

The parcel listed as No. 3 in this Exhibit is 5 acres and that is located on the south side of the upper mountain road leading toward Gapland from Burkittsville. That is stated in the exhibit as improved with a 2-story log dwelling, but really there are no windows in it and no doors and a lot of the chink has fallen out. The land is just grown up in scrub trees and that is valued at $100.00.

The parcel listed as No. 4 is a tract of land containing 158 acres, more or less, one mile south of Burkittsville, 158 acres less 2 acres that was sold off sometime, and which was known as the Ennis farm, and that farm on which Lee Secher has lived for approximately twenty years or more, and he resides there at this time. That property is improved with a 7-room house has bath and heating plant, but Lee told us at that time he put it in at his own expense, but we had to appraise it as it was, and the same condition existed as to the dairy and silo, but again we did not take that into consideration other than to value the farm with those improvements on. The fencing on the farm is very poor but it is a nice tract of land. Approximately 5 acres lies rather low and cannot be farmed. The remainder of the farm is in good state of cultivation. That farm was valued at $18,000.00. It is about one mile south of Burkittsville on the road leading to Brunswick.

The fifth parcel is a parcel of 60 acres which is adjacent on the south to the parcel just heretofore described as the fourth parcel. It adjoins the 158 acre tract and the old Ahalt Distillery property which is sough or the Horsey Distillery property. It does not border on the public road and has a private lane which has not been used for a number of years but ingress and egress has been to it through the farm on which Lee resides. There is a stream of water through it. Out of the 60 acres approximately 50 acres is under cultivation, and the house and barn are not in too good condition. That tract at the time we valued it we appraised it at $6000.00.

The sixth parcel in this Exhibit is a tract consisting of two contiguous parcels containing $11\frac{1}{2}$ acres, more or less, and that was known as the Averal Arnold property and that was purchased by Mr. Secher from Outerbridge Pry, Executor, at an executor's sale. That property
