs. Elroy Young, Dr. and Mrs. Louis Randall and Mrs. Philip Taylor.

DURHAM ST.—Rogers Mills of the 1800 block N. Durham St. relaxes in front of his door on a summer afternoon. In the next panel, Paulette Allen, captain of the Clean Block campaign, took the AFRO on a tour of her block.

1800 N. Durham, small street white steps, spotless homes

There is a small street off of Lafayette Ave. that is lined with spotless little two story houses of brick and formstone with white steps. It is the 1800 block of N. Durham.

It is on a hill, one can stand at one end and look down the street. There are 25 row houses decorated with potted flowers, lawn furniture.

Some have miniature American flags flying at windows.

All the way down the narrow Street, the sidewalk is painted a powder blue.

At 1817 N. Durham, Mrs. Inez Rusn lives with her two daughters, Elizabeth, 18, a graduate of Clifton High School; and Marleen, 17, a senior at Dunbar High The family has lived at this address for 10 years.

They are a members of Temple Baptist Church on N. Wolfe St. of her activities, Mrs. Rush said, "I go to church and just visit my neighbors, that's about all."

The one thing that all clean block captains have in common is heaps of energy and mounds of enthusiasm. Paulette Allen, 14 and a 9th grader at School No. 90 is captain for the 1800 block of N. Durham.

Everyone in the neighborhood is fond of Paulette. While taking the AFRO on atour of her block, she had a smile and a nice word for everyone.

Up the street from Paulette, live Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Cannady (Mary).

They have been on N. Durham St. for 16 years. Mr. Cannady has been employed with the Housing Authority for 21 years.

In her spare time Mrs. Cannady sews and tends her flower and begetable garden in Edge, Md.

Mrs. Cannady has in front of her door, a piece of tree trunk decorated with a potted plant. In front of her window, she has a sign warning people that she would fine anyone twenty five cents for littering in front of her door.

Down the street from Mrs. Cannady, this reporter met Roger Mills who was "just taking it easy for the day."

He revealed he had a stroke recently and was confined to the house.

"I don't have any hobbies. I just sit in front of my door and watch the children play.

"I also try to do my best with clean block. Since I can't participate, I contribute money."

East Baltimore is just one section of town we visited this week. But before this summer is over, the AFRO hopes to have covered the city. If any of our readers would like to have their block featured, the AFRO extends this invitation for you to call us. Call 728-8200 and ask for Miss House.

McALEER CT. — AFRO Photographer, I. Henry Phillips, caught Mrs. Frances Smith and her 14-month son, Bryant John, relaxing in front of their home. Down the street, Mrs. Frances Hudson and her two children, Valerie, 9, and Kevin, 10, were making the clean block campaign a family project.

Hillsdale Heights entertains children

How does he put the siren on? Is the light really blue on top? How does it feel to ride in a police car?"

The questions fairly tumbled out as young children in Forest Park, Norfolk Ave., Hillsdale Rd. area in northwest Baltimore took a ride in a police car and learned firsthand that policemen are your friends.

This event was one of many sponsored Saturday by the Hillsdale Heights Neighborhood Association.

Police officers Howard Calvin Felthouse and Edward Szewczyle, appeared to be as delighted as the small children as they patiently and quietly explained their duties to the tots and showed them how the police cruiser functions.

Streets in the well-to-do West Baltimore area were roped off, gay signs were strung along intersections as the children followed a variety of activities beginning at 4 p.m.

They concluded at 6:30 with relay races and dinner on the patio of Dr. and Mrs. Samuel R. Owings.

The Owingses and J. Hiram Butler, president of the association, co-co-chaired the day's events.

Other activities for children included lollipop hunt, ball games, movies and relays which took place in the area of the homes of Doward Patterson, Dr. Raymond Gray and Melvin Snowden.

Adults in charge included: Donald Patterson, Mesdames Helen Paterson, Janet Thompson, Shirleen Snowden, Sara Gray and Lorna Brice.

* * *

At the same time the youngsters were deing entertained, other adults not involved with childrens' activities had programs especially arranged for them.

These included swimming in the pool at the Yancey Whitaker's, pinochle and bridge at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Stith, and Judge and Mrs. Harry Cole; badminton at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Doward Patterson, basketball at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Lionel Desbordes; bingo at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Simon; and horseshoes at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles
