About Our Town

By DARRYL BROOKS

Date data: August 21 will be the finishing date of athe Neighborhood Basketball League playoffs.

The league, and Commissioner Wes Unseld will be climazing a season that began June 28 with opening ceremonies at Carroll Park.

Now, one and a half months later, the league is hoping to find a champion for each of its three age groups.

On Saturday, the fifth annual Govenor's track and field meet was held at the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis.. How convenient for the governor!

Opening cere[illegible] the successful event began at 9:30 and con[illegible] another hour when the competition began.

The success of the event was measured not only by the number of participants at Annapolis, but also by the number of youngsters that competed in order to qualify for the Annapolis meet.

Unfortunately many youngsters had their hearts broken if they didn't qualify better luck next year.

Youngsters still interested in attending Oriole home games free should go to or contaact by phone the Model Cities office in the area in which thay live.

There is free transportation to and from the game, as well as free admission.

On the list of events this week is a swimming meet sponsored in cooperation with the Bureau of Recreation.

It will be held at the Patterson Park swimming pool this Saturday August 15, and should provide some cool relaxation for those who enter.

A sobering thought: Baltimore City public schools reopen Wednesday, September 2, which just so happens to be before Labor Day in case you haven't a calendar handy.

Although schools will be breaking an unwritten rule of not opening until after Labor Day, the students are reportedly in for something special.

Under his calendar students will receive one day a month off from school during the 10 month school year.

Know any interesting young people? Would you like to have this young person, male or female, spotlighted in this column?

If so then send his or her name of me c/o AFRO or call me at 669-6066.

New pay plan for hospital

A plan that will completely change the method by which Maryland hospitals receive payment for services is gaining support from hospital administrators the state, it was disclosed Wednesday.

Reports of the proposed change were confirmed by Richard J. Davidson, executive vice prsident of the Maryland Hospital Association, who said that the new plan.

"Would amount to a drastic departuure from the presnet payment methods, which it proving to be so unsatisfactory to the public, the legislature, the insurance commissioner and to us."

* * *

Called "prospective approach to rate determinations," the plan will call for hospitals to submit annual budgets to community rate review boards, which will decide what individual hospitals can charge for approved services provided for in their budgets.

Boards would perform their review functions in advance of the year being budgeted for.

"Today it is the other way around." Mr. Davidson said. "Determinations of what will be paid for are being made by insurance entities, such as Blue Cross, Medicaid and Medicare, after services have been delivered, prsonnel have been hired and equipment has been purchased.

'Red Balloon' set at library

A family film program is scheduled next Wednesday at 7 p.m. at the Waverly branch of the Enoch Pratt Free Library, with a featured movie, "The Red Balloon," a French production by the late Albert Lamorisse which has come to be regarded as a cinema classic.

Moving in the realm of fantasy, employing the color photography of Edmond Sechan, the film tells the simple story of a boy and his adventures with a bright red balloon.

Children's movies set at libraries

Movies selected especially for younger audiences by children's librarians on the staff of the Enoch Pratt Free Library, will be shown next week at three branch libraries in the city.

At 2:30 p.m. on Wednesday, the Dundalk branch will present "The Great Swamp" and "River Boy."

The first depicts the experiences of a city boy on a visit to the National Wildlife Refuge in New Jersey.

The second is an unsophisticated idyll of young love set in Louisiana's Bayou country. Both are photographed in color.

"The Blind Bird," the story of a thirteen-year-old boy who finds a blind pelican while on a bird-tagging expedition, and takes it home to care for it, is set for a 2 p.m. screening on Thursday at the Clifton branch.

Finally, on Friday at 10:30 a.m., the Hollins-Payson branch will show "The Monster of Highgate Ponds," a British-made film about three children who receive a gift which holds a startling surprise.

Admission to the library showings is free.

Mayor Stokes scheduled for Clarence Mitchell benefit

What is heralded as "the largest political fund-raising event ever sponsored by blacks in the State of Maryland," will be held at the Eastwind, 9000 Pulaski Highway, Wednesday, September 9.

Billed as a "Right On" gala dinner-dance, it will honor Clarence M. Mitchell, III, incumbent candidate for State Senate from the Fourth District.

Guest speaker, the Honorable Carl B. Stokes, first Black Mayor of Cleveland and singing stars James Brown, Damita Jo, Sir Walter Jackson and Ernie Andrews are expected to attract an overflow crowd of Mitchell admirers and supporters.

Sponsored by Senator Mitchell's People's Democratic Action Organization, the affair is scheduled to begin at 6 p.m. with cocktails for one hour, followed by dinner, a program highlighted by Mayor Stokes' speech and dancing, to Fuzzy Kane's Music.

A Mitchell spokesman said that an internationally-known big name band will also play for dancing.

However, due to previous contractural arrangements, they cannot release the name of the band until after August 23rd.

In addition to Mayor Stokes, among the other invited head table guests are Governor Marvin Mandel, Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro, Senator Joseph Tydings, Parren J. Mitchell, U.S. Congress candidate, Seventh District and Paul Sarbanes, candidate U.S. Congress, 4th District.

Senator Mitchell, who heads the "Right On" ticket, endorsed by two powerful 4th District groups, his own People's Democratic Action Organization, and the Metro Democrats Inc., said this week that the proceeds would be used to insure political freedom and independence for his people.

Tickets for the gala are available at Senator Mitchell's Executive Headquarters, 1239 Druid Hill Avenue; and at the Women for Senator Mitchell offices, James Brown Motor Inn, Suite 301, Franklin and Paca Sts.

Also to be honored at the Eastwind affair are the members of the "Right On" ticket which Senator Mitchell heads.
