Miss Rogers wed to Andrew Johnson

Miss Dianna Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Rogers, and Andrew Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dynlshie Johnson Sr., exchanged marriage vows in a double-ring ceremony in Saint Cecelia's Catholic Church, Saturday afternoon at two.

The bride was lovely in a gown of white silk designed with a high neckline and long sleeves. The neckline and border of the skirt was embroidered, and the same embroidery design edged her chapel train. She carried a Bible topped with an orchid.

Miss Brenda Holland, maid of honor, and Mrs. Adrienne Savage, matron of honor, wore gowns of green taffeta designed with empire waists and featuring back panels.

Bridesmaids who wore gowns designed like that of the honor attendants, but in yellow, were Misses Edith Dennis, Delores Dickey, Joann Harwin and Cynthia Leonard. Their flowers were bouquets of roses.

The flower girl Jacqueline Paylor, wore green, designed like that of the bridesmaids. Kelvin Chandler was ringbearer.

Lester Johnson was best man for his brother.

Ushers were Percell Wiley, Albert Wiley, Ernest Brown, Leon Brown, Eugene Pulley, Calvin Dotson, Robert Campbell and Albert Mooney.

A reception followed the ceremony.

On Tuesday evening prior to the wedding, two of the bridesmaids, Misses Dennis and Dickey, gave a surprise lingerie shower for the bride at the home of Miss Dennis' parents.

A pink and white color scheme was carried out in the family room where the guests assembled and in the dining room where a buffet supper was served. The bride and her mother had been invited to discuss a few details of the wedding only to be surprised with fun, laughter and beautiful gifts.

Guests included Brenda Holland, Adrienne Savage, Cynthia Leonard, Greer Shorter, Michelle Washington, Helen Patterson, Joann Harwin, Julia Scarborough, the honoree and Mrs. Elsie Rogers.

MR. AND MRS. ANDREW JOHNSON were married in St. Cecelia's Catholic Church, Saturday. The bride is the former Miss Dianna Rogers. In background, right, is pretty flowergirl Jacqueline Paylor.

Arbutus woman is Army Nurses' junior officer

Miss Phyllis Diana Williams, a June graduate of the University of Maryland School of Nursing, is now a junior officer in the Army Nurses' Corps.

After receiving a bachelor of science degree in nursing at graduation services, she became Second Lieutenant Williams and was stationed at Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

Lt. Williams is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Stanley Williams, 103 Browns Terrace, Arbutus, Md.

She attended the Arbutus Elementary and Junior High Schools.

While at Arbutus Junior High she became a member of the National Honor Society, served as Student Council representative, and received three certificates for perfect attendance.

• • •

Lt. Williams was graduated from Catonsville High School in June, 1966 with honors.

During her senior year she was a member of the Health Careers Club, the Social Committee, the Senior Class Council and Intramural Basketball team.

She received scholarships from the Food Fair Foundation and the Catonsville Senior High School Student Aid which enabled her to enter the University of Maryland School of Nursing in 1966.

At the nursing school she was president of the Louisa Parsons Nursing Club, corresponding secretary of the SNCM and secretary of the BSFC. — E. M. O.

And still trying to recover from what he says was one of the most complete surprise of his life is Edward Nottingham (the Barber Board executive) . . . for wife Lilyan and her sister, Louise Mason, had him under the illusion that the elegant dinner party being planned was to honor his sister-in-law, Mrs. Edward (Ellen) Bolling of Nigeria, who is vacationing in the States after 12 years of teaching in several West African countries.

Among those toasting and gifting the honoree on his birthday were George and Pearl Bailey (Howard University staff members, Thomas and Jessie Nottingham from Hampton, Marsden and Annabel Rawlings and their son, Keith; Nathaniel and Georgia Eaton, Orlando Bennett, Bernice Harrington, C. C. Jones, Williams Ross Nichols, William Mason and Edward Nottingham, Jr.

Mrs. Bolling's new book, "Kwabena," is just off press. The tome is a primary reader describing the real life experiences of Kwabene, a little African boy who lives in the town of Ejura in Ghana. Mr. Bolling (Edward) is an agricultural engineer presently completing a tour of duty for the U.S. Government in Nigeria.
