in Kumasi after a week's stay in Accra. The young people stopped at the University of Science and Technology of Ghana. The Ivory Coast and Senegal will be among their stops before the return to America.

Operation Crossroads Africa projects are made up of 8-10 university students from North America (U.S.A. and Canada) who work along with African students and villagers on the construction of some needed facility such as a school, a youth center or a clinic. The North Americans and Africans have the opportunity to develop mutual understanding by living and working together.

In what is becoming an annual affair, the fun-loving Les Onze entertained their spouses and families at pool side on Saturday last. The scene was the palatial Hilton Street residence of Dr. and Mrs. Archie Robinson whose newly completed club room with the his and her dressing rooms for the swimmers is indeed sump'n.

Around the pool were the Les Onze: Frankye Henderson, just back from Los Angeles, Calif., and wearing Mr. Janisen's lacy, black magic; Doreva Stanley in a black and white creation that spelled space the astronauts could hardly parallel; Helen Gattis, giving a sneak preview of her cruise attire, and President Vashti Christmas, in a pants outfit that allowed the breezes to circulate. Breezing in after one of the deb receptions was Bernice McDaniels, looking ever so chic in a pink linen.

Other members relaxing and enjoying the pool were Bernice Robinson, Serena Holmes, Edith Henry and Grace Walker.

Missed the Herb Traders and the Elroy Youngs, who were out of town. While some swam, others chatted and still others sipped the delicious, thick white nectar prepared by the able hands of Dr. Robinson himself. Incidentally he was the main chef and presided well over the charcoal fare: ribs, steaks, hamburgers and the like. The smorgasbord buffet table was laden with everything imaginable.

Dining and swimming over, the youngsters gathered in the club cellar for their own brand of fun. They included Ron, Gail and Jill Robinson; Bernie Christmas Jr. and his cousin, Tyronne, from California, Susan Woods, Adrian Holmes, Bryant and Quinn Stanley.

Meanwhile, the grownups went inside to round out the evening by listening to those good sounds — new and old — from Archie's extraordinary collection. Husbands enjoying a free afternoon and evening included: Clifford Gattis, Bernard Christmas, Edward McDaniels, Joseph Walker, Millon Stanley, Irving Henry, John Holmes, Archie Robinson and Jake Hall.

"Charity begins at home" ... and why shouldn't it say the Smartaires, a club whose motif is doing for others. They chose one of their own members to cite at their closing activity, Saturday.

Mildred Murphy, recently retired from the Baltimore School System, was honoree at the luncheon at Cy Bloom's in the Alley. The beautiful table decorations including candles, cards and cake lent charm to this special occasion.

The Smartaires are Mesdames Naomi Nash, Esther Nixon, Minerva Carter, Lola Weaver, Susie Carter, Virginia Hillard, Mabel Brown, Olivia Mayers, Mildred Murphy; and Miss Daisy King.

Their guests were Mesdames Lena Mandiville of New York City, Lolita Ware, Ruby Lee and Carolyn Taylor.

Mozelle Fisher entertained at a cook-out, Saturday afternoon on Ron Road. Miss Fisher is the Baltimore County teacher who has been teaching in Guam and Japan.

Her party guests were:

Messrs. and Mesdames Edmund Cardoni, Milton Credle, Hugh Thomas, Rovell Lindsay, Elijah Royster, Frank Phipps, Charles Truesdell; and Alsandro Turner of this city:

Messrs. and Mesdames Henry Parker of Hyattsville; Aaron Taylor of Glen Burnie; Jimmy Wells of Glen Arms; and Mrs. Julia Davidson of Greenbelt, Md.

Also a guest was Dr. Lafayette Parker, dean at Winston State University, Winston-Salem, N.C.

Dr. Parker and his daughter, Eunicea, were weekend house guests of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lindbergh Parker.

The Board Members of the Baltimore City Retired Teacher — Pacesetters were the luncheon guests of Mrs. Alma Redden, founder, at the Skyline Restaurant, recently.

The hostess had special greetings for Mesdames Addie Butler, Orangie Epps, and Mattie Ashton, whose tenure in office will be terminated this September. They received "picnic style" gifts.

A delicious luncheon together with the grandeur of interior decorations and a skyline scenic view gave the Pacesetters ego strength for the decision making, purposeful meeting which followed the social hour.

Board members present were: Mattie Ashton, Addie Butler, Bertha Cross, Louise Dennis, Orangie Epps, Mabel Frisby, Helen Lewis, Isabelle Manna, Lucille Monroe.

Florence Owings, Carlitta Page, Edith Pinkston, Alma Redden, LeRay Stokes, Edith Thomas, Martha Thompson, Mary Thomas and Odessa Diggs.

The spacious yard of Dr. and Mrs. James Priest (Quette Ponjola Priest) was the ideal setting for the party to bid Quette Rubye Gills adieu before she and her husband leave for Asia.

There were games about foreign countries, jokes from other lands, and scrumptuous food for all. A poetic tribute written and read by Quette Thurkield James was given to the honoree. Her gift, a jet plane covered with one dollar bills, was designed by Quette Mary Buster and presented by the president, Shirley Strother. Accompanying the gift were two trees of cards designed by Quette Betty Fox.

Those present to join the fun and to bid their farewells were:

Mesdames Mary Bacote, Romaine Ball, Willie Caldwell, Irene Carter, Mary Buster, Wilhemina Craig-way, Mary Erwin, Norma Faulkner, Betty Fox, Salome Fuller, Dorothy Hazzard.

Mesdames Colyn Harrington, Shirley Hill, Thurkield James, Dorothy Koger, Margretta Milburn, Doris Nash, Joyce Neal, Hazel Parks, Ponjola Priest, Beatrice Randolph, Ruth Rosedom, Shirley Strother, Grace Walker, Janet Woolridge and Ruth White.

I don't know whose keeping the store ... the whole town seems to be off to the ends of the earth.

Allen and Veronica (Clark) Counts have been doing Paris and were in Madrid and Tangiers, Morocco, last week. They were dinner guests of her cousin, and AFRO correspondent Ollie Stewart in the French capital. They (joined by two friends) will go to Germany, this week ... then to Denmark, and return to the States at the end of August.

Maisie Rea took small daughter, Maisie, and flew off to California, to spend a month in Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Lydia Muessenden's twin daughters, Christine and Carol, and their cousin, Edith, daughter of Ernest and Louise Dennis, left, Wednesday, to visit Expo '70 in Japan. They are members of a tour group under direction of Perdue University, where Christine is a student. She is a member of the band which performed, Sunday, at the Exposition.

John and Gwendolyn DeCecilio are back from a four-week Mediterranean and Aigean cruise to Turkey, Greece and Italy. They just escaped the uprising in Athens ... but found Istanbul intriguing; the Island of Capri the most beautiful; and the Europa Palace Hotel there so luxurious that it was heart-breaking to leave. Back home for a week, they will now be off to their summer place at Martha's Vineyard for a "rest" yet!

Ernest and Annette Johnson spent a whole month exploring in Italy ... or I should say for Annette, shopping in Italy. Her shopping tours included the whole gamuit ... from paintings to crystal; from leathers to fabrics. She didn't mention fashions, but you know Annette. I'm just dying to get out to Columbia and take a peek in her closets.

James and Charlotte Mebane are plotting a trip to Hawaii. They were one of the couples Verniece and Medford Reynolds had that intimate little dinner party for recently.

Catherine Greene is just back from Hawaii, where she visited with the Rot (Manjeet) Reddicks. He was teaching in Africa, but is now studying in Hawaii. It had only been a week or two since Mrs. Greene had been in the Virgin Islands, and it will only be a few more before she will be off to Nassau.

And that party which cruised off to the Caribbean, came in this week and immediately retired to rest from the trip. They had a ball, tez they, in Las Crobbas, Puerto Rico, St. Thomas, Maarlon, Bartholome and Bermuda. Ran into the Reggie Wattues, who were guests of Bishop and Mrs. Cedric Mills in St. Thomas. In the party were Alice and Bill Pinderhughes, Ivy and Sherlock Grinnage, Dorothy Wood, Iona Collins, Hellena and Walker Edmonds, Gwendolyn and Wilfred Seaborne, Iris and Lawrence Mapp and Diana and Herbert their respective shore places, their town houses

Margery and Ellwood Johnson of Springfield, Ohio, were guests of honor last Thursday when Bettye and Paul Moss entertained. The Johnsons were in town for the Frontier convention.

Also about were a number of other delegates from Springfield, which is Mr. Moss' hometown.

They were: Messrs. and Mesdames C. E. Hall, Rudolph Hampton, Anthony Woods, Theodore Ellicott, Fred Ballard, Eugene Cole, Raymond Casey, Edmund Cooke, Roger Neal, William R. Speaks.

Other out-of-town guests were Mrs. Rhetta S. Hurd of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. E. Lloyd Davis, American Embassy, Paris and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hicks of Frederick.

Localites about were Messrs. and Mesdames George L. Russell, William Harris, Melvin Callaman, Paul R. Reese, Joseph Felton, Charles Tildon, Thomas McPherson, James Murphy, Errol Taylor, Samuel Owings, William Morton, Aaron Ellis, Kenneth O. Wilson, Marsden Rawlings, David Wright, John Murphy 3rd., Samuel Blackwell and Clarence Dyson.

Also, Mesdames Louise G. Robinson and Frances M. Henderson and Messrs. Edward A. Williams and Royal White.

Bad manners are deplored anywhere, but especially in traffic, says H. S. Cole, acting director of the D.C. Department of Motor Vehicles. You may be socially dead through a discourtesy at a party, but you can be really dead if your manners are bad on the highway.

DURANT-MURRAY wedding party photographed after Saturday ceremony in Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, with Father Robert Powell, officiating. Newlywed Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Durant, center, are surrounded by, left to right, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton S. Murray, Miss Ellen Dashiell and Miss Jeanne Murray, bridesmaids; Luke Durant Jr., best man; and Craig Brooks and Mr. and Mrs. Luke Durant Sr., bridegroom's parents. The bridegroom is a Parks sausage employee and the new Mrs. Durant is a secretary at Koppers Co.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS LATER — Mr. and Mrs. William Henderson renewed vows at a silver wedding ceremony in Baltimore.
