Garden setting for Foust-Paige ritual

The garden of the Mt. Holly St. home of her aunt, Mrs. Irene Ballo, was the setting, Saturday, for the wedding of Miss Patricia Paige of this city and Charles Foust Jr., of Knoxville, Tenn. and Dayton, Ohio.

The double-ring ceremony, which took place under a canopy, was performed by a distant relative of the bride, the Rev. Oliver Paige.

Miss Paige, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Paige, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of lace appliqued chiffon underpinned by satin, and featuring a train, attached at the waist.

Her bouffant veil was held by a cluster of jeweled petals, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations entertwined with green and centered with an orchid.

• • •

Miss Lorraine Davis, cousin of the bride, was her attendant. Miss Davis' gown of chartreuse chiffon had long sleeves, cuffed in green satin and a wide belt and collar of the satin. A headpiece and brief veil matched the ensemble and she carried hot pink carnations.

Gerald Ballenger Foust of Knoxville was best man for his brother.

The bridegroom wore an all-white tuxedo with lace ruffled shirt. The father of the bride and best man selected black-trimmed white tuxedo jackets and black trousers.

The mother of the bride's ensemble was in pink, the top of lace and the skirt accordian pleated chiffon. Her accessories were in pink. Mrs. Foust Sr. chose mint green crepe with white accessories, and Mrs. Bello wore soft blue chiffon with matching accessories. All of the ladies wore orchid corsages.

• • •

A champagne reception followed the ceremony.

Later Mr. and Mrs. William E. Paige, parents of the bride, were hosts to the bridal party at a seated dinner at their home on Belmont Ave.

Assisting hostesses at the reception, in addition to Mrs. Bello, were Mrs. Etta Frazier, Mrs. Dorothy Johnson, Mrs. Louise Holmes and Mrs. Mary Winbush; and William Paige Jr.
