Senator Mitchell's slogan: 'Right On'

Vowing to fulfill his campaign slogan "Right On," Clarence Mitchell III (D. 4th Dist.) opened his bid this week for a second term in the Maryland State Senate.

The 30 year old incumbent compared his "Right On" theme with the now-famous Martin Luther King's "We Shall Overcome."

Mitchell noted that initially it was believed Dr. King was referring to one special segment of America.

However, the realization that he was seeking to overcome injustices to all people was made glaringly clear by then President Lyndon B. Johnson in a nationwide television appeal for justice and equality for all, who used frequent references to "We Shall Overcome."

"Right On," Mitchell emphasized, means just that — straight ahead with progress for all citizens in the, City, state, and nation.

Senator Mitchell has been going "Right On," since he led sit-in demonstrations in 1960 to open lunch counters and restaurants to all and was one of the national founders of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee that same year.

In 1962 he used a door-to-door campaign to become the youngest black legislator in the House of Delegates.

In 1966, in his second bid for elective office he won a seat in the State Senate by an overwhelming majority and at 26 years old became the youngest person ever to serve in that body.

Among the young Senator's accomplishments as a legislator have been:

1) Helping push to passage the first statewide public Accomodation Law.

2) Chief sponsor of the bill which is now our Fair Employment Law.

3) Co-Sponsor of the bill revising the State-Aid to Education formula giving Balto. City more money for schools.

4) Successful efforts geared toward improving the policies and practices of the Balto. City Police Department, the Correctional System, Social Security Administration and many other governmental agencies as they relate to minority groups.

Senator Mitchell strongly emphasized that "nothing can be accomplished in bitterness and hatred.

All Black can't right and all White isn't wrong, there's good and bad in each.

Let us join together black and white, rich and poor, and go "Right On" to better jobs, to better housing, "Right On" to improved schools, "Right On" to a future of equal justice and opportunity for all.

Over 1,000 Mitchell supporters turned out Tuesday nite, when the Senator officially opened his campaign headquarters at 2131 W. North Avenue, where his People's Democratic Action Organization is housed.

Senator Mitchell who heads the ticket of the newly-formed Metro Democratic Club was joined in front to TV cameras by running mates Isiah (Ike) Dixon, Calvin Douglass, Johnnie Fair, Roger Lee, Lloyal Randolph, all candidates for the House of Delegates, and Boyd Chiacoe, James T. Dorsey, Robert C. Marshall, State Central Committee.

Also, there, in addition to his wife and two young children, were his uncle, Parren Mitchell, candidate for U.S. Congress from the 7th District, his 81 year old grandmother, civil rights fighter, Mrs. Juanita Jackson Mitchell; his lawyer-father, Clarence M. Mitchell Jr., director of the Washington Bureau of the NAACP, and his three brothers, one of whom recently graduated from law school, Michael, his campaign manager.

Burge outlines plans at Cherry Hill event

Shephard H. Burge Jr., new president of the Cherry Hill Co-ordinating Council, Inc., outlined a three-point program for 1970-71 Sunday's installation services.

Over 100 persons watched the installation service held at St. Veronica Catholic Church in which 10 people were sworn in as new officers of the Cherry Hill Coordinating Council.

"We plan to have $10,000 in the treasury by the first of the year," said Mr. Burger "and 2,000 new members within the next three months."

Mr. Burge also said the Council plans to take action to secure a recreation center in Cherry Hill before 1973.

1973 is the date when the City of Baltimore plans to have a recreation center in Cherry Hill built.

However, Mr. Barge voiced a concern about the target date because he believes the city can construct a center before that time.

He cited the fact that nearby Brooklyn has two recreation centers while Cherry Hill has none. "The city has money in the budget" said Mr. Burge.

He also said "everything in Cherry Hill will be community owned." Specifically, Mr. Burge was talking about the comprehensive medical center to be constructed in the near future.

Plans are also in the making for a library in Cherry Hill. "There are some pressing problems in Cherry Hill," said Mr. Burge, "and the only way we are going to correct them are by getting together."

In order to accomplish this objective, Mr. Burge plans to have meetings with some 23 organizations in the Cherry Hill community.

One of the new projects started recently with the aid of Community Action Agency is a Cherry Hill credit union.

Guest speaker Raymond V. Haysbert, executive vice president and general manager of Parks Sausage Inc. agreed.

Mr. Haysbert, the first black man appointed to the policy making board of South Baltimore General Hospital (through the aid of Cherry Hill Co-ordinating Council) said, "We are going to have to restore a sense of participation and community at a local level.

"Individuals can know their leaders personally at this level and you can fight depersonalization.

"If your responsibilities are at your doorsteps, you can feel them. "To eradicate poverty, to rebuild our central city, we have to get more people involved."

Mr. Burge also said for the first time, two young ladies, Miss Victoria Howard, corresponding secretary, and Miss Phyliss are members of the council.

The new officers are: Mr. Burge, president; Harry Ogleby, 1st vice president; Mrs. Audrey Howard, 2nd vice president; Mrs. Elizabeth Greer, treasurer; John Johnson, executive secretary; Mrs. Isolene Ceo, recording secretary; Miss Victoria Howard, corresponding secretary; Miss Gray, finacial secretary.

Also the Rev. Wesley Kelley, parliamentarian; and Father Richard Wagner, chaplain.

William H. Murphy, Esquire, charter member of the Council, read the history of the Cherry Hill organization.

The Cherry Hill Co-ordinating Council began functioning late in 1947. Mr. Burge is editor of Cherry Hill News, community newspaper; and a postal employee.

Mr. Mitchell foresees only one difficulty in his winning the primary and then going on the beat the Republican candidate in November, and that is the failure on the part of black citizens to register and vote.

He is calling for a new state law which will somewhat eliminate this problem in future elections.

He wants Maryland to adopt a law such as California has which permits deputized street registrars to go into neighborhoods and seek out potential voters.

Mr. Mitchell said he is following a daily schedule which keeps him busy campaigning from morning until nightfall.

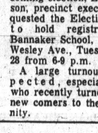
Catonsville Notes

By SAMUEL TORSELL

Because of the inconvenience of a large number of people in the Catonsville area to register for the coming election, Leon Johnson, precinct executive, requested the Election Board to hold registration at Bannaker School, Main and Wesley Ave., Tuesday, July 28 from 6-9 p.m.

A large turnout is expected, especially those who recently turned 21 and new comers to the community.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton McKinney of York, Pa. and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Young of Baltimore were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Torsell on Saturday evening.



DIES — Father Chester C. Ball, 55, died in Houston, Tex., where he was pastor of Our Mother of Mercy Catholic Church. A mass will be said Monday 11 a.m. at St Luke's Church in Washington. Father Ball, first black Josephite priest to serve in D.C., formerly pastored the Church of Epiphany in Glenarden, Md.

Mrs. Lula Harris

Funeral services for Mrs. Lula Harris were held Thursday at William C. March Funeral Home.

Mrs. Harris, 40, 2060 Kennedy Ave., died at her home, victim of a heart attack.

Her husband, Roosevele Harris, told the AFRO she enjoyed sewing, cooking and singing.

Born in Berksville, Va., Mrs. Harris was known as a devoted housewife. In addition to her husband, she is survived by three daughter, Rose Annettee, and Delores Harris, two sons, Earl and Roosevelt Jr.

and Reggie Martin who had just opened a fabulous nite-club on 14th St. in Washington called the Big Appie, sporting a summer garden as well as an inside club arrangement, heard George and booked him in their spot along with Savannah Churchill and Detroit Red.

"They entertained guests on the inside of the club while the up and coming Cab Calloway and his band entertained in the summer garden.

"From there, George and Savannah played the Republic Gardens. George then went to the spot known at that time as the Crystal Caverns. Since that time, he has played at every top club in Washington.

A year ago, entertainment columnist Michael Graham reported that rock 'n roll had forced Craft to limit his acting ability in recent years, but he was returning to the theatrical spotlight with Silhouette Attractions and ex-vocalist Yvonne Duncan as his personal manager — R. A. D.
