Unbeaten marks, personal rivalry spark Colt tilt

MIAMI — The Baltimore Colts, who have now improved their pre-season record to 25-2 since 1965, meet the unbeaten Miami Dolphins tomorrow (Saturday) night at 8 p.m. in the Orange Bowl.

The Colts, who have won 11 straight pre-season contest, 18 of their last 19 and three this season, will again open with quarterback John Unitas. Unitas, however, may stay longer this week.

Head coach Don McCafferty indicated that there is a possibility he would work John a half instead of the one-period performances of the past three games.

Unitas has passed for 223 yards (16-33) and a touchdown, including 94 yards in just over a quarter of work against Kansas City.

• • •

With both clubs unbeaten—Miami has defeated Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and San Francisco—Saturday night's contest could possibly draw the largest crowd and first sellout in Dolphin history.

The fact that the game also carries a tinge of personal rivalry won't hurt the gate, either. Former Baltimore coach Don Shula is handling the Dolphins and his departure from the Colts was not effected in a friendly atmosphere.

Miami, under Shula, has had some impressive performances in their first three games. Quarterback Bob Griese has completed 30 of 40 passes for 381 yards, three touchdowns and no interceptions. running back Larry Csonka has 115 yards in 25 carries (4.6 average) and a TD, and Paul Warfield has grabbed seven passes for 146 yards and two touchdowns.

• • •

The Colts' have enjoyed some outstanding defensive play this pre-season, particularly an awesome pass rush led by defensive end Bubba Smith.

Baltimore has intercepted 11 passes (six against Kansas City). Tom Maxwell has had one in each game and Jim Duncan and Tom Curtis have picked off two each. Baltimore has allowed only 217 rushing yards in the three games, an average of 2.3 an attempt.

• • •

Safety Jerry Logan (rib injury) and offensive tackle Sam Ball (knee bruise) will be miss this week's game. Guard Dan Sullivan, will switch to right tackle with Cornelius Johnson or Glen Ressler taking Sullivan's spot at guard. Tom Curtis will replace Logan at safety.

Mercury Morris is expected to miss the game for Miami.

COLTS' NOTES: Baltimore has shut out her first three pre-season opponents in the fourth quarter. Helped by an impressive pass rush, the Colts have also intercepted 11 passes with Tom Maxwell heading the list of three.

Cornerback Jim Duncan and rookie safety Tom Curtis have two each with Mike Curtis, Rick Volk, Robbie Nichols and Jim Bailey intercepting one apiece. Tom Curtis was the NCAA's second leading all-time interceptor at Michigan with 26 in his career.

• • •

The Colts have played before three straight pre-season record crowds this month—53,519 at Oakland, 38,341 at Kansas City and 42,499 at Denver. There is a good possibility the streak may reach four this Saturday night with Miami hopeful of the first sellout crowd in her history.

• • •

Rookie cornerback Ron Gardin retured eight punts for 117 yards against Denver—one 69 yards for a touchdown. Gardin has now returned 11 for 201 yards for an 18.3 average.

• • •

FOES' WOES: "I think John Unitas is throwing the ball right now as well if not better than he has since I joined the club." — Tom Matte

"Mike Curtis is the best I've ever seen. He's quick and he plays the stuff right at him real tough." — Center Larry Kaminski, Denver Broncos

"I've never seen a big man as quick as Bubba Smith. He just intimidates opponents." — Offensive tackle Mike Current, Denver Broncos.

Richardson ends holdout

LATROBE, Pa. (UPI) — Wide receiver Willie Richardson ended his holdout for more money Wednesday and rejoined the Pittsburgh Steelers at their training camp.

Richardson, obtained last week from Baltimore in a trade for Roy Jefferson, failed to report to camp Monday after an off day and asked Steeler officials to renegotiate his contract. Dan Rooney Jr., vice president of the Steelers, refused and said he would fine Richardson an undisclosed sum for every day he was absent from training camp.

Richardson told newsmen he returned "to play football."

"I'm not worried about my contract any more," he said.

Richardson will play for the Steelers in their exhibition game against the New York Giants at Three Rivers Stadium tonight (Friday). However, coach Chuck Noll indicated Richardson would not be in the starting lineup.

Buford's value to Birds ignored, say mound aces

If you're disinclined to regard Don Buford as a tremendously important asset to the league-leading Baltimore Orioles, don't be concerned. You have a lot of company.

The Birds' indomitable little leadoff hitter is probably the most underrated player in the American League.

If you don't believe it ask the Orioles' great pitching threesome — Dave McNally, the major leagues' first 20-game winner; Mike Cuellar, the 1969 Cy Young Award winner, and Jim Palmer.

• • •

"Yes, he's definitely the first $100,000 under-rated player," says Cuellar. "Nobody seem to put a premium on hitting behind the runner to right field, but Buford seems to do it all the time. If only they pay for it in salary, he'd be setting pretty."

• • •

Palmer and McNally have similar thoughts on Buford's ability to get on base. "You can't say enough about Don's ability to make things tough for the other pitcher right off the bat," remarked Palmer. McNally added, "It's unbelievable the way he gets on base."

• • •

And the 165-pound Buford does have a knack for getting on base. He employes various methods which include the unorthodox way of being hit by opposing pitchers (he leads the club with eight hit by pitches); walking (he led the team with 96 last year) or simply by getting hits.

He is fifth in batting on a club which has power hitters the likes of Frank Robinson and Muscular Boog Powell.

• • •

The "little guy with power" came through again Wednesday night with a two-run homer that sparked the Orioles to a 5-1 triumph over the Oakland Athletics and helped Palmer win his 18th game.

Palmer, 18-7, notched his 16th complete game by stopping the A's on six hits, including Felipe Alou's eighth homer. Buford, in addition to his homer, also ignited a two-run rally in the seventh with a single.

Officer cleared of TV theft

The larceny charges leveled against officer Robert C. Barbour of the Baltimore City Police Department for his allegedly having participated in the breaking and entering of a Penn Central Railroad car and removing a console color TV have been wiped from the books and the officer found Mr. Givens and Officer Barbour at that address when he went there on his investigation.

He arrested both men and charged them with the offense.

Evidence presented to both the jury and the department review failed to prove that Officer Barbour was one of the men who fled from the automobile.

Police records further indicated that Mr. Givens was in the process of reporting his automobile stolen when Officer Barbour, a friend, arrived at his home to pay him a visit.

Officer Eeler would not comment on whether he had mistakenly identified his fellow officer and changed his mind later.

The arrest of the men in the car fled in the darkness but a third suspect was apprehended at the auto.

The vehicle was listed in the name of a Charles Givens, 1900 block W. Longwood St. and the officer found Mr. Givens and Officer Barbour at that address when he went there on his investigation.

He arrested both men and charged them with the offense.

Young gridders invited to punt-pass contests

Registration for the 1970 Punt, Pass and Kick competition will begin today (Friday) and continue through September 26 at Ford dealerships in Maryland.

Punt, Pass and Kick is in its 10th year under the co-sponsorship of the National Football League and the Ford dealers of America. It has attracted over 6,219,000 boys, ages 8 to 13, in that time, and participation this year is expected to top the 1,250,000 mark.

• • •

Participants in the Punt, Pass and Kick program compete only against boys their own age. Any boy is eligible by registering at a participating Ford dealer. There is no entrance fee.

No special equipment is needed and participation does not impair a boy's amateur standing. There is no body contact during competition.

Scoring is based on accuracy with one point added for every foot of punting, passing and kicking distance and a point subtracted for every foot off the center line.

• • •

Twelve national finalists will compete for the national championships in their age group during the half time of the NFL Playoff Bowl game in Los Angeles, January 24.

Winners will have their names permanently enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio. Their trophies will be presented by Football Commissioner Pete Rozelle.
