Resident for 60 years attended St. Peter Claver

A requiem mass was offered for Mrs. Elsie M. Gittings, 87, 1754 Montpelier St., Thursday at St. Anne's Catholic Church. Burial will be in Mount Auburn Cemetery.

She died in the Midtown Nursing Home Sunday after a long illness.

Born and educated in Charles Co., Md., she came to Baltimore 60 years ago and became a member of St. Peter Claver Catholic Church.

She was the wife of the late William Gittings of Baltimore.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Elsie Long, Mrs. Catherine Hall, and Mrs. Rachael Murchisan; Two sons, Alfred Gittings and Edward Gittings, of New Jersey; seven grandchildren, Patricia, Joyce, Diane, Michael, Robert and Gary Hall, and Rodney Gittings; and two great-grandchildren, Kevin and Karin Hall; and a sister, Mrs. Carrie Campbell, Washington.

John W. Lewis, long in schools

John W. Lewis, from 1929 until 1954 Assistant Superintended, Business Management for the Baltimore City Public Schools, died August 19.

Ms. Lewis joined the Baltimore Public Schools in 1921 as Director of Americanization.

In 1924, he was named Director of Adult Education; in 1927, Director of Business Affairs; and in 1929, Assistant Superintendent, Business Management.

Under Mr. Lewis' leadership, innovations were introduced which contributed to quality education and business efficiency. He inaugurated inservice training for custodians and workshops in which educational personnel studied the interrelationships of administrators, supervisors, and teachers with the Business Division.

Edward Foster worked 30 years for Pa. Railroad

A requiem mass was offered for Ernest Foster, 65, 1526 N. Eden St., Monday at St. Francis and St. Paul Catholic Church where he had been a longtime member. Burial was in Arbutus Memorial Park Cemetery.

Mr. Foster died at his home last week after a recent illness.

Born and educated in Norfolk, Va., he came to Baltimore in 1930 and was employed at the Pa. Railroad for 30 years.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Pearl Foster; a son, Eric Foster; two stepdaughters, Mrs. Catherine Ray and Mrs. Betty Parker, of Washington; two stepsons, Thomas and Wallace Brownley; 14 grandchildren and 2 great-grandchildren.

Ed H. Jackson was newspaper wholesaler

Funeral services for Edward Harry Jackson, 64, 1028 W. Franklin St., were held this morning (Friday) at the Kelson Funeral Home.

Mr. Jackson died of cancer Monday at his home.

Born in Baltimore, he attended public schools, including Douglass High, and was married to the former Miss Catherine Hurley of Baltimore.

In 1918, at the age of 12, he started his career as a newsboy and from 1924 to the late 1940's was a newspaper wholesaler, for the local papers.

He was a member of the Ames Memorial Methodist Church.

In addition to his wife, he is survived by seven cousins.

Mrs. Offer, 85, was member at Metropolitan

Funeral services for Mrs. Ella Gross Offer, 85-year-old mother of Mrs. Maude Hutton, local beautician for more than 20 years, were held Wednesday at the Herbert E. Nutter Funeral Home. Burial was in Arbutus Memorial Park.

Mrs. Offer died in the City Hospital after a long illness.

She came to Baltimore from Calvert Co., Md. eight years ago. She attended United Metropolitan Methodist Church.

She is survived by a great-granddaughter, Mrs. Audrey Harris.

U of M Black Coalition endorses candidates

At a recent meeting of the Black Coalition of the University of Maryland Campuses (Baltimore City, Baltimore County, College Park, and Eastern Shore) the membership unanimously agreed to issue the following statement about the coming political elections.

"In a day when cries of Black Liberation are met with no-knock and preventive detention bills, criminality test for children, adult sentences for juveniles, and a Southern strategy by the Nixon-Agnew administration coupled with benign neglect of Black people's aspirations, the Black community can least afford to be apolitical.

"The new measures that threaten us bring with them the burden of creating an effective counter. With that burden comes the responsibility of recruiting from among ourselves those persons most capable of bearing burdens and creating a climate most conducive to the fulfillment of our needs and continued progress as a people.

"In the coming weeks members of the Black community will have the opportunity to determine who will exert significant control over our lives. The coming election will determine to a great extent whether we have a reordering of national priorities from a disastrous and wasteful war in Vietnam to that of restoration of our cities, whether we have law and order or whether we have justice, whether we have oppression or an open society and whether Black people have partial opportunity or full and equal opportunity.

* * *

It is the conviction of the Black Coalition of the University of Maryland Campuses that the qualities of leadership that will most effectively relate to the needs of Black people are best expressed in the persons of:

1. Parren Mitchell, candidate for Congressional Representive of the seventh district.

2. Milton B. Allen, candidate for State's Attorney of Baltimore City

3. Paul L. Chester, candidate for Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas

It is at this time that the Black Coalition announces its endorsement of and its full support of these candidates. Additionally we urge that other college students and citizens that believe that Black people must control their destiny actively participate in the political campaigns of our endorsees.

Present at the meeting were: Baltimore County Campus, Black Caucus of Faculty and Staff, Norman V. A. Reeves, Co-Chairman, Howard P. Rawlings, Co-Chairman.

Black Studenst Union — Walter T. Brown, Chairman. Eric R. Smothers, Founder and Past-Chairman Herbert Rogers.

Baltimore City Campus (Professional Schools) — Blavk Students Union — tion, Charles C. Lee, Chairman, John E. Bonas, Past-Chairman.

College Park Campus — Black Student-Faculty Coalition. Charles C. Lee, Chairman, John E. Bonas, Past-Chairman.

— Student Council, Rotan E. Lee, President James H. Ball.

Townes quits

Clarence Townes, special assistant to the chairman of the Republican National Committee, has resigned his post, leaving the Republicans without any blacks in its national office.

The resignation will be effective as of Sept. 1, but efforts to reach Roger C. B. Morton for comment prior to AFRO press time Wednesday were futile.

DETROITER HEADS LIST

Top three in line for D.C. schoolpost

By JOE ELAM

The three top bidders for the post of school superintendent here are all black; none has lived or worked in the District.

The youngest of the three, Hugh Scott, 36, is head of six schools with 5,000 of Detroit's poorest black children.

He is considered an adroit administrator, who has doubled the teaching force in the four elementary schools in his area.

Scott has introduced since January, 1969 a plan to improve the reading and mathematical skills of children in his schools.

He has been an assistant superintendent in one of Detroit school system's eight administrative regions since 1967.

* * *

Scott renamed one of the high schools in his areas after Dr. Martin Luther King, and transferred its white principal.

He has supported a student demand for black studies program at the schools in his region, but consistently opposes "extremists on both sides of the fence."

* * *

Born in Detroit, the son of a waiter, Scott recalls that his family of eight brothers and six sisters had occasionally to subsist on welfare doles.

With a bachelor's and master's in education from Wayne State University, he has also a doctorate from the University of Michigan.

Lenton Malry, 38, the first black legislator to sit in the New Mexico's House of Representatives, is also the principal of an elementary school in Albuquerque.

He was elected to the 99 per cent legislature in 1968.

He was born in Shreveport, La. and attended Grambling College, where he played football on the college team.

He has a master's in education from the University of Texas. He has served in the Air Force for four years and has several years' teaching experience in Indian reservations.
