—Who is running

CANDIDATE for Governor of Maryland, William E. Roberts, who has the distinction of being the first black competitor for that office since Reconstruction days.

MRS. JEWELL RAWLINGS

A guidance counselor at Calverton Junior High School, Mrs. Jewell W. Rawlings is a Democratic candidate for the House of Delegates in the 4th District. She says of women candidates: "It is because of their understanding in depth that they are so needed in the political as well as the more prosaic family life of the community."

Mrs. Judy Wilkins funeral Wednesday

Funeral services for Mrs. Judy Frances Bennett Wilkins, 42, Forest Park High teacher, were held Wednesday at the Pa. Ave. A.M.E. Zion Church. Burial was in the National Cemetery.

Mrs. Wilkins died Saturday from injuries sustained in a car accident Thursday which she and her husband, Webster Wilkins were in Henderson, N.C.

The Rev. Dr. Clinton R. Coleman, pastor of the church, presided.

Assisting at the service were Bishop Steven Gill Spottswood; the Rev. Charles Mack, Salisbury, Md.; the Rev. James Clement, Philadelphia; the Rev. W. Lawson, Wilmington, Del.; Presiding Elder R. Patterson; the Rev. W. Lawson, Wilmington, Del.; Presiding Elder R. Patterson, Wilmington; and the Rev. Dr. Franklin Jackson and the Rev. Dr. H. H. Sink, both of Washington.

Mrs. Wilkins was an active member of Pa. Ave. A.M.E. Zion, a past chairman of the church's Woman Day activities, a past district superintendent of the church's Salisbury district and head of the Christian Education organization.

* * *

Tributes were also given by associates, including Mrs. Jean B. Owens, a former classmate; Bertram Merritt, special assistant at Forest Park Senior High; and Miss Portia Pinckney, who had been sponsored by Mrs. Wilkins in a N.C. contest while they were there.

Arthur Spencer read the obituary and there were resolutions from the church organizations.

Soloist Mrs. Annie G. Carter sang "May the Work I Have Done Speak For Me."

Andrew S. Gaskins was the organist.

Over 300 persons attended the service including a host of visiting ministers who had worked with Mrs. Wilkins.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by her mother, Mrs. Ida Bennett; three brothers, Bernard Bennett, Post Office supervisor, Fred Bennett Jr., city fireman, and Henry Bennett, engineer associate at Western Electric; three sisters, Mrs. Jean B. Roane, Univ. of Va. law student, Mrs. Dorothy B. Gaskins, public school teacher, and Mrs. Fanny B. Seligman, student at New York College; three nieces, Denise Bennett, Julie Gaskins and Tara Bennett; and one nephew, Keith Bennett.

Other survivors are: her aunts, Mrs. Marie Gaddy and Mrs. Josephine Gaddy, both of Wadesboro, N.C., Mrs. Tressie Holt, Asheville, N.C., and Mrs. Katie Buckson, Blackstock, S.C.; and her uncles, the Rev. Joseph Bennett and the Rev. Fletcher Bennett, of Wadesboro.

Koger, Sheffey named to posts on CJ board

Earl Koger Sr., and Vernon Sheffey, representatives of Baltimore Club of Frontiers International, are among new directors of the Criminal Justice Commission. Philip H. Sachs, president, announced the new board appointments this week.

Criminal Justice is a United Fund agency which engages in research on crime and promotes improved efficiency in the administration of criminal justice.

* * *

Other new directors include Herbert S. Garten, attorney, representing the Advertising Club; Charney Harris representing the Baltimore Council of AFL-CIO Unions; Charles J. Harrison, attorney, representing the Bar Association of Baltimore City; Wilbur C. Jensen, attorney, representing the Civitan Club; and J. Kenneth Roberts representing the Baltimore Junior Association of Commerce.

Also, Mrs. Joseph M. Levi and Mrs. James Magrogan representing the Baltimore League of Women Voters; the Real Estate Board of Greater Baltimore's president, C. Gordon Gilbert, and Robert L. Mead, public relations executive.

Herbert Myerberg, former Commission president and now chairman of the Membership Committee, reported that two new organizations; the Women's Bar Association of Baltimore City, represented by Mrs. Elena Armanas, president, and Mrs. Erica Gosnell, and the Baltimore Grand Jurors, Inc., represented by J. Duane Connolly Sr., have been added to the outstanding organizations affiliated with the Criminal Justice Commission.

Richard G. Sullivan, former FBI agent, who is managing director of the Commission, has invited all new members to visit the Commission offices to familiarize themselves with its current programs.

Bank finances supermarket

PHILADELPHIA — A $75,000 mortgage loan has been made by The Philadelphia Saving Fund Society to Our Markets, Inc., an affiliate of ion Investment Associates, Inc., for construction of a retail food market at 1001-13 S. 52nd St.

The new market will be another step in the on-going program aimed at rejuvenating the south 52nd St. business section.

Our Markets, Inc. comprises a number of "mini-supermarkets" financed, built, owned and operated by blacks, offering quality foods for inner-city residents.

Original funds for the enterprise were furnished Associates by the "10-36" plan, originated by the Rev. Leon H. Sullivan, pastor of Zion Baptist Church.

Under this plan, some 6,000 persons have each pledged or paid in $10 a month for 36 months, creating a fund with which various business enterprises benefitting the black community have been launched.

This support enables Our Markets to build and equip retail food stores without outside aid other than mortgage financing.

Profits from operation of the markets will be used to underwrite additional business ventures to serve the inner city and provide jobs for its residents.
